LPG PRODUCTION UP 30% TO MEET DEMAND | CRUNCH FUELS CYLINDER THEFTS

SIMONTINI BHATTACHARJEE

NEW DELHI: Even as the government assured on Friday that there is no shortage of petrol, diesel, or cooking gas in the country and urged people not to panic, as ample supplies are available and distribution is proceeding normally, people continued to face hardships and queued up at gas agencies across several cities, towns and rural areas to get LPG refills.

In a press briefing, Sujata Sharma, Joint Secretary in the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas, said, "To meet the increasing demand for LPG, production of LPG in the country has been increased by 30 per cent, and its supply to households is given top priority."

She further said, "Our refining system is running at full capacity, and we have ample supplies of petroleum products in stock. All our refineries are running normally, and no

Drone strike in Oman kills two Indians

ASSOCIATED PRESS

DUBAI: A large explosion rocked an area of Iran's capital where thousands were gathered Friday for an annual state-organised rally to support the Palestinians and call for Israel's demise.

Israel had earlier warned that it would target the area in central Tehran. There were no immediate reports of casualties.

But the decision to proceed with the mass demonstration that was attended by some senior government officials, and Israel's threat to target the area, underscored the fierce determination on both sides nearly two weeks into a war that has rattled the global economy and shows no sign of letting up.

Iran has continued to launch widespread daily missile and drone attacks on Israel and neighbouring Gulf states, and has effectively closed the Strait of Hormuz, through which a fifth of the world's traded oil passes, even as US and Israeli warplanes pummeled military and other targets across Iran.

Iran's Supreme Leader Mojtaba Khamenei on Thursday vowed to continue the attacks and keep the strait closed in his first public statement since succeeding his father, who was killed on the opening day of the war.

Khamenei has not been seen in public since taking over leadership, and the written statement was read by a state TV anchor.

US Defence Secretary Pete Hegseth said Khamenei "is wounded and likely disfigured", without providing evidence about the supreme leader's condition or elaborating on how the US knows. Israel suspects Khamenei was wounded at the start of the war.

REMOVAL BID BACKED BY 193 MPs

CEC ouster move lands in both Houses

MPOST BUREAU

NEW DELHI: Opposition MPs have submitted notices in both Houses of Parliament seeking a motion for the removal of Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Gyanesh Kumar, sources said on Friday.

According to a source, 130 Lok Sabha MPs and 63 Rajya Sabha MPs have signed the notice.

The signatories include members from all the INDIA bloc parties, including the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), which is no longer formally a part of the Opposition alliance, the source said.

Some Independent MPs have also signed the notice while several others have evinced interest in joining the initiative, the source added.

This is the first time a notice has been moved seeking the removal of the CEC.

According to sources, the notice lists seven charges against Kumar, including alleged 'partiality' in joining the initiative, the source added.

The Oppn parties have accused the CEC of aiding the ruling BJP on several occasions, especially with the ongoing SIR of electoral rolls

The Opposition parties have accused the CEC of aiding the ruling BJP on several occasions, especially with the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls, which they alleged aims to help the saffron party at the Centre.

The process for removing the CEC is similar to that for the removal of a Supreme Court or a high court judge, meaning an impeachment can be effected only on the ground of "proven misbehaviour or incapacity".

In a blogpost published on Friday, TMC Rajya Sabha leader Derek O'Brien said the term "proved misbehaviour" has been interpreted to include deliberate abuse of powers, partisan exercise of constitutional functions favouring one political formation over others and actions that undermine public confidence in the independence and impartiality of

Assam: PM attacks Cong; unveils ₹24,250 cr projects

GUWAHATI: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday attacked the Congress, accusing it of endangering national security by handing over indigenous people's land to infiltrators, while launching projects worth over Rs 24,250 crore on the first leg of his two-day tour to Assam ahead of the assembly polls.

Modi said the state was writing a new chapter of peace and development under the "double-engine" government and that the BJP-led administration was bringing to an end a "historic injustice" towards the tea garden community by granting them land rights for their homes.

Recalling the days of his profession as a tea seller, Modi charged the Congress with neglecting tea garden workers by denying them land rights for decades.

The Prime Minister unveiled projects valued at over Rs 4,570 crore in Kokrajhar and later launched development initiatives worth Rs 19,680 crore in Guwahati.

India, US in talks on trade pact: Ministry

NEW DELHI: India and the US remain engaged in discussions for a mutually beneficial bilateral trade agreement, the commerce ministry said on Friday.

Chief negotiators of the two countries were scheduled to meet last month in Washington to finalise the legal text for the first phase of the bilateral trade agreement, but it was agreed to be postponed following a decision of the US Supreme Court striking down sweeping tariffs of the American administration.

The ministry has denied reports about a hold-off on bilateral engagement.

"We have noted a media report regarding ongoing trade talks with the US. It is denied that there is any hold off in bilateral engagement. It is reiterated that the two sides remain engaged for a mutually beneficial trade agreement," the commerce ministry said in a statement.

The remarks came after the United States Trade Representative (USTR) on March 11 launched a fresh round of Section 301 trade investigations targeting policies and industrial practices of 16 economies, including India and China. Following the US Supreme Court's ruling, President Donald Trump announced 10 per cent tariffs on all countries for 150 days from February 24. And now the US has announced these investigations.

Flying IndiGo? get ready to pay more

MPOST BUREAU

NEW DELHI: IndiGo will start levying fuel charges ranging from Rs 425 to Rs 2,300 on domestic and international flight tickets from March 14 amid the steep surge in jet fuel prices due to the West Asia crisis.

The move will increase the airfares and comes three days after Air India Group announced the introduction of such charges.

For domestic flights and those within the Indian subcontinent, the fuel charge will be Rs 425, while it will be Rs 900 for the Middle East services, the airline said in a statement on Friday.

The fuel charge will be Rs 1,800 for South East Asia, China, and Africa flights, and Rs 2,300 for Europe flights.

Aviation Turbine Fuel (ATF) accounts for nearly 40 per cent of an airline's operational costs. For each domestic flight, the fuel surcharge announced by IndiGo is higher compared to the Rs 399 being levied by Air India and Air India Express. Akasa Air and SpiceJet have not announced the levying of fuel charges so far.

While announcing the introduction of the fuel charge, the airline said the measure has been taken due to the significant surge in fuel prices, following the ongoing geopolitical issues in the Middle East.

"While offsetting the entire impact of this fuel price surge requires a very substantial adjustment to fares, IndiGo has introduced a relatively smaller amount as a fuel charge, keeping in mind the consequential burden

VENDORS HIKE PRICES BUT LOSE CUSTOMERS

LPG scarcity leaves Delhi’s street food vendors fighting for survival

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Issues with the availability of LPG have begun to disrupt the livelihoods of street vendors across the national capital, forcing many to shutter their stalls or borrow heavily to sustain daily operations.

The disruption has pushed several small-scale traders into financial distress. While some have suspended business, others are buying cylinders at “inflated rates” on the black market to keep their stoves burning. Naresh Chawla, who operates a fast-food stall near PVR Saket, said a single establishment often supports several workers and their families.

“One small shop supports eight to 10 livelihoods. I employ three to four workers who have migrated from villages. Many of us have taken loans to run these stalls. If this continues, 30 per cent of street vendors will lose their means of survival,” he said.

He added that the exhaustion of savings is making it difficult for vendors to meet household responsibilities and care for elderly parents.

The disruption is visible across the city. In Adarsh Nagar, a food vendor named Vicky said he paid around Rs 4,000 for a small cylinder. To offset the cost, he increased the price of his dishes by Rs 10, but said many customers immediately walked away after hearing the new rate.

“Customers at street stalls are not wealthy. They tell me if they had more money, they would dine at restaurants,” Vicky said. He further said that after paying his staff, he lacked the funds to purchase basic ingredients like paneer, having already borrowed money for his mother’s treatment. Many vendors said they are now dipping into savings or taking loans to manage daily household expenses.

In Sangam Vihar, Upendra Gupta, a tea and samosa vendor, said he managed to stay open only after buying a small LPG cylinder for around Rs 2,200 from the black market. Meanwhile, in northwest Delhi, pani puri seller Rafiq Ahmed was forced to close his stall on Thursday afternoon.

“I simply could not arrange a cylinder,” Ahmed said,

Cops caution people against cyber fraud

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Delhi Police has warned citizens against clicking on suspicious links or trusting calls from unknown numbers claiming to be from gas agencies, cautioning that cyber fraudsters may exploit panic over LPG availability to cheat people.

In a post on X, police said rumours about LPG shortages were being used by scammers to lure users through fraudulent links related to gas booking or supply confirmation. Once clicked, such links may compromise personal or banking details, leading to financial losses. Fraudsters may also pose as gas agency representatives and ask residents to click on links or download files sent through messaging platforms. Police advised people not to open files with the “apk” extension, which can install malicious applications and give criminals access to sensitive data. Citizens have been urged to verify information through official channels.

vendors reach gas agencies, the stock is often exhausted.

The supply situation comes after a government revision of the priority order for allocating domestically produced natural gas, driven by energy supply disruptions linked to the widening West Asia conflict.

A gazette notification prioritised LPG, CNG and piped cooking gas in natural gas allocation. However, street vendors with limited financial reserves continue to struggle, with many considering temporary manual labour until the supply situation improves.

Police nab DU student in Lahori Gate murder case

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Delhi Police has arrested a 24-year-old DU student for allegedly strangling a woman to death inside a hotel room in Old Delhi’s Lahori Gate area, as the victim was “pressuring” him to marry her, an official said on Friday.

Abhishek Tiwari, a resident of Shahdara, has been arrested for the murder of the 25-year-old woman, whose body was found in a hotel room earlier this week, DCP (North) Raja Banthia said. The victim worked as an accountant with a private company in Chandni Chowk.

During interrogation, Tiwari told police that he was pursuing BCom through the School of Open Learning, University of Delhi, and was working as an accountant at a shop in Chandni Chowk, the DCP said.

Police said he met the woman around two years back through a common friend, and they developed a close friendship.

However, of late, the woman was pressuring him to marry her, which he did not want. “Due to the pressure, the accused planned the murder and called her to meet him at a hotel on Church Mission Road on March 11. After having physical relations hands and fled from the spot,” the DCP said.

The matter came to light around 12.30 am on the intervening night of Wednesday-Thursday, when a staff member of the hotel informed the local police that the occupants of a room were not responding to repeated knocks on the door.

“When police forced open the door, a woman was found lying on the bed, partially covered with a blanket. There was blood on the bed and clothes lying nearby. The crime scene has been examined,” the officer said.

Police said the woman, a resident of Maujpur in north-east Delhi, lived with her parents, grandmother and younger sister.

She checked into the hotel around noon on March 11 with Tiwari, who was reportedly seen leaving the hotel once around 5 pm after locking the room from the outside.

The woman’s family had lodged a missing person report at the Jafraabad police station after she did not return home on Wednesday, with her phone unreachable.

Police will produce the accused, who has been booked under Section 103 (murder) of the BNS, before the concerned court and seek his custody for further questioning, the officer said.

Leaves of Delhi Police personnel cancelled amid LPG supply panic

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Delhi Police has cancelled routine leave for its personnel with immediate effect to maintain law and order amid the LPG supply concerns triggering widespread anxiety among households and businesses.

In an order issued by the Joint Commissioner of Police (Operations), all districts and units have been directed not to grant routine leave to any personnel until further orders.

The communication, dated March 12, stated that leave will be sanctioned only in genuine emergency cases and that too after due verification and approval by the competent authority. “All DCPs are requested to ensure meticulous compliance,” the order said, adding that it has the approval of the special commissioner of police (operations).

The directive comes as Delhi Police has increased vigilance across the city due to irregular LPG supplies that have led to complaints of black marketing, panic buying and crowding outside gas agencies in some areas.

Earlier, senior police officials had directed station house officers (SHOs) to prepare lists of gas agencies in their jurisdictions and deploy police personnel near them to maintain law and order and ensure smooth distribution of LPG cylinders.

Police teams, including PCR vans, motorcycle patrol units and plain-clothes personnel, have been stationed near gas agencies to deter hoarding and prevent the illegal sale of cylinders at inflated prices.

Officials said the deployment aims to ensure LPG cylinders reach consumers through proper distribution channels and prevent exploitation of the supply crunch.

Atal Canteens under pressure as city residents turn to them for daily meals

NEW DELHI: The footfall at Atal Canteens across the capital has increased sharply as concerns over dwindling LPG stock have come to haunt city residents in the wake of military escalations in West Asia.

With residents rushing to Atal Canteens to avail daily meals as LPG cylinders at their homes are exhausted, the sudden dependence on these subsidised facilities has resulted in long queues outside the canteens, with food items running out on some evenings.

Abha Shekhar, a resident of Ashram, said her family has been eating at an Atal Canteen twice a day as they have not been able to arrange a gas cylinder for the past few days.

“It is close to our home, so we manage. Otherwise, I have no other option to cook food”

“Since Tuesday, my family has been coming here for lunch and dinner. It is close to our home, so we manage. Otherwise, I have no other option to cook food,” she said.

Shekhar said she works as a house help and her husband is a construction worker. The couple has been visiting cylinder distributors every day but they have still not been able to get a refill.

Hemant, who runs a ration shop near the Atal Canteen in Ashram, said he has also started eating at the facility in recent days to save the gas available at his home.

“I have started eating at the canteen for the past few days. Earlier, I never came here, but yesterday and even this morning I brought my family to eat here,” he said.

Hemant said he had refilled his gas cylinder around 20 days ago and it is likely to last only a few more days. Until he manages to get another cylinder, he plans to rely on the canteen as the meals are affordable.

Rising footfall at Atal Canteens has led to food shortages, while caterers say LPG supply constraints are affecting meal preparation. PTI

Court declines plea seeking FIR against Kapil Mishra

NEW DELHI: A Delhi court on Friday dismissed a plea seeking registration of an FIR against Kapil Mishra and others over an alleged incident linked to the 2020 Northeast Delhi riots.

Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate Ashwani Panwar rejected the application filed by Mohammad Ilyas, observing that registration of an FIR was not legally permissible in view of earlier judicial findings. The court noted that a sessions court order dated November 10, 2025 had already set aside a previous magistrate’s direction asking police to probe Mishra’s alleged role.

The magistrate said the special judge’s findings had attained finality and were binding on the court. PTI

UTTAM NAGAR CASE Social media handles ‘spreading rumours’ face legal action: Cops

NEW DELHI: Delhi Police has initiated legal action against several social media accounts for allegedly spreading rumours and circulating misleading content, including a viral video seeking financial donations, in connection with the recent Uttam Nagar murder case, officials said on Friday.

A video that surfaced on social media on March 10 contained a QR code requesting financial assistance from the public using narratives linked to the incident. During verification, it was found that nearly Rs 37 lakh had already been credited to the suspect bank account in the last two days, they said.

“In view of the potential scam that may be played upon the general public, the manager of the concerned bank branch has been informed to block all credit and debit facilities of the said account and freeze the amount deposited by the public,” Deputy Commissioner of Police (Dwarka) Kushal Pal Singh said.

He added that the police had taken serious note of misleading and inflammatory content circulating on social media following the March 4 clash in Uttam Nagar that led to the death of a 26-year-old man.

Acting swiftly, police coordinated with multiple social media platforms to ensure the removal of such content, he said. “So far, 14 take-down requests under Section 79(3) (b) of the IT Act have been sent to social media platform ‘X’, while eight similar requests have been forwarded to Instagram for removal of the identified inflammatory content,” the officer said.

Police said action has also been initiated against individuals operating social media accounts involved in rumour-mongering and spreading unverified information.

Police warned that spreading misinformation on social media is punishable and strict action will be taken. Earlier, two juveniles and 14 adults were arrested for Tarun’s killing during a Holi clash in Uttam Nagar. MPOST

Two arrested by Delhi Crime Branch in fake ‘No Entry’ sticker fraud racket

PRAJYOT DEOGHARE

NEW DELHI: Delhi Police Crime Branch has arrested two more members of an organised “traffic fraud and extortion” syndicate accused of selling counterfeit stickers to commercial vehicle drivers to bypass enforcement during restricted “No Entry” hours in the capital.

The accused have been identified as Jai Bhagwan (38), a resident of Charkhi Dabri in Haryana, and Shivam Sharma (26) from Farrukhabad in Uttar Pradesh. Police said Bhagwan is one of the masterminds of the network, while Sharma worked as a key associate responsible for distributing the fraudulent stickers used by the gang.

According to investigators, the syndicate facilitated the illegal movement of commercial goods vehicles during restricted hours by selling counterfeit stickers, locally known as “marka”, to drivers and transporters. The stickers were sold for between Rs 2,000 and Rs 5,000 per vehicle each month and were falsely projected as providing immunity from traffic enforcement and challans. The arrests were made during the investigation of two cases registered at the Crime Branch police station following complaints by Delhi Traffic Police personnel. Several drivers of light and heavy commercial vehicles had attempted to evade checking by displaying suspicious stickers, key rings or marks claiming exemption from enforcement.

During the probe, police used technical surveillance and intelligence inputs to uncover what they described

TAKEAWAYS

- » Syndicate sold counterfeit ‘marka’ stickers to commercial vehicle drivers to bypass ‘No Entry’ restrictions
- » Stickers were sold for Rs 2,000–Rs 5,000 per vehicle monthly, falsely claiming immunity from traffic checks as an organised criminal network operating a parallel system of fraud and extortion. Investigators said the accused cheated vehicle owners and drivers while also attempting to intimidate traffic personnel.

Police said the syndicate filmed traffic officers, edited clips to pressure them, while two accused were arrested with fake stickers.

Delhi Police nabs burglar ‘Doremon’

NEW DELHI: Delhi Police have arrested a serial burglar nicknamed “Doremon” and his associate in northwest Delhi, solving 11 criminal cases.

Dinesh alias Doremon (26) and Sunny (26) were apprehended on March 11 during night patrolling near Raja Park while dragging a motorcycle later found to be stolen. A spring-actuated knife was recovered from Dinesh.

Police said Dinesh, a “bad character” of Ashok Vihar police station with 17 previous cases, and Sunny confessed to several burglaries. MPOST

Woman held under preventive detention for drug trafficking

NEW DELHI: The Delhi Police has detained a 41-year-old alleged drug trafficker under the Prevention of Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances (PIT-NDPS) Act, an official said on Friday.

The accused, identified as Sonia, a resident of Uttam Nagar, was detained following a preventive detention order issued by the competent authority under Section 3(1) of the PIT-NDPS Act on February 26, police said.

Sonia is a habitual offender with a criminal history dating back to 2009. She has been involved in at least eight criminal light in 2023 when she was identified as the source of supply in a case registered at Uttam Nagar police station under the NDPS Act.

In that case, a man, Ramniwas, was arrested with 1.41 kg of marijuana and Rs 5,960 cash. During interrogation, he allegedly revealed that the contraband had been sourced from Sonia. Police said Sonia was arrested again in 2025 in an NDPS case after an accused claimed he sold ganja on her directions. Authorities later issued a preventive detention order to curb her alleged drug trafficking. MPOST

Capital deploys amphibious machines to clean key drains ahead of monsoon

AIMAN FATIMA

NEW DELHI: In a major push to strengthen Delhi's drainage system and prevent monsoon waterlogging, the city government on Friday deployed high-tech amphibious excavator machines to clean key drains, including the Najafgarh and Pankha Road drains. The machines, capable of operating in waterlogged and marshy conditions, are expected to accelerate desilting operations and remove years of accumulated silt, garbage and water hyacinth from the city's major drains.

Chief Minister Rekha Gupta flagged off the machines at Badusarai Bridge along the Najafgarh Drain and the Pankha Road Drain, marking the launch of a technology-driven initiative to improve the capital's drainage infrastructure. The event was attended by Cabinet Ministers Parvesh Sahib Singh and Ashish Sood, along with senior officials.

Addressing the gathering, the Chief Minister said the deployment of modern machines would significantly strengthen the city's efforts to clean drains and restore the health of the Yamuna river. "Cleaning the Yamuna and freeing Delhi from waterlogging is our commitment. The government is using modern technology with full dedication to clean the city's drains and make the river clean and free-flowing," she said.

Gupta noted that the Najafgarh Drain is the largest drain in Delhi and carries nearly 75 percent of the silt from the city's drainage network. According to estimates, more than 10 million metric tonnes of silt have accumulated in the drain over the years. She said amphibious machines would now make it possible to remove the massive silt buildup more efficiently.

"Earlier it was extremely difficult to remove such large volumes of silt. These floating machines can reach the middle of the drain and remove sludge directly, speeding up the entire cleaning process," she said, adding that the government has also decided to procure additional machines in the coming months.

Cabinet Minister Parvesh Sahib Singh said the use of amphibious machines marks an important step in modernising the city's drainage management. "The use of advanced amphibious machines for cleaning the Najafgarh Drain and other major connected drains marks an important step by the Delhi Government. These modern machines will help remove years of accumulated silt, garbage and water hyacinth effectively, improving the water-flow capacity of the drains and reducing waterlogging during the monsoon," he said.

Minister Ashish Sood said cleaning of the Pankha Road drain was an Assembly poll promise, adding it had remained neglected for years and caused waterlogging. He said initial cleaning and partial beautification have been completed within the government's first 100 days.

NEW DELHI: Newly appointed Delhi Lieutenant Governor (L-G) Taranjit Singh Sandhu has hit the ground running, holding a series of review meetings with senior officers on Friday. Sandhu took the oath of office and secrecy as the 23rd L-G of Delhi in a ceremony at Lok Niwas on Tuesday.

In a series of posts on X, L-G Sandhu shared details of his meetings with top officers, including Delhi Police Commissioner Satish Golcha, Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) Commissioner Sanjeev Khirwar and other officers.

In a meeting with Additional Chief Secretary (Food and Civil Supplies) and Health Secretary Rupesh Kumar Thakur, the L-G reviewed the situation and emphasised on preparedness, coordination and effective response.

Sandhu reviewed the challenges relating to security, law and order, cyber-crime and merging unconventional issues, with the Delhi Police commissioner, who called on him.

Various important civic issues, including waste disposal, flattening of garbage mounds in the city, and improving transparency and efficiency in MCD's licensing and enforcement activities, were discussed by the L-G with Commissioner Khirwar.

On the first day after taking the oath, Sandhu on Thursday met the Delhi Development Authority (DDA) vice chairman Sarvana Kumar and discussed sector-specific issues.

Delhi Lieutenant Governor Taranjit Singh Sandhu on Friday also called on President Droupadi Murmu at Rashtrapati Bhavan. In a post on X, Sandhu said he received guidance from the President during the meeting. "Honoured to call on Hon'ble President of India Smt. Droupadi Murmu ji and receive her guidance for the road ahead. Grateful for her encouragement," he wrote.

The L-G also spent some time walking through the Rashtrapati Bhavan gardens and interacting with visitors. Sharing photographs from the visit, he said it was a pleasure to meet many Delhi residents enjoying the spring blooms. The gardens, known as Amrit Udyan, attract large numbers of visitors every year during February and March when a wide variety of flowers are in full bloom.

ACs and laundry units among upgrades planned at Asha Kiran home: Delhi min

NEW DELHI: Air-conditioners, new laundry units and improved water supply systems are among upgrades being rolled out at the Asha Kiran home in Rohini, Delhi Social Welfare Minister Ravinder Indraj Singh said during an inspection of the facility on Friday.

Singh, conducted an inspection of Asha Kiran Home for men and women at Avantika Sector in Rohini along with senior officials of the social welfare department, and reviewed the ongoing development and renovation works, and the facilities available for residents.

'Security is being enhanced with the installation of CCTV systems in droms'

Spread across about 6.04 acres, the institution houses persons with intellectual disabilities and has a capacity of 570 residents.

According to an official statement, around Rs 5.34 crore has been sanctioned to the Public Works Department in FY 2025-26 for upgrading buildings, infrastructure and facilities at the institution.

The works include painting and repairs in dormitories, tile work in toilets and bathrooms, steel work and coil fencing around gym and park areas, and horticulture-related improvements. The institution is also being equipped with two new laundry machines of 60 kg capacity each and installation of air-conditioners as part of the infrastructure push.

To strengthen basic infrastructure, two new borewells are being constructed, CPVC water supply pipelines are being installed and two submersible pumps are being set up. Renovation of the underground water tank and installation of floodlights along the boundary wall are also part of the works.

Security arrangements are also being enhanced with the installation of CCTV systems in the dormitories, according to the statement.

Minister Ravinder Indraj Singh said the government aims to ensure dignified care for residents with disabilities. He directed officials to complete works at Asha Kiran Home and prepare a proposal to repair and operationalise the half-way home in Narela. PTI

Authorities received a PCR call around 12.58 pm and rushed to the spot. The girl was quickly rescued by metro staff and commuters and taken to a hospital for treatment.

Police said she was conscious and had injuries on both knees. The student said she had been under severe stress due to ongoing board exams. PTI

Delhi ties up with IIT Madras to test 'smog-eating' surfaces

Six-month study will begin with lab testing before moving to field trials to evaluate the effectiveness

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: In a new technology-driven step to tackle the capital's air pollution challenge, the Delhi government has partnered with Indian Institute of Technology Madras to study innovative "smog-eating" surfaces that could help break down harmful pollutants directly in the urban environment. The initiative aims to test photocatalytic materials that can reduce key pollutants responsible for smog, including nitrogen dioxide and volatile organic compounds.

The Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) for the pilot study was signed on Friday between the Government of NCT of Delhi and IIT Madras. The project will evaluate Titanium Dioxide (TiO₂)-based photocatalytic materials and similar safe catalysts that can help neutralise pollutants when activated by sunlight.

Delhi Environment Minister Manjinder Singh Sirsa said the government is encouraging scientific innovation to address the city's pollution crisis.

"Through this IIT Madras study, we aim to find the best, long-lasting, and affordable ways to put 'smog-eating' coatings on roads, buildings and city surfaces. It can work in our favour if the study can provide evidence-based findings that such coatings or materials can cut NO₂ and other pollutants," Sirsa said.

Highlighting the government's broader approach to air quality management, he added, "It is essential to find innovative scientific solutions for cleaning Delhi's air, and our government is diligently supporting innovations through such initiatives."

Sirsa further emphasised that the government wants to address pollution without hindering the city's growth.

"Delhi's population is growing with urbanisation from nearby areas, expanding our infrastructure rapidly. Our focus, under the leadership of Chief Minister Rekha Gupta, remains on achieving cleaner air for the people without blanket bans. Therefore, we must use science to shield our air and protect our health without halting this vital growth," he said.

The study will be led by Professor Somnath C. Roy of IIT Madras. According to him, the project will begin with laboratory testing before moving to field trials in Delhi.

"The study will begin with lab testing in a smog chamber at IIT Madras to precisely measure pollutant abatement. Following this, our team will conduct real-time field assessments in Delhi's urban environment on surfaces like concrete, asphalt, metal panels, glass and roads," Roy said.

The six-month study will explore multiple applications of the technology, including coatings on roads and buildings as well as special pollutant-removal panels that could be installed on rooftops or street-light poles.

If the results prove successful, the Delhi government may consider scaling up the technology during peak smog months later this year.

Kapil Mishra inaugurates 'Bhakti Sangeet' Fest

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Delhi's Art, Culture and Languages Minister Kapil Mishra on Friday inaugurated the three-day devotional music event 'Bhakti Sangeet' organised by the Sahitya Kala Parishad at Central Park in Connaught Place, highlighting the government's focus on promoting the capital's cultural and spiritual traditions.

The event opened with a devotional performance by renowned singer Anuradha Paudwal, while artists Bhairav Singh Chauhan and Agnihotri Bandhu also performed on the first day.

Addressing the gathering, Mishra said the Delhi government is committed to reviving and promoting the city's cultural heritage. "Restoring the pride of Delhi's original culture is the government's priority. Folk culture and devotional events in Delhi are now being organised with full grandeur," he said.

He added that the capital is steadily moving towards becoming a major cultural hub. "Under the leadership of Chief Minister Rekha Gupta, Delhi is emerging as the 'cultural capital' of the country," Mishra said.

Highlighting recent initiatives, the minister said several cultural and religious events have been organised across the city.

"With the support and blessings of Delhiites, every event celebrating folk culture and devotion has gained grandeur," he said.

Mishra also noted that programmes such as Bhanu Clubbing in Delhi University colleges have received an enthusiastic response from the youth. He added that more large-scale cultural events, including a major programme at Red Fort later this month, are being planned to further strengthen Delhi's cultural identity.

Electoral registration officers designated for Delhi assembly constituencies ahead of SIR

NEW DELHI: Ahead of the Special Intensive Revision of the voters' lists in the national capital, the Election Commission has designated ADMs and SDMs as electoral registration officers (EROs) for all the 70 assembly constituencies in Delhi.

The office of Delhi Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) is preparing for the SIR exercise, and currently, the mapping of voters of the electoral rolls of 2025 is being done vis-a-vis the voters of the base year 2002.

There were 1.55 crore voters in the Delhi assembly polls for 70 seats held in February

The Booth Level Officers (BLOs) will visit households daily to gather electoral details from each voter for mapping the electoral roll

A recent gazette notification stated that the Election Commission of India has designated, in consultation with the Delhi government, additional district magistrates (ADMs) and Sub Divisional Magistrates (SDMs) as the EROs. Another notification said that the same officers will also serve as returning officers for these assembly constituencies.

Furthermore, district magistrates have been designated as District Election Officers (DEOs) for the 13 districts in the national capital, reflecting the recent reorganisation of districts in Delhi, which has increased from the previous 11 to 13, officials said.

The CEO's office is preparing for the SIR, and various forms needed for the exercise are being printed out.

In February, the Election Commission of India announced that the SIR is expected to begin in April 2026 and instructed the CEOs of various states, including Delhi, to complete the necessary preparatory work as soon as possible.

Booth Level Officers will conduct daily household visits to update the 2025 electoral roll. The Delhi CEO's office has sought exemption for around 7,500 teachers assigned to this task from census duties, while 8,000-10,000 staff will be deployed for Census 2027 operations. PTI

PLANS HERITAGE-LED REDEVELOPMENT OF OLD DELHI

Delhi to change name of Shahjahanabad Redevelopment Corporation: CM Gupta

AIMAN FATIMA

NEW DELHI: The Rekha Gupta government has announced a renewed push to redevelop and preserve the heritage of Old Delhi, with plans to restructure the Shahjahanabad Redevelopment Corporation (SRDC) and accelerate infrastructure projects in the historic area. The decisions were taken during the 38th board meeting of the Shahjahanabad Redevelopment Corporation chaired by Chief Minister Rekha Gupta on Friday. The meeting reviewed ongoing development works in the Shahjahanabad area and discussed measures to strengthen the corporation's functioning.

Officials said the government is considering renaming the corporation, with three proposed names to be finalised in order of preference before a final decision is taken.

Addressing the meeting, Gupta emphasised the need to revive Old Delhi while protecting its historical identity. "The time has come for a comprehensive restructuring and revival of the institution. We will not only change the board's name but also use it to accelerate the real redevelopment of Old Delhi and the Shahjahanabad area," she said.

The Chief Minister said the government has initiated several development projects aimed at restoring the historic character of the area while improving civic infrastructure. "Old Delhi is the heart of the national capital. Our goal is to preserve its historical heritage, identity and cultural dignity while introducing modern facilities," Gupta said.

According to officials,

- » 'Old Delhi is the heart of the national capital. Our goal is to preserve its historical heritage, identity and cultural dignity,' CM Gupta said development works worth around Rs.160 crore are currently underway on 28 roads in Old Delhi. These include road construction and improvement, beautification of public spaces, strengthening sanitation systems, improving maintenance of public toilets and carrying out large-scale cleanliness drives. A phased plan is also being prepared to place electricity wiring underground across the area.

Gupta also announced plans to develop the historic Town Hall building as a heritage landmark to enhance the cultural appeal of the area.

During the meeting, concerns were also raised about the functioning of the corporation during the previous government's tenure. "Available documents clearly indicate that serious irregularities and corruption were carried out in the name of development works, and these will be thoroughly investigated," Gupta said.

Urban Development Minister Ashish Sood said the review revealed several issues in earlier projects. "The previous government launched projects merely for show and without any concrete planning. Under the leadership of the Chief Minister, we are committed to preparing a comprehensive development strategy that preserves Delhi's cultural heritage and historic residential areas," he said.

NEW DELHI: Delhi experienced a slight decrease in heat on Friday, with the maximum temperature reaching 32.6 degrees Celsius, 3.7 degrees above normal, and the city's air quality improved to the 'moderate' category, with an AQI of 186.

This drop in temperature was welcomed, as the city felt the heat creeping in on Thursday, recording a high of 35.8 degrees Celsius.

Friday began with a warm morning, where the minimum temperature was recorded at 20.4 degrees Celsius, 5.3 degrees above normal and the highest for the year, according to data from the India Meteorological Department (IMD).

Station-wise data showed that Ridge recorded the highest maximum temperature at 33.8 degrees Celsius, 3.6 degrees above normal, followed by Lodi Road at 33 degrees Celsius, 4 degrees above normal.

Ayanagar recorded 32.8 degrees Celsius, 2.8 degrees above normal, and Palam recorded a maximum temperature of 31.5 degrees Celsius, 2.1 degrees Celsius above normal.

For Saturday, the weather office has forecast a partly clear sky, with the maximum temperature expected to settle around 33 degrees Celsius.

On the air quality front, the city's 24-hour average Air Quality Index (AQI) stood at 189. According to the CPCB's SAMEER app, during the evening hours, 15 stations were categorised as 'poor', while 31 stations fell into the 'moderate' category.

In the morning hours, the air quality was also recorded in the 'moderate' category at 9 am, with an AQI reading of 184, CPCB data showed.

On the minimum temperature front, Safdarjung recorded 20.4 degrees Celsius, 5.3 degrees above the season's normal, while Lodhi Road recorded 19.2 degrees Celsius, 5.2 degrees above normal.

Ridge station reported a minimum of 19 degrees Celsius, while Ayanagar recorded a minimum temperature of 19.8 degrees Celsius.

West Asia crisis: Jaishankar holds 4th phone call with Iranian counterpart

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar spoke to his Iranian counterpart Seyed Abbas Araghchi – their fourth such conversation since the West Asia crisis erupted – as New Delhi intensifies efforts to secure safe passage for over two dozen Indian-flagged merchant vessels currently stationed on either side of the Strait of Hormuz.

The two foreign ministers held the phone conversation on Thursday night.

Jaishankar and Araghchi spoke on February 28, soon after the US and Israel launched the attack on Iran that killed Ayatollah Ali Khamenei. They also spoke on March 5 and March 10.

“Had another conversation with Iranian FM @araghchi yesterday night. Discussed bilateral matters as also BRICS related issues,” the external affairs minister said on social media.

The latest phone conversation came as India ramped up efforts to secure safe passage to the Indian-flagged merchant vessels through the strategic shipping route of Strait of Hormuz that has been partially blocked by Tehran following an escalation in its conflict with the US and Israel.

Global oil and gas prices have surged after Iran virtually blocked the Strait of Hormuz, a narrow shipping lane between the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman that handles roughly 20 per cent of global oil and LNG (Liquefied Natural Gas).

An Iranian readout said Araghchi briefed his Indian counterpart on the latest situation “resulting from the aggres-

'Will try our best': Iranian envoy on passage for India's vessels

New Delhi: As several India-flagged vessels remain stranded in the Strait of Hormuz due to the ongoing conflict in West Asia, Iran's Ambassador to India, Mohammad Fathali, on Friday said that “we will try our best” to resolve the issue. Interacting with reporters on the sidelines of an event here, Fathali said, “We believe that Iran and India are friends. We have common interests, we have common faith.” As the war entered its fourteenth day, with no end in sight, the Iranian envoy said, “Iran doesn't want war, but Iran is ready for war.” While US President Donald Trump told reporters on Wednesday that “we're not finished yet”, Iran continued to remain defiant and used the choking of the strategic Strait of Hormuz as leverage against the US-Israel combine.

Pending MGNREGS dues to states Rs 9,300 crore in FY26: Govt to RS

NEW DELHI: Pending liabilities to states under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme stood at more than Rs 9,300 crore in FY 2025-26, with Uttar Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka topping the chart with the highest outstanding amounts, the government informed the Rajya Sabha on Friday.

In a written reply, Minister of State for Rural Development, Kamlesh Paswan, said the total pending liabilities across states and Union territories were Rs 9,308.67 crore as of February 9, 2026. According to the data tabled in the House, Uttar Pradesh had the highest pending liabilities at Rs 1,158.71 crore, followed by Andhra Pradesh at Rs 1,014.60 crore, Karnataka Rs 746.65 crore, Tamil Nadu Rs 729.88 crore, Madhya Pradesh Rs 704.64 crore, Bihar Rs 664.72, Maharashtra Rs 528.28 crore and Assam at Rs 482.51 crore.

The other states with significant pending liabilities included Kerala (Rs 419.09 crore), Odisha (Rs 411.64 crore), Jharkhand (Rs 385.02 crore) and Rajasthan (Rs 383.24 crore).

Cong MLAs moved to HP before RS polls in Hry

CHANDIGARH/SHIMLA:

In an attempt to keep its flock together, Congress on Friday moved its Haryana MLAs to Himachal Pradesh ahead of the polling for two Rajya Sabha seats in Haryana on March 16, according to sources.

BJP's Sanjay Bhatia, Congress' Karamvir Singh Boudh and BJP-backed Independent candidate Satish Nandal are in the fray for the polls.

Chandigarh late afternoon.

The sources said that the Congress MLAs, who arrived in Shimla in three buses around 8 pm, have been lodged in two hotel in Kufri in the suburbs of Shimla city and 37 rooms have been booked for them.

However, the state government and officials are tight-lipped on the matter.

One of the resorts also has ample open space for airlifting. Earlier, a viral video showed a motorcade of Congress MLAs en route to Shimla crossing Solan. Congress with 37 members in the Assembly has the required strength to help its candidate win a seat. The prospects, however, could be in jeopardy in case of cross-voting.

While Congress leaders and MLAs who attended a legislature party meeting here did not disclose the destination they were headed to, sources said that they have been moved to Himachal Pradesh, a neighbouring state ruled by the party. The MLAs will return shortly before the voting, they said.

The Congress MLAs assembled at the residence of CLP leader Bhupinder Singh Hooda, where the meeting was held, and later on most legislators left in two tempo travellers.

Hooda asserted that not only will his party candidate win, but may get over and above 37 votes.

Haryana Congress president Rao Narendar Singh and party general secretary incharge of Haryana, B K Hariprasad, party MPs including Deepender Singh Hooda and Varun Chaudhary were also accompanying the party legislators. However, at least five legislators were not going due to prior family engagements or health reasons.

The deceased, Bhushan Kumar Mittal, was a resident of Sehna and had arrived at the gas agency at 7:15 am to secure a spot in the queue. Sehna station house officer (SHO) Renu said that Mittal collapsed at approximately 8 a.m, just minutes before the agency was scheduled to open. Many in the queue had reportedly been waiting since 6 am. Police said that Mittal was 25th in a line that had swelled to over 130 people by the time of the incident.

A shortage of commercial Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG) cylinders has begun affecting hotels, restaurants, small eateries, boarding schools, and colleges across several towns in Uttarakhand, raising concerns ahead of the tourist and wedding season.

In Mussoorie, several hotels are already facing a crisis due to the limited availability of commercial LPG cylinders. Mussoorie Hotel Association president Sanjay Agarwal said they submitted a memorandum through the Sub-Divisional Magistrate (SDM)'s office to the chief secretary, chief minister, and cabinet minister Ganesh Joshi, highlighting the disruption.

Many hotels have stopped serving food items that require higher LPG consumption and may have to shut their kitchens if the situation persists, association secretary Ajay Bhargava said, adding that families who had booked hotels for weddings are also facing difficulties.

Besides hotels, boarding schools are also affected due to the shortage of commercial LPG cylinders. The administrator of Mussoorie's Guru Nanak Fifth Centenary Day Boarding School, Sunil Bakshi, said the institution, which serves food to more than 250 students, is struggling to maintain kitchen operations. Domestic consumers are also facing difficulties. Rajendra Semwal, a resident of Camel's Back Road in Mussoorie, said the missed-call booking system for LPG cylinders was not functioning, forcing households to use charcoal stoves and induction cooktops.

At the press conference, the senior Petroleum and Natural Gas ministry official said: “More than 50 lakh LPG cylinders are being distributed daily through more than 25,000 distributors, and more than one lakh petrol pumps are running normally across the country.”

Domestic PNG connections and CNG for transportation are being provided in full, while supplies in some industries have been curtailed for household consumption.

Sujata Sharma added that in recent days, bookings for LPG have increased as people are doing panic buying. However, she maintained that supplies were going on normally.

In an appeal to people, Sharma said, “We urge people not to rush for refills. Most people are able to book their cylinders online through mobile apps, IVRS, SMS, and WhatsApp. There is no need for people to queue up.”

As India grapples with a persistent LPG supply crisis, reports of cooking gas cylinder thefts have emerged from Bengaluru. At least two separate instances of cylinder pilferage from residential neighbourhoods have been confirmed in Karnataka's capital city.

A video posted by the PTI on X showed a man arriving at a residential street on a motorbike and subsequently fleeing with a cylinder concealed within a sack. This particular theft occurred in the Kalyan Nagar district of Bengaluru.

India is in its fourth consecutive day of LPG shortages, with disruptions being reported across major cities of the country, including Mumbai, Bengaluru, and Kolkata, and Chennai.

The US-Israel attacks on Iran and Tehran's retaliation have led to the closure of the Strait of Hormuz, a key sea route through which India gets 85-90% of its LPG imports from West Asian nations, including Saudi Arabia and Qatar.

On the procurement front, India has been steadily reducing its dependence on the Strait of Hormuz. Roughly 70% of crude oil imports now arrive via alternative routes, up from 55% previously — a shift that offers some buffer against regional disruptions.

Amid the shortage, many restaurants are prioritising serving vegetarian dishes to customers, which generally require shorter cooking times.

People lined up in snaking queues outside distribution outlets across India today as the LPG shortage continued and reports of hoarding made rounds, according to a PTI report.

Long queues were seen at various gas centres in Patna, Bhagalpur, Rohtas, Katihar and other districts of Bihar despite the district administrations claiming there was no shortage of domestic gas cylinders.

Amid LPG supply shortage, hotels and restaurants in Madhya Pradesh are turning to the traditional 'tandoor' and electric appliances to sustain their businesses, PTI reported.

In its advisory, the Madhya Pradesh Hotel Association (MPHA) asked members to ditch gas for traditional wood-fired tandoors' and switch to 'crisis menus' to keep their businesses afloat. It has also asked eateries to prioritise dishes that require lower gas usage or shorter cooking cycles.

Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu said there is no shortage of LPG and dismissed reports about the hoarding of gas cylinders in the state, PTI said adding that he cautioned the public against fake news. Sukhu added that the Centre has assured there will be no shortage of gas supplies in Himachal Pradesh.

Explosion hits

With growing global concerns about a possible energy crisis and no end to the war in sight, the price of Brent crude oil, the international standard, remained over USD 100 per barrel.

Brent prices have spiked as high as about USD 120 per barrel and are about 40 per cent higher than when Israel and the US launched the war on February 28.

The explosion rocked the Ferdowsi Square area midday, where thousands had gathered for an annual Quds Day rally. Israel had issued a warning on a Farsi-language X account for people to clear the area shortly before the blast.

Senior security official Ali Larijani, who was also at the Quds Day demonstrations, told Iranian media covering the event that the suspected Israeli attack was a “sign of its desperation.”

Israel had earlier announced another wave of strikes in Iran targeting infrastructure, and said its air force had hit more than 200 targets in the last 24 hours, including missile launchers, defence systems and weapons production sites.

In Washington, Hegseth said that over 15,000 enemy targets have been struck, which is more than 1,000 a day since the war began on February 28.

In a social media post hours earlier, US President Donald Trump had said “watch what happens to these deranged scumbags today,” while claiming that Iran's military had been decimated and that its leaders had been “wiped from the face of the earth.”

Iran has been attacking oil and other infrastructure around the Gulf region, and on Friday Saudi Arabia said that it had downed nearly 50 drones sent in multiple waves.

In Oman, two people were killed when two drones crashed in an industrial area in the region of Sohar, the Oman News Agency reported.

In the business and tourism hub of Dubai, black smoke billowed from an industrial area from a blaze that authorities said was sparked by debris from an interception.

Iran said earlier this week that it would target banks and financial institutions, after an airstrike hit a bank in Tehran.

In Türkiye, NATO defences intercepted another ballistic missile fired from Iran, the third time since the war began. Residents in the southern city of Adana reported hearing a loud explosion and sirens sounding at Incirlik Air Base, which is used by US forces, in the early hours of the day.

Nearly 60 people were wounded in northern Israel after the Lebanon's Iran-backed militant group Hezbollah said that it had fired several rocket salvos toward the area and at Israeli troops in southern Lebanon. Almost all the injuries were described as very minor.

One person was killed in southwestern Beirut in an Israeli strike, according to the Lebanese Health Ministry, and another attack hit an apartment in the capital, leaving it engulfed in flames. The Israeli military said it had targeted a Hezbollah member.

In eastern Lebanon, a strike on an apartment wounded a local official with the Lebanese branch of the Muslim Brotherhood and killed his two sons, the state-run National News Agency reported. For the past two years, Israel has targeted officials with the group.

More than 600 people have been killed in Lebanon since the fighting began, the Health Ministry has reported, and nearly 800,000 have been internally displaced, according to the UN refugee agency.

Iranian authorities say that more than 1,300 people have been killed there, and Israel has reported 12 deaths. The US has lost at least 11 soldiers, while another eight have suffered severe injuries.

The US military said that four of six crew members of an American KC-135 refuelling plane that went down in Iraq had been found dead and that recovery efforts were ongoing to find the other two.

US Central Command said that the crash wasn't related to friendly or hostile fire, and that two aircraft were involved,

CEC ouster

the CEC, amongst other attributes.

He pointed out that in the last 75 years, India has had 25 CECs and “neither House of Parliament has ever brought a removal motion against the CEC”.

Calling submitting the notices in both Houses a “strong messaging”, O'Brien said members of the opposition are using “every constitutional tool available to protect the sanctity of India's glorious institutions”.

“However, if the notice is not taken up by the Union government, doubts will be raised about a tacit understanding between the executive and the CEC,” he said.

Article 324(5) of the Constitution says the CEC shall not be removed from office except in like manner and on like grounds as a judge of the Supreme Court, and the conditions of service of the CEC shall not be varied to his disadvantage after his appointment.

The motion for removal may be introduced in either House of Parliament and must be passed by a special majority -- a majority of the total membership of the House and a two-thirds majority of the members present and voting. The law on the appointment of CEC and election commissioners says, “The CEC shall not be removed from his office except in the like manner and on the like grounds as a judge of the Supreme Court,” and the other election commissioners shall not be removed from office “except on the recommendation of the CEC”.

According to the Judges (Inquiry) Act, 1968, if the notice for the motion is given on the same day in both Houses of Parliament, no committee shall be constituted unless the motion has been admitted in both Houses.

After the motion has been admitted in both Houses, a committee shall be constituted jointly by the Lok Sabha speaker and the Rajya Sabha chairman.

The committee will consist of the chief justice of India (CJI) or a Supreme Court judge, the chief justice of one of the 25 high courts, and a “distinguished jurist”. The committee proceedings are like any court proceeding where witnesses and the accused are cross-examined.

The CEC, too, will get a chance to speak before the committee. According to the rule, once the committee submits its report, it will be tabled in the House and discussions will commence for impeachment.

The motion to remove a judge, and in this case the CEC, will have to be passed by both Houses.

When the House discusses the motion, Kumar will have the right to defend himself standing at the entrance of the House chamber.

While regretting the inconvenience resulting from the fuel charge, IndiGo said it would continue to monitor the situation and make relevant adjustments as and when appropriate.

On March 10, Air India and Air India Express announced that they would levy a fuel charge of Rs 399 on each domestic flight ticket from March 12 and also hiked the charge for international bookings due to a steep rise in jet fuel prices. The revised rates came into effect from March 12.

SC plans AI

dismantle years of entrenched incumbency and systemic inefficiency. A second round of transfers is expected before the end of the month. The trigger was a glaring lapse uncovered during proceedings before a bench of Chief Justice of India Surya Kant, Justice Joymalya Bagchi and Justice Vipul Pancholi, which was hearing a petition filed by Irfan Solanki challenging the Uttar Pradesh Gangsters and Anti-Social Activities (Prevention) Act, 1986, on grounds of repugnancy with Section 111 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023.

The State of Uttar Pradesh brought to the court's notice that a near-identical challenge in Md. Anas Chaudhary v. State of Uttar Pradesh had already been dismissed by a three-judge bench comprising former Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud, Justice PS Narasimha and Justice Dipankar Datta on December 12, 2022, with a direction to the petitioner to pursue remedies before the competent forum.

Despite the dismissal, a similar petition had found its way onto the cause list before a fresh bench.

CJI Kant took strong exception to the lapse. Though Senior Advocate Shoen Alam sought to withdraw the plea, CJI Kant had directed that it will remain pending before the Court and will be taken to a logical conclusion. The CJI had then announced that a deeper administrative probe would follow.

SC rejects hearing on menstrual leave policy

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Friday refused to entertain a PIL seeking a nationwide policy providing paid menstrual leave for women students and workers, observing no one would give them jobs in such a scenario and that such a provision would unintentionally reinforce gender stereotypes.

The top court, however, asked the Centre and competent authorities to consider the representation of the PIL petitioner and examine the possibility of framing a policy on menstrual leave after consulting all relevant stakeholders.

A bench comprising Chief Justice of India Surya Kant and Justice Joymalya Bagchi observed that while the intent behind the petition might be welfare-oriented, the practical reality of the job market could lead to "counter-productive" outcomes for women.

"These pleas are made to create fear, to call women inferior, that menstruation is something bad happening to them... this is an affirmative right... but think about the employer who needs to give paid leave," the bench observed.

Senior advocate MR Shamsad, appearing for the petitioner, said the Karnataka government has formulated a policy to allow menstrual leave and some private organisations are also providing this facility.

"Voluntarily they are giving, then it is excellent. That is a very good thing. But the moment you introduce it as a compulsory condition in law, you do not know the damage it will do to the career of women. Nobody will give them responsibilities, even in judicial services, a normal trial will not be assigned to them," the CJI said.

Centre says HP delays land, funds

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: In order to enhance strategic infrastructure development and accelerate regional development, the Centre on Friday highlighted a number of railway projects that are at different stages of development in Himachal Pradesh. It also highlighted that delays in acquiring land and the state government's delayed financial commitments have hindered work on a few projects.

In a reply to the Rajya Sabha on Friday, Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnav said that the work on the rail line between Nangal Dam and Daulatpur Chowk on the Amb Andaura-Mukerian rail line has been completed. The work on the remaining stretches that connect Himachal Pradesh with Punjab and the Jammu route is ongoing. Besides, the minister confirmed that the 60-km rail line between Nangal Dam and Daulatpur Chowk has already been completed. The work on the 42-km rail line between Daulatpur Chowk and Mukerian is ongoing. The work on the 10.5-km rail line between Daulatpur Chowk and Kartoli in Punjab has already been completed. The work on the rail line between Kartoli and Talwara and the rail line between Talwara and Mukerian is ongoing.

Also, while replying on the Floor of the House, the minister for railways explained the details of the two major projects undertaken by the Railways. The first is the Chandigarh-Baddi rail line, which is a 33-km stretch. This Rs 1,540 crore project is being undertaken with equal funding from the Centre and the Himachal Pradesh government. The work is underway, with 75 per cent of the viaduct work completed. However, the work is now stalled as the Himachal Pradesh government has not paid its share, with a balance of Rs 186 crore still pending from the state government.

The second major rail line under the Railways is the Bhanupalli-Bilaspur-Beri line, which is a 63-km stretch. This line is being undertaken with 75% funding from the Centre and 25% from the state.

"Nobody will give them responsibilities... This can be harmful to their growth," the bench added.

Justice Bagchi echoed these concerns from a business perspective, noting that affirmative action is constitutionally recognised but must be balanced against market realities.

At the outset, the bench raised the issue of locus of the PIL petitioner and pointed out that no woman herself has approached the court.

It was the third petition filed by Tripathi on the same issue.

The first petition was dealt by the bench in 2023 and it allowed the petitioner to give a representation before the Union Ministry of Women and Children.

The petitioner approached the court in 2024 again on the ground that the Centre did not respond to his representation. The PIL was disposed of in July 2024 again with the direction to the government to take a decision.

"These petitions are deeply rooted, designed PILs. You are not a bona fide petitioner. This is basically only to create a type of impression in young women that you still have some natural issues and you are not at par with male persons and you cannot work like them during a particular time," the bench observed initially.

Govt advises against 'panic booking'; says uninterrupted LPG supply to households ensured

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Panic reigned in the streets on Friday as a scramble for domestic gas made people queue up across states, eateries shut shop, and reports of hoarding made rounds, even as the Centre insisted there was no shortage of LPG in the country.

The Centre on Friday said uninterrupted LPG supply to households has been ensured, and there is no need for panic booking for cylinders.

Briefing the media, Sujata Sharma, Joint Secretary in the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas, said the domestic production of LPG has already increased by 30 per cent since March 5. "There is no need for panic booking, and there has been no dry out at any LPG dealer," Sharma added.

LPG bookings have surged to 75.7 lakh against an average of 55.7 lakh in the pre-war period, "showing panic booking", she said.

All the same, long queues were witnessed outside LPG distribution centres across Bihar despite the district administrations claiming there was no shortage of domestic gas cylinders.

People turned up in large numbers at distribution agencies in Patna, Bhagalpur, Roh-tas, Katihar and other districts.

The West Asia conflict has impacted the supply of crude oil and petroleum products, following the closure of the Strait of Hormuz, a narrow passage of water between Iran and Oman.

In Delhi, the gas crunch sent small-scale traders into financial distress.

Nareesh Chawla, who operates a fast-food stall near PVR Saket, said a single establishment often supports several workers and their families.

"One small shop supports eight to 10 livelihoods. I employ three to four workers who have migrated from villages. Many of us have taken loans to run these stalls. If this continues, 30 per cent of street vendors will lose their means of survival," he said.

In the city's Adarsh Nagar, a food vendor named Vicky said he paid around Rs 4,000 for a small cylinder.

Many vendors said they are now dipping into savings or taking loans to manage daily household expenses.

In UP also several districts were affected.

In Prayagraj's Jhansi area, tensions escalated to the point where police had to be called after a dispute broke out at a gas agency. The agency office was briefly shut amid the chaos.

In Shahjahanpur's Jalalabad, angry consumers blocked the Bareilly-Farrukhabad highway around 10 am after they failed to receive LPG cylinders. Police reached the spot soon after and managed to persuade the protesters to clear the road.

Ireland's Attorney General to visit India

NEW DELHI: As part of the Irish government's global celebrations marking St. Patrick's Day, Ireland's Attorney General, Rossa Fanning SC, will visit India from 16 March for a two-city programme in New Delhi and Mumbai.

St. Patrick's Day provides an important opportunity to showcase Ireland internationally and engage with political, business, civil society, cultural and diaspora leaders.

During his visit, Fanning will meet senior ministers from the Indian government and members of the judiciary to discuss areas of mutual interest, including cooperation on legal and governance matters. He will also deliver public lectures at Jawaharlal Nehru University and Mumbai University.

National dialogue on online crimes launched

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: In an attempt to upgrade the response to cybercrimes against women and children, Union Home Secretary Govind Mohan has launched the National Dialogue on Online Crimes Against Women and Children (OCWC) here on Thursday.

The dialogue was meant to stress the need for better coordination and the establishment of proper institutional mechanisms to combat cybercrimes in our increasingly digital society.

The dialogue was organised by the Indian Cyber Crime Coordination Centre (I4C) under the Ministry of Home Affairs. The dialogue was meant to bring together all the key players to discuss the best way to combat cybercrimes against women and children effectively.

The move is also a step towards the government's efforts to ensure a safe, secure, and dignified digital space for women and children in the country under the leadership of Prime Minister Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah.

Mohan highlighted the increasing challenges posed by cybercrimes as our society is becoming increasingly digital. He also emphasised the need for states and union territories to develop their institutional mechanisms to combat cybercrimes against women and children by establishing specialised units to deal with cybercrimes.

Mohan also asked law enforcement agencies across the country to focus on cases involving online crimes against women and children. He asked these agencies to respond quickly and cohesively.

NHRC steps in, seeks reports on missing children from 5 states

NARESH BISWANI

NEW DELHI: The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) has taken suo motu cognisance of a media report which highlighted the fact that a huge number of cases of missing persons are pending in Bihar, a majority of whom are children.

The media report states that between 12,000 and 14,000 cases of missing persons are registered every year in the state of Bihar since 2013. However, only two-thirds of the missing children have been found so far.

The NHRC has observed that "the matter is of serious concern to the Commission". The contents of the media report, if true, reveal serious violations of human rights.

Observed that "the matter is of serious concern to the Commission"

The Commission is also concerned about the fact that even after taking various measures to deal with the issue of missing persons, the number of such cases is increasing while only a few cases are being successfully solved."

According to the report, based on data provided by the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB), it was observed that the highest numbers of human trafficking cases were registered in Odisha, Bihar, Telangana, and Maharashtra. Among these states, Odisha reported the highest numbers of cases related to the trafficking of minor boys, followed by Bihar. In the case of trafficking of minor girls, the highest numbers of incidents were reported in Rajasthan.

The media report, which was released on March 9, 2026, also raised concerns that some of these missing children could be engaged in illegal activities such as begging, child labour, prostitution, etc.

To address this issue, the NHRC has directed the Chief Secretaries of Bihar, Odisha, Telangana, Maharashtra and Rajasthan, along with their respective Directors General of Police, to provide information on this issue within two weeks.

INAUGURATES 3-DAY 38TH VASANT UTSAV IN PANCHKULA Hry CM Saini stresses on environmental initiatives

SWATI MAHAJAN

CHANDIGARH: Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini on Friday inaugurated the three-day 38th Vasant Utsav at the Town Park in Sector-5, Panchkula. For the first time in the 37-year history of the Utsav, it is being organised on the lines of the Surajkund Mela.

On the occasion, the cactus garden, Asia's largest, which had remained closed for nearly a year for maintenance, was also reopened for the public.

Earlier, the CM was welcomed at the venue in traditional style with a ceremonial turban, dhol-nagadas and musical instruments. He visited the flower exhibition organised during the festival and showed keen interest in various varieties of flowers displayed in the cut, dry and fresh flowers sections. He also visited stalls

Saini reviews schemes to strengthen vehicle scrapping

CHANDIGARH: Haryana CM Nayab Singh Saini chaired a meeting in Chandigarh to review the implementation of various incentive schemes under the Haryana Registered Vehicle Scrapping and Recycling Facility Incentive Policy-2024, aimed at promoting the vehicle scrapping and recycling sector in the state. During the meeting, emphasis was laid on encouraging the scientific and environmentally responsible scrapping and recycling of old vehicles, while also attracting investment and generating new employment opportunities in the state. Haryana Industries and Commerce Minister Rao Narbir Singh joined the meeting through video conferencing.

Addressing the gathering as the chief guest, the CM said that "the festival is a vibrant celebration of our culture, love for nature and social harmony, and has become a major attraction for people across the state".

Speaking on environmental issues, the CM said: "The world today is facing serious challenges such as global warming and environmental pollution, and these problems can only be addressed through conservation of nature."

He said the Haryana government is continuously implementing initiatives to increase green cover, promote water conservation and protect biodiversity.

Under the Pran Vayu Devta Pension Scheme, a provision has been made to provide an annual pension of Rs 3,000 for the maintenance of trees older than 75 years. So far, 3,819 trees have been identified, and Rs 2 crore 5 lakh has been disbursed as pension to those who are taking care of these trees. In addition, 1,541 more trees have been identified under the scheme.

CBI grills Anil Ambani's son

NARESH BISWANI

NEW DELHI: The Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Friday questioned Jai Anmol Ambani for over six hours in connection with a bank fraud case of Rs 228 crores involving Reliance Home Finance Limited.

The agency had summoned Ambani to the headquarters of the CBI in Delhi as part of the investigation into the case. Ambani was produced before the investigating officer of the case and was examined for 6.5 hours. The agency has asked him to appear before it on Friday for further questioning.

The CBI had registered a case on December 6, 2025, against Reliance Home Finance Limited, Jai Anmol Ambani, Ravindra Sudhakar, and unknown public servants regarding an alleged bank fraud of Rs 228.06 crores.

According to the CBI, the case was registered on the basis of a complaint received from Union Bank of India that the company had engaged in a criminal conspiracy, cheating, and criminal misconduct that caused wrongful loss to the bank.

Vinai Saxena takes oath as 4th L-G of Ladakh

LEH/JAMMU: Vinai Kumar Saxena on Friday took oath as the Lieutenant Governor of the Union Territory of Ladakh, eight days after President Droupadi Murmu appointed him to the constitutional post.

Saxena, who succeeds Kavinder Gupta, was administered the oath of office and secrecy by Chief Justice of the High Court of Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh, Justice Arun Palli, at a ceremony held at the Arya Nagarjuna Auditorium of the Central Institute of Buddhist Studies in Choglamsar, an official spokesman said.

Earlier, Chief Secretary Ashish Kundra read out the warrant of appointment issued by the President, following which Saxena signed the charge certificate.

Following the swearing-in ceremony, he was accorded a ceremonial guard of honour by Ladakh Police.

He is the fourth LG of the Union Territory and succeeds Gupta, who took over as LG on July 18, 2025, and resigned from the post on March 5 this year to take up a new assignment as the governor of Himachal Pradesh.

Talking to the media after

Saxena succeeds Kavinder Gupta. He described Ladakh as "crown of India"

the ceremony, the LG expressed his gratitude to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah for entrusting him with the responsibility of serving the people of Ladakh.

Describing Ladakh as the "crown of India", he assured that he would work wholeheartedly in accordance with the aspirations and requirements of the people.

Highlighting his development approach, Saxena said that he intends to visit villages and remote areas across Ladakh to understand the problems faced by people on the ground and identify practical and sustainable solutions.

He said Ladakh possesses tremendous tourism potential and emphasised that one of his key priorities would be to make Ladakh one of the most beautiful and sought-after tourism destinations in the country and the world.

EDITORIAL
CHOKEPOINT?

India's decision to temporarily reintroduce kerosene for household use and allow hotels and restaurants to switch to coal and other alternate fuels is a reminder of how quickly global geopolitics can reshape everyday life. The move, prompted by disruptions in West Asia that have effectively shut the Strait of Hormuz, illustrates the extent to which the country's energy security remains vulnerable to distant conflicts. For millions of households and businesses, the consequences of a war thousands of kilometres away have suddenly become tangible in the form of altered fuel supplies, rationed LPG cylinders and a return to fuels that policymakers had spent years trying to phase out. In ordinary circumstances, the reappearance of kerosene as a cooking fuel would appear like a reversal of policy. In the current situation, however, it reflects a pragmatic response to a global crisis that has disrupted one of the world's most critical energy transit corridors.

The Strait of Hormuz occupies a unique place in the global energy system. The narrow waterway between Iran and Oman serves as the primary maritime exit for oil and gas producers in the Gulf, carrying roughly a fifth of the world's oil and a significant portion of liquefied natural gas. For India, the route is particularly vital. The country imports nearly 88 per cent of its crude oil requirements, half of its LNG needs and a substantial share of the LPG used in households. A large portion of these imports travels through the strait, making any disruption to shipping lanes immediately consequential. The current conflict, which escalated after military strikes and retaliatory attacks in West Asia, has halted the steady flow of tankers through the corridor. What might otherwise appear to be a distant geopolitical flashpoint therefore becomes a direct challenge to India's energy supply chains.

Yet the crisis also reveals the complex layers of India's energy dependence. While crude oil supplies can be replaced relatively quickly through purchases from other producers such as Russia, the United States or Africa, LPG presents a different challenge. India consumes more cooking gas than it produces domestically, meaning imports remain essential to meeting demand. A significant portion of these imports has traditionally come from Gulf producers whose shipments must pass through the Strait of Hormuz. Finding alternative supplies is possible, but it involves longer shipping routes and logistical adjustments that cannot happen overnight. In such circumstances, the government's priority has been clear: protect household cooking fuel supplies even if that means temporarily restricting commercial consumption and allowing businesses to shift to other fuels.

The reintroduction of kerosene carries symbolic weight because it represents a step back from a policy direction India has pursued for more than a decade. Successive governments invested heavily in expanding access to cleaner cooking fuels, particularly through initiatives such as the Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana, which provided millions of low-income households with LPG connections. Cities like Delhi proudly declared themselves kerosene-free as part of efforts to reduce pollution and eliminate the risks associated with the fuel's misuse and adulteration. That long transition away from kerosene was intended not only to improve public health but also to modernise household energy consumption. Its temporary return underlines how fragile those gains can be when external shocks disrupt supply chains.

At the same time, the government has been careful to emphasise that the country is not facing a broader fuel shortage. Petrol and diesel supplies remain stable, refineries are operating at high capacity, and crude oil imports have been diversified across a larger pool of suppliers. In recent years India has consciously expanded its network of energy partners, purchasing crude from around forty countries compared with fewer than thirty earlier. That diversification has helped cushion the impact of disruptions in any single region. Even so, the current episode demonstrates that diversification alone cannot eliminate vulnerability when a single maritime corridor carries such a large share of global energy trade. The Strait of Hormuz remains one of the world's most consequential choke points, and any prolonged disruption there inevitably reverberates across energy markets.

Another challenge confronting policymakers has been the risk of panic buying. Reports of rising LPG bookings in recent days reflect a familiar pattern that accompanies supply scares. When households fear shortages, they often attempt to secure additional cylinders, creating the very pressure they are trying to avoid. The government's decision to increase the minimum refill interval and expand delivery authentication measures is therefore aimed at preventing hoarding and diversion. By regulating commercial consumption and monitoring distribution more closely, authorities hope to ensure that essential sectors such as hospitals, educational institutions and households continue to receive priority access to fuel. Such measures may appear restrictive, but they are designed to stabilise supply in the midst of uncertainty.

The broader lesson of the current crisis lies in the reminder that energy security cannot be separated from geopolitics. India has made significant progress in diversifying its energy sources and strengthening its refining capacity, yet the country's dependence on imported fuels remains substantial. As long as large volumes of oil and gas move through a handful of maritime corridors, conflicts in distant regions will continue to carry domestic consequences. The temporary measures announced by the government are therefore best understood as crisis management rather than a structural solution. They buy time while supply chains adjust and alternative shipments arrive.

Ultimately, the situation also underscores the need for a deeper long-term shift in India's energy strategy. Reducing dependence on imported fossil fuels through expanded domestic production, renewable energy development and improved storage capacity would help insulate the country from external shocks. Such transitions, however, require sustained investment and planning. For the moment, India must navigate the immediate disruptions caused by the conflict in West Asia while ensuring that essential fuel supplies reach households and businesses. If the Strait of Hormuz remains closed for an extended period, the pressure on supply chains will intensify. But even if the crisis subsides soon, it should leave policymakers with a clear message: energy resilience is not merely an economic concern, but a strategic imperative in an increasingly uncertain world.

CONFLICT WATCH

ASIF ULLAH KHAN

THE WRITER HAS WORKED IN SENIOR EDITORIAL POSITIONS FOR MANY RENOWNED INTERNATIONAL PUBLICATIONS

Even if the conflict ends soon, the reputational damage to the Gulf's economic narrative may endure

A War the Gulf Didn't Choose

While the conflict's strategic drivers lie elsewhere, the Gulf states are bearing the immediate costs — from disrupted energy infrastructure and aviation to a shaken reputation for stability

Even if we set aside the controversial argument advanced by Tucker Carlson—that the war with Iran is primarily driven by Israel rather than the strategic interests of the United States—the consequences for the Gulf states are already unmistakable.

Carlson has argued that the conflict "happened because Israel wanted it to happen," describing it as a struggle for regional hegemony rather than a war fought primarily for American national security. He also suggested that Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu seeks to weaken several Gulf states, even though some of them now maintain diplomatic relations with Israel.

Whether one accepts or dismisses that interpretation, the broader reality is clear: the countries of the Gulf Cooperation Council are paying a heavy price for a war they neither started nor control. And the costs extend beyond economic disruption. The conflict has also damaged the carefully cultivated image of the Gulf as a sanctuary of stability for tourism, investment and global commerce.

Across Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Qatar, Kuwait and Bahrain, the war has exposed how vulnerable the Gulf's economic model is to regional escalation. Energy infrastructure, aviation hubs and tourism centres have all been disrupted, while attacks on ports and shipping lanes threaten the flow of oil and gas through the Strait of Hormuz. In effect, regardless of whose strategic goals triggered the conflict, the Gulf states have become the front-line economies of the war.

For decades, the Gulf has transformed itself from a sparsely populated desert into one of the world's most interconnected economic regions.

As missiles and drones strike critical infrastructure, the Gulf's carefully built reputation for stability faces its most serious test

Its cities are global aviation crossroads. Its ports connect energy markets across continents. Its financial centres attract investors from every corner of the world.

Yet this prosperity rested on a fragile assumption: that regional wars would remain somewhere else.

That assumption is now under strain.

Iranian missile and drone attacks have targeted economic infrastructure across the region. Energy facilities operated by QatarEnergy at Ras Laffan and Mesaieed Industrial City were damaged, forcing the world's largest liquefied natural gas producer to halt operations. Saudi Arabia's Ras Tanura refinery—one of the most important oil processing centres in the world—has also been struck, alongside oil infrastructure in the UAE.

The war has also dealt a severe blow to the Gulf's aviation and tourism sectors—two pillars of its economic diversification strategy.

Dubai International Airport, the world's busiest hub for international passengers, suspended operations following strikes near the Jebel Ali port complex. Abu Dhabi's airport experienced a fatal incident, while drone strikes damaged Kuwait International Airport's passenger terminal. Qatar closed its airspace and grounded the fleet of Qatar Airways.

For the first time in recent memory, all GCC states experienced simultaneous airspace closures. Tourism during the Ramadan season—normally one of the region's most lucrative periods—collapsed almost overnight, with losses expected to exceed $40 billion.

But the reputational damage may prove even greater.

Videos of explosions in Dubai, Doha and Manama—and scenes of stranded tourists attempting to flee overland—have punctured the Gulf's carefully cultivated image as a haven of stability in an otherwise turbulent region.

Iranian strikes on luxury hotels in Dubai and residential towers in Bahrain carried a powerful message: even the Gulf's most prestigious economic symbols are not immune from regional conflict.

Beyond tourism and energy, the war has also exposed deeper structural vulnerabilities. In an arid region with few natural resources, daily life depends on fragile networks of pipelines, ports and desalination plants that provide water and electricity to tens of millions of residents.

The Arabian Peninsula has no major rivers or lakes. Nearly all drinking water comes from desalination plants connected to coastal power stations. These facilities—responsible for roughly half of the world's desalination capacity—are highly exposed to missile or drone attacks.

Even if the war ends soon, its consequences will linger long after the missiles stop flying.

The conflict has revealed how easily advanced infrastructure can be threatened by relatively inexpensive drones and missile systems. It has also raised uncomfortable questions about the limits of existing air-defence systems and the reliability of external security guarantees.

As a result, military spending across the Gulf is almost certain to surge. Governments will likely invest billions more in missile defence, drone interception technologies, cybersecurity and hardened infrastructure protection.

But those investments will come at a cost.

For years, Gulf governments have poured resources into ambitious diversification projects—technology hubs, tourism megaprojects and financial centres designed to prepare their economies for a post-oil future. Now, some of those resources may increasingly be redirected toward security.

The war has also exposed another vulnerability: the Gulf's dependence on foreign labour and international investors. Millions of expatriates work across the region, and many have already begun leaving as the conflict intensifies. If security concerns persist, the Gulf's economic model—built on global mobility and investor confidence—could face long-term strain.

For decades, the Gulf states built their prosperity on a powerful narrative: stability in an unstable region.

This war has shaken that narrative.

And when the conflict finally ends, the Gulf will face a daunting task—not only rebuilding infrastructure and restoring investor confidence, but also reclaiming the reputation for safety and stability that made it one of the world's most successful economic hubs in the first place.

From drone swarms to AI-driven targeting, modern warfare is becoming a contest of algorithms rather than soldiers

The Age of AI Warfare

With the increased use of artificial intelligence in warfare, countries such as India must stocktake and prepare for defence safety and autonomy

Boots on the ground may soon be a thing of the past. The current war scenario proves it. Advanced defence systems comprising precision weapons such as swarm drones, cruise missiles, and stealth bombers are causing massive devastation and destruction. But the actual number of soldiers across enemy lines is negligible. An evolutionary shift from the days of thousands of armed personnel storming borders and stockpiling defence equipment. And now aiding the new-age war is artificial intelligence (AI). The ongoing Israel-US war on Iran exemplifies AI killing machines, highlighting the urgent need for caution and preparation.

As per revelations, Anthropic's Claude, after being used in Operation Absolute Resolve in Venezuela, has been actively used in the strikes on Iran. According to a New York-based security research non-profit firm, Soufan Center, Operation Epic Fury has used the large language model (LLM) for battlefield simulations even after its ban due to emerging ethical fault lines. Operated through a possible embedding within Department of Defense's Palantir platforms, Claude sharpened US attacks and helped with planning and support, purportedly orchestrating attacks on over 1,000 targets in 24 hours. Another contract has been signed between OpenAI and the Department of War (DoW) for future conflict situations. These are in clear contravention of pledges taken by Big Tech and also spotlight the existing lacuna around global regulation and policy regarding the weaponisation of AI.

War and strife have largely metamorphosed today. It's no longer about human bravery or courage but rather of advanced defence systems facing off against competing state-of-the-art war tools. It's essentially tech versus tech. Military AI has been in use for a while now; it's only becoming more sophisticated and lethal now. The fear of AI learning from these calamitous scenarios and developing into autonomous, murderous programs as it gains superintelligence is also not entirely far-fetched anymore. The way AI learns and adapts, paints a near-future diegesis that's more real than sci-fi. And while that's a guaranteed occurrence if there are no guardrails, the immediate warning is coming to nations like ours to review our defence systems, both for safety and autarchy. Since India is reliant mostly on foreign LLMs, our risks run high. India must on war-footing protect its data privacy and supply chains while ensuring strong cyber defence, autonomous systems, and strategic sovereignty.

Modern warfare is rapidly shifting from soldiers on the ground to algorithms in command centres

And what of humans? Like in all sectors, even human jobs within defence can be usurped by AI that's able to analyse and strategise within seconds what would take human counterparts hours or even days. Though defence experts argue (or hope against hope) that human judgement will continue to be relevant. The speed of AI, however, runs the very plausible risk of making several, if not all humans, redundant.

Companies such as Anthropic and OpenAI claim to have internal bibles to prevent crossing of lines. But who governs the use or misuse of powerful AI? How do we even define the ethics around it? Can companies refuse their governments? And what of subterfuge and skulduggery? Today, groups such as the United Nations (UN) and the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation (NATO) are a shadow of their former influential selves. The stage is set for a global agreement on disarmament stipulations for the use of AI in war. Would megalomaniacs and dictators adhere to these rules? The diplomatic challenge is real but then a modern world begets novel problems — and this will be the test for current dispensations around the world.

WHO SAID WHAT

Raghav Chadha
@raghav_chadha

Periods are natural. Stigma is not. If a girl misses school because there are no sanitary pads, no water and no privacy, it is not her personal problem. It is our collective failure. We live in a country where alcohol and cigarettes are sold openly, but sanitary pads are still wrapped in newspaper as if they must be hidden. Somewhere along the way, society turned a biological fact into a social taboo. A matter of science has been turned into a matter of silence. Menstrual hygiene is not charity. It is not a favour. It is not a side issue. It is a matter of health, education and equality. Above all, it is a matter of dignity. Raised this issue in Parliament today because it affects over 35 crore women and girls in India. A nation cannot call itself truly progressive if millions of girls still face fear, shame and silence for something so basic. The real test of progress is simple. The day every girl in India can go to school, live with dignity and speak about this without stigma, that will be the day we can truly say our society has moved forward.

THE KC-135 IS A LONG-SERVING TANKER PLANE

US military refuelling plane crashed in Iraq; all 6 dead

DUBAI: The US military on Friday said all six airmen aboard a refuelling aircraft that went down in Iraq are dead.

The military says the circumstances of the incident are being investigated.

The US Central Command, which oversees the Middle East, said the crash followed an unspecified incident involving two aircraft in “friendly airspace,” and that the other plane landed safely.

The KC-135 Stratotanker is a US Air Force aircraft used to refuel other planes in midair, allowing them to travel longer distances and maintain operations longer without landing. The plane is also used to transport wounded personnel during medical evacuations or conduct surveillance missions, according to military experts.

Based on the same design as the Boeing 707 passenger plane, the tanker has been in service for more than 60 years, supporting the US Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps as well as allied aircraft, according to an Air Force description. The aging plane is set to be phased out as the air force receives a full complement of next-generation KC-46A Pegasus tankers.

Despite upgrades over the years, the KC-135s’ age has fuelled concern about their reliability and durability.

“The last of these planes were produced in the 1960s,” said Yang Uk, a security expert at South Korea’s Asan Institute for Policy Studies. He added that the transition to the KC-46A has progressed more slowly than expected.

According to the Congressional Research Service, the Air Force last year had 376 KC-135s, including 151 on active duty, 163 in the Air National Guard and 62 in the Air Force Reserve.

Refuelling typically happens at the back of the plane, where the boom operator is located. A fuel boom is lowered to connect with fighters, bombers or other aircraft. On many of the planes, the boom operator works lying face down while looking out of a window on the underside of the plane. Some KC-135s can also refuel planes from pods on their wings. The tankers also have room above the fuel stores to carry cargo or passengers if needed.

Refuelling tankers could play an increasingly important role if the Iran war drags on, as US aircraft may need to fly longer missions to pursue Iranian forces retreating deeper into the country, said Yang. The accident caused the tanker to crash, killing four onboard.

The disaster led to an extensive decontamination effort to clean up nuclear material dispersed when conventional explosives in the hydrogen bombs detonated after hitting the ground.

China to provide $2L for victims of bomb attack on Iranian school

BEIJING: China on Friday said it will provide $200,000 in emergency humanitarian assistance to the students killed in an airstrike on an elementary school in Iran in the ongoing joint US-Israel attacks on the country.

China expresses deep condolences regarding the deaths of students in the recent attack on an Iranian elementary school and extends sincere sympathies to their families, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Guo Jiakun said at a media briefing here.

Red Cross Society of China has decided to provide the Iranian Red Crescent Society with $200,000 in emergency humanitarian assistance, he said.

Guo said China condemns all indiscriminate attacks against civilians and non-military targets. Targeting schools and harming children constitute a severe violation of international humanitarian law and cross the bottom line of human morality and conscience, he added.

“China is willing to continue to offer necessary support to Iran in the spirit of humanitarianism to help the Iranian people overcome the difficulties,” he said. According to a statement by the United Nations on March 1, missiles reportedly destroyed a girl’s primary school in Minab, southern Iran, killing around 150 and wounding almost 100.

‘US 30-day waiver on Russian oil sanctions not right decision’

PARIS: Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said Friday that the US 30-day waiver on Russian oil sanctions amid the Iran war is “not the right decision” and won’t help bring a stop to Russia’s more than 4-year-old invasion of Ukraine.

“This easing alone by the United States could provide Russia with about USD 10 billion for the war,” Zelenskyy said. “This certainly does not help peace.”

“I believe that lifting sanctions will, in any case, lead to a strengthening of Russia’s position. It spends the money from energy sales on weapons, and all of this is then used against us,” Zelenskyy said at a news conference with French President Emmanuel Macron during a visit to Paris.

“Therefore, ultimately lifting sanctions only so that more drones will later be flying at you is, in my opinion, not the right decision,” he said.

The US Treasury Department announced Thursday a 30-day waiver on Russian oil sanctions.

The step aims to free up Russian cargoes stranded at sea and ease supply shortages caused by the Iran war.

Analysts say that spiralling oil prices due to Persian Gulf production blockages are benefiting the Russian economy.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy

“MOSCOW RELIES HEAVILY ON OIL REVENUE TO FINANCE ITS INVASION, AND SANCTIONS WERE A GROWING HANDICAP”

Moscow relies heavily on oil revenue to finance its invasion, and sanctions were a growing handicap.

US-mediated talks between Moscow and Kyiv that seek to stop Europe’s biggest conflict since World War II are on hold due to the Iran war, though they could resume next week, according to Zelenskyy.

Macron noted that broad sanctions on Russia still stand despite the temporary US waiver.

US waivers announced in recent days are “limited” and “taken on an exceptional basis,” Macron said. “It does not broadly or permanently roll back the sanctions that they themselves decided to apply,” he added.

German Chancellor Friedrich Merz adopted a more critical stance.

He said Friday that a meeting earlier this week of heads of state and government from the Group of Seven industrialised democracies discussed with US President Donald Trump the issue of Russian oil and liquefied natural gas supplies.

“Six members of the G7 expressed a very clear view that this (waiving of Russia sanctions) is not the right signal to send,” Merz said during a visit to Norway.

“We learned this morning that the US government has apparently decided otherwise. Once again, we believe this is the wrong decision.”

Merz added: “There is currently a price problem, but not a supply problem. And in that regard, I would like to know what additional motives led the US government to make this decision.”

WITH ATTACKS BY BOTH SIDES ON BAGHDAD'S SOIL

Iraq caught in crossfire of Iran war

IRBIL: Iraq is getting caught in the crossfire of the Iran war as the only country facing strikes from both sides, and that threatens to drag the nation that has so far avoided two years of regional turmoil into a full-blown crisis.

As the war nears two full weeks, Iraq's situation is growing more desperate. Disruptions to Gulf shipping and strikes on oil fields and infrastructure have all but halted exports, jeopardising a state that relies on such trade for the bulk of its revenue.

If the shutdown continues, Baghdad could be unable to meet its oversized public-sector payroll as soon as next month, risking widespread unrest, two Iraqi Kurdish officials said. The federal government has appealed to northern Kurdish leaders to resume exports via a pipeline to Türkiye, but talks remain deadlocked over long-standing domestic issues. The officials spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity to discuss sensitive political matters. In the meantime, a parallel conflict to the wider war has escalated between Iran-backed Iraqi militia groups and the US.

Near-daily drone strikes have targeted American interests across the country, while the US has struck back against militia bases to defend its troops.

Since the war began February 28 following a major US and Israeli strike in Iran, drone and missile attacks have targeted American interests in Iraq, including military bases in the Baghdad and Irbil airports, and US diplomatic facilities. Iran and its allied Iraqi militias also have struck oil fields and energy infrastructure to escalate the economic toll.

Unlike other Middle Eastern states touched by the war, Iraq hosts both entrenched

Highlights

- » As the war nears two full weeks, Iraq's situation is growing more desperate
- » The federal government has appealed to northern Kurdish leaders to resume exports via a pipeline to Türkiye
- » Leaders in Baghdad and Irbil continue to urge caution

Iraq-aligned forces and significant US interests.

Its economy depends overwhelmingly on oil, so disruptions to production or exports through the Strait of Hormuz could sharply cut government revenue just as a fraught political transition grips Baghdad.

The longer the conflict lasts, the greater the risk that economic shocks, political paralysis and friction with Iran-backed militias will combine to unravel Iraq's hard-won relative stability.

Leaders in Baghdad and Irbil continue to urge caution and insist the war must not be fought on their soil, but the conflict's trajectory is increasingly slipping beyond their control.

The US has communicated assurances to Iraqi leaders that the country won't be dragged into the regional war, according to the two Kurdish officials who spoke to AP. AGENCIES

Iran about to surrender: Trump tells G7 leaders

US President Donald Trump

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump has told G7 leaders that Iran is "about to surrender," claiming success in Operation Epic Fury, a media report said on Friday.

Trump made the claim on Wednesday during a virtual meeting of the G7 leaders amid growing concerns about the economic fallout of the war with Iran, Axios reported.

"I got rid of a cancer that was threatening us all," Trump told the leaders, who urged the US President to end the war quickly. During the call, German Chancellor Friedrich Merz, British Prime Minister Keir Starmer and French President Emmanuel Macron urged Trump not to allow Russia to exploit the war or receive sanctions relief, the report said, citing two officials. The US on Thursday announced a temporary authorisation to other countries to purchase Russian oil currently stranded at sea. AGENCIES

Afghanistan accuses Pak of targeting homes in airstrikes

At least six civilians were killed and over a dozen injured, as fighting between the neighbours entered its third week

KABUL: Afghanistan's Taliban government accused Pakistan's military Friday of targeting homes in overnight airstrikes in Kabul and other areas of the country, saying at least six civilians were killed and more than a dozen injured, as fighting between the neighbours entered its third week.

Afghan government spokesman Zabihullah Mujahid said on X that Pakistani aircraft also struck fuel depots belonging to the private airline Kam Air near the airport in Kandahar in southern Afghanistan. "This company supplies fuel to civilian airlines as well as to United Nations aircraft," he said. Meanwhile, Pakistan's state-run television reported that the country's armed forces carried out "successful airstrikes inside Afghanistan" as part of the ongoing operation, targeting what it said were four alleged militant hideouts and their support infrastructure in Afghanistan.

The developments come amid a dramatic increase in tensions between the two countries which Pakistan has referred to as "open war." They are adding to concerns about the stability in the region as the US-Israeli war against Iran continues with no end in sight, generating great uncertainty. AGENCIES

MARKETS DECLINE FOR THIRD STRAIGHT DAY

Sensex and Nifty tumble 2% amid West Asia conflict, boiling crude

BSE midcap select index tanked 2.87%, smallcap select index fell 2.48%

OUR CORRESPONDENT

MUMBAI: Equity benchmarks Sensex and Nifty wilted under selling pressure for the third straight day on Friday as rising crude prices raised concerns over inflationary pressures and global economic stability amid the widening conflict in West Asia.

Intense selling in global markets, unabated foreign fund outflows and continuing weakness in the rupee also dented investor sentiment.

The 30-share BSE Sensex tumbled 1,579.82 points, or 2 per cent, to 74,454.60 during intra-day trade.

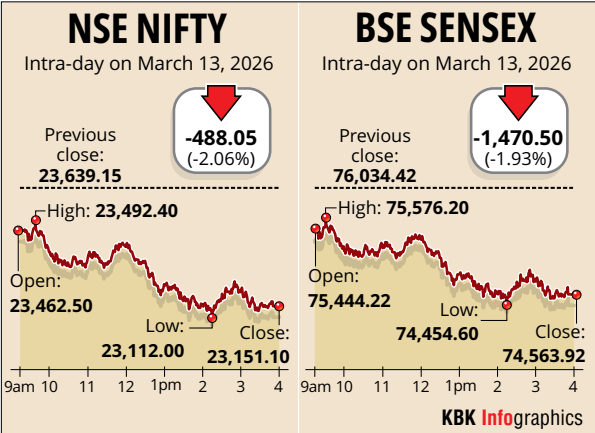

The benchmark finally settled at 74,563.92, down 1,470.50 points, or 1.93 per cent.

A total of 3,348 stocks declined, while 941 advanced and 132 remained unchanged on the BSE.

The 50-share NSE Nifty tanked 488.05 points, or 2.06 per cent, to end at 23,151.10.

The market capitalisation (mcap) of BSE-listed firms slumped by Rs 10,24,181.74 crore to Rs 4,29,82,252.27 crore ($4.65 trillion) on Friday.

On the weekly front, the BSE benchmark tanked

Intense selling in global markets, unabated foreign fund outflows and continuing weakness in the rupee also dented investor sentiment

4,354.98 points or 5.51 per cent, and the Nifty dropped 1,299.35 points or 5.31 per cent.

Since February 27, the 30-share BSE Sensex has nosedived 6,723.27 points, or 8.27 per cent. During this time, the market capitalisation of BSE-listed companies eroded by Rs 33,68,419 crore to Rs 4,29,82,252.27 crore ($4.65 trillion).

From the Sensex constituents, Larsen & Toubro plunged the most by 7.52 per cent, followed by Tata Steel, SBI, Bharat Electronics, Maruti, and Ultra-Tech Cement.

In contrast, Hindustan Unilever and Bharti Airtel were the gainers.

Rupee falls 5 paise to 92.30 against dollar

MUMBAI: The rupee slumped 5 paise to close at a fresh record low of 92.30 against the US dollar on Friday amid the raging West Asia conflict.

A stronger greenback, heavy foreign fund outflows and sustained selling in the domestic equity markets further weighed on the rupee, forex traders said.

At the interbank foreign exchange, the local unit opened at 92.33 and kept losing ground to hit a fresh intra-day low of 92.47 against the US dollar.

It eventually settled at a new record low of 92.30, down 5 paise from its previous close. In the preceding session, the rupee lost 24 paise to settle at 92.25 against the US dollar, its lowest-ever closing level until Thursday. The dollar index was trading 0.43 per cent higher at 100.17. PTI

PV dispatches rise 10.6% in Feb to 4,17,705 units: SIAM

Domestic Passenger vehicle (PV) dispatches stood at 3,77,689 units in February 2025

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Domestic passenger vehicle dispatches from companies to dealers rose 10.6 per cent year-on-year to 4,17,705 units in February as positive market sentiments continued but the war in West Asia remains a concern as it could impact manufacturing and exports, industry body SIAM said on Friday.

Passenger vehicle (PV) dispatches stood at 3,77,689 units in February 2025.

Growth in PV sales last month was driven mainly by utility vehicles, which clocked a growth of 13.5 per cent at 2,36,957 units as compared to 2,08,795 units in February last year.

Passenger car dispatches declined 3.8 per cent at 1,06,799 units last month as compared to 1,10,966 units in the year-ago period, SIAM said.

Sales of vans in the domestic market were at 11,620 units last month as compared to 11,493 units in February 2025, up 1.1 per cent, it added. Two-wheeler sales rose 35.2 per cent to 18,71,406 units last month as against 13,84,605 units in February last year, Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM) said in a statement.

Motorcycle sales in February were up 30.8 per cent

Passenger car dispatches declined 3.8 per cent at 1,06,799 units last month as compared to 1,10,966 units in the year-ago period, SIAM said at 10,96,537 units as against 8,38,250 units in the year-ago month.

Similarly, scooter sales rose 42.3 per cent at 7,29,774 units last month as compared to 5,12,783 units in the same period last year, SIAM said.

Three-wheeler dispatches to dealers were up 29 per cent last month at 74,573 units as against 57,788 units in the year-ago period, it added.

Commenting on the performance, SIAM Director General Rajesh Menon said, "Positive sentiments in the industry continue as passenger vehicles, two-wheelers, and three-wheelers posted their highest ever Sales of February in 2026, with double-digit growth compared to February 2025."

On the road ahead, he said, "While March has festive drivers in several parts of the country, the recent conflict in West Asia remains a concern, both from the perspective of the supply chain, which could impact the manufacturing processes and exports."

Industry would keep a close watch on evolving geopolitical developments, he added.

Forex stocks drop $11.68 bn to $716.81 bn

MUMBAI: India's forex reserves dropped by $11.683 billion to $716.810 billion during the week ended March 6, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) said on Friday.

In the previous reporting week, the overall reserves had increased by $4.885 billion to an all-time high of $728.494 billion.

For the week ended March 6, foreign currency assets, a major component of the reserves, decreased by $9.880 billion to $563.245 billion, according to data released by the central bank.

Expressed in dollar terms, the foreign currency assets include the effects of appreciation or depreciation of non-US units, such as the euro, pound, and yen, held in the foreign exchange reserves.

The value of the gold reserves declined by $1.612 billion to $130.017 billion during the week, the RBI said.

The Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) were down by $146 million to $18.720 billion.

India's reserve position with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) also fell $45 million to $4.828 billion in the reporting week, according to data. PTI

Sebi issues guidelines for mutual funds on intraday borrowing

NEW DELHI: Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Friday issued guidelines allowing mutual funds to undertake intraday borrowing from financial institutions such as banks to manage temporary cash-flow mismatches.

Under the framework, the board of an asset management company (AMC) and the board of trustees must approve a policy governing the use of intraday borrowing facilities. The approved policy must also be disclosed on the AMC's website.

The regulator said such borrowings can be used only for specific purposes, including repurchase or redemption of units and payment of interest or Income Distribution-cum-Capital Withdrawal (IDCW) to unitholders. The borrowing amount cannot exceed the "guaranteed receivables" expected on the same day.

Eligible receivables include maturity proceeds from TREPS (Triparty Repo in Government Securities), reverse repo transactions, and government securities such as G-Secs, Treasury Bills, State Development Loans (SDLs) and STRIPS, as well as interest payments and sale proceeds from these securities.

The guidelines will come into effect from April 1, 2026.

Sebi said mutual funds, particularly liquid and overnight schemes, often face a timing mismatch as redemption payouts are processed in the morning of T+1 day while maturity proceeds from TREPS and reverse repo transactions are received later the same day.

Earlier, Sebi had notified the Sebi (Mutual Funds) Regulations, 2026, which allow mutual funds to borrow up to 20 per cent of a scheme's net assets for certain purposes for a maximum of six months. However, this limit will not apply to intraday borrowings subject to Sebi's conditions.

The regulator also clarified that any borrowing costs due to delays in receiving expected funds must be borne by the AMC and not the scheme. AGENCIES

Maruti Suzuki Dzire sales cross 3 million units

NEW DELHI: Maruti Suzuki India Limited on Friday said cumulative sales of its compact sedan Maruti Suzuki Dzire have crossed 3 million units, marking a significant milestone for the model that also emerged as India's highest-selling car in calendar year 2025.

The company said the Dzire continues to witness strong customer demand owing to its sedan design, premium features, and safety credentials. It remains one of the most popular choices among young first-time buyers, with this segment accounting for nearly half of its customers.

Partho Banerjee, Senior Executive Officer (Marketing & Sales) at Maruti Suzuki India Limited, thanked customers for their support and said the fourth-generation Dzire has helped revive interest in the sedan segment with its refined styling and modern features. He added that comfort, convenience, and strong safety ratings have strengthened its appeal among evolving customers.

First launched in 2008, the Dzire has evolved across four generations. Over the years, it introduced several segment features including dual front airbags, climate control, anti-lock braking system (ABS) and automatic gear shift (AGS) transmission. Subsequent generations added LED projector headlamps, infotainment upgrades, and premium interior elements. The latest-generation Dzire is powered by the new Z-Series

NEW DELHI: In a latest development, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has passed a compounding order against Metrocorp Infrastructure Limited for violations of foreign exchange regulations under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA).

This has resulted in the termination of the adjudication proceedings initiated by the Directorate of Enforcement (ED).

The compounding order was passed by the RBI on February 10, 2026, on the basis of a "No Objection" from the Directorate of Enforcement (ED), which had initiated a probe against Metrocorp Infrastructure Limited based on credible information that the company had violated foreign exchange regulations.

According to sources, the ED had initiated a probe against Metrocorp Infrastructure Limited for violating FEMA regulations and had subsequently filed a complaint against the company for violating FEMA regulations under Section 16 of FEMA.

In the complaint, the ED had pointed out that the company had violated FEMA regulations on two counts by delaying the reporting of foreign inward remittances and by delaying the filing of Form

The Compounding order was passed by RBI on Feb 10 on the basis of a 'No Objection' from ED

FCGPR after the issuance of shares to foreign investors.

The late reporting of foreign inward remittances related to an amount of Rs 110.62 crore under Para 9(1)(A) of Schedule 1 of FEMA 20/2000-RB. In addition, the company had also not filed the FCGPR under Para 9(1)(B) of Schedule 1 of FEMA 20/2000-RB relating to the issue of shares in respect of foreign investment.

Following this complaint filed by the ED, a show cause notice was issued by the adjudicating authority on January 10, 2023, against the company and its directors/officers responsible for the conduct of the company's business during that period.

Thereafter, Metrocorp Infrastructure Limited filed an application for compounding of these contraventions under Section 15 of FEMA with the RBI.

On receipt of this reference from the RBI, a "No Objection" was issued by the ED for compounding these violations under the provisions of the Act.

Consequently, the RBI has compounded these contraventions by accepting a one-time payment of Rs 103,320 from the company under Section 15 of FEMA, resulting in the termination of adjudication proceedings against the company, thereby bringing this case to a close without any litigation under the provisions of FEMA.

NMDC becomes India's first miner to produce 50 MT iron ore in a fiscal HYDERABAD: NMDC Limited has scripted history by becoming the first mining company in the country to produce 50 million tonnes (MT) of iron ore in a single financial year, a significant milestone that comes days ahead of the close of FY26.

Established in 1958 to develop India's iron ore resources, NMDC produced around 10 MT in 1978.

Over the decades, output has expanded fivefold to reach a historic 50 MT in FY26, reflecting the company's steady transformation into the backbone of India's iron ore supply chain.

NMDC's rise to the 50-million-tonne mark also underscores a sharp acceleration in growth in recent years. Production has increased by nearly two-thirds since 2015, rising from about 30 MT to 50 MT, with nearly one-fifth of the current capacity added in the last four years alone showing the fastest expansion phase in the company's history.

As India advances towards its target of expanding steel-making capacity to 300 million tonnes by 2030, ensuring a stable and reliable domestic supply of iron ore has become a strategic priority.

Commenting on the achievement, Amitava Mukherjee, Chairman and MD, NMDC Ltd, said: "Reaching 50 million tonnes is a notable achievement and reflects the strong progress we have made under NMDC 2.0. What once took decades to build, we have accelerated in just a few years through sharper execution, responsible mining practices, and a clear commitment to national priorities. Being India's largest iron ore producer comes with a huge responsibility, and this milestone reflects not just the strength of our operations but also the trust placed in us to support the nation's steel ecosystem."

With highly mechanised operations across the mineral-rich regions of Chhattisgarh & Karnataka, NMDC remains central to ensuring the country's iron ore security. MPOST

Silver falls to ₹2.65L/kg, gold declines to ₹1.63 lakh/10 gms

NEW DELHI: Precious metal prices declined up to 4 per cent in the national capital on Friday, with silver tumbling to Rs 2.65 lakh per kilogram and gold sliding to Rs 1.63 lakh per 10 grams amid a strong US dollar and uncertainty over global monetary policy.

According to the All India Sarafa Association, the white metal slumped by Rs 11,000, or 3.97 per cent, to Rs 2,65,500 per kilogram from Thursday's closing level of Rs 2,76,500 per kg.

In the bullion market, gold of 99.9 per cent purity also declined by Rs 2,000, or 1.21 per cent, to Rs 1,63,200 per 10 grams.

The yellow metal finished at Rs 1,65,200 per 10 grams in the previous session.

In the global market, spot silver was trading nearly 1 per cent lower at $83.14 per ounce, while gold went up marginally to $5,088 per ounce. PTI

India & US engaged in talks on bilateral trade pact, says govt

At no point in time have the two sides ever stated that the trade talks have stopped or ‘we are not doing an agreement’, an official clarified

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: India and the US remain engaged in discussions for a mutually beneficial bilateral trade agreement, the Commerce Ministry said on Friday. Chief negotiators of the two countries were scheduled to meet last month in Washington to finalise the legal text for the first phase of the bilateral trade agreement, but it was agreed to be postponed following a decision of the US Supreme Court striking down sweeping tariffs of the American administration.

The ministry has denied reports about a hold off on bilateral engagement.

“We have noted a media report regarding ongoing trade talks with the US. It is denied that there is any hold off in bilateral engagement. It is reiterated that the two sides remain engaged for a mutually beneficial trade agreement,” the commerce ministry said in a statement.

The remarks came after the United States Trade Representative (USTR) on March 11 launched a fresh round of Section 301 trade investigations targeting policies and industrial practices of 16 economies,

Some countries, such as Bangladesh, Malaysia, and Cambodia, have signed trade deals with America, but some others have only finalised & not inked legal text including India and China. Following the US Supreme Court's ruling, President Donald Trump announced 10 per cent tariffs on all countries for 150 days from February 24. And now the US has announced these investigations.

An official clarified that at no point in time have the two sides ever stated that the trade talks have stopped or “we are not doing an agreement”.

Some countries, such as Bangladesh, Malaysia, and Cambodia, have signed trade deals with America, but some others have only finalised and not inked the legal text. India and the US have finalised the contours of the first phase of the trade pact.

“Every country is watching how the overall scenario of tariffs is in the US. The chief negotiators of India and the US have spoken at least 4-5 times since this (West Asia) crisis, and virtual sessions are also happening.

Court ruling, the Trump administration had announced in a joint statement to reduce tariffs on India to 18 per cent from 50 per cent.

The tariffs at that time on India were among the lowest compared to its competitor nations, such as China, Thailand, Bangladesh, Indonesia, and Vietnam.

“So, since their side of the deal is not clear, there cannot be any signing ceremony right now. But the deal is there, and the design structure and the position of the deal are there,” the official said.

The US had announced that it would reinstate the tariffs, which were set aside by the court. Initiation of Section 301 investigations by the US against 16 economies is a step in that direction.

“So, their intent is very clear. Now, what actions follow we have to see and based on that, we will have to take the next steps,” the official added.

At present, there are no reciprocal tariffs. The 10 per cent levies are for all countries for 150 days.

India evaluating US Section 301 probe against 16 trading partners

USTR on March 11 announced that it has initiated investigations against 16 trading partners, including India

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: India is evaluating the US announcement to initiate investigations under Section 301 against 16 trading partners, and will respond accordingly, an official said on Friday.

The United States Trade Representative (USTR) on March 11 announced that it has initiated investigations against its 16 trading partners, including India, China, Japan, and the European Union (EU), to look into and address unfair foreign practices such as forced labour and overcapacity that are adversely affecting American manufacturing.

The probe covers sectors, including steel, aluminum, automobiles, batteries, electronics, chemicals, machinery, semiconductors, and solar modules.

The 16 trading partners China, Singapore, Switzerland, Norway, Indonesia, Malaysia, Cambodia, Thailand, South Korea, Vietnam, Taiwan, Bangladesh, Mexico, Japan, India, and the 27-nation EU bloc.

“We are studying what is there in their note. We are looking at it from all perspectives. Both from the legal perspective as well as the economic angle which is being mentioned there. India is evaluating the documents,” the official said.

RBI injects ₹50K cr into banking system via OMO

MUMBAI: The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday injected Rs 50,000 crore into the banking system through Open Market Operation (OMO) purchases of government securities.

The central government purchased 7.41 per cent GS 2036 bonds worth Rs 14,491 crore, 6.45 per cent GS 2029 bonds worth Rs 13,006 crore, 6.64 per cent GS 2035 bonds of Rs 8,350 crore, 7.06 per cent GS 2046 bonds of Rs 5,000 crore, 6.79 per cent GS 2034 bonds of Rs 4,496 crore, 7.95 per cent GS 2032 bonds of Rs 2,908 crore, and 7.62 per cent GS 2039 bonds of Rs 1,749 crore, the release said.

The liquidity currently in the banking system is estimated to be in surplus of about Rs 2.49 lakh crore. This auction was part of the two auctions of Rs 50,000 crore each announced by the RBI last week.

The OMO purchase auction was announced ahead of expected heavy outflows from the banking system due to advance tax and Goods and Services Tax (GST) payments scheduled later this month.

As per RBI data, the central bank has infused Rs 3.50 lakh crore through OMO purchases of government securities so far since the start of this calendar year, including today's auction. PTI

India's urea imports from China hit 3-year high, Russian supplies also rise

NEW DELHI: India imported 21.24 lakh tonne of urea from China between April 2025 and February 2026, the highest in three years, even as total fertiliser imports from China and Russia rose sharply this fiscal year, as per the government data placed before Parliament on Friday.

In a written reply to the Lok Sabha, Minister of State for Fertilisers Anupriya Patel said that India had sourced fertilisers from both countries, with Chinese urea imports dramatically outpacing the 0.99 lakh tonne recorded in the full fiscal year 2024-25 and also exceeding 18.65 lakh tonne in 2023-24 and 12.80 lakh tonne in 2022-23.

Beyond urea, India imported 5.11 lakh tonne of Di Ammonium Phosphate (DAP), 0.28 lakh tonne of Muriate of Potash (MoP) and 9.61 lakh tonne of NPK fertiliser from China between April 2025 and February 2026, bringing total phosphatic and potassic imports to 15 lakh tonne.

Urea imports from Moscow stood at 13.99 lakh tonne till February, already higher than the 9.23 lakh tonne imported in 2024-25. India also sourced 7.55 lakh tonne of DAP, 12.97 lakh tonne of MoP and 21 lakh tonne of NPK fertilisers from Russia this fiscal year.

Total urea imports from China and Russia alone are about 35.23 lakh tonne till February of the current fiscal.

Overall, urea imports from other countries were at 56.47 lakh tonne achieved in 2024-25.

On domestic availability, the minister said approximately 432.44 lakh tonne of urea is currently available in the country against a requirement of 370.84 lakh tonne. Sales of urea through direct benefit transfer have reached 381.59 lakh tonne so far this year.

Phosphatic and potassic fertilisers are covered under the Open General Licence, allowing companies to import or manufacture them based on their own commercial assessments. PTI

Global investors unwilling to let go of Adani Group's dollar bonds despite global uncertainty

NEW DELHI: Even as tensions stemming from the West Asia crisis unsettle global markets, investors have shown little willingness to part with Adani Group's dollar bonds, despite a buyback by its ports arm, Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone Ltd (APSEZ).

On March 12, APSEZ, India's largest private port operator, completed a cash tender offer to repurchase parts of two series of US dollar-denominated senior notes, trimming its outstanding debt by about $199.5 million, people with direct knowledge of the matter said.

The offer covered up to $345.1 million of 4 per cent notes due in 2027 and $150 million of 3.10 per cent notes due in 2031, suggesting a potential buyback of roughly $495 million. Yet bondholders offered back far less than that. APSEZ eventually accepted $102.1 million of the 2027 notes and $97.5 million of the 2031 notes, they said.

In effect, more than 60 per cent of investors chose to keep their bonds, declining the opportunity to exit through the tender offer. After the early tender deadline, holders submitted an additional $0.5 million of the 2027 notes and $2.13 million of the 2031 notes, bringing the total repurchased to $199.5 million, they said. The exercise forms part of APSEZ's broader effort to utilise its excess cash on the balance sheet and gradually reduce leverage. In recent years, the company has used refinancing & selective buybacks to reshape its debt profile while maintaining access to international capital markets.

“We were expecting more investors to tender their shares, but the response has been quite positive,” said one of the persons involved in the transaction. Investors' limited participation in the tender suggests a steady appetite for the group's debt, particularly among global funds looking for exposure to India's infrastructure expansion.

According to people familiar with the matter, some US-based institutional investors have also continued to add to their holdings in Adani-linked bonds in the secondary market. Settlement for the notes accepted after the early tender date is expected around March 16.

For APSEZ, the buyback provides a modest reduction in debt and underscores its liquidity position. For bondholders, the choice to stay invested points to a continuing willingness to back one of India's largest privately-owned infrastructure groups. PTI

Power demand from data centres to reach 13.56 GW by 2031-32, says Prasada

NEW DELHI: Electricity demand from data centres in the country is expected to reach 13.56 gigawatt by 2031-32, Parliament was informed on Friday.

Minister of State for Electronics and IT, Jitin Prasada said the total data centre capacity in the country increased from 375 megawatt (MW) in 2020 to around 1,500 MW by 2025.

“The expected electricity demand from the growth of AI and other large-scale data centres is factored into the planning process of the government. As per information available with Ministry of Power, electricity demand from data centres is estimated to reach 13.56

GW by 2031-32,” Prasada said.

The minister said about 38,231 Graphics Processing Units (GPUs) have been onboarded through 14 empanelled service providers and data centres under the AI compute capacity framework to support AI development.

“These are being provided to startups, researchers, academia and other eligible users at a subsidised average rate of Rs 65 per hour. This is about one-third of the global average cost. These data centres are located across the country such as Mumbai, Navi Mumbai, Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Noida and Jamnagar,” Prasada said. PTI

MTNL misses escrow deposit for sovereign guarantee bond interest

NEW DELHI: State-owned MTNL has failed to deposit interest on sovereign guarantee bonds in the escrow account due on March 24 this year, the company said in a regulatory filing on Friday.

As per the structured payment mechanism of Tri-Partite Agreement (TPA) signed among MTNL, the Department of Telecommunications (DoT), Beacon Trusteeship Limited, the telecom company has to fund the semi-annual interest into the escrow account maintained in Bank of India with an adequate amount 10 days before the due date, which in this case is March 24, 2026.

“In view of the above provisions of TPA, it is informed that due to insufficient funds, MTNL could not fund the escrow account maintained in Bank of India with an adequate amount,” the public sector telecom firm said.

MTNL said that all bonds issued by MTNL are Sovereign Guaranteed Bonds by the centre.

“In case of any default made by MTNL in payment of Principal and Interest on the Bonds issued by it, then the Sovereign Guarantee will be invoked by the Debenture Trustee and the Government of India is obliged to make the payment to MTNL for the same,” the filing said. PTI

Fitch ups India's GDP growth estimate for FY26, projects $70/barrel oil in 2026

Fitch expects growth to slow in first half of FY27, with rising inflation constraining real incomes and limiting consumer spending growth

NEW DELHI: Fitch Ratings on Friday raised India's GDP growth forecast for current fiscal and the next to 7.5 per cent and 6.7 per cent, and projected global crude oil price to average $70/barrel in 2026.

Fitch had, in December, projected India's GDP growth for current fiscal at 7.4 per cent and 6.4 per cent for 2026-27.

Fitch expects growth to slow in first half of FY27, with rising inflation constraining real incomes and limiting consumer spending growth.

GDP growth slowed in the December quarter to 7.8 per cent YoY from 8.4 per cent in September quarter.

“We estimate that for 2025-26 financial year (starting April 2025), growth will be 7.5 per cent, a marginal upward revision from December. Domestic demand is the biggest growth driver this year, with consumer spending and investment rising by (an estimated) 8.6 per cent and 6.9 per cent in the current fiscal year,” Fitch said.

In its Global Economic Outlook- March 2026, Fitch projected world GDP growth at 2.6 per cent in 2026 on the assumption that the Iran war does not result in a larger or an enduring spike in energy prices that pushes the annual 2026 oil price forecast above $70/barrel. Global growth last year was 2.7 per cent.

“But a scenario where oil prices rise to $100 and stay there would be a significant adverse global supply shock,” Fitch Ratings Chief Economist Brian Coulton said.

Fitch said oil prices have risen by $20/barrel to around $90 (Brent) since the US and Israel attacked Iran at the end of February.

Fitch's baseline assumption in the Global Economic Outlook report is that oil prices remain in the $90-100 range

CLOSER LOOK

- » ‘We estimate that for FY26, growth will be 7.5 per cent, a marginal upward revision from December’, Fitch said
- » In its Global Economic Outlook- March 2026, Fitch projected world GDP growth at 2.6 per cent in 2026
- » Fitch's baseline assumption is that oil prices remain in $90-100 range through March, before falling to mid $60s by the second half of 2026 through March - as the Strait of Hormuz remains effectively closed for around a month - before falling to the mid $60s by second half of 2026 in a fundamentally oversupplied market. “This implies an annual average price of $70 in 2026, up from $63 in the December GEO. We believe this revision would not have a material impact on global growth, inflation or monetary policy,” Fitch said.

However, there are huge uncertainties and there is a possibility of more sustained disruptions to oil shipments and significant damage to production facilities in West Asia.

With regard to India, Fitch said there are tentative signs that real activity is slowing in January and February, but the economy remains resilient, and credit growth is still in double digits.

A comprehensive revision of national accounts data including a rebasing of the base year to 2022-23, from 2011-12 earlier, has resulted in a smoother path for real GDP, with growth in 2023-24 and 2024-25 now estimated at 7.2 per cent and 7.1 per cent, respectively, rather than 9.2 per cent and 6.5 per cent in the previous national accounts.

Fitch said it expects investment growth to ease in the short-term but recover in sequential terms from second half of next fiscal with looser financial conditions and lower real interest rates. The government's budget forecasts public capital expenditure to rise in line with nominal GDP growth.

Weaker domestic demand will affect imports, translating into a positive net trade contribution to growth. At the margin, a lower US ETR (effective tax rate) following the US Supreme Court decision and the Section 122 blanket tariffs will support external demand.

“We expect overall GDP growth to slow to 6.7 per cent in FY26-27 and to 6.5 per cent in FY27/28 (these forecasts are revised upwards by 0.3 percentage points from the December GEO),” Fitch said.

“We expect inflation to rise steadily to 4.5 per cent by December 2026. Persistently higher oil prices could cause inflation to rise faster than the expected gradual pace,” it said. PTI

FIH WOMEN'S WORLD CUP QUALIFIERS

Manisha's strike propels India into final against England

HYDERABAD: India, capitalising on a precise third-quarter penalty-corner strike from Manisha Chauhan, edged past Italy 1-0 in a tense semifinal to set up a highly anticipated title clash with England in the FIH Women's World Cup Qualifiers here on Friday.

Midfielder Manisha netted the decisive goal in the 40th minute after a fiercely contested first quarter, with both sides locked in a tight battle, relentlessly vying for possession.

India, having already secured a spot in the World Cup to be jointly hosted by the Netherlands and Belgium from August 15 to 30 this year, began assertively with a couple of powerful circle entries, but Italy quickly responded, mounting aggressive attacks and creating several promising goal-scoring opportunities.

However, India seized the momentum in the second quarter, with the hosts exploiting sharp flank runs, attacking in numbers, and making key circle entries to assert control over the game.

In the 18th minute, India won the first penalty corner of the game but Navneet Kaur's shot at goal was stopped well by Italian goalkeeper Lucia Ines Caruso. In the 27th minute, the hosts were awarded another penalty corner as India played out an interesting variation.

The ball was played back to the injector, captain Salima Tete, but her shot was stopped on the line by Italy's last defender, denying them a goal. In the 29th minute, India had another opportunity to score through a penalty corner but Navneet's shot went off target.

In the early minutes of the second half, Italy launched a strong attack on goal as Emilia Munitis was through on goal but India's goalkeeper Bichu Devi Kharibam came out and made a crucial save.

Sabalenka and Sinner move to BNP Paribas SFs

INDIAN WELLS: Aryna Sabalenka held off Victoria Mboko, 7-6(0) 6-4 in the quarterfinals of the BNP Paribas Open, keeping the top-ranked player in women's tennis in the running for her first title at Indian Wells.

Jannic Sinner, Alexander Zverev and Daniil Medvedev all advanced to the men's semifinals on Thursday, with Medvedev benefiting from a disputed, overturned point late in his 6-1 7-5 victory over defending champion Jack Draper.

Draper momentarily threw his arms to his side to signal he thought Medvedev's deep forehand had landed long during a rally that ended several shots later when Medvedev's backhand went into the net. Medvedev, already up one set, asked chair umpire Aurelie Tourte for a video review.

Tourte said that by rule, Draper's gesture was "something different than you would do normally," and that she felt compelled to award the point to Medvedev.

India could look at a new T20 captain beyond Suryakumar

S.KANNAN

NEW DELHI: Suryakumar Yadav must consider himself lucky India won the ICC T20 World Cup in Ahmedabad on Sunday under his leadership, despite a very dry run from his own bat. There has been a plethora of interviews of the captain as well as coach Gautam Gambhir, after the massive win against New Zealand.

One common thread, noticeable, is, how the template for Team India, post the triumph in the 2024 edition of the World Cup in the West Indies was "not to focus on individuals but the team."

This line of thinking, mentioned in the interviews, is a bit strange.

It clearly shows the captain and coach still have some grudge against Rohit Sharma, winning captain of the T20 World Cup in 2024, and his predecessor, Virat Kohli.

Just to jog the readers' memory, just after the win in the West Indies in 2024, Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli had bid goodbye to the T20 international format. Their only presence, today, in international cricket, is in the ODI format. In 2027, India will be competing in the ODI World Cup in South Africa, where it is expected both Kohli and Rohit Sharma will have important roles to play with Shubman Gill as captain.

Looking at the calendar for Indian cricket, after the conclusion of the latest World Cup, the emphasis is on more ODIs. That has been accepted by the BCCI as well, with the tour to New Zealand, later this year, becoming a high profile one.

Back to Suryakumar Yadav, he had also said after the World Cup win, the next goal is the 2028 ICC T20 World Cup and the Olympics in Los Angeles, where cricket is a medal sport. Why Rohit and Kohli chose to retire from T20m internationals is well-known, they were not getting younger. Surya will turn 36 in September.

So, when the BCCI sits down and ideates, after the Indian Premier League (IPL) fever is over, the blueprint for the ODI World Cup, as well as the important events in 2028 will be debated upon.

It is hard to imagine the BCCI will go with Surya as captain in the T20 format, as he will turn 38 in 2028.

Add to it his lack of form, which began even before the World Cup, he has not looked one bit as a match-winner. By Surya's own admission in an interview there was a furore when India dropped vice-captain Axar Patel for the match against South Africa. For the record, the only time Surya did as well as he should was against the United States of America in the World Cup opener in Mumbai last month.

Surya has also been singing praise of "Jay Bhai" - Jay Shah, who was secretary of the BCCI in 2024. Today, Jay Shah is a big man as the ICC chairman. Decisions pertaining to Indian cricket will be taken by the BCCI, where, today, Devajit Saikia, as the secretary is fully empowered.

It is hard to imagine the BCCI not planning for a younger T20 captain who can handle the leadership role in 2028. Indeed, Surya being critical of two former teammates, indirectly, is surprising.

The world knows, Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli were in the T20 national team as performers. Even now, they are in the ODI mix, by sheer weight of performance.

OVER SUNRISERS LEEDS' SIGNING OF ABRAR

It doesn't concern us. It's not IPL: BCCI VP Shukla

NEW DELHI: The BCCI vice-president Rajeev Shukla on Friday downplayed the acquisition of Pakistan spinner Abrar Ahmed by Sunrisers Hyderabad during The Hundred auction, saying the development in an "overseas league" is beyond the board's ambit.

The Sunrisers Hyderabad, owned by Chennai-based media conglomerate Sun Group, on Thursday signed Pakistan mystery spinner Abrar during The Hundred player auction, making him the first Pakistan cricketer to be picked by an Indian-owned franchise in the tournament.

"It doesn't concern us. It's not the IPL. What happens in The Hundred or other overseas leagues, we have nothing to do with it," Shukla told PTI.

The franchise paid GBP 190,000 (approximately Rs 2.34 crore) for Abrar after a bidding contest with Trent Rockets. The tournament will be held from July 21 to August 16.

Sunrisers Hyderabad faced backlash following Abrar's signing, with the team's X account suspended briefly.

IPL franchises have not signed any Pakistani player since 2009 due to strained diplomatic relations between the two countries.

The Sun Group, which also owns Sunrisers Hyderabad in the IPL, completed a full takeover of the erstwhile Northern Superchargers last year, acquiring a 49 per cent stake from the ECB and the remaining 51 per cent from county club Yorkshire for around GBP 100 million. Sunrisers CEO Kavaya Maran attended the Thursday's auction and raised the paddle during the bidding.

The group also owns Sunrisers Eastern Cape in SA20 but does not have a Pakistan player in its squad.

PRIYANKA RECALLS WITNESSING VIJAY'S STARDOM IN CHENNAI

The actress still remembers exactly what it felt like to watch the actor walk in Priyanka Chopra was just 18, new to acting and fresh off her Miss World 2000 win, when she stepped onto the set of her first film, the Tamil production 'Thamizhan' in Chennai. What greeted her was a crowd of hundreds who had gathered simply to watch her co-star dance. That co-star was Vijay.

More than two decades after her first day on a film set, Priyanka still remembers exactly what it felt like to watch 'Thalapathy' Vijay walk in. In a recent interview on the 'Not Skinny But Not Fat' podcast, the actress looked back on her Tamil debut and described the scale of Vijay's stardom as something that genuinely stopped her in her tracks.

"It was a movie called 'Thamizhan' in the Tamil language. I remember the film; I phonetically learned the language. It's almost impossible to learn a completely new language that quickly. But it was my first exposure to fame through my co-actor. His name is Vijay and he is extremely popular," Chopra recalled.

She described the experience as a culture shock that reshaped her understanding of what celebrity could look like

The actress described the experience as a culture shock that reshaped her understanding of what celebrity could look like. Watching hundreds of people gather on set just to see Vijay dance, she said, felt like witnessing a demigod.

Beyond the spectacle of Vijay's fan following, Priyanka was paying close attention to how he carried himself when the cameras were not rolling. She recalled that he had tremendous humility on set and that once he arrived, he never left. He stayed, spoke to the crew, understood the shots being taken and remained present throughout the day.

My heart is full: Aditya Dhar

He is gearing up for the release of his film 'Dhurandhar: The Revenge'

Dhurandhar' director Aditya Dhar said he feels overwhelmed with a sense of gratitude for the faith the audience has shown in his work over the years.

Dhar, who is gearing up for the release of his film 'Dhurandhar: The Revenge', celebrated his 43rd birthday on Thursday and shared a post on his 'Instagram' handle, in which he expressed gratitude to his team and fans.

"As I spend my birthday adding the final touches on 'Dhurandhar: The Revenge', I find myself pausing for a moment and looking back at the phenomenal year that has gone by," he wrote.

He added, "Sitting here today, I feel an overwhelming sense of gratitude for the journey, for the team who has always walked beside me and for the faith so many of you have shown in my work over the years."

The director said his 'heart is full' and the trust of the audience means everything. "Reading all your messages, tweets, stories and all the peak detailing by Aditya Dhar memes, my heart is full. I wish I could personally respond to each one of you, but please know how deeply I value all your love and encouragement."

He added, "None of this is some-
