HOUTHIS TAKE ISLAND NEAR KEY STRAIT

Saudi airstrikes hit Yemen's rebel-held Mokha airport

Cairo, September 11

Yemen's Iranian-backed Houthi rebels captured a strategic island in the Bab el-Mandeb Strait at the entrance of the Red Sea, two officials said Friday in a swift advance that further threatens Saudi oil exports through one of the world's key commercial lanes.

Saudi Arabia responded with airstrikes against the airport in the key port city of Mokha that the Houthis seized on Thursday, a Houthi broadcaster said. There was no immediate report of damage or deaths.

The capture of Mayun, a tiny, barren volcanic island in the strait, was confirmed by a senior military official with Yemen's internationally recognised government and by a Houthi official. Both spoke on condition of anonymity because they were not authorised to talk to journalists.

The island, also known as Perim, is about 3.5 kilometres off Yemen's west coast.

The strait is a key alternative to the Iran-choked

Strait of Hormuz. But there is "no need for international concern," Hazam al-Assad, a member of the rebels' political bureau, told The Associated Press, saying they are responding to Saudi aggression, and "our forces have a bank of big important targets" in case Riyadh keeps up the strikes.

Earlier Friday, Iran's government called for an end to Saudi Arabia's blockade of Yemen, throwing its support behind its ally, the Houthis.

In its first statement since the rebels entered the port, Iran's Foreign Ministry also called for a return to negotiations between Saudi Arabia and the Houthis.

Over 5L Russian troops killed in Ukraine: UK defence chief

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kyiv, September 11

More than half a million Russian troops have been killed in Ukraine since the start of Moscow's full-scale invasion in February 2022, a senior British defence official said Friday.

The dead are part of 1.5 million Russian casualties in Ukraine, Air Chief Marshall Sir Richard Knighton, Chief of the UK's Defence Staff, said.

The UK figures roughly coincide with those published by the Ukrainian military. There was no immediate comment from Russian officials. Moscow's bigger army is struggling to make headway on the battlefield. Western officials and analysts say the Russian rate of advance has slowed significantly this year.

Russia's armed forces have also lost an "enormous" amount of military materiel, Knighton

Neither Moscow nor Kyiv give regular updates on their battlefield losses.

Russian drones targeted roadside gas stations in Kyiv for a second straight day Friday, as Moscow broadened its air war in what Ukrainian officials say is an effort to rattle civilians. The attacks struck two Ukrnafta gas stations, killing two people and wounding six at one of them, the prosecutor's office said.

Russian strikes on urban gas stations have intensified in recent months, mostly in regions near the front line in eastern and southern Ukraine.

It is part of a campaign to disrupt civilian life and weaken morale that has also included attacks on food distribution hubs, sporadically leaving some supermarket shelves bare in the Ukrainian capital.

"Russia is systematically attacking places where it knows people will be spending their time going about their daily lives, seeking to maximize casualties, spread fear, and put pressure on Ukrainian society," Foreign Minister Andrii Sybiha said on X late Thursday.

As Trump squeezes ICC, more countries are leaving

The Rome Statute established the ICC in 2002 as the court of last resort to prosecute individuals responsible for the world's most heinous atrocities

ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Hague, September 11

As the United States ratchets up the pressure on the International Criminal Court, sanctioning two more high-ranking staff members in recent weeks, a small but growing number of the global tribunal's member states have announced they will quit the institution.

The recent departure of Venezuela and Chad brings the number of countries to pull out of the court in the past year to five, joining Burkina Faso, Mali and Niger. The surge in withdrawals comes as the ICC faces hostility from Washington and a leadership crisis after ousting its own chief prosecutor.

"Five countries so far have announced plans to withdraw from the Rome Statute, and we welcome more announcements in the future," a spokesperson for the US State Department told The Associated Press.

The Rome Statute established the ICC in 2002 as the court of last resort to prosecute individuals responsible for the world's most heinous atrocities: war crimes, crimes against humanity, genocide and the crime of aggression. Based in The Hague, it takes on cases when nations are unable or unwilling to prosecute crimes on their own territory.

"The ICC regrets any decision to depart from the collective effort to end impunity for the most serious international crimes," the court's spokesperson Oriane Maillet told the AP.

In July, Secretary of State Marco Rubio announced that the US was launching a "sweeping campaign to dismantle the threat posed by the International Criminal Court to US sovereignty."

Rubio said he will pressure the court's 125 member states to withdraw from the institution, sanction organizations that work with the court and ban staff from travelling to the United States.

Nigeria's parliament said Friday that it's suspending official visits to South Africa indefinitely over anti-immigrant protests targeting other Africans.

The violent protests, which erupted in South Africa earlier this year, have forced thousands of migrants to leave and caused diplomatic tensions with other African nations.

Kamoru Ogunlana, the clerk to Nigeria's

National Assembly, said in a statement that the parliament was "particularly concerned by reports of Nigerians being killed, injured, displaced and forced to abandon their businesses, investments, homes and other properties as a result of recurring violent attacks."

South Africa has for years attracted foreign nationals from across the continent, including many from Nigeria, because of its relative wealth and opportunity.

Modi pitches India as economic bridge, calls for deeper BRICS trade relations

Pushes to tear down trade barriers, backs freedom of navigation and seafarers' safety

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, September 11

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday called on BRICS countries to convert the grouping's growing economic strength into greater trade, investment and business activity, proposing measurable targets to deepen economic ties among member economies.

Addressing the BRICS Business Forum in India, Modi asked the BRICS Business Council to identify the bloc's top 10 trade barriers for removal, help 100 BRICS startups expand into other member markets every year and facilitate 1,000 new business partnerships annually. "We must review our progress on these three parameters every year," he said.

Modi said the expanded BRICS grouping and its partners now account for around half of the world's population, 40 per cent of global GDP and more than a quarter of global trade. Over the past two decades, the combined GDP of BRICS economies has grown around four-and-a-half times, compared with a roughly two-and-a-half-fold expansion in global GDP.

With trade barriers increasing worldwide, Modi said India was seeking to build "economic bridges". Since 2014, India has entered into free trade agreements with nearly 40 countries. "Our approach within BRICS is the same: to reduce barriers and expand opportunities for businesses," he said.

He also highlighted the importance of secure maritime routes amid conflicts affecting global trade and supply chains. "Global trade can only progress if sea lanes are secure, supply routes remain open, and seafarers are safe," Modi said, reaffirming India's support for freedom of navigation and the safety of seafarers.

Modi presented India as a manufacturing and technology base. His message to global businesses was: "Make in India, Innovate with India, and Scale for the World."

WINTER POLLUTION IN NORTH INDIA

Western disturbances may offer early warning of severe winter pollution

MPOST BUREAU
New Delhi, September 11

Nearly 70 per cent of the year-to-year variation in winter PM2.5 pollution across northern India may be linked to the frequency of western disturbances, offering a potential way to assess the severity of the pollution season months in advance, researchers said.

Western disturbances are storm systems that move eastward from the Mediterranean region towards South Asia. They can improve vertical ventilation and bring rainfall, helping remove pollutants, including PM2.5, that accumulate near the ground.

The study found that winters with more fre-

DELHI BUILDING COLLAPSE

PG operator Tyagi surrenders

OUR CORRESPONDENT

New Delhi, September 11

Absconding accused and PG operator Shubham Tyagi surrendered before the Patiala House Court on Friday in connection with the Satya Niketan building collapse case, which killed seven people, including five students and two labourers, police said.

The police produced Tyagi before the court after his surrender and sought his custody for two days for questioning and further investigation into the circumstances leading to the collapse of the five-storey building, they said.

The court granted Tyagi two days' police remand. Police said they will question Tyagi about the paying guest accommodation he was allegedly operating in the building and seek details about its functioning, the lease arrangement and the construction being carried out at the property.

Police will also question him on several aspects related to the PG, including who was involved in its day-to-day operation, the number of occupants and the circumstances in which repair and extension work was being undertaken in the building, police said.

will be sent for forensic examination to ascertain his communications with others regarding the building collapse and to find out what was discussed immediately after the incident, sources said.

The sources also said the forensic examination of the phone is expected to help investigators establish the sequence of events and the conversations that took place among those associated with the PG after the building collapsed.

Tyagi had been absconding since the incident, and police teams were searching several locations to locate him. His surrender came a day after a court rejected his anticipatory bail plea. While rejecting his plea, the court took into consideration the stage of the investigation and the requirement to ascertain the circumstances surrounding the collapse. The rejection of the anticipatory bail paved the way for police to seek his custody after he surrendered before the court.

According to police, Tyagi was allegedly operating the paying guest accommodation in the building in south Delhi and had taken a floor of the property on lease from its owner Hariram Gupta.

Tyagi and co-accused Sudhanshu Lovneesh were allegedly running the PG in the building. Lovneesh is already under arrest, and investigators are examining his mobile phone and online chat history to ascertain what transpired immediately after the collapse.

Police said Lovneesh's phone has been sent for forensic examination and the digital evidence is being analysed as part of the probe.

With Tyagi's arrest, the police have so far arrested six people in connection with the case, including building owner Hariram Gupta, his wife Urmila Gupta, their son Mahesh Gupta, labour contractor Sanoj Kumar and PG operators Sudhanshu Lovneesh and Tyagi.

Police said building owner Hariram, 81, and his wife Urmila, 75, are also in judicial custody. The police are probing the role of the property owners, those involved in the repair work and the operators of the PG to determine whether any violations, structural alterations or negligence contributed to the collapse.

The building in Satya Niketan near Delhi University's South Campus collapsed on Sunday while repairs and refilling of the basement were being done to level it from the ground floor. Police sources also said the contractor had warned the building owner and the PG operators about its structural safety after a wall of a shop in the building was demolished. Sources said Lovneesh was around 90 metres away when the incident took place and fled immediately, fearing locals could thrash him.

The Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) suspended South Zone Deputy Commissioner Rakesh Kumar and four engineers pending disciplinary proceedings following the incident.

MCD drive: 136 demolitions in 5 days, 1K PGs surveyed

OUR CORRESPONDENT

New Delhi, September 11

The Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) on Friday carried out 25 demolition actions across all 12 zones of the city as part of its intensified crackdown on dangerous buildings, unauthorised constructions and violations of building norms, officials said.

The civic body sealed four properties, issued six show-cause notices and passed four demolition orders during the day's enforcement exercise.

The action comes a day after the MCD demolished 41 properties and sealed 61 others across the city as it stepped up inspections following the Satya Niketan building collapse.

Among the areas where demolition action was taken on Friday were Satya Niketan in the South Zone, Vasant Kunj in the South West Zone, Burari in the North Zone, Shalimar Bagh in the Keshavpuram Zone, Krishna Park in the Central Zone, Rajan Babu Road in Adarsh Nagar and Chandu Nagar in Nehru Vihar.

In the Old Delhi Zone, the civic body carried out targeted action at a property in Delhi Gate Bazaar in Daryaganj, where two roof panels on the fifth floor were demolished with the assistance of personnel from the Daryaganj police station, officials said.

The civic body also continued the controlled demolition of a building adjoining the structure that collapsed in Satya Niketan on September 6, killing seven people.

The MCD has also been surveying paying guest (PG) accommodation buildings across Delhi, with 1,523 operational PG buildings identified so far, housing around 33,500 occupants.

Previously, as reported by PTI, the survey till September 10 found three buildings that were "visibly dangerous" out of 1355, housing 69 students and young professionals, according to the civic body's data.

Officials said the survey data is being consolidated and further legal and regulatory action will be taken against establishments found violating safety or other applicable norms.

The civic body has intensified its enforcement drive across all 12 zones against structures found to be dangerous or in violation of the Master Plan of Delhi and building bye-laws.

From September 7 to September 11, the MCD carried out 136 demolition actions against unauthorised constructions and other violations across the city, with 25 demolitions undertaken on Friday alone. The civic body had carried out 17 demolitions on September 8, 46 on September 9 and 41 on September 10, in addition to seven actions on September 7. WITH PTI INPUTS

Unsafe homes face NOIDA crackdown

DIPIKA KIROLA

Noida, September 11

The Noida Authority has stepped up inspections of old and structurally unsafe houses in villages under its jurisdiction, with officials now preparing to move beyond issuing notices and ensure that residents vacate buildings considered dangerous.

The move follows the recent building accident in Delhi and is aimed at preventing similar incidents in densely populated areas of Noida. Officials have been asked to identify buildings that pose a safety risk and initiate action against them.

According to officials, the Authority has divided its jurisdiction into 10 work circles covering 81 villages. The circle-level teams have been directed to conduct inspections and identify houses and other structures that have deteriorated over time.

Surveys are currently being carried out in several densely populated villages, including Sadarpur, Nithari, Mamura, Salarpur and Bhangel. In Mamura alone, notices have so far been pasted on nine buildings. Residents are still occupying these structures and have been asked to vacate them.

The notices give occupants around one to two weeks to leave the premises. They also caution residents and property owners that they would be responsible for any incident if they continue to occupy a building declared unsafe by the Authority.

ACEO Vandana Tripathi said the buildings found to be dangerous would be vacated as part of the enforcement process. Copies of the notices are also being sent to the local police so that assistance can be sought if residents refuse to leave voluntarily.

The Authority has dealt with the issue of unsafe buildings in the past as well.

A survey conducted before 2019 had identified around 1,757 structures as unsafe, following which notices were issued to their owners. However, officials said effective follow-up action could not be carried out in several cases. This time, the Authority intends to ensure that buildings posing an immediate threat are cleared rather than limiting the exercise to paperwork.

The inspection is not restricted to villages. The Authority has already issued notices to 128 EWS flats in Sector 31 over their dilapidated condition. Further inspections are underway in Nithari and other areas.

Called for meeting, 46-yr-old man shot dead

OUR CORRESPONDENT

New Delhi, September 11

A 48-year-old man was allegedly shot dead in Deoli Extension after acquaintances called him for a meeting, with police suspecting a money dispute between the victim and one of the accused as a possible motive behind the killing, officials said on Friday.

According to family members, the deceased, Devender Gupta, was invited by some people to meet and eat together on Thursday, when the incident happened in South Delhi. The family said they learned about the incident around midnight, which made them suspicious.

"Some people called him to meet. I closed my shop and returned home by 10 pm. These people who called him did not inform us. We don't trust them. They used to call him often since they were acquaintances," Devender's elder brother Sunil Gupta said. He said Devender had three daughters and was involved in property-related work. The victim's cousin Sachin Gupta said the family was unaware of any enmity he had with anybody and is relying on the people who were with him to explain what happened. "His friends called him to meet for eating together. We came to know around 12. He suffered a gunshot to his hand, which shows that they did this with planning. We do not know if there was some enmity. Only his friends can tell that. There was no one on the spot," Sachin said.

According to police, preliminary investigation suggested that Devender took money from the accused and allegedly failed to return it despite repeated demands. The suspected money dispute is being examined as a possible motive for the killing, they said. Police, however, are verifying the circumstances surrounding the shooting and the exact sequence of events. Police learned about the incident after the Tigri Police Station received a call regarding the firing. Devender was found with a firearm injury and was declared dead, police said.

They said the accused, identified as Mohid, 36, was apprehended at the spot. A country-made pistol and an empty cartridge were recovered from his possession, police said. Family members questioned how police were informed about the incident. "They are saying that the one who shot him is the one who called police. We don't know what happened exactly," Sachin said. Police said the forensic science laboratory inspected the scene and preserved relevant evidence. Police said they have registered a case.

2 killed as car rams truck on DME

PRAJYOT DEOGHARE

New Delhi, September 11

Two men were killed and one injured when their car rammed the rear of a truck on Delhi-Meerut Expressway (DME) near Mehrauli in Ghaziabad early Thursday.

According to the police, the incident occurred at around 1.30 am on the Ghaziabad-Delhi carriageway.

Police have said that the three men had been travelling from Hapur to Delhi, and had entered the DME from Dasna, when their car ran into the back of a truck travelling on the expressway.

The impact of the collision caused the front half of the car to be completely smashed, critically injuring the two occupants in the front seats.

Passers-by alerted authorities after the crash, after which all three occupants of the car were rushed to a nearby hospital. Doctors there declared two of them dead on arrival, while the third was injured.

The dead were identified as Sachin Kumar (25) and Anuj Kumar (26) both residents of Simbhaoli in Hapur district.

The two men were travelling towards Najafgarh in Delhi. Sachin was driving the car when the incident occurred.

The injured passenger was identified as Yogendra Singh, 28, a resident of Surajpur in Gautam Budh Nagar. He was initially sent to the hospital, but later transferred to a private facility by his family. Police said an inspection of CCTV footage suggested the car hit the truck from behind.

Traffic inspector Ashesh Yadav said that the possibility of the driver falling asleep was being looked into.

FIRST FOREIGN MILITARY AIRCRAFT LAND AT NEWLY OPERATIONAL AIRPORT

Three Russian military aircraft make first Jewar landing

DIPIKA KIROLA

Noida, September 11

In a first for Noida International Airport, three Russian military aircraft landed at the Jewar airport on Thursday late night ahead of the BRICS Summit in New Delhi, marking the first reported arrival of foreign military aircraft at the newly operational airport.

The aircraft included an Ilyushin IL-76 military transport plane carrying Russian officials and personnel involved in preparations for President Vladimir Putin's India visit. The arrival is part of the logistical and security arrangements being made ahead of the two-day BRICS summit in the national capital on September 12 and 13.

According to officials, the Russian team is understood to have reviewed arrangements related to the movement, security and logistical support for the Russian delegation. The arrival of the military transport aircraft also underscored the increasing use of Noida airport for high-profile international aviation movements even as its scheduled international passenger operations are yet to begin.

The development is significant for the Jewar airport, which began commercial passenger operations on June 15 this year. The airport operator had announced that scheduled commercial operations would provide a new gateway for passengers, airlines and cargo operators in the NCR and north India.

Cargo operations also began shortly after the launch of passenger services, with the airport positioning itself as a major passenger and cargo hub for the region.

The airport's international terminal and associated facilities are being prepared for the commencement of international passenger flights. Before such operations begin, the Bureau of Civil Aviation Security (BCAS) will assess the airport's security infrastructure, procedures and preparedness before granting the necessary clearances.

The Russian aircraft's arrival comes amid heightened aviation activity linked to the BRICS summit. Several special aircraft carrying heads of state, senior officials and delegations are expected to use airports in and around Delhi-NCR during the summit.

Putin's visit has added particular significance to the arrangements. India and Russia continue to maintain close strategic ties spanning defence, energy, trade and other sectors. Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Putin have also held discussions on strengthening bilateral cooperation ahead of the summit.

COMPLAINT SYSTEM TO BE MADE SIMPLER

CM seeks simpler route to DCW

AIMAN FATIMA
New Delhi, September 11

With cyber harassment, sexual offences and other forms of violence increasingly affecting women and girls, Chief Minister Rekha Gupta on Friday asked the Delhi Commission for Women (DCW) to make its complaint mechanism simpler and more responsive, while taking its awareness efforts beyond offices and into schools and colleges.

At a meeting with the DCW at Janseva Sadan, Gupta stressed that laws alone cannot ensure the safety of women and girls and called for greater awareness of their rights and available safeguards.

“The safety of women and girls cannot be ensured merely by making laws. It is also necessary to make them aware of their rights and the measures available for their protection,” Gupta said.

She directed the Commission to conduct awareness campaigns in colleges on cybercrimes, including online harassment, misuse of social media and cyber fraud. Students should also be informed about where and how to lodge complaints in case of an incident.

The CM also called for greater awareness among school and college students about the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act and the legal safeguards available against sexual exploitation and harassment. “Girls must be made aware of their rights and the legal provisions available to protect them from sexual offences,” she said, asking the Commission to strengthen its outreach in educational institutions.

Gupta further emphasised the need to ensure that eligible adolescent girls, particularly those from disadvantaged sections, receive information about and access to free HPV vaccination for cervical cancer prevention.

On grievance redressal, she said the online complaint system should allow women to easily register complaints and track their disposal. “The mechanism for registering and disposing of complaints should be simple, accessible, reliable and time-bound,” she said.

The CM also directed

CM Gupta's child safety push

AIMAN FATIMA
New Delhi, September 11

Chief Minister Rekha Gupta on Friday directed the Delhi Commission for Protection of Child Rights (DCPCR) to strengthen measures for child safety and rehabilitation, including a campaign to make Delhi free of child begging and mandatory police verification of school staff and transport personnel.

Chairing a meeting of the DCPCR, Gupta said NGOs, civil society organisations and resident welfare associations should be involved in the campaign to bring children out of begging and connect them with education, skills and employment.

“The government's priority is to bring children out of begging and connect them with education, skills and a dignified life,” Gupta said. The Chief Minister also directed the commission to ensure mandatory police verification of school staff, including bus and van drivers, attendants and sanitation workers. She stressed that awareness programmes on the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act should be conducted continuously.

The meeting also discussed the rehabilitation and future of children living in child care institutions. Gupta directed the commission to prepare details of children in after-care facilities, including their age, education, qualifications, skills acquired and duration of stay. “It is not enough to merely provide shelter to children leaving these institutions. They must be connected with education, skills and employment and helped to become self-reliant,” she said.

Gupta also suggested livelihood support for children leaving institutional care, including providing autos to interested girls and e-rickshaws to boys through the Transport Department.

The Chief Minister further directed the DCPCR to inspect mid-day meals in schools and nutritional food provided at anganwadi centres during National Nutrition Month. She also called for reports on facilities and the conduct of workers at anganwadi and palna centres.

In north Delhi's Majnu Ka Tila, members of a Tibetan group also gathered and took out a protest march against Xi's visit to India. CM: Hosting BRICS moment of pride

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, September 11

Chief Minister Rekha Gupta on Friday extended a warm welcome to global leaders, delegates and other guests attending the BRICS Summit 2026 hosted by Delhi.

Russian President Vladimir Putin, Chinese President Xi Jinping, South African President Cyril Ramaphosa, Iranian President Masoud Pezeshkian and several global leaders will be attending the summit in the national capital.

Chief Minister Gupta said in a post on X, “For Delhi, hosting BRICS is a moment of honour and pride. We welcome our guests to experience a capital shaped by centuries of history, enriched by many cultures and guided by the timeless Indian spirit of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam.”

She said that under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Bharat has brought “greater” confidence, balance and purpose to global engagement, with dialogue, trust and shared progress at its core.

The two-day BRICS Summit 2026 hosted by India, starting Saturday, is expected to focus on boosting collective resilience in food, energy, health, disaster reduction, and critical supply chains, with New Delhi positioning the bloc as an effective anchor to navigate a fragmented geopolitical environment.

Delhi L-G reviews TB Mukh Bharat Abhiyan

SHIVANGI SHUKLA
New Delhi, September 11

Delhi Lieutenant Governor TS Sandhu has directed officials to ensure that the targets under the TB Mukh Bharat Abhiyan are met within the stipulated timeframe, with TB Preventive Treatment (TPT) coverage among eligible household contacts currently at 55 per cent against the target of 80 per cent, while Differentiated TB Care stands at 74 per cent against the target of 90 per cent by September 30, 2026.

Sandhu reviewed the progress of the programme in Delhi, along with Health Minister, GNCTD, Dr Pankaj Kumar Singh, Chief Secretary, GNCTD and senior officials. This was his second review of the programme, following the first review held on June 23. During the review, the LG noted that while the current figures showed momentum, they also pointed to operational gaps that needed to be addressed on priority. On case detection and screening, the LG suggested that hospitals consider screening patients for TB at the point of admission, regardless of the ailment for which they are being treated, after obtaining their consent. He said this would help ensure that TB cases are not missed and that treatment can begin without loss of time if detected.

He also directed officials to intensify outreach through social media and other media platforms so that people do not shy away from getting tested and are encouraged towards proactive screening for their own safety and that of their families. The LG further directed that the shortage of radiographers, which was holding back the full deployment of AI-enabled handheld X-ray machines, be addressed on priority so that available equipment is put to optimal use. He also directed officials to clear pending Direct Benefit Transfer backlogs for eligible beneficiaries without delay.

Concluding the review, Sandhu directed that targeted outreach in high risk wards and congregate settings be intensified to reduce the stigma associated with TB and drive higher screening numbers on the ground. Officials were directed to ensure that the programme's TPT coverage and Differentiated TB Care targets are achieved strictly by September 30.

Lutyens' Delhi gets makeover with lights, flowers, themed signages...

New Delhi, September 11

From illuminated roundabouts and floral displays to freshly landscaped roads and BRICS-themed signages, central Delhi has been given a makeover as the national capital hosts the BRICS Summit starting Friday.

Officials said decorative lighting has been installed at several locations, including Patel Chowk, Windsor Place, Mandi House, Teen Murti, Lok Kalyan Metro Station and the PMO roundabout. The New Delhi Municipal Council (NDMC) has also installed LED signages carrying the BRICS Summit logo and put up summit-themed posters on streetlight poles along important routes. The civic body has stepped up beautification, lighting and horticultural works across its jurisdiction, with a focus on routes linking the airport and designated hotels with the summit venue, Bharat Mandapam, in the heart of the city. The 18th BRICS Leaders' Summit 2026 will be held on September 12 and 13, with India hosting the meeting as chair of the grouping. Key leaders of BRICS member and partner countries, along with outreach invitees, are expected to take part in discussions on strengthening cooperation and key global and regional issues. Seventeen major roundabouts, at least a dozen hotel premises and 10 prominent NDMC buildings are being illuminated as part of the preparations, officials said. Trees, shrubs and landscaped areas around important hotels and along key roads are also being illuminated.

In addition, the NDMC has completed verification of streetlights along all summit-related routes and replaced faulty lights identified during the exercise. Around 350 electrical panel boxes along roads have also been given a facelift with BRICS-themed branding.

The lighting arrangements come alongside an extensive horticultural drive, under which more than 15,000 potted ornamental plants are being placed at prominent locations across New Delhi. Floral boards are being installed at 15 locations and floral fountains at nine others, while landscaping, plantation, pruning and trimming of hedges and shrubs have been intensified along major avenues.

BRICS: NDMC keeps 19 medics on standby

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, September 11

The NDMC has put 19 personnel on standby for medical and other emergencies during the BRICS Summit, while keeping essential services running at its hospitals, officials said on Friday.

The New Delhi Municipal Council (NDMC) has formed an 11-member Quick Medical Response Team comprising specialist doctors, nursing officers and other medical personnel for immediate mobilisation in case of a medical emergency or disaster. The arrangements will remain in place throughout the BRICS Summit, from September 11 to 15, the officials said.

FROM STOPPAGES TO SMOOTH RIDES

Traffic curbs draw mixed reactions

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 11

As traffic restrictions for the BRICS Summit came into effect in parts of Delhi, commuters on Friday reported contrasting experiences, with some complaining of being forced to walk and others experiencing holiday-like atmosphere that made their journeys smooth.

“BRICS restricted traffic in Lutyens' Delhi, Zomato gave up, and I had to walk to get lunch today. Working in trade policy is all fun and games until you personally become the supply chain,” a user posted on X.

Social media was flooded with such reactions to the traffic arrangements to facilitate the movement of foreign dignitaries and their convoys during the summit, reflecting the mixed impact of the restrictions across different parts of the city.

Another commuter reported being stuck for more than 40 minutes near Max Hospital in Saket, saying, “Traffic not moved over 40 mins. Outside Max hospital Saket. Entire Press Enclave road halted.”

However, not all commuters experienced disruption.

Some users said the restrictions, coupled with fewer people travelling because of office holidays and work-from-home arrangements, had actually resulted in significantly faster journeys.

“On a normal day, my home-to-Delhi Airport journey takes a comfortable 45 minutes. Today, with the BRICS Summit, traffic restrictions and a holiday for most offices, it took just 14 minutes,” one user posted, joking that Delhi had “finally solved its traffic problem”.

Another user, who attended a business breakfast at The Imperial in central Delhi, said they had approached the journey with “so much trepidation” but found the roads largely free-flowing.

“Once-a-week-stay-home-for-brics should be institutionalised!” the user posted. While roads forming part of VVIP movement corridors have witnessed stoppages and diversions, reduced traffic volumes on other stretches appear to have offset some of the disruption for commuters.

The Delhi Traffic Police had earlier clarified that the city would not be shut down during the summit and that normal traffic would continue wherever security arrangements permitted.

On September 12, traffic restrictions will also be in force from 8.15 pm to 11 pm, during which traffic movement will be regulated along important stretches in and around central Delhi.

CJI flags delay in creation of Arbitration Council of India

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Bengaluru, September 11

Flagging the delay in the formation of the Arbitration Council of India, Chief Justice of India Surya Kant on Saturday called for a fundamental recalibration of India's arbitration ecosystem, urging arbitral institutions and practitioners to develop self-regulation rather than await the operationalisation of a statutory regulator.

Speaking at the India ADR Week 2026 organised by the Mumbai Centre for International Arbitration, the CJI proposed the creation of a cross-institutional public disclosure register for arbitrators.

"I want to point out an inconvenient fact instead. The law creating a National Regulatory Body for Arbitration, namely, the Arbitration Council of India, was passed in 2019. It has now been more than six years, and that Council still does not exist.

"I do not say this to embarrass anyone. I know the government is working on a fresh Arbitration Bill that could reshape this very institution. I say so because this gathering cannot afford to simply wait for Delhi, in the governmental sense, to decide how the arbitration community should regulate itself," he said.

'INTERACTION WITH BOOTH LEVEL OFFICERS' PROGRAMME

India's electoral process among most transparent in world: CEC

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Ahmedabad, September 11

Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Gyanesh Kumar on Friday said India's electoral process is among the most transparent in the world as verification is carried out at every stage, starting with electoral rolls to counting of votes.

He was speaking at the 'Interaction with Booth Level Officers' programme held at Atal Kalam Hall of Gujarat University.

"At every stage of India's electoral process, political parties, candidates or their agents continuously carry out verification. Therefore, India's electoral process is among the most transparent electoral processes in the world," an official release quoted Kumar as saying.

The electoral rolls are continuously verified with the participation of political parties and their Booth Level Agents (BLAs), he said.

Booth Level Officers (BLOs) are responsible for identifying cases, such as Absent, Shifted, Dead, Duplicate and Foreigner (ASDDF), while ensuring that eligible voters remain on the electoral rolls, the

The name of every eligible Indian citizen, who has completed 18 years of age, should be included in the electoral rolls, he said.

Explaining the transparency of the polling process, he said that before polling begins, EVMs and VVPATs are checked during the mock poll in the presence of polling agents of candidates.

After polling concludes, the procedures related to the EVM results are completed in the presence of candidates' agents and the necessary documents are signed, the release said.

Similarly, during counting, the votes recorded in the EVMs are verified against the votes mentioned in Form 17C in the presence of counting agents of the candidates, it added. The chief of the poll authority said that the Election Commission undertakes the electoral roll revision process (Special Intensive Revision) from time to time to maintain purity and accuracy of the rolls.

BLOs visit voters' homes and directly interact with them to verify the required details, he said, adding that efforts are made to make the electoral rolls more accurate through processes such as submission of appropriate documents, mapping and hearings.

He urged BLOs to remain continuously active in maintaining the accuracy of electoral rolls, and said whenever they get time, they should check the electoral roll in their respective areas and ensure that necessary procedures are completed to add the names of young people who have attained 18 years of age.

He said this is one of the greatest services to the country's democracy.

The CEC also participated in the fifth regional conference on "Electoral Literacy Clubs and ECI-NET" in Ahmedabad, focusing on strengthening electoral literacy and democratic awareness among young citizens.

PALGHAR HOSPITAL VIOLENCE

MLA's son, 13 others arrested; HC slams lax, 'ridiculous' probe

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Mumbai, September 11

Five days after a group of people attacked staff at a private hospital over the treatment of an injured 'Govinda', Palghar Police in Maharashtra on Friday arrested 14 persons including a Shiv Sena MLA's son even as the Bombay High Court termed the probe so far as "ridiculous and seriously flawed" and sought a report from a high-ranking official.

The action taken by the Palghar police appeared to be "merely superficial and seemed to have been carried out in a manner that would ultimately benefit the accused", the High Court said.

On the intervening night of September 5 and 6, Sena workers barged into Relief Hospital at Palghar where a few injured 'Govindas' who had participated in the Dahi Handi celebrations had been admitted. Claiming that the hospital was charging exorbitant fees, they allegedly vandalised the property, threatened the doctors, assaulted staff members and forcibly took away one of the injured persons from the ICU.

A police official said another 14 persons were arrested on Friday, including MLA Rajendra Gavit's son Rohit. The police have registered a First Information Report against a total of 22 persons.

In the High Court, the bench of Justices A S Gadkari and Kamal Khata directed the Additional Inspector General of Police, Konkan division, to examine the investigation and submit a report on September 17 stating whether the action taken by the Palghar police was legally proper.

Modi nudges Putin to end technology, defence and culture.

The Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) said in the read-out that Modi accepted Putin's invitation to travel to Russia for the annual summit talks between the two countries.

In their over 45-minute talks, Modi and Putin also agree to step up cooperation in defence, critical minerals, civil nuclear energy, fertiliser supplies and people-to-people exchanges.

The two leaders "shared perspectives on key regional and global issues of mutual interest, including the conflicts in West Asia and the Black Sea region which have impacted maritime trade and the safety and security of Indian seafarers", the MEA said in the readout.

"The prime minister once again reiterated that dialogue and diplomacy was the way forward in resolving conflicts and India stood ready to assist in peace efforts," it said.

Five Indian seafarers died in the Black Sea due to ongoing Russia-Ukraine hostilities, prompting India to strongly raise the incidents with both Moscow and Kyiv.

Speaking at a business forum after the talks with Putin, Modi said progress in global trade is possible only when sea lanes are secure, supply routes remain open, and seafarers are safe. "That is why India is a staunch supporter of freedom of navigation and the safety of seafarers."

Modi and Putin previously met on the sidelines of the SCO summit in Bishkek last week where the prime minister called for an immediate end to the Ukraine conflict and urged the Russian leader to shift from an "endless war towards the end of war".

"The two leaders reviewed progress in bilateral cooperation in political, economic, defence, energy, space, skill mobility and people-to-people domains," the MEA said.

It said they welcomed Russia's International Industrial Exhibition "INNOPROM India", held for the first time in India (New Delhi) from September 9 to and underscored its importance in further expanding trade and industrial ties.

The two leaders also visited the INNOPROM India exhibition at the Bharat Mandapam and interacted with the participants.

The MEA said Modi and Putin exchanged views on India-Russia engagement in the multilateral sphere, in particular in BRICS under India's chairship for 2026.

"President Putin invited Prime Minister to visit Russia for the 24th India-Russia Annual Summit. The prime minister accepted the invitation. The dates of the summit will be decided as per mutual convenience through diplomatic channels," it said.

Ways to boost trade and investment ties dominated the talks, with the Indian side pitching for greater market access for Indian exporters in Russia to address the ballooning trade deficit in Moscow's favour, it is learnt.

The two sides also delved into expanding their already strong defence cooperation.

PM Modi urges Pezeshkian

Global oil supplies have suffered severe disruptions following Iran's blockade of the Strait of Hormuz -- considered the world's most critical energy chokepoint, through which roughly 20 per cent of global petroleum flows.

Importantly, as per MEA, Modi also highlighted the significance of the freedom of navigation and trade and also emphasised the safety of seafarers. It indicates India's concerns related to the security of maritime trade routes and the implications of regional instability on India's energy imports, trade and shipping operations.

Consequently, for India, engagement with Iran has moved far beyond the realm of regular bilateral diplomacy. It now relates to India's larger strategic interests in energy security, maritime safety, connectivity, and access to the markets of Central Asia. The need for alternative trade routes becomes all the more relevant in light of the challenges faced by the traditional routes due to geopolitical rivalries.

The two sides also recognised the cooperation that exists between India and Iran on various issues at the multilateral level, which include the grouping of BRICS. As Iran's membership of the grouping is increasing, India sees room for engaging with Iran on issues of the Global South, economic cooperation, connectivity and even institutional reforms.

The quick sequence of Modi-Pezeshkian meetings also underscores the diplomatic strategy of India vis-à-vis the region. While keeping up with the strategic and economic partnership with Gulf nations and other regional/global actors, India has continued engaging Iran and promoting peace and not war.

With the regional security situation in West Asia remaining volatile, India's engagement with Iran will assume added strategic significance in the coming days.

growth and cooperation between the two countries. He also invited Gor to attend the Manipur Sangai Festival, set for late November, and noted that the state is home to 36 different communities.

Sharing his thoughts on X, Gor wrote, "Enjoyed hearing from Chief Minister Y Khemchand Singh about his vision for Manipur. We exchanged ideas about how the US and India can work together to expand economic ties."

Singh responded on the same platform, saying he was confident ties between the US and Manipur would grow stronger going forward.

Gor's day ended with a visit to Governor Ajay Kumar Bhalra's residence, where the two discussed continued cooperation between the US and India. Gor is set to leave Imphal on Saturday, closing out his brief but eventful trip to the north-eastern state.

NSE IPO

on September 21, with listing scheduled for September 24. The entire issue is an Offer for Sale (OFS), meaning the proceeds will go to existing shareholders selling their stakes rather than to NSE. The issue comprises 12.64 crore shares, with the price band set at Rs 1,700 to Rs 1,785 per share. At the upper end, the issue is valued at around Rs 22,561.57 crore.

SBI is the largest seller among the 10 shareholders and is offering up to 1,59,69,410 shares, reduced from its earlier proposal of 2.47 crore shares. Its weighted average acquisition cost is just Rs 0.80 per share. At the upper IPO price, the shares would be worth around Rs 2,850.54 crore against an estimated acquisition value of Rs 1.28 crore, giving SBI an indicative gain of about Rs 2,849.26 crore before taxes and transaction costs.

Aranda Investments (Mauritius) Pte Ltd is offering 1,12,46,336 shares. At Rs 1,785 apiece, the holding would fetch around Rs 2,007.47 crore. With an estimated acquisition value of Rs 70.15 crore, its indicative gain stands at Rs 1,937.32 crore.

MS Strategic (Mauritius) Ltd is offering 1.10 crore shares, down from 1.6 crore earlier. Its shares could fetch Rs 1,963.50 crore at the upper band, compared with an estimated acquisition value of Rs 73.19 crore, resulting in an indicative gain of Rs 1,890.31 crore.

New India Assurance Company is offering 1.05 crore shares and could realise Rs 1,874.25 crore. Since its estimated acquisition value is only Rs 0.34 crore, its indicative gain is about Rs 1,873.91 crore.

Canada Pension Plan Investment Board (CPP Investments) is offering 1,18,74,060 shares, worth around Rs 2,119.52 crore at the upper band. Against an estimated acquisition value of Rs 384.87 crore, its indicative gain works out to Rs 1,734.65 crore.

SBI Capital Markets is offering 87,80,590 shares, which could fetch Rs 1,567.34 crore, giving it an indicative gain of around Rs 1,567 crore. BoB is offering 76,90,375 shares, worth about Rs 1,372.73 crore, against an estimated acquisition value of Rs 0.42 crore. Its indicative gain is around Rs 1,372.32 crore.

Stock Holding Corporation of India is offering 61,87,500 shares, which could fetch Rs 1,104.47 crore and generate an indicative gain of Rs 1,104.18 crore. General Insurance Corporation of India is offering the same number of shares and could record an indicative gain of Rs 1,101.21 crore.

United India Insurance

Company is offering 60 lakh shares. At the upper band, these could fetch Rs 1,071 crore, against an estimated acquisition value of Rs 0.30 crore, resulting in an indicative gain of Rs 1,070.70 crore.

The NSE IPO was initially expected to involve around 14.9 crore shares and raise more than Rs 30,000 crore. Shareholders have since reduced the proposed sale. NSE managing director and chief executive Ashishkumar Chauhan said long-term investors had indicated a larger sale when the IPO papers were filed but later cut the quantum, possibly to retain exposure to future gains.

The price band was decided after deliberations by 20 merchant banking entities advising NSE. "After deliberations and roadshows across the world, our merchant bankers have advised us that this is the price," Chauhan said.

The issue has reserved 50 per cent of shares for qualified institutional buyers, 15 per cent for non-institutional investors and 35 per cent for retail investors. The shares have a face value of Rs 1 each and the lot size is eight shares.

The IPO comes after Sebi cleared NSE's plans last week, allowing the exchange to proceed with a listing that had remained stalled for nearly a decade amid regulatory hurdles, including the co-location controversy. NSE's issue is expected to be India's second-largest IPO, behind Hyundai Motor India's Rs 27,870-crore offering and ahead of LIC's roughly Rs 21,000-crore issue.

On whether NSE would eventually be permitted to list its shares on its own platform, Chauhan said the exchange has not approached Sebi for approval. NSE officials also said the contribution of options to its overall revenue has been declining over time amid regulatory measures aimed at reducing excessive activity and protecting investors.

India to be forecast roughly one season ahead. The forecast would indicate whether a coming winter is likely to be relatively mild or severe, rather than attempting to predict pollution on a specific day months in advance.

"Currently, many of the most disruptive air-pollution measures are taken only after severe pollution is already developing," said lead author Yuanyu Xie, an associate research scholar at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs in the US.

"If scientists can anticipate the overall severity of the coming winter months ahead of time, governments, businesses, and communities will have more time to prepare," Xie said.

Winter pollution regularly rises across northern India, including Delhi-NCR, adding to health risks for residents. Vehicle emissions, crop-residue burning in Punjab, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh, and weather conditions that restrict the dispersal of pollutants contribute to the seasonal increase.

Authorities often respond to severe pollution with measures such as halting construction, restricting industrial activity and limiting traffic. The researchers said advance forecasts could make it easier to plan such interventions instead of introducing them at short notice.

Co-author Denise Mauzerall, a Princeton professor of public and international affairs and civil and environmental engineering, said emission reductions would remain essential.

"However, we show that forecasts of winter pollution based on observations from the previous autumn can allow additional pollution controls to be arranged in advance of extreme pollution periods," she said.

The authors said nearly 70 per cent of inter-annual variation in winter PM2.5 pollution across northern India is explained by western disturbances through enhanced ventilation and precipitation that remove pollutants.

the damaged section. Breaches were also reported at DhoBanania Dam on the Kalbalia River and Budhiya Dam of the Sadopur ring embankment.

Deputy Chief Minister Vijay Kumar Choudhary, who also heads the Water Resources Department, ordered round-the-clock monitoring of vulnerable embankments. He said the Ganga at Gandhi Ghat in Patna had crossed its previous highest recorded level from 2016 and was still rising.

"The rise has primarily been attributed to unexpectedly high discharge in the Son and Ghaghra rivers," Choudhary said. He added that the Son was receding and the Ghaghra had stabilised, with improvement expected over the next 24 hours.

Modi: Need to take world-class innovations into global market

SIMONTINI BHATTACHARJEE
New Delhi, September 11

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said the economic power of BRICS must be converted into trade, investments and business opportunities, noting that BRICS must take its act from potential as its economic power increases.

Speaking at the Leaders' Session of the BRICS Business Forum here in New Delhi, Prime Minister Modi said that BRICS, which started with four nations back in 2006, has now become a family of 21 members and partners with a population of 50 per cent of the world's population, 40 per cent of global GDP and above 25 per cent of global trade. "Whereas global GDP has doubled, the combined GDP of BRICS has increased four-and-a-half times," Modi said.

According to the Prime Minister, "BRICS Chairmanship of India is aimed at 'Building for Resilience, Innovation, Cooperation and Sustainability' and we aim to make use of this economic potential to build resilient supply chains, foster technological innovations and offer business opportunities for companies in the BRICS."

"We want to achieve this through our vision of 'Make in India, Innovate with India, and Scale for the World.'"

Education system failing young generation: Rahul

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, September 11

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Friday said India's education system was failing the very generation it was meant to lift and asked students, parents and teachers to tell him why they have lost hope in it.

The Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha said fixing the education system begins with listening to those who experience its failures every day.

"India's education system is failing the very generation it was meant to lift. Paper leaks. Crushing fees. Decaying infrastructure. Millions of young Indians work honestly, and the system still lets them down," Gandhi said on X.

"Fixing it begins with listening to those who experience its failures every day. Students, parents, teachers, tell me: why have you lost hope in the education system?" he said.

‘You drowned India, we rebuilt it’

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, September 11

The BJP on Friday slammed the Congress and other opposition parties for creating a "negative atmosphere" around the BRICS summit, alleging that they are unable to "digest" India's progress as the country moves forward.

The ruling party said that while in 2011-12, under the Congress-led UPA government, India appeared to be losing its position within BRICS, today all BRICS heads of state are in India and the country is celebrating the summit "as never before."

India is hosting the 18th BRICS Summit on September 12-13 at Bharat Mandapam in New Delhi.

A day earlier, the Congress questioned the benefits of hosting the BRICS Summit.

Senior BJP leader Ravi Shankar Prasad alleged that during the tenure of Manmohan Singh, India's position in BRICS had reached a stage where people were saying that "India" should be removed and "Indonesia" should replace the "I" in BRICS.

"Congress leaders, who are lamenting and asking what did India gain, should remember that the truth is, you ruined it, we rebuilt it (aapne doobaya, humne banaya)," he told reporters here.

K'taka: 24.97L SIR notices delivered to electors

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Bengaluru, September 11

More than 24.97 lakh notices have been delivered to electors as part of the ongoing Special Intensive Revision of electoral rolls, the CEO's office said on Friday.

The state has 4,46,58,413 electors on the electoral roll as of September 10, comprising 2.21 crore male, 2.24 crore female and 2,874 transgender electors, it said. Details of claims and objections received from the public have been published on the website, as well.

GEN Z ANGER, UGC ROW, UPPER-CASTE UNEASE AND CADRE FATIGUE

BJP faces a four-cornered challenge in Uttar Pradesh

BISWAJEET BANERJEE
Lucknow, September 11

Six months before the Uttar Pradesh Assembly elections, the BJP is confronting a four-cornered political challenge that goes beyond the Opposition's campaign.

An internal assessment has identified growing discontent among young voters, anger linked to the UGC controversy, unease among sections of the upper-caste and unreserved electorate, and fatigue within the party's own cadre.

The concerns are significant because each represents a different constituency of the BJP's 2022 electoral coalition. While none of these issues alone may pose an immediate threat, their combined effect could make the 2027 contest far more difficult for the ruling party.

The first challenge is

Gen Z. Party assessments suggest that anger among young voters is increasingly centred on jobs, recruitment and questions surrounding the UGC. Unlike traditional political protests, much of this discontent is playing out online through Instagram, YouTube, Reddit and other platforms.

The political risk for the BJP is that the anger may remain largely invisible on the streets while still influencing voting behaviour.

The second pressure point is the UGC controversy, which has added to

KEY POINTS

» The concerns are significant because each represents a different constituency of the BJP's 2022 electoral coalition

» The party, however, rejects the suggestion that its support is confined to any particular social group concerns over education, recruitment and employment among young voters. For a party that has traditionally benefited from strong support among aspirational young voters, the ability of the Opposition to turn such issues into a broader narrative could become important in the election.

The third challenge comes from within sections of the BJP's traditional upper-caste support base.

The internal assessment points to concerns over reservation among sections of the upper castes and the unreserved category. The BJP's vote base among upper castes is not being viewed as automatic, with reservation emerging as an issue that could create unease among sections of the electorate.

The fourth and perhaps most organisationally important problem is cadre fatigue.

Party workers have complained about a perceived disconnect with the leadership and said their concerns are not always addressed. Transfers and other administrative issues are also cited as areas where workers feel they have to approach MLAs, MPs or senior leaders.

EDITORIAL

More Than a Summit

The 18th BRICS Summit opens in New Delhi at a moment when the grouping has never looked more formidable on paper – or more difficult to hold together politically. Its 11 members account for nearly half the world’s population, about 40 per cent of global GDP and more than a quarter of global trade. Expansion has given BRICS greater weight, bringing major energy producers, African economies and Southeast Asia into a forum once dominated by five emerging powers. Yet size is not cohesion. The wars in Ukraine and West Asia, tensions involving Iran and the UAE, India-China friction and varying relationships with the United States expose how diverse the grouping has become. Even its strategic purpose is contested. Russia and China are more comfortable presenting BRICS as a counterweight to Western power, while India prefers an inclusive platform that strengthens the Global South without becoming an anti-Western alliance. The Delhi summit must demonstrate that diversity can produce cooperation rather than paralysis.

India’s presidency offers a sensible route forward by concentrating on areas where interests overlap. Its theme – Building for Resilience, Innovation, Cooperation and Sustainability – matters only if it produces mechanisms that function after leaders leave Delhi. The New Development Bank and Contingent Reserve Arrangement showed that BRICS can translate political intent into institutional architecture. The next stage should be equally practical. Finance ministers have called for reform of the IMF and World Bank and for more efficient cross-border payment systems. Proposals for a BRICS incubator network, startup innovation fund and logistics and supply-chain cooperation framework point towards areas where members can create measurable value. Cooperation on food and energy security, digital agriculture, health, disaster resilience, technology and resilient supply chains can benefit members regardless of geopolitical alignments. The objective should not be grand declarations about replacing the existing world order, but building credible institutions where existing arrangements fail developing economies.

That is why the recurring debate over de-dollarisation should not consume BRICS. A common currency is unrealistic for economies with profoundly different monetary systems and priorities. Improving settlement in national currencies, lowering cross-border transaction costs and making digital payment systems interoperable are more achievable goals. The same pragmatism should guide trade and development. BRICS cannot demand reform of global institutions while reproducing opacity, imbalance or dominance within its own structures. Smaller members must have genuine influence, projects must meet transparent standards, and cooperation must deliver benefits beyond summit communiqués. For India, the opportunity is to steer BRICS away from ideological confrontation and towards functional multipolarity – countries need not agree on every war, alliance or geopolitical dispute to build useful mechanisms together. An enlarged BRICS has proved that much of the world wants greater representation in global governance. Delhi must now prove something harder: that representation can be converted into results. The measure of BRICS is no longer who joins it, but what its members can build together.

Rental Overhaul

Gujarat’s new Rent Bill is a welcome attempt to modernise an outdated tenancy regime. Mandatory written agreements, capped security deposits and dedicated dispute-resolution mechanisms should protect both tenants and landlords. Its success, however, will depend on efficient implementation and ensuring that the new regulatory framework does not create fresh bureaucratic hurdles.

The ‘Influencer Trap’ in Civil Service

Civil servants have every right to use social media, but public office cannot become an instrument for personal branding, influence-building or celebrity

CIVIC ETHICS

KDP RAO

THE WRITER IS A FORMER ADDITIONAL CHIEF SECRETARY OF CHHATTISGARH

It was reported last week that the Government of India is likely to come up with a ‘social media code of conduct’ for its officers in view of an increasing trend of self-promotion and glorification through various posts, reels and stories that stands in stark contrast to the code of conduct prescribed for civil servants. If so, the move is long overdue and much needed in these times of misinformation and a credibility crisis facing institutions, in order to preserve the sanctity of the delivery mechanism, with its core values of impartiality and neutrality that form the bedrock of Weber’s bureaucracy.

Though public servants are not prohibited from using social media, the Central Civil Services (Conduct) Rules, 1964, and related service rules strictly mandate political neutrality, respect for government policies/actions, non-divulgence of confidential information, and separation of personal and official identities. However, there is no uniform social media code for public servants in India, though steps have been initiated in fits and starts, as in Maharashtra and Bihar. Effectively, freedom on social media is unfettered for public servants in India. Some receive congratulatory wishes from their thousands of citizen followers on new postings, promotions and official success stories, while others receive loads of love on pictures of their private lives, vacations, family celebrations, gym workouts and whatnot. The scenario is not unlike the celebrity lives of Bollywood personalities, sports stars or famous political figures. Self-promotion through a celebrity bureaucrat culture, using official position, resources and time for personal branding or influence-building, creates conflicts of interest. The worst instances involve those who try to re-enact something akin to Luther’s famous 95 Theses, criticising government policies or superior officers, fostering political affiliations, disclosing confidential information or washing dirty linen in public forums. It is highly condemnable, for it leads to an erosion of trust in governance and encourages contempt for government institutions, not to mention indiscipline in the rank and file.

Unpleasant incidents have occurred in the recent past wherein the government has had to come down heavily on some civil servants for objectionable conduct on social media – rather, misconduct – attracting departmental action. Two IAS officers from the Kerala cadre were suspended in 2024: one for derogatory remarks against the Chief Secretary on social media and the other for creating a religion-based WhatsApp group, allegedly fomenting communal division within the cadre. One IAS officer was immediately removed as an Election Observer and action was initiated against him for posting photos on Instagram and Twitter announcing his arrival in a constituency for Assembly poll duty. Disciplinary proceedings were initiated under the All India Services (Discipline and Appeal) Rules against quite a few officers in different states in the past for irresponsible social media posts that tarnished the image of the administration and bred disobedience in the system.

Most Western governments do not have specific laws against the use of social media by civil servants and employees of state agencies. Nevertheless, they are way ahead in regulating the social media activities of public functionaries through administrative orders and ethical codes. In Canada, self-promotion that leverages a public service position for private gain is prohibited under the Values and Ethics Code principles. Likewise, the use of government symbols, logos or official email IDs for objectionable personal purposes is prohibited. Conflicts of interest must be declared and managed transparently. A Revenue Agency employee was fired for posts celebrating terrorist acts and the deaths of NATO personnel. Similarly, the UK’s political impartiality rules restrict conduct that involves advancing personal visibility tied to government work. A senior civil servant faced disciplinary action in 2026 after sharing an Instagram story with a “death wish” caption about Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu in the context of Dolly Parton’s death.

The Australian Public Service (APS) guidance uses a risk-based approach. Employees are allowed to have private lives but must uphold APS Values and the Code of Conduct, which underscore impartiality and public confidence. A public servant, Michaela Banerji, was dismissed in 2019 for anonymous Twitter posts criticising government immigration and foreign policy. In the US, ethics rules (Standards of Conduct) and the Hatch Act (political activity) prohibit federal employees from using their official position, uniform or photos of government spaces for private gain or to endorse products on social media. Despite First Amendment protections, federal employees are not immune from disciplinary action under the Hatch Act for political activity on social media, especially while on duty or when using government resources.

Public service is coveted employment with lavish perks, the maintenance of which is supported by a substantial portion of the government budget annually; as such, it would be not only unbecoming of a public servant but also unethical to engage in self-glorification or personal empowerment on social media forums. A public servant has responsibilities towards the government and citizens alike, unlike an ordinary citizen who enjoys various freedoms of self-expression. That said, a civil servant is free to engage himself/herself on social media in the pursuit of fine arts, educational activities or philanthropic causes, or in bona fide trade union activities such as employees’ associations, family groups, etc., within the boundaries of conduct rules. Hopefully, if the government comes up with a uniform social media code of conduct, it will help reinforce the noble values of the civil services, guiding public servants towards neutrality and professionalism – the hallmarks of a quintessential, committed bureaucracy.

The Growth Anomaly

The lacklustre rate of job creation and the yawning skills gap require high-level attention and decisive action

AT VANTAGE

SHUTAPA PAUL

THE WRITER IS AN INDEPENDENT JOURNALIST

When the 1950s-origin Planning Commission was decommissioned in 2015, many welcomed the flexible and participatory ethos postulated by the NITI Aayog. The Planning Commission was, after all, top-down, highly centralised, and adhered to rigid ‘five-year plans’. Its younger, yuppie version was to propound decentralisation and greater cooperation between the states and the Centre. Most significantly, though, the NITI Aayog was to have no financial muscle, unlike its predecessor, which controlled almost half of the Plan expenditure. By comparison, the NITI Aayog was essentially rendered toothless, reduced only to a role of advice and gentle persuasion.

For economy-watchers such as myself, though, NITI Aayog’s reports continue to enthrall. Several of its reports contain crucial murmurings that affect the Indian economy; unfortunately, they are not receiving the importance that they deserve.

With the GDP numbers once again being debated and debunked this week, attention has naturally turned to tepid job creation. The NITI Aayog had already rung the alarm bells on August 18 in its report titled, “Reimagining Skilling for Viksit Bharat@2047” – a closer look paints a rather dismal picture of the plight of Indian youth. A whopping 8.7 crore of them, aged between 15 and 29 years, are in a state of limbo – they aren’t studying, are not in training, and neither do they have employment. Ironically, they are also called NEET (not in education, employment, and training) in the report. What are these young people doing? Doomscrolling? Maybe participating in student-led protests? These numbers divulge a seething frustration among the younger generation, who are not yet on a productive path in their lives. These numbers are in spite of the supposed 7.67 crore youth who have been trained since 2014-15. Noting that some state governments and the private sector have strived to improve skilling, the report says the “outcomes remain uneven”.

It’s time to pay attention to the youth waiting for jobs

GROWTH MUST ULTIMATELY BE MEASURED BY THE OPPORTUNITIES IT CREATES

may well have been surpassed by now if Covid-19 and its after-effects are taken into consideration, along with global outages, AI (artificial intelligence) disruption, and so on. The report also went on to say that unemployment among graduates was almost four times that among the general population. Only one in 12 graduates, or 8.25 per cent, lands a job matching their skills, while 13 per cent of all graduates and 20.4 per cent of women graduates are not gainfully employed. As per the latest numbers cited in the Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS), India’s unemployment rate in July 2026 stood at 5.1 per cent for people aged 15 years and above, with urban unemployment at 6.7 per cent and rural unemployment at 4.5 per cent.

The purported resilience of our economic growth, in spite of the West Asia war and supply-chain issues, is commendable. However, we cannot gloss over the challenges that still abound. The lack of good jobs is a reality that is easily noticeable. Just observe the number of gig workers who are well-spoken, educated, and definitely seem overqualified to be delivery persons. But, at the same time, they don’t have the skills to be employed in better jobs.

The NITI Aayog report notes the cost barrier that exists for youth seeking to avail themselves of additional vocational courses, as well as the dearth of apprenticeships. Stuck in this no-man’s-land, a vast number of Indian youth stare at an uncertain future unless the government overcomes its inertia. And that’s where the NITI Aayog report comes into play. It recommends that skill development should be introduced as early as Class 6 in the school curriculum: General Employability and Entrepreneurship Skills (GEES) for students between Classes 6 and 12, Kaushal Tracks from Class 9, more vocational options based on national labour-market demands, and greater real-world work experience. A robust MSME (micro, small and medium enterprise) sector can provide a stable middle rung of firms that can also generate quality jobs. Global financial giant Morgan Stanley predicts that India needs annual GDP growth of 9-10 per cent to generate enough jobs and a growth rate of about 14 per cent to clear the backlog of jobless people. The action that we need is not short-term in nature; these measures, if initiated now, will reap benefits over the next five to 10 years. The time is not to argue over GDP numbers and their methodologies. It’s time to pay attention to the youth waiting for jobs, and those who will soon be standing in the wings as well.

Cong has 'no policy or agenda' to counter Modi govt, says Saini

MPOST BUREAU
Chandigarh, September 11

Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini on Friday accused the Congress of having no policy or concrete agenda to counter the work done by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, asserting that nearly 25 crore people had been lifted out of poverty under the present government.

Addressing a press conference in Panchkula on the 'Seva Sankalp Campaign', Saini said the Congress ruled the country for nearly 55 years but could not provide a count of people it had lifted out of poverty during its tenure.

He said Modi's 25 years in public life had been marked by service, good governance, welfare of the poor and dedication to the nation. "The Congress has neither a policy, nor an issue, nor any concrete agenda to counter the work done by Prime Minister Narendra Modi," Saini said, alleging that its leaders were now relying on derogatory remarks against the prime minister.

He said the Modi government had placed the dignity and living standards of the poor at the centre of its policies. In Haryana, nearly 1.60 lakh houses had been constructed and provided to poor families, he said.

Saini also accused the Congress of creating confusion over Covid-19 vaccines during the pandemic and said its electoral performance reflected the people's response. Highlighting youth-oriented initiatives such as Khelo India, Make in India and Fit India, he said Haryana currently had more than 12,500 startups and 19 unicorns.

On Punjab, He also criticised AAP's handling of the drug menace in Punjab.

Plea against Saharanpur mosque demolition: HC seeks govt's reply

MPOST BUREAU
Prayagraj, September 11

The Allahabad High Court on Friday asked the Uttar Pradesh government to file a counter affidavit within three weeks on a writ petition against the demolition of a mosque situated in the collectorate premises at Saharanpur.

Justice Rohit Ranjan Agarwal fixed October 12 for the next date of hearing, and stayed the realisation of a fine of Rs six crore from the mosque management till then.

The order was passed on the petition by advocate Mohammad Tanveer Ahmad challenging a direction of the city magistrate, Saharanpur on July 16 as well as the order of district judge, Saharanpur on September 2. In the petition, the Uttar Pradesh government through the district magistrate, Saharanpur as well as Abdul Hamid, manager/maulavi of the mosque have been made respondents.

Man gets double death penalty for rape, murder of 6-year-old girl

MPOST BUREAU
Durg, September 11

A Fast Track Special POCOS Court has awarded a double death sentence to a man for the rape and murder of a minor girl in Chhattisgarh's Durg last year. The six-year-old was missing on April 6, 2025, after leaving her home in Urla Basti around 10 am to attend a Ram Navami Kanya Bhoj. Her father subsequently lodged a missing person report at Mohan Nagar police station.

A search operation was launched and the girl's body was found the same night inside a Tata Zest car parked in a vacant plot near the area.

Following a preliminary examination, police registered charges related to murder, disappearance of evidence and aggravated penetrative sexual assault under the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) and POCOS Act. A dedicated investigation team was formed under Additional Superintendent of Police Padmashree Tanwar. Investigators collected and preserved physical, biological and digital evidence, including the victim's clothes, hair, nail scrapings, medical slides and CCTV footage.

Somesh Yadav was arrested on April 8, 2025, and sent to judicial custody. Despite some witness testimonies turning hostile during the trial, the prosecution established the case through physical, medical and electronic evidence.

The court awarded death sentences under the POCOS Act.

ED searches 21 sites linked to K'taka minister

NAARESH BISWANI
New Delhi, September 11

The ED has searched 21 premises linked to Karnataka Public Works Minister Satish Jarkiholi and his associates in a probe into alleged FEMA violations, the agency said.

The searches on September 9 and 10 covered Bengaluru, Belagavi, Gokak and Kolkata over alleged undisclosed foreign investments and financial irregularities involving the Jarkiholi family. The ED said documents indicated stakes in foreign entities, including Eldorado Mining Resources in Congo and Nava Aurum Mining Ltd in Zambia. It also alleged Jarkiholi owns nearly 40 per cent of Congo-based gold mining firm Magnitude Star SARL.

The premises linked to Bharat Vanija Eastern Private Ltd were also searched over alleged bribery in securing a contract.

THE COURT STAYED THE REALISATION OF A FINE OF RS 6 CRORE FROM THE MOSQUE MANAGEMENT TILL OCTOBER 12

The city magistrate, through an order passed under the Uttar Pradesh Public Premises (Eviction and Unauthorised Occupants) Act 1972 on July 16, directed demolition of the 315 square-metre mosque in the collectorate premises and imposed a fine of Rs 6.41 crore on its management. An appeal was filed against the magistrate's order in the district court. However, the district judge dismissed the appeal on September 2, following which the authorities demolished the mosque on September 5.

Appearing on behalf of petitioner, senior advocate Ashish Kumar Singh submitted that the order of eviction was passed without ascertaining the title, though the name of Wahid Khan and Yaqub Khan was recorded on the property.

On the other hand, Additional Advocate General Manish Goel opposed the petition saying that the petitioner himself had pleaded that the mosque is a waqf property and the Sunni Central board has not been made parties.

Thus the stand of the petitioner is contrary as on the one hand he pleaded that the property is of the zamindar and on other hand that property is of waqf but there is nothing about dedication to waqf, he argued.

Goel said that the property is recorded in the name of collectorate katchery. It is alleged in the petition that in the documents the property in dispute was recorded in the name of one Wahid Khan. However in 1956 it was recorded in the name of Wahid Khan, collectorate katchery and one Yaqub Khan.

'Parties fail to explain why candidates with criminal cases picked in 5 states'

ADR analyses 3,539 candidates who contested Assam, Keralam, TN, Bengal & Puducherry Assembly polls

MPOST BUREAU
New Delhi, September 11

Political parties failed to make public details explaining why candidates with criminal cases were selected for the five state assembly elections held earlier this year, with the required disclosures missing for 191 of the 1,405 candidates analysed by the ADR.

The analysis pointed out that in several cases where explanation for the selection, notwithstanding the criminal antecedents, was publicised, parties often chose to use repetitive -- and sometimes identical -- reasons and words to make their case.

The elections to the Assemblies of Assam, Keralam, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal, besides the Union Territory of Puducherry, saw 8,848 candidates contest, according to the Association for Democratic Reforms (ADR) analysis of disclosures made by 51 political parties.

The election watchdog analysed 3,539 candidates picked by these parties and found that 1,405 of them had declared criminal cases in their election affidavits. Of these, parties had published the required Format C-7 disclosures for 1,214 candidates, while no such disclosure was available for 191 (14 per cent) candidates.

Tamil Nadu had the largest number of candidates for whom the disclosures were unavailable -- 72, followed by West Bengal with 55, Keralam with 27, Puducherry with 12 and Assam with 10.

The C-7 disclosure is meant to tell voters not just that a candidate has a criminal case or cases registered against them but also why the party chose to field that person and why it could not select someone without criminal antecedents. The Supreme Court had directed political parties in 2020 to publish the reasons for selecting candidates with criminal backgrounds within 72 hours of their selection.

The Election Commission subsequently directed parties to publish the information on their websites, social media accounts and in newspapers.

In Tamil Nadu, where 473 of the 1,162 candidates analysed by ADR had declared criminal cases, disclosures were unavailable for 72 candidates. In West Bengal, 559 of the 1,516 candidates analysed had declared criminal cases, with the required information missing for 55. Keralam had 268 candidates with declared criminal cases among the 431 analysed, with disclosures unavailable for 27. In Assam, 66 of the 318 candidates analysed had declared criminal cases and 10 did not have the required C-7 disclosure available. In Puducherry, out of 112 contesting candidates analysed, 39 (35 per cent) candidates had declared criminal cases against them, while reasons were furnished for 12 candidates.

ADR also found that the reasons furnished by parties were often similar or repetitive, rather than being candidate-specific.

European Commission submits India FTA to Council for signature

If authorised by the European Council, this will be the largest trade agreement ever concluded by both the European Union and India

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Brussels, September 11

The European Commission on Friday formally submitted its proposal to the European Council to sign and conclude the Free Trade Agreement with India, marking a major step toward implementing the ambitious pact - widely termed the "mother of all deals".

If authorised by the Council, this will be the largest trade agreement ever concluded by both the EU and India.

India and the EU announced the conclusion of the FTA in January, marking a historic milestone in their economic relations and trade engagement with key global partners. Once adopted and entered into force, the agreement will improve market access, reduce tariffs, tackle unneces-around a quarter of global GDP," Maroš Šefčovič, Commissioner for Trade and Economic Security; Interinstitutional Relations and Transparency, said in a statement.

"Our focus has been clear from the start: to ensure that businesses and citizens feel the tangible benefits of this landmark FTA as quickly as possible. Timing matters, which is why we are now following through by submitting our proposals to the Council for signature and conclusion in record time," he added.

The EU-India FTA "reflects the EU's commitment to strengthen economic ties with key partners in the Indo-Pacific region," the release said.

MPC will reassess growth-inflation dynamics at next meeting: RBI Guv

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, September 11

Reserve Bank's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) will reassess growth and inflation dynamics at its meeting next month amid rising prices of crude oil due to the ongoing West Asia crisis, Governor Sanjay Malhotra said on Friday.

In an interview to CNBC-TV18, the governor also said nearly 50 per cent of the Foreign Currency Non-Resident (Bank), or FCNR(B) deposits, mobilised under the forex swap facility is for 5-year tenor. The inflows under the FCNR (B) deposits totalled $127.22 billion in the recently concluded RBI swap facility.

On inflation, Malhotra said the rising crude oil prices will have an impact but it will depend on how much is passed through, he said.

"Crude has gone up. July was for the Indian basket an average of $82 (per barrel). August it has gone up to $90 (per barrel) and so that will certainly have some impact, but it will depend again on the pass-through," Malhotra said in the interview.

According to him, the government has to a great degree absorbed and cushioned that shock, as a result of that the Indian economy has weathered this shock really well.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) governor said it would continue to watch whether there is persistence, inflation expectations, and generalisation.

"I mean, risks are there on both sides... The MPC will make a reassessment of the growth-inflation dynamics when it meets in a month or so. Let me not give my assessment," he said.

The next meeting of the MPC, the RBI's rate-setting panel, is scheduled for October 5-7, 2026.

On FCNR (B) deposits, the governor said the flows were certainly "very robust" and reflect the strong belief and confidence of the investors worldwide in the extremely strong macroeconomic fundamentals of India.

"It demonstrates at the same time that we can get foreign flows, capital flows, in a short period of time. This helps us, in terms of financial stability, external sector resilience. We are quite happy with the result," he added.

Malhotra said the strong flows has helped stabilise the forex markets.

"It has given us the liquidity at the same time, and it has improved sentiments," he said.

He said that FCNR(B) deposits are predominantly concentrated in the 5-year tenure, which accounts for nearly half of the total portfolio at approximately (48.50-50 per cent). The next largest segment, comprising about 42 per cent, falls within the 3-year up to 4-year maturity bracket. The remaining share, about 9 per cent, falls in 4-5 years' tenure window.

Malhotra said the Reserve Bank has enough tools at its disposal to manage the current surplus of liquidity in the banking system, and is prepared to use them as needed. Some of the liquidity will be withdrawn on its own over a period of time, he added.

Exports from BRICS nations rise to $6 trillion in 2024, says Piyush Goyal

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 11

Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal

Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal on Friday said exports from BRICS countries have risen from about $900 billion in 2003 to $6 trillion in 2024, reflecting the scale of its market and potential.

Speaking at the BRICS Business Forum here, Goyal also said the share of BRICS nations in global exports has nearly doubled to about 24 per cent.

"This is the largest BRICS business forum ever held. The Forum has taken up issues such as non-tariff barriers impacting global value chains, agriculture and agri-technologies, services trade, women-led enterprises and digital economy," he said.

The Forum is held on the sidelines of the two-day BRICS Summit, beginning Saturday.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

India's forex reserves jumped by a record $44.903 billion to a new lifetime high of $785.706 billion during the week ended September 4, the RBI said on Friday.

In the previous reporting week, the overall reserves increased $11.475 billion to a new all-time high of $740.803 billion.

The kitty had been declining since the start of the conflict in West Asia earlier this year, as the rupee came under pressure and the RBI had to intervene in the forex market through dollar sales.

VALUE OF GOLD RESERVES FELL $2.594 BN TO $113.816 BN DURING THE WEEK

the RBI announced concessional forex swap initiatives in June this year amid a sharp depreciation in the local currency. The move has yielded over $136 billion in new flows.

For the week ended September 4, foreign currency assets, a major component of the reserves, increased $47.498 billion to $648.168 billion, the central bank's data showed.

Expressed in dollar terms, foreign currency assets include the effects of appreciation or depreciation of non-US units, such as the euro, pound, and yen, held in the foreign exchange reserves.

Value of gold reserves decreased $2.594 billion to $113.816 billion during the week, the RBI said, adding that the special drawing rights were down by $4 million at $18.806 billion.

India's reserve position with the IMF was up $2 million to $4.916 billion at the end of the reporting week, according to the apex bank's data.

Mumbai, September 11

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday urged the RBI to further advance its central bank digital currency (CBDC) initiatives and sharpen capabilities around the digital rupee amid rapid developments in tokenisation, agentic AI and quantum computing.

"I urge the RBI to further advance and also develop what it has initiated through both the wholesale and retail CBDC pilots. Sensing the momentum in this fall and across global markets, the RBI needs to continue to sharpen its capabilities with the digital rupee," she said while addressing the Global Fintech Fest 2026.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman

She said the successful pilot of India's first tokenised corporate bond demonstrated the importance of CBDC in enabling simultaneous movement of the asset and money legs of a transaction. The pilot was completed by REC under the Securities and Exchange Board of India's (SEBI) regulatory sandbox.

"Every tokenization architecture being tested across the world eventually returns to the foundational question: What is the money leg made of?" Sitharaman said, adding that the bond and digital rupee moved at the exact same instant and the transaction closed on the day payment was made.

"The monetary settlement was possible due to the presence of CBDC. It also shows the synergy between the two regulators RBI and SEBI," she said.

Sitharaman said tokenisation could reduce unnecessary intermediaries and make asset transfers almost instantaneous, but cautioned that higher transaction speeds could also accelerate the spread of errors, fraud and market shocks. She also proposed a federated industry platform bringing together India's broader technology ecosystem to provide a collective international voice, facilitate interoperability, share data and cybersecurity best practices, and help companies navigate foreign regulatory and licensing environments.

On cybersecurity, Sitharaman warned that autonomous AI-powered cyber capabilities could be advancing faster than mechanisms to control them. "AI acts as a double-edged sword. It helps spot fraudsters and fraud faster, but it also allows attackers to automate larger, more sophisticated cyber attacks," she said.

RBI should hike rate by 25 bps in Oct: SBI Research

AGENCIES

New Delhi, September 11

The RBI should raise the benchmark interest rate by 25 basis points in October and again in December to counter persistent external shocks, elevated crude oil prices and emerging inflationary pressures, SBI Research said on Friday.

The RBI kept the repo rate unchanged at 5.25 per cent in August for the fourth consecutive policy meeting. "Just one month back, there were practically not much talks of rate hikes, and most (if not all) expected a 'prolonged pause'. But the situation has changed drastically since then," SBI Ecwrap said.

The report said its rate-hike call was independent of any forthcoming US Federal Reserve action, noting that crude prices have crossed $100 per barrel amid heightened geopolitical uncertainties. It estimated crude could reach $123 per barrel over the next 15 days. "We strongly advocate a 25-bps rate hike in the upcoming October policy (followed by another in December in quick succession)," the report said, adding that the call was agnostic to the August CPI inflation print, which could come around 4.8-4.9 per cent.

If oil prices remain elevated, CPI inflation in October and November could move towards 6.5 per cent or higher, SBI Research said. It also flagged early signs of broader retail inflation, particularly in sectors where input prices are rising faster than output prices, including crude petroleum and natural gas, beverages, pharmaceuticals and electronics.

"Waiting for the entire pass-through to materialise in CPI would risk responding after inflation has become more entrenched," it said, noting a sharp rise in restaurant inflation as onions, edible oil and LPG became costlier.

On liquidity, the report said FCNR (B) inflows had boosted banks' lendable resources, creating surplus liquidity. It said the $127 billion mobilised almost matched the banking system's fund gap. However, strong credit demand, supported by Q1 FY27 GDP growth, is expected to absorb the surplus.

RBI announces ₹1 lakh cr OMO sales, first auction on Sept 17

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, September 11

The RBI on Friday announced Open Market Operation (OMO) sales of government securities of Rs 1 lakh crore in three tranches, with the first auction to be held on September 17, according to the notification.

The first tranche of Rs 50,000 crore will be held on September 17, and Rs 25,000 crore each on September 21 and September 28, RBI said. "On a review of current and evolving liquidity conditions, the RBI has decided to conduct OMO sale auctions of G-secs for an aggregate amount of Rs 1,00,000 crore in three tranches," RBI said in a release.

During the first auction, the central bank will sell securities such as 7.59% GS 2029, 6.79% GS 2029, 7.61% GS 2030, 5.77% GS 2030, 6.68% GS 2031, and 8.28% GS 2032. The auction will take place between 9:30 AM and 10:30 AM on September 17, RBI said.

This comes as liquidity in the banking system is in a huge surplus due to FCNR (B) deposit inflows, and the RBI has been continuously conducting variable rate reverse repo (VRRR) auctions to absorb excess liquidity.

Currently, liquidity in the banking system is estimated to be in surplus of around Rs 10.43 lakh crore as on September 10, as per RBI data.

NSE IPO undergoes major changes from DRHP to RHP

The biggest change is the OFS cut to 12.64 crore shares from 14.9 crore in the DRHP

AGENCIES

New Delhi, September 11

The much-awaited initial public offering of the National Stock Exchange (NSE) has undergone several changes since the bourse filed its Draft Red Herring Prospectus (DRHP) in June, with the biggest being a reduction in the issue size.

NSE has cut the offer-for-sale (OFS) to 12.64 crore equity shares from 14.9 crore shares proposed in the DRHP, a reduction of roughly 15 per cent. As the IPO is entirely an OFS, the lower share count reduces the overall issue size.

At the new price band of Rs 1,700-1,785 per share, the IPO is estimated to raise Rs 21,494-22,569 crore, against the earlier estimate of around Rs 30,000 crore.

At the upper end, it will be India's second-largest public issue after Hyundai Motor India's Rs 27,870-crore IPO in 2024, and larger than LIC's Rs 21,000-crore IPO in 2022.

The price band is also

THERE'S AN OVERFLOW OF DATA, BUT DATA CAN'T MAKE FILMS: PRATIK GANDHI

The actor plays a cop in his next OTT project 'Ghamasaan'

ANINDITA ACHARYA

Pratik Gandhi isn't your regular Bollywood hero. Born in Surat to a family of teachers, he started his career with Gujarati plays and films. Among them, he was noticed most for 'Wrong Side Raju' (2016), which won the National Award for 'Best Gujarati Film'. But this breakthrough came in 2020 when he played stockbroker Harshad Mehta in the Hindi web series 'Scam 1992'. But this chemical engineer-turned-actor knew that the 'Scam 1992' image could stereotype him in Bollywood. So, he went all out to showcase his diversity as an actor with projects like 'Do Aur Do Pyaar', 'Madgaon Express', 'Phule', 'Gandhi', 'Saare Jahan Se Accha' and now 'Ghamasaan'. In 'Ghamasaan' on 'ZEE5', directed by Tigmanshu Dhulia, Pratik plays an upright cop, Aditya, who gets into a fierce cat-and-mouse chase with Maharaj (Arshad Warsi), a brutal dacoit. 'Millennium Post' chats with the actor about 'Ghamasaan', the changing role of OTT platforms and more.

On the conscious decision to diversify after 'Scam 1992' with projects like 'Do Aur Do Pyaar', 'Phule', 'Gandhi' and now 'Ghamasaan'

I always wanted to be in this position where people, especially writers, directors and producers, can see me in all possible genres and in different characters. That's been my constant effort since my theatre days. In Bollywood, I am lucky to have got different opportunities and 'Ghamasaan' is definitely another step in that direction.

On playing a cop in 'Ghamasaan' and choosing the right script

I guess my process is absolutely organic. I read the script and hear the narration. But it's extremely important to know who the director is and what his/her vision is ultimately. With 'Ghamasaan', it was easy, as I had already worked on The Great Indian Murder with Tigmanshu Dhulia. My character, Aditya, is an IPS officer in 'Ghamasaan'. Interestingly, the story is

What kind of OTT content keeps you hooked as a viewer?

I like all kinds of genres. I like content that challenges my intellect and attention at the same time. I love slow-burn dramas too. I loved watching 'Musaafir Cafe' and liked the old-world charm of the series. Recently, I watched 'Tehran' on 'Apple TV' and I think it's an extremely well-made series.

what to watch and what not to watch. Most of the time, you have the remote in your hand and you don't know what to watch. However, the big plus is that there are enough opportunities for everybody. The biggest challenge is also to command the attention of the audience without being fearful of losing them. Today, there is an unnecessary overflow of data. And data can't make films. But I am an eternal optimist. I think better times are ahead.

OTT's impact & democratisation of stardom

It has completely changed how we looked at stardom earlier. Today, anyone can become an overnight star, courtesy of good work on OTT. And why only OTT? Look at the entire internet wave. Social media is creating local stars. People are finding stars in their own communities now.

On 'Madgaon Express' sequel

Kunal Kemmu has been writing the second instalment and I hope it will be announced soon. My pairing with Divyendru and Avinash Tiwari in 'Madgaon Express' (2024) was highly appreciated and we hope the next instalment will have more madness.

'Hope Mirzapur: The Movie brings more people to theatres'

Ali Fazal said it's the love of people that's driving the box office success of 'Mirzapur: The Movie', the cinematic extension of his popular streaming show of the same name.

The actor, who plays Guddu Pandit in the 'Mirzapur' franchise, visited a theatre in his home city on Wednesday night to surprise audiences after a screening.

"I hope everyone likes the work and I hope the film runs successfully. It's very important for the entire industry. I want people to come back to theatres. I want that experience to start again. It's very important for cinema," Fazal told PTI after his meet and greet with fans.

He added, "It's the love of the people (for the film's success). I'm really enjoying it. We're going to a few places, one by one. This is my city. I came here for some work and I thought I'd give everyone a little surprise."

'Mirzapur: The Movie' made its debut in cinema halls across the country last week.

ALI FAZAL PLAYS THE ROLE OF GUDDU PANDIT IN THE HIT FRANCHISE

'It's an agneepath'

Tusshar admitted to living up to his father Jeetendra's legacy

Tusshar Kapoor has forged his own space in the film industry, though he admitted that being a star kid brought its own share of struggles. Opening up in a recent interaction, he revealed that stepping into the industry as Jeetendra's son meant living up to sky-high expectations, a journey that at times felt nothing short of a fiery test.

In an interview with 'The Free Press Journal', the actor said, "When you are from a film family, an accomplished star's son - son of an accomplished star... I mean, then there is an expectation, especially within the film industry or within the trade, where no matter how much you do, the glass is always considered half empty rather than half full. So, you always have to surpass yourself. So initially, of course, I had a tough time, you know, trying to ignore the noise that comes with being a star's son. It's not a red carpet for sure. Of course, there's a huge battalion of pull-downers who were waiting for you to fall."

KAPOOR HAS FORGED HIS OWN SPACE IN THE FILM INDUSTRY

However, Tusshar admitted that being born into a film family does smooth the path to a debut project, but what comes after rests solely on the individual.

Saif calls 'Cocktail' a '100 per cent inevitable mistake'

Saif Ali Khan, known for choosing diverse and unconventional roles throughout his career, opened up about two films he now looks back on with mixed feelings: Imtiaz Ali's 'Cocktail' and Sajid Khan's 'Humshakals'. The actor admitted that his decision to feature in the two projects was influenced by factors beyond his creative conviction.

Speaking to 'Gulf News', Saif reflected on playing Gautam in the 2012 romantic comedy 'Cocktail'. He revealed that his decision to take on the role was largely driven by his involvement as a producer in the film, which also starred Deepika Padukone and Diana Pentty.

Explaining why he agreed to play the lead despite not being particularly drawn to the character, Saif said, "I did the part because we were producing it; it was an inevitable mistake, 100 per cent that was a mistake and that was a slightly regressive script choice. Otherwise, it was a breezy, fun entertainer."

Saif clarified that he was more invested in ensuring that the film got made than in playing Gautam himself. He said, "I didn't do it for the role; I did it so the film could get made."
