New Delhi, October 12

Opposition grouping INDIA bloc stalwarts, led by the Congress, took out their "March for Democracy" to the Supreme Court on Monday, joined by thousands of party activists, workers and supporters. They filed a joint petition against Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of voter rolls and alleged poll irregularities.

The march, through a heavily barricaded route began from Barakhamba Road in Connaught Place, marked the stepped up campaign of the Congress and opposition parties after a series of street protests over the "vote chori" charge and removal of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar.

Earlier, addressing a press conference, Leader of the Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi said "all protests (against CEC Gyanesh Kumar) are part of just one protest."

Gandhi said: "There are no parallel protests, there is one protest... We do not care who you are, which formation you come from... If you are protecting the Constitution, as we are, we are with you, we will support you."

Neither approved nor rejected revised Form 6: SC

Says no adjudication on new Form 6 while hearing Bihar SIR matter

MPOST BUREAU
New Delhi, Oct 12

The Supreme Court on Monday clarified that it had neither approved nor rejected the Election Commission's revised Form 6, stating that the issue was not examined during hearings on the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls in Bihar.

A bench comprising Chief Justice of India Surya Kant and Justices Joymalya Bagchi and V Mohana made the observation while hearing a petition related to the SIR exercise. Form 6 is used by eligible individuals to apply for inclusion in electoral rolls.

The clarification came after counsel for the petitioner argued that the Election Commission had claimed the Supreme Court approved the revised form. The lawyer referred to the court's October 5 observation that it had not cleared any modifications to Form 6 used during SIR exercises in various states.

US economists win Nobel for improving models used to manage economic crises

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stockholm, October 12

American economists Robert E. Hall and Michael Woodford won the Nobel Memorial Prize in Economics on Monday for their work on models that have helped governments and central banks manage economic shocks, such as energy crises and inflation.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences announced the winners in Stockholm, saying the two were being honoured for work that has helped policymakers deal with economic fluctuations.

NOBEL PRIZE IN ECONOMIC SCIENCES 2026

Robert E. Hall and Michael Woodford were awarded the 2026 Nobel Prize in Economic Sciences for explaining how decisions made by individuals and businesses influence the wider economy, and how governments and central banks can use this understanding to keep the economy stable. In simple terms, their work helps explain how changes in interest rates, prices, wages and spending affect economic growth, jobs and inflation. Their research provides a stronger foundation for understanding how policymakers can respond to economic shocks, control inflation and reduce fluctuations in the economy.

"SPREAD ACROSS 8,000 SQUARE METRES, THE NEW CAMPUS HAS A CAPACITY FOR 2,000 STUDENTS AND INCLUDES 75 CLASSROOMS, 12 SMART CLASSROOMS...

Delhi Education Minister Ashish Sood on Monday inaugurated a Rs.33.27-crore government school campus in Dwarka's Sector 16B, while announcing infrastructure upgrades across technical and higher education institutions worth around Rs.700 crore.

The inauguration of the Government Girls and Co-ed Senior Secondary School comes amid the BJP government's criticism of the previous AAP administration's education model, which Sood described as a "PR gimmick". He said the Rekha Gupta-led government was expanding educational infrastructure in West Delhi and rural areas that had allegedly faced neglect.

Spread across 8,000 square metres, the new campus has a capacity for 2,000 students and includes 75 classrooms, 12 smart classrooms, an information and communication technology (ICT) laboratory with 40 computers, language lab facilities and specialised science laboratories. The school also has ramps and lifts for children with special needs, along with rainwater harvesting systems.

Criticising AAP's claims of an education revolution, Sood questioned the outcomes of visits by foreign dignitaries to government schools during the previous regime. He alleged that such visits generated publicity without documented evidence of institutional learning or the adoption of educational best practices.

The minister also highlighted plans to upgrade industrial training institutes (ITIs) in Narela, Hari Nagar and Shahdara into Centres of Excellence. He said the government would soon launch the Delhi Skill Mission to connect vocational training with job placements.

The Rs.700-crore infrastructure push includes a new polytechnic building, advanced manufacturing facilities, faculty offices and a girls' hostel at Netaji Subhas University of Technology (NSUT).

The proposed Rs400-crore Startup Policy aims to support 10,000 startups and generate four lakh jobs. Under Vidya Vahini Yojana, over 25,000 free bicycles have been distributed to female students, while digital learning infrastructure is being expanded across government schools.

Delhi SIR: '20L voter roll entries resolved'

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

Around 20 lakh of the 33 lakh entries flagged for logical discrepancies or lack of mapping in Delhi's electoral rolls have been resolved, the Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) said on Monday, as the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) exercise continues across the capital.

In a press note, the CEO's office reiterated its commitment to ensuring that no eligible voter is left out of the electoral roll and urged those yet to enrol to submit Form-6 along with the required documents.

Special camps will be held at polling station locations across Delhi on October 18 and 25 to facilitate the registration of eligible voters who are not yet enrolled. Similar camps were organised on October 11, where Booth Level Officers (BLOs) assisted electors with enrolment and other electoral services.

The CEO assured that all eligible applicants who submit Form-6 with the requisite documents will be included in Delhi's electoral rolls.

Eligible residents can submit Form-6 offline to Electoral Registration Officers (EROs), Assistant Electoral Registration Officers (AEROs), BLOs or at designated polling station locations until October 30. Online applications can be filed through the Election Commission's voters' services portal or the ECINET mobile application.

The election office said voters facing difficulties could approach any of Delhi's 14,947 BLOs, 902 AEROs, 70 EROs or 13 District Election Officers (DEOs) for assistance.

The SIR exercise aims to address discrepancies and ensure that eligible electors are correctly included in the rolls. The CEO's office has appealed to all eligible but unregistered voters to use the ongoing revision period to complete their enrolment.

Photos, videos and testimonials from October 11 camps are available on district election officers' social media accounts.

Delhi's water infrastructure is set to get a technology upgrade with the inauguration of an Intelligent Command and Control Centre (IC³) and the flagging off of a dedicated Emergency Response Vehicle by Water Minister Parvesh Sahib Singh on October 14.

The initiatives are being introduced by JWIL Infra Ltd, which is executing the Delhi Jal Board's Chandrawal Water Supply Project Packages 2, 3 and 4, covering around 10% of the city's population and geographical area.

The IC³ platform will integrate water supply operations, geographical information systems (GIS), smart meters, consumer complaints, maintenance and fleet tracking on a single dashboard. Using artificial intelligence and digital-twin simulations, the system aims to predict pipeline bursts, low-pressure zones and demand patterns, enabling faster responses to disruptions.

SEEKS CAQM'S VIEW ON POSSIBLE RELAXATION OF DIWALI CURBS

SC urges responsible celebration, leaves firecracker ban unchanged

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

The Supreme Court on Monday refrained from passing any directions on the existing firecracker ban in Delhi-NCR ahead of Diwali, asking the Commission for Air Quality Management (CAQM) to consider suggestions on the issue before the matter is taken up again on October 15.

A bench headed by Chief Justice of India Surya Kant said the court would need to exercise caution before modifying the restrictions, emphasising public awareness and responsible celebrations over coercive measures. The existing ban remains unchanged for now, with any possible relaxation to be considered after the CAQM submits its view.

During the hearing in the suo motu case concerning air pollution and solid waste management in Delhi-NCR, the CJI suggested that authorities educate people about the harmful effects of different firecrackers and encourage celebrations involving diyas. He also said information could be issued on limiting firecracker use to specified hours and restricting the sale of more polluting varieties.

The CJI observed that restrictive orders could be perceived as coercive and said there was sufficient time before the festival to appeal to people to celebrate responsibly without hurting religious sentiments.

Justice Joymalya Bagchi said the central concern was public health and sought clarity on the pollution impact of burning a specified quantity of firecrackers within a given period.

Senior advocate Aparajita Singh, appearing in the matter, opposed even a limited relaxation, arguing that the health of children, elderly people and those with illnesses must take precedence. She questioned whether restrictions limited to one or two hours could be effectively enforced and urged the court to leave the decision to the CAQM.

Senior advocate J Sai Deepak, representing a federation of firework traders, said the traders were willing to accept a compromise. Additional Solicitor General Bhati informed the court about earlier permissions allowing firecracker use in Delhi during specified hours. The court had imposed a complete ban on firecrackers in Delhi-NCR in December 2024. In October 2025, it permitted certified green crackers during designated hours and dates.

The next hearing on October 15 is expected to clarify whether any relaxation will be permitted this Diwali.

Delhi records highest Oct rainfall in 4 years

Heavy rain and thunderstorms lashed Delhi in the early hours of Monday, making it the wettest October day in four years, bringing down temperatures and improving the city's air quality to the 'satisfactory' category for the first time this month.

The Safdarjung observatory, Delhi's base weather station, recorded 41.6 mm of rainfall in the 24 hours ending at 8.30 am on Monday, according to the India Meteorological Department (IMD). The last time the city recorded higher rainfall in October was on October 9, 2022, when Safdarjung received around 74 mm.

The Ridge recorded 49 mm rainfall, the highest among Delhi's five weather stations. Waterlogging disrupted traffic, while showers are expected intermittently over the next three days, Skymet's Mahesh Palawat said.

80,000 AT BURARI, 3,000 AT JANTAR MANTAR: A TEST OF MOBILISATION

Bigger venues, farther from the corridors of power

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

> WHILE THE LARGER VENUES CAN ACCOMMODATE BIGGER GATHERINGS, THEIR CAPACITY ALONE DOES NOT GUARANTEE COMPARABLE PUBLIC VISIBILITY. ORGANISERS MAY NEED GREATER MOBILISATION TO CREATE A SIMILAR POLITICAL IMPACT

Demonstrations in the national capital may lose some of their political visibility following Delhi Police's decision to remove Jantar Mantar from the list of authorised protest venues and designate three alternative locations, including two on the city's outskirts.

Under an order issued by Police Commissioner Anurag Kumar, demonstrations will now be permitted at Ramlila Maidan, Burari ground and the CBD ground in Shahdara.

The move follows recommendations by a committee constituted by the Union Home Ministry and comes amid demands by opposition parties and organisations, including the Cockroach Janta Party (CJP), for permission to hold protests at Jantar Mantar against alleged irregularities in the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls.

The decision has triggered concerns over whether relocating demonstrations could affect their reach, particularly when protesters seek to draw the attention of Parliament and the central government.

Distance from power centre

Jantar Mantar's location in central Delhi has historically made it a prominent destination for political movements, allowing demonstrators to gather within close reach of Parliament and other key government institutions.

The alternative venues are considerably farther away. Ramlila Maidan is approximately 6 km from Parliament by road, while the CBD ground in Shahdara is around 14 km away. Burari ground lies roughly 23 km from the Parliament complex.

The change could alter how easily demonstrations attract the attention of policymakers, political leaders and national media. Protests in central Delhi have frequently drawn wider public attention, sometimes affecting traffic around major commercial and administrative areas.

Larger grounds, different dynamics

The newly designated locations offer substantially greater space than Jantar Mantar, which can accommodate approximately 3,000 people. Ramlila Maidan has an estimated capacity of 50,000, the CBD ground around 15,000 and Burari ground nearly 80,000.

While the larger venues can accommodate bigger gatherings, their capacity alone does not guarantee comparable public visibility. Organisers may need greater mobilisation to create a similar political impact, particularly at locations removed from the capital's administrative centre.

Jantar Mantar has hosted several prominent demonstrations, including Anna Hazare's anti-corruption movement in 2011 and protests by Tamil Nadu farmers in 2017. Its association with sustained public campaigns developed over decades.

Security versus the right to protest

Delhi Police's decision also comes against the backdrop of complaints about noise and unhygienic conditions around Jantar Mantar. The National Green Tribunal had examined concerns relating to the area in 2017.

However, critics argue that the location of a demonstration can influence its ability to communicate demands to those in power. For organisations seeking accountability from constitutional authorities, moving gatherings away from central Delhi could pose an additional challenge.

The larger question is whether the new arrangement can balance public order and residents' concerns with citizens' ability to stage visible, peaceful demonstrations in the national capital.

Looking back at Jantar Mantar's legacy of dissent

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 12

> IRONICALLY, JANTAR MANTAR -- ITS TOWERING INSTRUMENTS DESIGNED TO OBSERVE TIME AND MOVEMENT OF CELESTIAL BODIES -- BECAME A SPACE TO GAUGE OUR TIMES AND THE SHIFTING TIDES OF PUBLIC SYMPATHIES

For decades, Jantar Mantar has stood as a testament to democracy, where people gathered hoping that their voices would reach those in power. From Anna Hazare's hunger strike, to the Nirbhaya protests and the NEET paper leak agitation, the site has witnessed powerful expressions of public dissent.

Ironically, Jantar Mantar -- its towering instruments designed to observe time and the movement of celestial bodies -- became a space to gauge our times and the shifting tides of public sympathies.

Now, with Delhi Police de-notifying it as a designated protest site, the landmark risks losing its relevance as a space for people to make themselves heard.

Over the years, the stretch in the heart of the capital has brought together people from different walks of life, united by grievances ranging from corruption and injustice, to demand accountability, woman safety and social change.

For many, Jantar Mantar was a platform to draw the nation's attention to issues that might otherwise have gone unheard.

One of the significant early demonstrations at the site took place in 1993, when 33 organisations assembled for a 'Jail Bharo' protest against the government's economic policies and communalism.

The scale of mobilisation was highlighted in Parliament, where an MP said nearly 25,000 people had participated in the demonstration.

Nearly two decades later, Jantar Mantar became the centre of a nationwide anti-corruption movement led by activist Anna Hazare. On April 5, 2011, Hazare began a five-day hunger strike demanding a stronger Jan Lokpal Bill to tackle corruption.

The agitation gained momentum as the government agreed to constitute a joint drafting committee comprising ministers and civil society representatives to prepare the proposed legislation.

Hazare ended his fast on April 9, turning the protest into one of the most prominent mass movements of the period and establishing Jantar Mantar as a focal point for public campaigns demanding political accountability.

In December 2012, the site and its surroundings became an important location for demonstrations following the brutal gangrape of a woman in a moving bus in the capital.

Jantar Mantar witnessed protests over Nirbhaya's 2012 gangrape, Nido Tania's 2014 death, Tamil Nadu farmers' debts in 2017, wrestlers' sexual harassment allegations against Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh in 2023, and NEET-UG irregularities in 2024 and 2026.

Protester alleges assault and intrusion of privacy

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

A person who purportedly took part in the protest against Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar has alleged that Delhi Police personnel assaulted several protesters in custody, forcibly accessed a detainee's mobile phone and deleted videos and photographs, after picking them up from Connaught Place.

In a video which is circulating on social media, a protester is seen claiming that a group of people intervened after witnessing male police personnel dragging a couple near Connaught Place.

"We were subsequently detained and taken to an isolated location, where media personnel and other civilians were not allowed," the man said.

The protester claimed that the detainees were made to sit in rows and police personnel selectively demanded their mobile phones.

"In one instance, an inspector forced a detainee to share his phone password, after which personnel browsed his gallery and deleted photographs and videos, including those in the recently-deleted folder," the protester is heard saying.

He further alleged that the person was slapped several times for refusing to cooperate.

Further, describing alleged assault inside a police van, the protester claimed that detainees were taken individually into a compartment and slapped, kicked and thrashed, with some also being kicked in private parts.

The group was subsequently taken to a police station before being brought to another location, where their details were recorded, he said.

The protester also alleged that four minors were present in one compartment and appeared frightened.

Despite having their details, the protester claimed police personnel did not attend to them for nearly two hours.

A detainee with a fractured hand was also allegedly denied first aid despite repeated requests. The protester said police personnel initially refused to provide assistance but later offered it.

He claimed internet connectivity -- key to bringing the incident to public attention -- was also shut.

The allegations could not be independently verified. Despite multiple queries, Delhi Police has not responded to the charges.

'HOW CAN YOU ENTER HIS HOUSE?'

HC asks for Delhi Police stand on activist's plea over his 'detention'

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

The Delhi High Court on Monday issued notice on civil rights activist Mohammad Wasiq Nadeem Khan's petition alleging illegal confinement by police to prevent him from attending a peaceful protest at Jantar Mantar on September 29, and sought a status report from the city police.

A bench of Acting Chief Justice Nitin Wasudeo Sambre and Justice Sanjay Sharma questioned the police's conduct, asking, "How can you enter the house of this man? ... Where is your cause to confine him?"

It acknowledged the police's right to deny permission for protests.

Khan's counsel alleged that two police personnel visited his residence-cum-office on September 29 and restricted his movement from around 9.30 am to 5.30 pm at the Jamaat-e-Islami Hind headquarters in Abul Fazal Enclave.

He was allegedly neither formally arrested nor given written grounds for his confinement.

Khan alleged confinement, constant surveillance and repeated police calls about his whereabouts, while police denied detaining him, saying personnel visited only to make enquiries after learning he might attend the protest despite permission being denied.

COMMUTERS FACE HARDSHIPS

Heavy rain causes waterlogging in Ggm

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Gurugram, October 12

> GGM RECEIVED 40 MM OF RAINFALL, WHILE FBD RECORDED 12 MM

Heavy rain in the early hours of Monday caused widespread waterlogging in Gurugram and Faridabad, disrupting traffic and inconveniencing commuters. The downpour brought the average temperature down to around 28 degrees Celsius.

Gurugram received around 40 mm of rainfall, while Faridabad recorded 12 mm. The district administration in Faridabad drained accumulated rainwater from roads within hours, but several intersections and residential neighbourhoods in Gurugram remained waterlogged till the afternoon.

As Monday was the first working day of the week, commuters travelling to offices, colleges and schools faced considerable inconvenience. Waterlogged roads slowed vehicular movement, leading to traffic congestion at major junctions, including MG Road, IFFCO Chowk, Rajiv Chowk and Hero Honda Chowk. Several cars and auto-rickshaws stalled in the accumulated water and had to be pushed to the roadside. On Mehrauli Road, one side of the carriageway towards the bus stand was choked due to waterlogging, while heavy traffic caused congestion on the other side.

Roads in densely populated areas, including Khandsa Road, Shivaji Park, Jyoti Park, Sheetla Colony and Sheetla Mata Road, were also inundated. In several places, water rose high enough that two-wheelers parked on the streets were more than half-submerged, affecting residents in both old and new parts of the city.

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Chandigarh, October 12

Punjab's final electoral roll published on Monday recorded over 2.01 crore voters, a decline of more than 13.60 lakh or 6.33 per cent, from the 2.14 crore electors registered before the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) exercise.

However, the final count marked a 3.64 per cent increase over the 1,93,94,435 (1.93 crore) electors listed in the draft electoral roll published on August 13.

The final electoral roll comprises 1,03,76,026 (1.03 crore) male, 97,24,195 (97.24 lakh) female and 506 third gender electors.

CENTRE CAPS TRADE MARGIN OF ANTI-CANCER DRUGS AT 30%

Supreme Court slams govt over drug pricing, asks to cap all medicines

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

The Supreme Court on Monday said the Centre's response on capping the trade margin of anti-cancer drugs at 30 per cent of the maximum retail price (MRP) is "hardly anything to be happy about" and questioned why the government cannot cap trade margins of other medicines.

The Centre, which has earlier come under severe criticism from the top court for steep markup of cancer drugs by hospitals, said that the government has taken an important decision to cap the trade margin on anti-cancer drugs at 30 per cent of the MRP, which is expected to result in annual savings of approximately Rs 2,500 crore to patients.

A bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta said that the Centre's response was insufficient and flagged that a single saline drip was sold in market for Rs 270 while its actual cost was Rs 11.

"There is hardly anything to be happy about. There is actually nothing for the benefit of the patients," the bench observed as Solicitor General Tushar Mehta and Additional Solicitor General Aishwarya Bhati, appearing for the Centre, tried to explain the regime in place.

Mehta said that the government has taken an important step to cap the trade margin on anti-cancer drugs at 30 per cent of the MRP, which would result in savings of approximately Rs 2,500 crore to patients.

Justice Nath told the solicitor general that the court fails to understand that if the government can cap the price of anti-cancer drugs, then why can it not bring all the medicines under this regime.

"We understand that there are transportation costs, raw material cost, R&D cost and all other ancillary costs, but all these are included in the MRP. What is the logic behind allowing them to sell 400 times the actual cost? How can you allow this?" the bench observed.

Relief for CM Mann's aid as Top Court bars coercive action by CBI

CBI probing allegations of corruption against high-ranking officials

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

The Supreme Court on Monday directed that no coercive action be taken against people linked to the Punjab government by the CBI, which is probing allegations of corruption against high-ranking officials.

The order came on the Punjab govt's plea seeking a stay on a high court direction to the CBI to probe corruption allegations against people linked to the state government and submit a report within two months.

A bench of Justices MM Sundresh and PB Varale issued notice to the Centre, CBI, ED and others. "We are not staying the FIR. We are saying no coercive steps may be taken," the bench said.

Senior advocates Vikas Singh and Sidharth Luthra appeared for the Punjab government.

Last Monday, the state government moved the top court against the Punjab and Haryana High Court's direction on a petition filed by advocate Nikhil Saraf. The allegations include cash for transfers and cash for getting favourable policies.

Oppn leaders

The "Chalo Delhi" protest witnessed a major show of Opposition unity, with almost the entire top leadership of the INDIA bloc taking part – from Gandhi and Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge to Samajwadi Party's Akhilesh Yadav, Mallikarjun Kharge, TMC's Mamata Banerjee, RJD's Tejashwi Yadav, CPI(M)'s M A Baby and NCP-SCP leader Supriya Sule.

As police stopped the march at Bhagwan Dass Road, several leaders, including Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, Tejashwi Yadav and Akhilesh Yadav, climbed atop a vehicle and the procession moved forward after crossing the barricades, as supporters cheered and waved flags.

In a charged atmosphere, leaders and their supporters raised slogans against the government, CEC Kumar and asserted that "vote chori" and SIR exercise would not be allowed.

A large number of supporters had already reached the Barakhamba Road junction at Connaught Place, from where they marched a few kilometres towards the Supreme Court with Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra leading the protesters along with AISA chief Neha Bora.

Shiv Sena-UBT leader Sanjay Raut, CPI-ML leader Dipankar Bhattacharya and IUML leader E T Mohammed Basheer were among those present, besides Congress chief ministers from Karnataka, Himachal Pradesh and Telangana -- D K Shivakumar, Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu and A Revanth Reddy.

Congress MPs Shashi Tharoor, Sachin Pilot and Mukul Wasnik and TMC leader Sagarika Ghosh joined the protest, besides activists Yogendra Yadav and Nandita Narayan.

Earlier, Rahul Gandhi, at a press conference at the Indira Bhawan headquarters of the Congress, announced the decision to march along with other INDIA bloc leaders to the Supreme Court and file the petition against the poll panel chief and "vote chori", after the Chief Justice of India declined a request for meeting the LoPs.

He also asked the CEC to "turn approver" and resign as the Opposition's fight was against the bigger powers that were behind him. "Resign, turn approver; you (Kumar) have made a mistake, but you are not the mind behind the mistake," he said.

"We know Gyanesh Kumar is unable to sleep at night; I am telling him directly, 'you will not survive as CEC'", he said.

Gandhi said "all protests (against CEC Gyanesh Kumar) are part of just one protest." He said: "There are no parallel protests, there is one protest... We do not care who you are, which formation you come from... If you are protecting the Constitution, as we are, we are with you, we will support you.''

Noting that there was resistance earlier too but it had not spilled over the streets in the form of protests, the former Congress president said this fight is not going to stop and will continue even if it takes days or years.

Gandhi also claimed that 200 officers of the government were in "touch with them" and providing them with information.

The Congress said democracy no longer mattered to those in power and that it was all a matter of "demokursi" and was a definite sign of "panic".

The petition against the Election Commission challenges the validity of the SIR and alleges large-scale voter deletions and irregularities.

The Public Interest Litigation, filed by Rahul Gandhi and signed by 10 other Opposition leaders, has sought a declaration that the decision to conduct the SIR was invalid, alleging that the poll body's move amounted to a colourable exercise of power. The petition also raises concerns over alleged curbs on peaceful demonstrations.

Among the 10 directives sought by the petition are directive to produce all records related to the SIR, ECINET and ERONET, examination of the Constitutional validity of SIR decision, action against responsible officials for any violation of constitutional or statutory provisions, directive to align online Form-6 with prescribed rules, demand for an audit by an independent committee regarding the deletion of names from electoral rolls during the SIR, directive to make public names and reasons for deletion of voters, directive not to delete any voter's name without notice and hearing and demand for interim stay on ongoing SIR process.

CJP

The party has been demanding the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar over the Election Commission's Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls, alleging irregularities in the exercise.

By leaving the choice of date and time to the police, the organisation said it was willing to accommodate the authorities' scheduling requirements, while seeking clarity on when its members could exercise their right to protest.

Speaking to reporters after approaching the police, Das said demonstrators were generally asked to apply well in advance before organising a gathering. The party, he said, was now prepared to let the police decide the schedule but wanted a response within a day.

Ranka also urged the authorities to respond to the request, warning that the organisation could announce its next course of action if no date was communicated within the stipulated period.

The development follows the detention of CJP founder Abhijeet Dipke and party leaders Das and Ranka ahead of the proposed October 10 demonstration in the national capital. The three were released on Sunday after proceedings before an executive magistrate.

The detentions came amid heightened restrictions in parts of Delhi surrounding the planned protest, which had prompted concerns among demonstrators over their ability to assemble and raise objections to the electoral revision process.

The party has maintained that its agitation against the SIR will continue, with its latest move seeking a specific date from the police rather than an open-ended wait for permission.

CJP's demand also comes against the backdrop of the ongoing electoral roll revision in Delhi, during which questions have been raised over the treatment of voters whose entries require verification or whose details remain unmapped.

key government offices and the residences of senior constitutional authorities. The move marks a significant change for a venue that has served for decades as a gathering point for citizens seeking to bring their grievances directly to the attention of those in power.

According to the standing order, the Union Ministry of Home Affairs had constituted a committee to examine suitable alternatives that would allow citizens to organise protests and demonstrations. Acting on the committee's recommendations, the police denotified Jantar Mantar and designated three new locations. The order modifies an earlier standing order dated April 28, 2022. Detailed and revised standard operating procedures for conducting demonstrations at the new venues will be issued separately.

The three sites are located at varying distances from the existing protest venue. Ramlila Maidan in Central Delhi is about four kilometres from Jantar Mantar, CBD Ground in East Delhi is around 12 to 13 kilometres away, and Burari Ground in North Delhi is nearly 21 kilometres away.

The decision comes amid heightened security arrangements in the capital after calls for protests at Jantar Mantar by the Cockroach Janta Party (CJP) and opposition leaders.

The developments have also reached the courts. The Delhi High Court agreed on Monday to hear on Tuesday a petition concerning the closure of Jantar Mantar as a protest venue. A lawyer told a bench of Acting Chief Justice Nitin Wasudeo Sambre and Justice Sanjay Sharma that peaceful demonstrations were being curtailed because authorities had not provided an alternative site. The bench noted that the Supreme Court was also examining the issue and had asked the Union government to file affidavits.

Political reactions to the police order were sharply divided from the government's position. Congress general secretary in charge of communications Jairam Ramesh accused Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah of being afraid of public protests. Calling the decision a sign of "extreme panic", he said, "Democracy no longer matters for them. It is all a matter of Demokursi."

Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav described the withdrawal of Jantar Mantar's status as a designated protest venue as the "biggest defeat" of the BJP government.

CJP co-convener Saurav Das also rejected the decision, questioning whether citizens and organisations had been consulted. "We do not accept this arbitrary decision. It is an assault on people's fundamental right to protest and peaceful assembly," he said in a post on X.

For many citizens, the change affects a venue associated with some of India's most prominent public movements. Jantar Mantar became a designated protest site in 1993, after large-scale farmers' demonstrations near the Boat Club by India Gate in 1988 prompted restrictions on rallies there. Since then, the site has hosted campaigns on corruption, women's safety, agrarian distress, discrimination and alleged institutional failures.

In April 2011, activist Anna Hazare began a five-day hunger strike at Jantar Mantar demanding a stronger Jan Lokpal Bill to tackle corruption. Protests following the December 2012 gangrape of a young woman in Delhi brought thousands of people onto the streets, while demonstrations in 2014 followed the death of Arunachal Pradesh student Nido Tania, whose case triggered anger over alleged racial discrimination. Tamil Nadu farmers held a 41-day protest there in 2017, and prominent wrestlers staged a sit-in in 2023 against then Wrestling Federation of India chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh over allegations of sexual harassment.

The site also became a gathering point during protests over alleged irregularities in the NEET-UG medical entrance examination in 2024 and again in 2026.

The police have cited the operational challenges of managing large demonstrations in central Delhi, where barricades, traffic diversions, security cordons and restrictions around sensitive establishments can disrupt daily life. The district also contains New Delhi Railway Station and several Metro stations used by thousands of commuters. A series of recent confrontations, including clashes on July 20 linked to a CJP gathering, has added to security concerns.

Paramilitary

and public places. Security has been tightened at city borders, railway stations, bus terminals and other sensitive locations to prevent unauthorised gatherings and maintain law and order. Police have intensified vehicle checks and verification drives at hotels, guest houses and lodges. Thousands of Delhi Police personnel are also deployed, with New Delhi divided into 20 security zones.

Form 6

"There is no adjudication on the new Form 6. That is all we have said," Justice Bagchi said.

He explained that the revised form was not part of the issues before the court when it heard the Bihar SIR case. The bench clarified that the absence of the form from those proceedings could not be interpreted as either its approval or rejection.

The court said the petition would be heard alongside other pending cases concerning the SIR process on October 27.

The issue follows a September 26 press release by the Election Commission, which suggested that the Supreme Court had upheld the Form 6 declaration in its May 2026 judgment concerning the Bihar SIR.

A separate petition heard on October 5 questioned changes to Form 6 and cited provisions of the Chief Election Commissioner and Other Election Commissioners Act, 2023. It referred specifically to Section 18, which governs decision-making within the commission and provides that the majority view prevails when members disagree.

The petition also alleged that requirements seeking ancestral details and links to the previous SIR had been introduced through the commission's software without the statutory amendments required under electoral rules.

The court's latest observation leaves the validity of the revised Form 6 open for consideration in the pending proceedings.

CJI

He said the court would hear grievances in accordance with the law but declined to comment on the ongoing protests, calling law and order outside his domain.

The remarks came after Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge and Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi sought a meeting with the CJI on October 12 to submit a memorandum demanding Kumar's resignation, an end to alleged electoral irregularities, a halt to the Special Intensive Revision of electoral rolls and a return to paper ballots. Kant declined, citing judicial propriety and the risk of discussing pending cases outside court proceedings.

Opposition leaders and supporters subsequently marched towards the Supreme Court to submit a petition over alleged vote theft and police action against protesters.

Addressing lawyers who sought urgent hearings on alleged detentions and restrictions, Kant said peaceful demonstrations were permissible at designated locations but must not disrupt court proceedings or obstruct lawyers, staff and litigants.

The Supreme Court is scheduled to hear related petitions on Tuesday, including concerns over detentions, transport restrictions and access to justice.

Retail inflation

Statistics Office (NSO) showed. Onion prices recorded the steepest increase among major items, with inflation at 108.09 per cent. Silver jewellery followed at 87.8 per cent, while ginger, garlic and lemon recorded inflation rates of 62.85 per cent, 54.62 per cent and 36.41 per cent, respectively.

In contrast, prices of potatoes, tomatoes, motor cars and jeeps, lady's fingers and coconuts remained in deflationary territory.

The September reading was the highest since the revised CPI series, with 2024 as its base year, was introduced in January. Inflation in rural areas stood at 6.08 per cent, compared with 4.88 per cent in urban areas.

Among states, Tamil Nadu, Odisha, Madhya Pradesh, Telangana and Andhra Pradesh recorded the highest inflation rates, while Mizoram reported the lowest.

The latest figures come after the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) raised its benchmark repo rate by 25 basis points to 5.50 per cent last week, marking its first increase in nearly four years. The central bank also revised its retail inflation forecast for the current financial year to 5.2 per cent from 5 per cent earlier, citing broader price pressures.

For 2026-27, the RBI projects inflation at 4.9 per cent in the second quarter, 6 per cent in the third quarter and 5.7 per cent in the fourth quarter. The government has mandated the central bank to maintain inflation at 4 per cent, with a tolerance range of 2 per cent on either side.

The NSO said it collected prices from 1,407 urban markets, including online markets, and 1,465 villages across states and Union territories in September, reporting a 100 per cent response rate in both rural and urban areas.

Hospitals

rules, facilities in areas covered by the law must display service rates in both the local language and English. Other states and UTs follow their respective regulatory frameworks.

The ministry has also asked authorities to encourage the display of package prices for international patients visiting India on medical or Ayush visas. Clear pricing can help foreign patients make informed choices and reduce billing-related grievances. Srivastava requested chief secretaries to issue advisories and ensure compliance through the relevant authorities.

US economists

The Nobel committee said the laureates' work has created the theoretical foundation for models now used by central banks and governments around the world.

"With them, we are better equipped to deal with shocks in the economy, such as energy crises or sudden changes in how much households consume," John Hassler, chair of the Committee for the Prize in Economic Sciences, said in a news release.

For decades, governments responded to economic shocks by following the Depression-era prescriptions of the British economist John Maynard Keynes: intervene in the economy by lowering taxes and hiking government spending, thereby encouraging consumers and businesses to spend and invest and help restart growth.

"This is the Keynesian recipe and it worked well – until it didn't,'' said Timo Boppart of the Nobel Economics Prize committee. Policymakers had thought economic management involved simple trade-offs - unemployment, for instance, would stay low at a time of high inflation and rise when inflation fell. But the "stagflation'' of the 1970s - when the world economy experienced simultaneous high inflation and high unemployment - proved the formula was simplistic.

Some economists argued that government attempts to intervene in the economy were doomed to fail. But Hall and Woodford, in separate contributions, set about improving the Keynesian model to take into account how consumers and businesses actually make decisions about whether to invest and spend.

"Economic outcomes are the result of millions of decisions made at the microlevel by households and businesses,'' the Nobel committee wrote. "Using models based upon this approach, rather than simply studying the economy from a macro perspective, like a bird's eye view, Hall's and Woodford's research has generated a paradigm shift in the theory of stabilization policy.''

Hall studied the way that consumers' decisions about whether and how much to spend depend on what they expect their future income to be.

"If they are optimistic, they will consume more than if they are pessimistic,'' the committee wrote. But consumer expectations can change unexpectedly as new information about the economy comes in. And some households are so poor they can't borrow or tap savings in response to economic changes.

In a 1982 paper with the economist Fredric Mishkin, Hall found that around 80 per cent of households made spending decisions based on their expectations for the future "while the rest lived hand to mouth,'' the committee wrote.

Woodford's research established that businesses make decisions about prices based on where they think interest rates will go in the future.

"If the business believes that its competitors' prices and its own costs will increase, it is best to set a higher price than it would with the opposite expectation," the Nobel committee wrote. "Businesses' decisions are thus also governed by their expectations.''

Therefore, central banks such as the US Federal Reserve, which set short-term interest rates, should provide "clear and credible communication about how they reason and what they plan to do.''

Central banks have responded to this insight by working harder to explain what they are doing.

During the phone call broadcast at the news conference, Woodford said his work has stressed "the understanding of the people who are in the markets and making decisions about spending."

OPPOSITION MARCH TO SUPREME COURT

Congress' leadership, not EC responsible for its losses: BJP

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

Union minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan on Monday decried Rahul Gandhi's march to the Supreme Court as a "drama", alleging that the Congress has been blaming the Election Commission for its defeats while its own "visionless" leadership is responsible for the electoral setbacks.

Addressing a press conference at the BJP headquarters, he also slammed Gandhi for describing the Congress and anti-CEC movement as "Shiv Ki Baraat", saying it is rather a "group of hooligans" creating anarchy on the streets.

"The Congress has been attacking constitutional institutions for the last several years and blaming them for its defeats, while its own leadership is responsible for its electoral setbacks," Chouhan said.

"The Election Commission is not the reason for the Congress's defeat. The reason for the defeat of the Congress is its 'vichar shunya' (visionless) leadership, which does not know the country, does not know its people, does not know its values of life and does not know its traditions," he alleged.

Slamming Gandhi for his march to the Supreme Court for a meeting with the chief justice of India, Chouhan said, without elaborating, that everybody knows what has been his stance towards the judiciary and what were his views about a former CJI earlier.

"Nevertheless, even meeting the CJI involves a specific procedure. You cannot simply write a letter and show up whenever you feel like it. This is just a drama, pure theatrics, nothing but theatrics," the senior BJP leader said.

Chouhan also assailed Gandhi for calling the Congress and its anti-CEC stir as "Shiv Ki Baarat", quipping, "Those who oppose Ram are talking about Lord Shiv."

"It is not Lord Shiv's 'Baraat' but a mob of unruly elements attempting to spread anarchy on the streets," he said, adding, "When they have no regard for the country, its values, traditions or beliefs, they do not have the right to even utter the name of Lord Shiv."

Taking a dig at Gandhi's remarks, Chouhan asked what the country or the Congress can expect from him when he himself admits that he does not plan.

'Meeting incompatible with ethics, judicial propriety as matter sub judice'

CJI Surya Kant declines request for a meeting by Kharge and Gandhi

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

Convening a meeting on issues which are sub judice before the Supreme Court would contravene the principle of separation of powers and is "incompatible with established ethics and judicial propriety", Chief Justice of India Surya Kant wrote to leaders of Opposition Rahul Gandhi and Mallikarjun Kharge.

The CJI said this in a letter declining the request for a meeting by Kharge and Gandhi who sought to submit a memorandum on issues concerning the Chief Election Commissioner, Election Commission of India, the alleged arbitrary arrest of several students, closure of metro stations and cancellation of trains.

In his letter to Gandhi and Kharge, the CJI declined the meeting on Monday and told them that discussing pending cases would be improper and urged them to file a petition with the court either physically or online.

> AT THE VERY OUTSET, IT MAY BE NOTED THAT THE ISSUES REFERRED TO HEREINABOVE ARE ALREADY SUB JUDICE BEFORE THE SUPREME COURT OF INDIA

"At the very outset, it may be noted that the issues referred to hereinabove are already sub judice before the Supreme Court of India.

"Therefore, convening a meeting to discuss pending cases would wholly contravene the principle of Separation of Powers, an intrinsic facet of the basic structure doctrine of the Constitution of India, and would be incompatible with the established ethics and judicial propriety.

"In this vein, I also wish to remind you that within our constitutional framework, the Supreme Court of India is not endowed with any administrative powers to deal with the issues highlighted in your letter," he said.

"However, in the exercise of our jurisdiction under Article 32 of our Constitution, along with other plenary powers, including that of judicial review, we are dutybound to consider on judicial side the gravamen of issues affecting the citizens of India," the CJI said, responding to Gandhi and Kharge's letter, which was shared by the Congress on Monday.

The Supreme Court of India reiterates its commitment to preserve and protect the Fundamental Rights of every citizen of India and that they are entitled to seek enforcement of such rights at all hours through the procedure known in law, the CJI said.

"It would thus be more appropriate on your part to invoke the judicial powers of the Supreme Court of India, instead of submitting a memorandum on the administrative side," the CJI said.

Incidentally, some matters highlighting similar issues are scheduled for hearing on Tuesday, he said, adding that if so advised, the leaders may submit their petition on Monday.

Dipke warns entire nation to become Jantar Mantar

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Chhatrapati Sambhajinagar, October 12

CJP founder Abhijeet Dipke on Monday alleged he and his family were subjected to mental torture during his detention by Delhi Police, while asserting that Prime Minister Narendra Modi would "denotify democracy itself" after the decision to denotify Jantar Mantar as a designated protest site.

Addressing reporters at his native village in Hingoli, Dipke claimed his kin and lawyer were kept in the dark about his whereabouts following his detention from an aircraft at Delhi airport on October 10.

Dipke, who arrived at Santuk Pimpri village in Hingoli late Sunday night following the death of his grandmother, hit out at the Delhi Police over his detention and treatment. "They wanted to stress me out and give tension to my parents, who were already grieving my grandmother's death. This was mental torture that my family and I faced due to Delhi Police," he said.

Responding to Delhi Police's claim, backed by a released video, that news of his grandmother's passing was conveyed with due sensitivity and travel assistance was offered, Dipke accused the police of circulating an "edited video" to cover up their actions.

Reacting to the order by Delhi Police Commissioner Anurag Kumar to denotify Jantar Mantar as a designated site for protests, Dipke warned "ab poora desh Jantar Mantar banega" (the entire nation will turn into Jantar Mantar).

"If they told me about the death of my grandmother then why did they come with arrest papers to me at 3:30 am and asked me to sign? They asked me to talk to my parents, but I said they had health issues and asked to call my cousin who was with my grandmother. But they did not even allow me to retrieve his number from the phone," Dipke alleged, demanding the release of the complete, unedited footage.

AAP seeks Akal Takht action against Shah

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Amritsar, October 12

Calling it a grave violation of the sanctity of Sikh religious institutions, the MLAs urged the Akal Takht Jathedar to summon Shah and ensure accountability.

The delegation mentioned Operation Bluestar to say that the Sikh Sangat has not forgotten that "dark chapter" and will never forget the police breach on Saturday while chasing protesters. The lawmakers also questioned the silence of Shiromani Akali Dal Chief Sukhbir Singh Badal and Shiromani Gurudwara Prabandhak Committee president Harjinder Singh Dhami on the incident.

Govt should prorogue Monsoon session: Cong

'Hold dialogue on delimitation issue'

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

The Congress on Monday said the government should prorogue both houses of Parliament and hold an all-party dialogue on the delimitation issue, but stressed that for any meaningful discussion to proceed it was first important that Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar should resign.

Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh said the Monsoon session of Parliament has not yet been prorogued though both the houses were adjourned sine die on August 13.

He said the gap has broken all records long ago --the previous one being the 28 day delay for the Monsoon session in 2015.

"It is clear that the outgoing Union Home minister's desperate efforts to muster up a super-tainted two-thirds majority in the Lok Sabha to pass the Modi government's dangerous Bills on Delimitation have failed miserably.A number of NDA allies themselves have been opposed to the Bills and they have suddenly found new courage. Meanwhile GyaneshGate has overwhelmed the country," he said on a post on X.

"The evil designs of the PM and the HM were defeated resoundingly in the Lok Sabha on April 17, 2026 because of the unity and solidarity of the Opposition. That is intact even though the HM has split some Opposition parties," Ramesh alleged.

During the Budget session on April 17, the Modi government faced a setback as the Constitution amendment Bill, involving delimitation, for the implementation of the women's reservation in the Lok Sabha and state Assemblies was defeated in the Lower House.

Bypoll outcome sees decline in AIADMK vote share

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Chennai, October 12

The recent by-poll results in Madurantakam and Dharapuram have delivered a severe blow to the AIADMK, leading to a sharp decline in the Dravidian party's traditional vote base, deepening crisis over its leadership, ground strategy, and position in Tamil Nadu's evolving political landscape.

The sharp decline in the AIADMK's traditional vote base has come as a shock to the party.

Dharapuram, located in the western "Kongu" belt, saw the AIADMK's vote share plummet from 40.56 per cent in April Assembly election to a mere 25.08 percent in the by-poll.

A similar downward trend occurred in Madurantakam, with the AIADMK's vote share dropping by 9.34 percentage, relegating it to a distant third place after ruling TVK and the DMK.

With 2027 Assembly polls approaching, Yogi govt steps up welfare push

Govt plans to raise monthly honorarium of 60K watchmen

BISWAJEET BANERJEE
Lucknow, October 12

With the 2027 Uttar Pradesh Assembly elections approaching, the Yogi Adityanath government is stepping up its welfare push, with measures targeting farmers, pensioners, women and rural workers.

The government plans to raise the monthly honorarium of nearly 60,000 village watchmen from Rs 2,500 to Rs 3,500, while preparing to increase social security pensions from Rs 1,000 to Rs 1,500 a month. Small and marginal farmers are also set to get agricultural loans at a subsidised interest rate of 6 per cent, down from 11 per cent.

Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath is expected to announce the honorarium hike at a programme in Bareilly on October 13. The 40 per cent increase would give each village watchman an additional Rs 12,000 annually.

The workers, who relay information about suspicious activities and law and order issues to the police, have been demanding higher remuneration and recently staged protests in Lucknow.

The proposed pension increase could benefit more than 1.21 crore people, including over 67 lakh elderly citizens, 42 lakh destitute women and 12 lakh persons with disabilities.

The proposal is expected to go before the state Cabinet in November.

Farmers affected by floods, excessive rainfall and other natural disasters are another focus.

The govt is set to release agricultural input assistance to 9.18 lakh farmers through direct benefit transfer. The Relief Commissioner's office said Rs 169 crore had already been released to districts as an advance, while around 1.29 lakh farmers had received Rs 78.75 crore in crop-loss assistance.

Under the Mukhyamantri Krishak Samriddhi Yojana, eligible farmers will be able to borrow at 6 per cent interest through the Uttar Pradesh Cooperative Village Development Bank's 323 branches.

The govt has also ordered the release of Rs 38 crore to the bank towards the interest subsidy.

DESIGNED TO COUNTER UNDERWATER THREATS

Indian Navy inducts 3rd anti-submarine warfare shallow-water craft INS Mangrol

MPOST BUREAU
Mumbai, October 12

Mangrol, the Indian Navy's third anti-submarine warfare shallow water craft (ASW-SWC), was commissioned here on Monday, a step expected to strengthen the force's anti-submarine warfare capabilities, particularly in coastal waters where larger warships face operational limitations.

Built by Cochin Shipyard Limited (CSL) in Kochi, the ship can operate alongside maritime patrol aircraft, helicopters and other warships to detect and counter submarine threats.

Its induction will enhance the Navy's ability to protect ports, harbours and coastal approaches while supporting wider fleet operations.

Vice Admiral Sanjay Vatsayan, Flag Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Western Naval Command, who presided over the event, said the commissioning of INS Mangrol assumes particular significance against the backdrop of rising geopolitical tensions and an increasingly contested maritime environment.

The seas are no longer merely avenues for trade and connectivity but also arenas of strategic competition, technological change and emerging security challenges, he said.

For India, with its extensive coastline, islands and vital maritime trade routes, the ability to maintain a credible, responsive and combat-ready Navy is indispensable, Vatsayan added.

INS Mangrol is seen as it is commissioned into the Indian Navy at the Naval Dockyard, in Mumbai, on Monday

HIGHLIGHTS

- The ship can operate alongside maritime patrol aircraft, helicopters and other warships to detect and counter submarine threats
- Its induction will enhance the Navy's ability to protect ports, harbours and coastal approaches while supporting wider fleet operations

U Sharan Kumar, Commanding Officer of INS Mangrol, said the Indian Ocean region is geopolitically very, very important, adding that deployment of submarines by many foreign countries has increased tremendously over the years.

So underwater threats, the chance of underwater threats and the requirement to detect and neutralize them have become far more important than what it was before, Kumar added.

"So in this spectrum of events, INS Mangrol will play a crucial role in strengthening Navy's defence in particular and maritime interest of India on the whole," Kumar said.

He said the underwater domain is always a very, very challenging domain.

"Like over the surface, one cannot see what is underwater. Therefore, the first challenge is going to be in detecting something underwater. Second is classifying what is underwater. Third is prosecuting what is underwater," he said.

"This is a very niche domain. Not many countries in the world have the capability to undertake these kinds of operations. India is one of the very few countries able to do this operation. And INS Mangrol will be playing a very vital role in doing so," Kumar said.

He further said INS Mangrol can also operate in shallow waters, something which larger warships cannot.

Citing its versatility, he said the ship can be used for Low Intensity Maritime Operations (LIMO). "Therefore, we can say that the ship is going to be strengthening the Navy's strength in a multi-dimensional way," Kumar said.

The ship's induction also reflects India's growing indigenous shipbuilding capabilities.

Named after Mangrol, a coastal town and prominent fishing harbour in Gujarat's Junagadh district, the ship carries forward the legacy of the erstwhile INS Mangrol (M85), a minesweeper that served the Indian Navy until April 2004.

The naming of the ship continues the Navy's tradition of preserving the legacy of its former warships.

Built with over 80 per cent indigenous content, Mangrol reflects India's growing capabilities in warship design, construction and integration of advanced weapons and sensors, the Navy said.

Designed to detect and counter underwater threats in coastal and shallow waters, Mangrol is equipped with modern weapons and sensors, including the Abhay Hull-Mounted Sonar, lightweight torpedoes, an indigenous anti-submarine rocket launcher and the Maareech Advanced Torpedo Decoy System.

Powered by three diesel engines with waterjet propulsion, the ship offers high manoeuvrability for operations in shallow waters. It is also capable of undertaking underwater surveillance, low-intensity maritime operations and mine warfare-related tasks.

Vatsayan said the Indian Navy's fleet expansion reflects strategic imperative. It has commissioned 10 ships in 2026, with another eight likely to be commissioned by end of this year.

FIRECRACKERS ROW

SC: Need to balance religious sentiments with public health

MPOST BUREAU
New Delhi, October 12

The Supreme Court on Monday said there was a need to balance religious sentiments with public health concerns while considering restrictions on firecrackers in Delhi-NCR.

The top court said that people should voluntarily adopt less polluting ways of celebrating festivals rather than relying on restrictive judicial orders.

A bench comprising Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justices Joymalya Bagchi and V Mohana said it was not inclined to hurt religious sentiments but stressed the importance of making citizens aware of the harmful effects of firecrackers and encouraging safer practices.

PEOPLE SHOULD VOLUNTARILY ADOPT LESS POLLUTING WAYS OF CELEBRATING FESTIVALS, IT SAID

"We will not hurt religious sentiments but at the same time, people should themselves come forward and opt for it. The whole exercise should involve a balancing approach," the CJI said.

The CJI said that awareness among citizens and civil society would be the most effective way forward.

The bench was hearing suo motu proceedings concerning air pollution in the National Capital Region (NCR) covering issues such as firecrackers, stubble burning and solid waste management.

During the hearing, Justice Bagchi questioned the religious basis for bursting firecrackers.

"What is religious about bursting crackers?" he asked.

Senior advocate Aparajita Singh, who is assisting the bench as the amicus curiae, referred to health risks associated with air pollution, particularly for children, elderly people and those suffering from health vulnerabilities.

She also flagged persistent enforcement failures, saying that restrictions on the duration of firecracker use were unlikely to achieve their intended purpose without effective implementation.

Mann vows legal, constitutional efforts for Bandi Singhs' release

MPOST BUREAU
Chandigarh, October 12

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann on Monday reiterated that his government would pursue every legal and constitutional avenue for the release of Bandi Singhs, asserting that the long-pending issue must not remain unresolved indefinitely.

After meeting representatives of the Qaumi Insaaf Morcha, Sikh organisations and farmers' unions, Mann said his government had assured the Centre and the Punjab Governor that law and order would be maintained if Jagtar Singh Hawara was granted parole to meet his ailing mother. "However, the Centre had not approved the request."

"The Punjab government will take responsibility for maintaining law and order in the state," Mann said, adding that even a short parole for Hawara could help pave the way for the release of other Bandi Singhs.

He urged Sikh organisations to keep their campaign peaceful and within the bounds of the law.

On the parole requests of Paramjit Singh Bheora and Jagtar Singh Tara, Mann said the matter fell under the jurisdiction of the Chandigarh Administration. He would take up their cases with the Punjab Governor, who also serves as Chandigarh Administrator. Mann also asked Punjab Advocate General Maninderjit Singh Bedi to examine the cases from a legal perspective to explore an amicable solution.

Introspect before alleging 'vote chori': Saini to Cong

MPOST BUREAU
Chandigarh, October 12

Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini on Monday hit out at Congress and its INDIA bloc allies over their 'vote chori' protest, pointing out that the grand old party has been out of power in many states for decades and that it should introspect before questioning others.

Taking to X, the chief minister said Rahul Gandhi was responsible for Congress remaining out of power in many states, yet no one in the party has questioned him about the party's electoral losses.

"For decades, the Congress has been out of power in many states of India, yet no one within the Congress organisation can point a finger at Rahul...," Saini said in Hindi.

"In Tamil Nadu for 59 years, West Bengal for 49 years, Sikkim for 42 years, Uttar Pradesh for 37 years, Bihar for 36 years, Tripura for 33 years, Gujarat for 30 years, Odisha for 26 years, Nagaland for 23 years, and Maharashtra and Haryana for 12 years, the Congress has been away from power," Saini said.

THE CONG HAS BEEN OUT OF POWER IN MANY STATES FOR DECADES, HE SAID

Saini said that before questioning others, the Congress party should take the responsibility and introspect.

"In a democracy, the decision of the people is paramount, and blaming the system for every defeat cannot be a way to evade political accountability," he said.

"The Gandhi family and Congress leaders must certainly answer one question: if 'vote theft' is the reason behind every electoral defeat, then what is the reason for being out of power in these states for decades?" Saini said in the post.

MPOST BUREAU
Maligaon, October 12

Northeast Frontier Railway (NFR) unloaded 1,094 freight rakes across its jurisdiction in September, ensuring the steady supply of essential and industrial commodities across the region.

The consignments included foodgrains, food-grade items, fertilisers, sugar, coal, salt and other goods.

Assam recorded the highest unloading with 585 rakes, followed by West Bengal with 208 and Bihar with 145. Tripura accounted for 102 rakes, while Manipur received 28, Nagaland 15, Arunachal Pradesh six and Mizoram five.

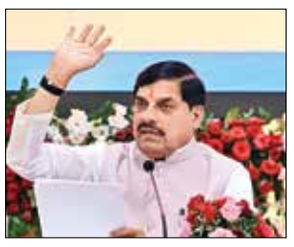

NFR said effective monitoring had helped reduce turnaround time and improve unloading efficiency, strengthening regional supply chains, trade connectivity and the availability of essential commodities.

Modi's 25 yrs in public life marked by major governance shifts: MP CM

SATYAPRAKASH SHARMA
Bhopal, October 12

The Madhya Pradesh Cabinet on Monday passed a special resolution expressing gratitude to Prime Minister Narendra Modi on completing 25 years in public life as Gujarat Chief Minister and Prime Minister, with Chief Minister Mohan Yadav highlighting his government's achievements in welfare, infrastructure, national security and technological advancement.

Addressing a press conference after the Cabinet meeting, CM Yadav highlighted the Centre's welfare initiatives. Yadav described the provision of free foodgrains to more than 80 crore people as a remarkable achievement. "It may sound like an exaggeration, but it is a reality," he said, adding that such large-scale free ration distribution was unprecedented in its reach.

Deputy CMs Jagdish Devda and Rajendra Shukla were present during the PC.

Yadav recalled that he was participating in a live TV debate when demonetisation was announced and, worried about fuel for his onward journey, asked his associate to refuel the vehicle before the old notes became invalid.

Yadav cited GST, the abrogation of Article 370, surgical strikes, the Balakot airstrike and Operation Sindoor among key decisions, while highlighting welfare schemes such as Jan Dhan, Mudra, Ayushman Bharat, PM Awas, Ujjwala and Jal Jeevan Mission, alongside the growth of UPI-based digital payments.

Yadav highlighted the Ken-Betwa and Parvati-Kalisindh-Chambal river-linking projects, Bhopal and Indore metros, wildlife conservation and renewable energy. He said the 2,000-MW Gandhi Sagar pumped-storage and hydropower project aims to commission its first turbine in December and all eight by March.

On social welfare, he said more than 65 lakh women in the state were associated with self-help groups. He also announced that recruitment for around one lakh additional government posts would be pursued after 85,000 posts were filled last year.

Yadav highlighted Madhya Pradesh's 2047 development goals, the proposed Uniform Civil Code, youth employment and women's political participation, describing Modi's 25-year public journey as a period of change in governance, infrastructure, technology and national security.

'N-E monsoon onset likely in next 2-3 days'

MPOST BUREAU
New Delhi, October 12

Conditions are favourable for the onset of the northeast monsoon rains over the southern peninsula in the next two-three days, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) said on Monday.

In its daily forecast, the IMD also said the southwest monsoon continues to withdraw from remaining parts of the country.

It further said that due to the northeast monsoon's arrival, a prolonged wet spell is likely over the southern peninsula during the subsequent five-six days.

"Isolated heavy rainfall is expected over Kerala and Mahe, coastal and south interior Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and Karaikal, and coastal Andhra Pradesh during 15-18 October," said the IMD.

"North interior Karnataka is likely to receive isolated heavy rainfall on October 17 and 18, while Rayalaseema may experience similar conditions on October 15 and 16," the weather department added.

There are two notable types of monsoon in India. First is the southwest monsoon, which occurs from June to September. It hits Kerala on the southwestern coast around June, and then proceeds across the country.

The southwest monsoon is the primary monsoon affecting India. It not only brings respite from the heat but also contributes to the country's ecosystem and economy, especially the growing of kharif crops.

The second type is the northeast monsoon, also known as the retreating monsoon, which occurs from October to December and affects peninsular India. It is not as intense as the southwest monsoon but is crucial for the growth of rabi crops.

NHRC has grown into trusted address for aggrieved: CJI

Office of Chief Justice of India put to 'Agni Pariksha' every minute: NHRC chief

MPOST BUREAU
New Delhi, October 12

Chief Justice of India Surya Kant on Monday said the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) had emerged as a "trusted address" for the aggrieved, asserting that the effectiveness of a human rights institution should be judged not merely by the number of cases it disposes of but by its ability to reach the most vulnerable.

Addressing the NHRC's 33rd Foundation Day function at Vigyan Bhawan, the CJI said the commission had registered over 24 lakh cases and disposed of more than 23 lakh, achieving a disposal rate exceeding 98 per cent.

KEY POINTS

- The CJI said the commission had registered over 24L cases and disposed of over 23L, achieving a disposal rate exceeding 98%
- He said human rights protection must go beyond identifying violations to ensuring accountability, meaningful relief for victims and systemic changes to prevent their recurrence

He said human rights protection must go beyond identifying violations to ensuring accountability, meaningful relief for victims and systemic changes to prevent their recurrence. Referring to cases involving custodial deaths, bonded labour and silicosis, he highlighted the commission's role in protecting marginalised communities.

"A right that works for the powerful, but fails the powerless is not a right in the true sense," Kant said, adding that the commission's moral authority depended on credible inquiries, timely interventions and honest reporting.

He also underlined the expanding scope of Article 21, saying the right to life had evolved to encompass dignity, healthcare, food, shelter, livelihood and a clean environment.

Highlighting access to safe drinking water as a human rights concern, the CJI said providing household tap connections was insufficient unless water remained safe, reliable and available when needed. Contaminated water, he warned, posed a threat to life and health.

He called for coordinated efforts by governments, courts and human rights institutions to address water insecurity, cautioning that depleted aquifers and polluted rivers would burden future generations. He also welcomed the launch of the NHRC India mobile application and digitisation of records.

NHRC chairperson Justice V Ramasubramanian (retd), meanwhile, described the CJI's office as the country's most powerful and vulnerable, saying it faced an "Agni Pariksha" every minute, "not necessarily by sacred souls" at all times. The remarks drew a lighter reaction from the gathering.

EDITORIAL

Spaces for Dissent

The decision to denotify Jantar Mantar as a designated protest site raises a constitutional question that extends beyond traffic management and administrative convenience. Where citizens are permitted to demonstrate can be as important as whether they are permitted to demonstrate at all. Public protest derives much of its democratic significance from visibility, accessibility and proximity to institutions of power. A gathering held within sight of Parliament or government offices communicates its demands differently from one confined to a distant ground. Delhi's history reflects this distinction. The Boat Club lawns once provided a prominent platform for political mobilisation before restrictions shifted demonstrations towards Jantar Mantar. Now, with Ramlila Maidan, Burari Ground and other locations identified as alternatives, the capital risks progressively distancing organised dissent from the institutions it seeks to address. The question is not whether every demonstration must occupy the city's busiest streets, but whether regulation can preserve meaningful access to public spaces.

International experience offers instructive comparisons. London's Speakers' Corner, Trafalgar Square and Parliament Square have long accommodated public debate and political demonstrations. Washington's National Mall and Lafayette Square, New York's Union Square and Paris's Place de la Bastille occupy prominent positions within their respective cities. Their histories demonstrate that public assembly need not be treated as an activity incompatible with urban life. Cairo's Tahrir Square and Kyiv's Maidan have acquired extraordinary political significance because citizens could gather at places central to national consciousness. These examples are not arguments for unrestricted occupation of public spaces. Security requirements, traffic movement, emergency services and the rights of residents remain legitimate considerations. Nor are all these locations equally accessible under their respective legal systems. Nevertheless, their histories establish that proximity to power is integral to the symbolic and practical force of peaceful protest.

The constitutional framework in India recognises freedom of speech and peaceful assembly under Article 19, subject to reasonable restrictions. The critical word is reasonable. Restrictions must respond to demonstrable concerns rather than broad assumptions that demonstrations inevitably threaten public order. Authorities possess sufficient regulatory instruments to prescribe timings, limit crowd sizes, designate routes and impose proportionate security arrangements. An outright exclusion from central locations should therefore require compelling justification. Moving demonstrations farther away may reduce immediate administrative inconvenience, but it can also diminish public attention and weaken the opportunity for citizens to engage directly with decision-makers. The convenience of government cannot become the primary measure of constitutional freedom.

Delhi requires a transparent and predictable framework that distinguishes peaceful assembly from genuine threats to security. Decisions concerning protest venues should be supported by publicly available reasons, objective criteria and meaningful judicial scrutiny. The authorities should also consult residents, civil society organisations and representatives of demonstrators before imposing sweeping restrictions. Democracy is not measured merely by the existence of spaces where dissent is tolerated. It is measured by whether citizens can express disagreement visibly, peacefully and without disproportionate obstacles. A capital must accommodate governance and protest alike. Its public spaces should remain accessible to both.

Beyond Drug Arrests

Haryana's crackdown on 71 drug cartels is encouraging, but arrests alone cannot eliminate narcotics trafficking. Authorities must dismantle financial networks, prevent misuse of prescription medicines and strengthen rehabilitation facilities. Sustained coordination between police, healthcare institutions and communities is essential to address both drug supply and growing addiction.

The Library Machines Never Read

As Artificial Intelligence reshapes knowledge, India's undocumented languages and traditions face unprecedented exclusion

DIGITAL AMNESIA

MANISH RANJAN

THE WRITER IS AN IAS OFFICER AND AUTHOR OF 8 BOOKS ON AI

The Census documented over 19,500 language and dialect entries in India

In Ulihatu village of Khunti, deep in tribal Jharkhand, during my years as a district collector in these parts, an old woman once sang for me. Into that one song her people had folded when to sow, when the mahua falls, which star forgives a late harvest. She sang from memory, as her grandmother had. Years later I learnt she had passed away, and I understood what the African sage Amadou Hampate Ba meant: when an elder dies, a library burns. In our tribal districts, that is no metaphor; it is the literal truth.

Artificial intelligence, whatever else it is, is a student. It learns humanity's knowledge from what humanity has written down and uploaded. And there lies the quiet scandal of our age: roughly half of all website content is in English, while Hindi, the mother tongue of some fifty crore people, accounts for a fraction of one per cent. Bengali, Santali, Kurukh, Mundari barely register. So when the most powerful learning machines in history sit down to absorb the human record, India is mostly absent from the classroom.

My first argument follows directly, and it should trouble every policymaker: whoever writes the training data writes the default mind of this century. These systems will tutor our grandchildren, draft our judgments, answer our patients and summarise our history. If they have read Shakespeare but not Tulsidas, Aristotle but not the Nyaya tradition, the Mississippi's floods but not the Damodar's, their instinctive frame of reference, their examples, their silences, will belong to someone else.

The second argument is economic, not sentimental. Language models perform measurably worse in tongues they have barely seen. The loan explainer, the health chatbot, the exam tutor all degrade as they travel towards the margins. In the machine age, being absent from the data is the new form of being absent from the map. The children of Khunti will pay for that absence in the currency of worse answers.

> IN THE MACHINE AGE, BEING ABSENT FROM THE DATA IS THE NEW FORM OF BEING ABSENT FROM THE MAP

The third argument is strategic. India possesses what may be the largest untapped knowledge reserve on earth: an estimated one crore manuscripts, of which the National Mission for Manuscripts has documented over forty-three lakh, the world's largest such collection, alongside living oral traditions, classical sciences, and medical, agricultural and ecological knowledge refined over millennia. In an economy where data is capital, this is a sovereign asset lying unlisted. Our accent, meanwhile, waits in palm leaf and memory.

And the fourth argument is the cruellest: the window is closing on two fronts at once. Linguists estimate that somewhere in the world a language falls silent roughly every fortnight, and India, with 197 tongues listed by UNESCO as endangered, is among the most exposed. Meanwhile, the elders who carry the unwritten portion die uninterviewed. As district collector of Hazaribag, I worked to promote Sohrai and Khovar, the harvest art the women paint on mud walls, so singular that it now carries a GI tag. Yet every monsoon dissolved the walls, and every year fewer daughters repainted them.

India has, to its credit, begun the counter-move. Bhashini and the AI4Bharat models now cover all 22 scheduled languages. What is missing is the deliberate act of feeding: a national mission that treats our knowledge as training data, not merely as heritage.

So let me propose it plainly: a Digital Smriti Mission for this decade. Three tasks. Record the elders, district by district, the way we once enumerated citizens, with every panchayat given a simple protocol to archive its songs, remedies, farming calendars and histories in the speaker's own voice. Digitise and openly license the manuscript wealth, so that every serious AI system on earth can lawfully learn from India rather than merely about India. And measure the machines: publish an annual public scorecard of how well the world's leading models answer in Indian languages, because what gets measured gets fixed.

The deepest reason is not competitive at all. Civilisations are not extinguished when their monuments fall; they are extinguished when their memory stops being consulted. Each generation taught the songs to the next. The next generation, for the first time, will ask its questions to machines. If the machines have never heard our songs, the chain does not break loudly. It just goes quiet, one unasked question at a time.

I think often of that evening in Ulihatu, the birthplace of the great tribal leader Dharti Aaba Birsa Munda: an almanac in an old woman's voice, and no copy of it anywhere on earth. The machines are already in the classroom of human knowledge, taking notes for the next thousand years. India must walk in, open its book, and make sure the student reads it. The library the machines never read is still open. But not, I fear, for long.

A Healing Legacy Beyond Borders

The legacy of Indian doctors in China continues to inspire medical cooperation today

SHARED HERITAGE

DIPANKAR DEY

THE WRITER IS A PROFESSOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Indian doctors forged a lasting bond between two nations through wartime service

The long history of interaction between India and China represents a profound civilisational bond dating back nearly two millennia. In 399 CE, Chinese Buddhist monk Faxian travelled to India in search of Buddhist scriptures. In the 20th century, this relationship evolved from spiritual exchange to anti-colonial and wartime solidarity. In 1938, during the Sino-Japanese War, Chinese Communist General Zhu De sought medical assistance from Indian nationalist leaders. Organised by Subhas Chandra Bose, then President of the Indian National Congress, and supported by Jawaharlal Nehru, India sent a five-member volunteer medical team to China, along with an ambulance and medical supplies.

The Indian Medical Mission (IMM) comprised Dr Madan Mohan Lal Atal, the team leader, Dr M Cholkar, Dr Bejoy Kumar Basu, Dr Debesh Mukherjee and Dr Dwarkanath Kotnis. Arriving at the port of Hankou in Wuhan, the team subsequently travelled to Yan'an, the revolutionary base, in 1939, where it was warmly welcomed by Mao Zedong, Zhu De and other Communist Party leaders. It was the first medical team to arrive from another Asian country. While three doctors eventually returned to India, Kotnis and Basu remained in China despite the risks. In 1939, they joined the Eighth Route Army in the Jin-Cha-Ji border region near the Wutai Mountain area, providing medical services through mobile clinics. During a prolonged battle against Japanese troops in 1940, Kotnis reportedly performed operations for 72 hours without sleep, treating more than 800 wounded soldiers. He was later appointed director of the Dr Bethune International Peace Hospital, named after the renowned Canadian surgeon Norman Bethune.

During his stay in northern China, Dr Kotnis met Chinese nurse Quo Qinglan, who worked at the Bethune Hospital. They married in December 1941. However, the hardships of military life eventually took their toll on him. Epilepsy claimed his life on December 9, 1942, just three months after the birth of their son, Yinhua. Mourning his death, Mao Zedong observed: "The army has lost a helping hand, the nation has lost a friend. Let us always bear in mind his internationalist spirit." Kotnis was buried in the Heroes Courtyard in Nanquan village and remains honoured in China, with a memorial dedicated to him in Shijiazhuang, Hebei province. Meanwhile, Dr Bejoy Kumar Basu, who stayed in China for nearly five years between 1938 and 1943, developed an interest in traditional Chinese medicine, particularly acupuncture, and subsequently played a pioneering role in introducing the practice to India.

In 1958, Dr Basu returned to China for six months of further acupuncture training and travelled there again in 1973 to study newly developed acupuncture anaesthesia. He established the Dr Kotnis Memorial Committee (DKMC) and the Acupuncture Association of India to promote the ideals of the medical mission and advance acupuncture in India. He even donated his house and savings to the West Bengal government for the development of acupuncture. In 1978, Basu took four Indian students, Dr A Ganguly, Dr D Bakshi, Dr M Gantait and Dr Chandana Mitra, to Nanjing University for advanced training and research. After completing their training, Bakshi founded the Indian Research Institute for Integrated Medicine (IRIIM) in 1981, while Gantait established the B K Basu Memorial Research and Training Institute of Acupuncture in Kolkata. These became two of India's oldest and most prominent acupuncture centres, recognised by the West Bengal government. Dr Chandana Mitra also became actively involved with IRIIM.

> RENEWED ACUPUNCTURE EXCHANGES DREW UPON A HISTORIC RELATIONSHIP SHAPED BY SACRIFICE AND SOLIDARITY

Acupuncture is an ancient healing practice rooted in traditional Chinese medicine, involving the insertion of thin needles at specific points on the body to treat various health conditions. Practised for over two millennia, it draws upon philosophical traditions associated with Daoism, particularly the concept of maintaining harmony within the body. Its principles developed over centuries before becoming an established component of Chinese medicine.

Acupuncture has been used in clinical practice to manage symptoms such as nausea, insomnia, fatigue and anxiety. It was also incorporated into treatment programmes during the severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) outbreak in 2003 and the COVID-19 pandemic in China. On March 5, 2020, the China Association of Acupuncture-Moxibustion (CAAM) issued guidance on acupuncture and moxibustion interventions for COVID-19.

The Dr D N Kotnis Health and Education Centre, another acupuncture training institute in India, signed a memorandum of cooperation with China's Guizhou University of Traditional Chinese Medicine in 2019 to strengthen cooperation in acupuncture education and research, alongside other academic and cultural exchanges.

Recently, the Chinese Consul-General has taken the initiative to strengthen these historical ties between India and China. In September, a five-member team, invited by the office of the Chinese Consul-General in Kolkata, visited major institutions, including Nanjing University of Chinese Medicine, Nanjing Hospital of Chinese Medicine affiliated with Nanjing University, Hebei University of Chinese Medicine, Shaanxi Academy of Traditional Chinese Medicine and Xi'an TCM Hospital of Encephalopathy. Two senior members of the delegation were Dr D Bakshi and Dr Chandana Mitra, direct students of Dr Basu who had undergone training in China in 1978.

It is heartening that the office of the Chinese Consul-General in Kolkata is prepared to support exchanges, training and research opportunities for acupuncture professionals in India. There is also scope for jointly organising seminars and exhibitions to commemorate the contributions of the Indian Medical Mission in China and promote acupuncture in India. Such initiatives can help preserve the legacy of Dr Kotnis and Dr Basu while opening new avenues for cooperation. People-to-people contacts remain essential to fostering cordial relations between these two ancient civilisations.

AFTER MAJOR ATTACKS ON AIRPORTS

Saudi Arabia faces new missile and drone fire

AGENCIES
Riyadh, October 12

Saudi Arabia said it was facing a new barrage of incoming fire on Monday and that Riyadh airport would remain shut for now, days after Saturday's deadly missile strike on a departure terminal that was claimed by Yemen's Iran-allied Houthis.

Incoming drones and missiles were reported by the Saudi-led coalition backing government forces in Yemen, though there was no immediate news of whether they were intercepted.

The Houthis have been attacking Saudi airports and oil facilities since last week as part of a rapidly escalating conflict that has spilled over from the wider regional conflagration between the United States and Iran.

Those attacks have shut down parts of Saudi airspace, suspending operations at Riyadh airport, and largely emptying the skies over the capital even as the city hosts a major energy conference.

INCOMING DRONES AND MISSILES WERE REPORTED BY THE SAUDI-LED COALITION BACKING GOVT FORCES IN YEMEN

Saudi Arabia now faces a nightmare predicament, having re-entered Yemen's civil war to push the Houthis from the vital Bab el-Mandeb Strait oil route and stop the group making further gains after its sudden advances in September.

Zelenskyy: Russia hits energy targets despite Trump ceasefire

Trump on Sunday announced energy ceasefire

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kyiv, October 12

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said Monday that Russia has continued to strike Ukraine's energy facilities even after US President Donald Trump said a day earlier that the warring countries had agreed on an energy ceasefire in the 4 1/2-year-old war.

Speaking at the Warsaw Security Forum in Poland, Zelenskyy said Ukraine had learned through media reports that Trump had secured an energy ceasefire deal with Russia which would involve a mutual pause in strikes on energy sites.

Zelenskyy said he would be willing to honour such an agreement, if Moscow did the same.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy

"We support it, but I have not heard approval of this proposal from the Russian side," Zelenskyy said.

Trump's brief social media post on Sunday claiming the purported agreement offered few details but said that the energy ceasefire took effect immediately, adding: "Do not break it!"

Yet Zelenskyy said Ukraine had been "horribly surprised" that following Trump's "sudden but very important post," Russia had struck numerous energy facilities including a power plant in the northeastern city of Kharkiv, as well as a gas production facility and a civilian gas station.

"It was clear that (Russian President Vladimir) Putin does not read Truth Social," Zelenskyy said, referring to Trump's social media platform.

North Korea fires multiple ballistic missiles

North Korea on Monday fired multiple ballistic missiles toward its eastern waters, South Korea's military said, adding to a recent streak of weapons demonstrations that has heightened tensions during a prolonged freeze in diplomacy.

Jang Do-young, spokesperson of South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff, said missiles of various types were fired from an area around the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, where the country's main airport has been a major launch site in recent years.

Pak accuses suspended provincial govt of colluding with militants

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Islamabad, October 12

Pakistan's federal government on Monday accused the provincial administration led by imprisoned former Prime Minister Imran Khan's party of working "hand in glove" with the Pakistani Taliban, citing the alleged collusion to justify its suspension a day earlier.

Information Minister Attaullah Tarar said the government had "solid evidence" to support its allegations. He said the suspension and imposition of a state of emergency in northwestern Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province will allow security forces and the new administration to better coordinate efforts to combat terrorism.

'Musk donates $276 mn to Republicans for mid-term polls in US'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Washington October 12

Elon Musk has emerged as the largest donor to Republican groups by funnelling a staggering USD 276 million to shore up the party in the November 3 mid-term elections, according to a media report on Monday.

These donations have been made by Musk since July and helped power Republican campaigns across battleground states where it is facing a tough challenge from the Democratic party, The New York Times reported.

In the 2025-26 election cycle, Musk has given USD 366 million to the Republicans, significantly higher than the USD 290 million he had contributed to President Donald Trump's election campaign in 2024.

According to the NYT, Musk donated USD 158 million to the Republicans' Senate Leadership Fund, which was the single largest political donation in American history, and more than what the Democrats raised from all of their donors in summer.

In addition, Musk donated USD 76 million to America PAC, which is actively canvassing for Republican Senate candidates in over three dozen seats.

The SpaceX chief donated USD 20 million to the Congressional Leadership Fund, the main super PAC for House Republicans, USD 10 million to Lone Star Liberty PAC, a group supporting Ken Paxton, the Republican nominee for Senate in Texas, USD 10 million to the Republican Governors Association, and USD two million to the Republican Attorneys General Association.

SOUTH ASIA'S LNG DEMAND IS LIKELY TO FALL BY 6 MT IN 2026

India shields city gas users as Hormuz crisis risks South Asia's LNG demand

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

THE REGION'S LNG DEMAND HAD EARLIER BEEN PROJECTED TO GROW BY 2.7 MILLION TONNES, OR 7 PER CENT, THIS YEAR

KEY POINTS

- Govt subsidies helped sustain fertiliser production, with daily urea output rising by 12,000-15,000 tonnes
- Monthly production reached record highs of 25.19 lakh tonnes in May and 25.37 lakh tonnes in June
- LNG tender award prices which ranged from $16.8 to $18.8 per mmBtu between March & June, rose to $26.4 per mmBtu in September

India has protected city gas supplies by curbing deliveries to fertiliser plants, refineries and industrial users as the Middle East conflict disrupts liquefied natural gas shipments, while South Asia's overall LNG demand is now expected to fall by about 6 million tonnes (MT) in 2026, consultancy Wood Mackenzie said.

The region's LNG demand had earlier been projected to grow by 2.7 MT, or 7 per cent, this year. The closure of the Strait of Hormuz and disruption to Qatari and United Arab Emirates supplies have reversed that outlook, forcing governments to ration gas, seek expensive replacement cargoes and absorb mounting fiscal costs, Wood Mackenzie said.

"India fared relatively better by deploying a tiered demand-management strategy that kept city gas distribution unaffected while cutting supply to the fertiliser, refinery, and industrial sectors in March and April," it said in a report.

Government subsidies helped sustain fertiliser production, with daily urea output rising by 12,000-15,000 tonnes. Monthly production reached record highs of 25.19 lakh tonnes in May and 25.37 lakh tonnes in June, according to the consultancy.

However, India has not escaped the price shock. LNG tender award prices ranged from $16.8 to $18.8 per million British thermal units (mmBtu) between March and June, before rising to $26.4 per mmBtu in September.

Demand for LNG tenders remained robust throughout the period, Wood Mackenzie said.

The disruption has hit Pakistan and Bangladesh harder because of their dependence on Gulf supplies. In 2025, Qatar accounted for 99 per cent of Pakistan's LNG imports and over 70 per cent of Bangladesh's, leaving both countries highly exposed to interruptions through the Strait of Hormuz.

Nearly 90 per cent of Qatari and UAE LNG shipments transiting the strait in 2025 were destined for Asia, making the region particularly vulnerable to the supply shock. The resulting surge in spot prices relative to contracted LNG prices contributed to a reduction in gas demand of more than 3 MT in Bangladesh and about 1.5 MT each in India and Pakistan, according to the consultancy.

"The Middle East conflict has exposed the structural vulnerabilities of South Asian LNG markets in stark terms," said Johnson Quadros, head of gas and LNG research at Wood Mackenzie. "Countries that had diversified their supply sources and established multiple pricing mechanisms came through this crisis in far better shape than those that had not."

Pakistan has been among the hardest-hit markets, with the Hormuz disruption reducing LNG supplies bound for the country by as much as 0.4 MT per month between March and November 2026. It responded by curtailing demand, switching fuels and releasing previously withheld domestic gas, resulting in over 2.5 MT of gas demand destruction, Wood Mackenzie said.

Pakistan returned to the spot LNG market in April after a two-year absence, but high prices limited its ability to secure replacement cargoes. It also remains liable for daily floating storage and regasification unit (FSRU) take-or-pay charges regardless of whether LNG cargoes arrive, adding to the financial burden.

Wood Mackenzie has cut its forecast for Pakistan's LNG demand to 3.7 MT in 2027, from 6.6 MT in 2025. Committed LNG volumes are expected to exceed demand through 2030, while uncontracted volumes are projected to account for more than 90 per cent by the early 2030s.

Bangladesh, meanwhile, has struggled to replace disrupted supplies because of limited scope to increase domestic gas production and a lack of diversified import options. Gas shortages triggered prolonged power outages and greater reliance on coal.

State-owned Petrobangla bought spot LNG cargoes from Gunvor and Vitol for March delivery at $23-28 per mmBtu. Between March and June, Bangladesh consistently paid an average of more than $18 per mmBtu for spot LNG, putting additional pressure on government subsidies.

Governments across South Asia have responded with gas rationing, power cuts, tariff increases and additional budget allocations. However, such measures defer costs rather than resolve the underlying vulnerabilities, as rising energy bills and disrupted industrial supplies put further pressure on consumers, businesses and public finances.

Adani Group starts construction of 10,432 Dharavi homes in Mumbai

OUR CORRESPONDENT
Mumbai, October 12

Adani Enterprises Ltd Director Pranav Adani with the Government of Maharashtra Urban Development Department Additional Chief Secretary, Aseem Kumar Gupta, Dharavi Redevelopment Project/Slum Rehabilitation Authority CEO, Mahendra Kalyankar during the Bhoomi Poojan to start rehabilitation construction for Dharavi, in Mumbai on Monday ANI

Adani Enterprises Director Pranav Adani on Monday performed the bhoomi poojan for a 22-acre rehabilitation housing project in Matunga, marking the start of construction of 10,432 homes for eligible residents of Dharavi, one of Asia's largest informal settlements.

The project, being implemented by Adani Navbharat Developers Pvt Ltd (ANDPL), a special purpose vehicle set up for the Dharavi Redevelopment Project, will comprise 10 towers housing 10,432 rehabilitation apartments and 1,379 commercial and industrial units, according to a company statement.

"Every family deserves a home where they feel secure and can plan for the future. We know what this means to Dharavi's families. At Matunga, we are building 10 towers with 10,432 homes and 1,379 commercial and industrial units, creating neighbourhoods where families can live better and build a brighter future for their children," Pranav Adani said.

Under the in-situ rehabilitation scheme, eligible residents will receive homes measuring 350 square feet. Residents from Sectors 6 and 1 will be among the first to receive homes at Matunga, followed by nearly 4,500 apartments for other eligible Dharavi residents on a priority basis.

The towers will be handed over in three phases to the Dharavi Redevelopment Project/Slum Rehabilitation Authority (DRP/SRA) under the Maharashtra government.

The first five towers are scheduled for handover by March 2029, the next two by August 2029 and the remaining three by August 2030. Aseem Kumar Gupta, Additional Chief Secretary in the Maharashtra government's Urban Development Department, attended the ceremony as guest of honour. Mahendra Kalyankar, Chief Executive Officer of DRP/SRA, was also present.

"This is an important step for Dharavi's families. Our focus is on providing safe, modern homes with the infrastructure and amenities needed for a better quality of life," Kalyankar said. Each tower will have 37 to 39 storeys, 10 to 12 passenger elevators and two dedicated fire elevators. Two additional elevators will serve the commercial and industrial units. Planned amenities include a kindergarten, community hall, podium gardens, seating areas, society offices and places of worship.

Ten per cent of the commercial space in each rehabilitation building will be reserved to generate revenue for maintaining common infrastructure. ANDPL will maintain the buildings and shared infrastructure for 10 years after handover.

The project draws on design, engineering and urban-planning expertise from US-based Sasaki, UK-based Buro Happold, Mumbai-based StudioPOD, architect Hafeez Contractor, P&T and ARC Studio, along with urban-planning experts from Singapore.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 12

The government has allowed 5,841 tonnes of sugar to be exported to the European Union (EU) under a quota-based duty concession scheme - tariff rate quota - for 2026-27.

"The quantity of 5,841 MT of sugar to be exported to the EU from India under TRQ (tariff rate quota) for the year 2026-27 (October 2026 to September 2027) has been notified," the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) has said in a public notice dated October 9.

The DGFT also said that the minimum import price (MIP) on Glufosinate and its salts, used in weedicides, has been extended till April 12, 2027, according to a notification.

"The MIP condition on the import of Glufosinate and its salts stands extended till 12.04.2027," the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) said in a separate notification.

In another notification, the Directorate General of Foreign Trade said the export policy of "Prepared Culture Media" has been amended to enable issuance of Shipment Clearance Certificate and Health Certificate, wherever required or mandated by the importing country.

Prepared culture media are nutrient-rich solid, semi-solid, or liquid formulations used to grow, isolate, and identify microorganisms in clinical, industrial, and research laboratories.

European car makers would prefer to manufacture in India, country to become global hub, says Goyal

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 12

Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal on Monday said all European carmakers would prefer to manufacture in India, as producing vehicles there would be uncompetitive due to the region's regulations. India is going to become a global car manufacturing hub, Goyal said.

"Finally India is going to become the global hub for car manufacturing. Everybody is going to come and manufacture in India and with Europe having such crazy regulations, it is going to be impossible to be competitive. All the European manufacturers will come to India," he said at The Dilli Dialogue here.

In free trade agreements, India has provided quota-based tariff concessions to the UK and the European Union (EU).

The pact with the UK was operationalised on July 15, while the deal with the EU is likely to be signed by the end of this year.

"I do not know if you are aware. Tatas had so much trouble after they bought Jaguar. Tata Motors itself was going to collapse and then they put in a lot of re-engineering, and shift some models to India... Finally they were able to make money after years," he added.

Though the minister did not elaborate on any EU regulations, India and certain other countries have raised concerns over EU's carbon border adjustment mechanism (CBAM).

Goyal said international automobile makers would increasingly manufacture in India as market demand reaches a viable scale.

Referring to the quotas permitted for car imports from the UK and the EU, he explained that these largely covered expensive cars, while the lower-priced segment had not been opened.

Citing the examples of luxury automobile makers setting up manufacturing plants in Pune after initially testing the Indian market, the minister highlighted India's potential to attract global automobile companies and strengthen its position.

Indian Gas Exchange secures Sebi's nod to float IPO

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, October 12

Indian Gas Exchange Ltd (IGX), the country's first online delivery-based trading platform for natural gas, on Monday secured Sebi's approval to float an IPO, an update with the regulator showed.

The proposed public issue is entirely an offer for sale (OFS) of up to 1.67 crore equity shares by promoter Indian Energy Exchange Ltd (IEX), according to the draft red herring prospectus. As the issue is entirely an OFS, IGX will not receive any proceeds from the IPO. The entire proceeds will go to the selling shareholder, IEX.

The company had filed its preliminary IPO papers in July. After reviewing the draft prospectus, Sebi gave its final observation on October 12.

Sebi's observations mark an important step in the IPO process, allowing the company to proceed with the preparations for the public issue, subject to applicable regulatory requirements. The approval comes amid a strong IPO fundraising momentum, with companies raising over Rs 1.1 lakh crore through 96 public issues so far in 2026.

FCNR(B) scheme fund raise boosts RBL Bank Sept quarter profit 2-fold

AGENCIES
Mumbai, October 12

Venu Srinivasan family fails to reach settlement

Differences emerged after TVS Holdings named Sudarshan Venu, Venu Srinivasan's son and TVS Motor CMD, as a significant beneficial owner through trust structures

AGENCIES
New Delhi, October 12

Amid differences over succession, Lakshmi Venu and Mallika Srinivasan on Monday said no economic settlement has been reached within industrialist Venu Srinivasan's family, adding that the distribution of family wealth remains unresolved.

They said the claim that all family assets belong exclusively to one individual, who can distribute them unilaterally, has neither been agreed upon nor established.

In 2020, the 115-year-old TVS industrial group was divided among the branches of founder T V Sundaram Iyengar's family through asset valuation, mutually agreed terms and compensation.

The Venu Srinivasan family took control of key group companies.

Venu Srinivasan is chairman emeritus of TVS Motor Company. According to TVS Holdings' annual report, the family/promoter group holds a 74.45 per cent stake in the company, with Venu Srinivasan holding 66.55 per cent through VS Trust. TVS Holdings owns 56 per cent of TVS Motor.

Differences surfaced after TVS Holdings disclosed that Sudarshan Venu, Venu Srinivasan's son and TVS Motor chairman and managing director, was named a significant beneficial owner through trust structures.

Industry sources said she has sought dialogue for a fair settlement, while Mallika is encouraging family members to work towards an equitable resolution.

The family's March 2024 memorandum of understanding covers TVS brand usage across business segments and a non-compete agreement, but does not settle economic interests, they said. Management roles and trademark arrangements cannot substitute for a consensual division of assets.

Mallika clarified that TAFE belongs to the separate Amalgamations Group, in which she is a shareholder, and has no bearing on the settlement.

They said a fair resolution requires transparent valuation, discussion and mutual consent, expressing commitment to an early, amicable settlement.

THE INFLOW WAS HIGHER THAN ₹29,329 CR RECORDED IN AUGUST

Equity MFs surge 31% to ₹38,306 cr in Sept despite mkt volatility, FPI-sell off

OUR CORRESPONDENT
New Delhi, October 12

FURTHER, MONTHLY CONTRIBUTIONS THROUGH SIPS TOUCHED AN ALL-TIME HIGH OF RS 32,490 CRORE IN SEPTEMBER

KEY POINTS

- Among equity categories, small-cap funds attracted the highest net inflow of Rs 9,039 crore, up from Rs 7,973 crore in August
- This was followed by mid-cap funds that received Rs 7,835 crore, compared with Rs 6,989 crore in the previous month
- Together, these two categories accounted for around 44% of the total net equity inflows during the month

Equity mutual fund schemes saw a net inflow of Rs 38,306 crore in September, registering a 31 per cent rise from the preceding month, as investors continued to pour money into mid-cap and small-cap funds despite heightened stock market volatility and sustained selling by foreign portfolio investors (FPIs).

The inflow was higher than the Rs 29,329 crore recorded in August, as per data released by the Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI) on Monday.

Further, monthly contributions through systematic investment plans (SIPs) touched an all-time high of Rs 32,490 crore in September, compared to Rs 32,297 crore in August.

According to the data, equity-oriented schemes witnessed a net inflow of Rs 38,306 crore in September. This was the highest inflow since April, when these schemes attracted Rs 38,440 crore.

"The strong inflows are particularly encouraging given that equity markets witnessed a correction during the month, accompanied by renewed selling by FPIs," Himanshu Srivastava, Principal, Manager Research, Morningstar Investment Research India, said.

Among equity categories, small-cap funds attracted the highest net inflow of Rs 9,039 crore, up from Rs 7,973 crore in August. This was followed by mid-cap funds that received Rs 7,835 crore, compared with Rs 6,989 crore in the previous month. Together, these two categories accounted for around 44 per cent of the total net equity inflows during the month.

Additionally, flexi cap funds drew Rs 6,702 crore. Large-cap funds, meanwhile, turned positive at Rs 859 crore for the first time in three months, leading investors to find value entry points in quality large-cap stocks.

"This continued preference for mid and small cap strategies suggests that investors remain willing to look beyond near-term market conditions and stay invested in segments they see as offering long-term growth potential," Varun Gupta, CEO of Groww Mutual Fund, said.

Also, Gold ETF (Exchange Traded Funds) inflows accelerated to Rs 4,451 crore in September, compared to Rs 2,597 crore in the preceding month. Silver ETFs registered a net inflow of Rs 1,974 crore.

"The AUM of Gold ETF at Rs 1.86 lakh crore is approaching the recent all-time high. This is not speculative accumulation, it is defensive capital fleeing equity drawdowns and debt uncertainty," said Manish Mehta, Chief Business Officer, SBI Mutual Fund.

Notably, five equity new fund offers (NFOs) across categories collectively mobilised Rs 998 crore during the month. This was relatively modest compared with the overall net equity inflows of Rs 38,306 crore, suggesting that the strong improvement in flows was largely driven by investments into existing schemes rather than new fund launches, Srivastava said.

In contrast, debt mutual fund schemes witnessed a net outflow of Rs 1.83 lakh crore in September, significantly higher than the Rs 8,127 crore withdrawn in August. Consequently, the mutual fund industry recorded a net outflow of Rs 1.33 lakh crore during the month, reversing the net inflow of Rs 41,354 crore seen in August.

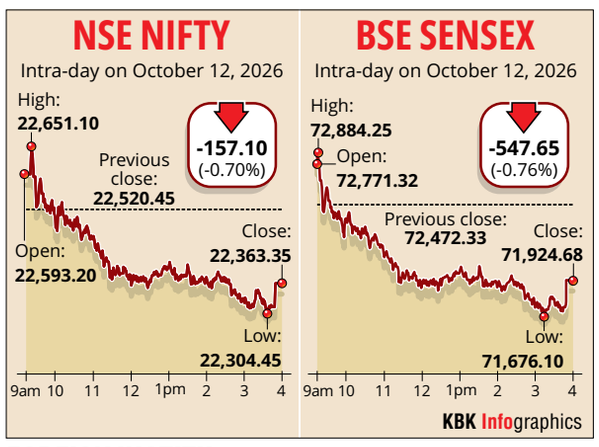

"The swing in flows was driven almost entirely by debt, with virtually every debt category recording net outflows, led by liquid funds (Rs 95,743 crore) and money market funds (Rs 50,846 crore). Both categories had seen net inflows in August," Groww Mutual Fund's Gupta said.

SBI Mutual Fund's Gupta attributed the overall negative flows to redemptions by institutional investors to meet advance tax obligations and quarter-end compliance requirements.

The industry's total assets under management (AUM) declined to Rs 82.64 lakh crore at the end of September from Rs 87.07 lakh crore at August-end.

India, UK to exchange annual data on utilisation of trade pact by bizs

AGENCIES
New Delhi, October 12

India and the UK have agreed to exchange annual data on use of their Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA) by businesses, including claims for lower tariffs and feedback on implementation, starting one year after the pact comes into force.

The agreement aims to help more companies, particularly small and medium-sized businesses, benefit from the trade deal, according to a joint statement issued after the 16th meeting of the India-UK Joint Economic and Trade Committee (JETCO).

The CETA, which came into force on July 15 this year, covers sectors including automotive, manufacturing, consumer goods, creative industries and medical technology.

Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal and Jonathan Reynolds MP, the UK Secretary of State for Business, Innovation, Science and Trade, chaired the meeting.

The statement said the annual data exchange would help identify business priorities and areas requiring additional support.

The first tariff-free Scottish salmon reached India within a fortnight of implementation, with several thousand kilos exported since. Scotch whisky has also entered India at reduced tariffs, while the first cars exported under the tariff-rate quota have cleared customs.

On the day CETA took effect, Indian exporters sent more than 50 consignments to the UK, including smartphones, machinery, turbojets, gold jewellery, garments, woollen yarn, tea and coffee.

The two countries also agreed to establish committees, working groups and government-to-government contact points to ensure smooth implementation.

FM asks domestic steel producers to focus on decarbonisation & boost specialty production

AGENCIES
New Delhi, October 12

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Monday urged domestic steel producers to accelerate decarbonisation and increase specialty steel production to reduce import dependence.

Addressing the World Steel Association General Assembly, she said the government had introduced a PLI scheme for specialty steel with an approved outlay of Rs 6,300 crore to promote domestic manufacturing and technology upgradation.

While global steelmakers face excess capacity and weak demand, India is witnessing growth driven by domestic consumption and sustained investment, she said. Steel consumption has exceeded production for two successive years, while per capita consumption stands at approximately 109 kg, compared with the global average of 209 kg.

Sitharaman said Union government capital expenditure had risen sixfold, from approximately Rs 2 lakh crore in 2014-15 to Rs 12.2 lakh crore in FY27. Construction and infrastructure account for about two-thirds of India's steel consumption, supporting sustained demand.

She outlined five priorities for the industry, including expanding capacity, reducing energy and carbon intensity, increasing domestic production of specialty and high-grade steel, and ensuring a fair sharing of decarbonisation costs.

On global trade, she said unilateral tariffs merely redirect surplus steel between markets. Addressing excess capacity requires multilateral disciplines on subsidies supporting uneconomic production, backed by transparent data.

Sitharaman said India must develop steelmaking capacity at lower carbon intensity and regain its historical leadership in specialty metallurgy.

She also urged the World Steel Association to establish an office in India, citing its growing contribution to global steel demand. Such a presence would strengthen engagement with fast-growing markets across South Asia, Southeast Asia, West Asia and Africa, she added.

Coal stocks at power plants stay above 18 MT in Oct as depletion eases on adequate supplies

MEETU JAIN
New Delhi, October 12

The coal stocks at domestic coal-based power plants have remained above 18 million tonnes (MT) since September 29, 2026. Inventories stood at 18.932 MT on September 29 and 18.205 MT on October 10.

"The stabilisation reflects coal supplies keeping pace with daily consumption at power plants," the Coal Ministry said in a statement, adding that stations with critically low stocks were being closely monitored & coal redistributed according to requirements to ensure adequate supplies and uninterrupted power generation.

Coal inventories declined by about 7.28 MT during September, averaging 0.24 MT per day. In contrast, stocks fell by only about 0.56 MT during the first ten days of October, averaging 0.06 MT per day, the ministry said.

Higher railway rake loading has driven the improvement. Rakes loaded for the power sector averaged 469 per day during October 1-10, 2026, compared to 426 per day in September 2026, an increase of about 10 per cent.

Daily rake loading in October ranged between 447 & 482 rakes.

Consequently, actual coal supplies to the power sector averaged 2.49 million tonnes per day in October, up from 2.21 million tonnes per day in September.

Supplies during October, till October 10, exceeded the planned 2.37 MT/ day on nine of the 10 days, the ministry said.

The Coal Ministry is coordinating with Coal India Ltd (CIL), Singareni Collieries Company Ltd (SCCL), the Ministry of Railways and power utilities to maintain adequate inventories through sustained coal transportation and supply.

The ministry also acknowledged Indian Railways' support in facilitating coal movement. CIL accounts for over 80 per cent of domestic coal output.

India targets 604 million tonnes per annum steel capacity by 2047

The draft National Steel Policy proposes to raise per capita steel consumption to 302 kg & exports to 45 MT by 2047

SURYA SARATHI RAY
New Delhi, October 12

India has unveiled an ambitious steel policy to raise crude steel production capacity to 604 million tonnes per annum (mtpa), up from 220 mtpa now.

The draft National Steel Policy: Vision 2047, now open for public consultation, also proposes increasing per capita steel consumption to 302 kg and exports to around 45 MT by 2047.

India, the second-largest steel producer after China, has significantly increased its steel production capacity over the years. Crude steel production rose from about 89 MT in 2014-15 to 170 MT in 2025-26, raising India's share of global steel production to 8.9% in 2025 from 5.2% in 2014.

"The coming decades present significant opportunities and challenges for the sector. India's aspiration to become a Viksit (developed) nation by 2047, sustained economicgrowth and rapid urbanisation are expected to substantially increase domestic steeldemand," the document said.

Manufacturing and infrastructure will remain the primary drivers of steel demand. Demand will also be driven by rapid urbanisation, expansion of renewable energy, clean mobility, digital infrastructure and emerging technologies. The draft policy projects finished steel demand to go up to 505 MT by 2047 from around 164 MT now.

CLOSER LOOK

- India's crude steel production rose from about 89 MT in 2014-15 to 170 MT in 2025-26, raising India's share of global steel production to 8.9% in 2025 from 5.2% in 2014
- The policy seeks to cut import dependence for raw materials via domestic mining, washery expansion, asset acquisition, long-term supply arrangements, AI-based optimisation of coal blends

Construction and infrastructure currently account for about 67% of steel consumption, while automobiles, engineering goods, appliances and packaging contribute another 28%.

The draft document proposes supporting the secondary steel sector, which currently accounts for around 47% of steel production. It proposes supporting the sector, mainly through re-rolling facilities, induction furnaces, and sponge iron units, with improved access to raw materials, technology upgrades, skill development, and safety.

Raw materials account for around 65-70% of steelmaking costs. While India is largely self-sufficient in iron ore, it imports nearly 92% of its coking coal requirement. The draft policy seeks to reduce import dependence through domestic mining, washery expansion, asset acquisition, long-term supply arrangements, and AI-based optimisation of coal blends.

Highlighting the importance of decarbonisation, Vision 2047 outlines a phased transition to Net Zero by 2070 through improved energy efficiency, renewable electricity, greater scrap utilisation, and hydrogen use. The steel sector contributes about 10-12% of India's CO_2 emissions, with an average emission intensity of 2.54 tonnes of CO_2 per tonne of crude steel (tCO2/tcs), significantly above the global average of 1.92 tCO2/tcs.

With the rapid expansion of the steel sector, the document said, India must also focus on indigenisationof technology and capital goods for steelmaking, while building domestic capabilitiesin speciality steel manufacturing to enhance global competitiveness.

The Indian men's hockey team will enter this month's Asian Champions Trophy (ACT) in Punjab as the most successful side of the tournament, having won the title five times since its inception in 2011.

India's triumphs include a dramatic shootout victory in the inaugural edition to defending their crown in China in 2024.

The upcoming edition begins on October 27 and will be conducted in Jalandhar and Mohali till November 5.

A winning start in 2011

The inaugural edition of the Asian Champions Trophy was held in Ordos, China, featuring six teams: China, India, Malaysia, Pakistan, South Korea and Japan.

Facing arch-rivals Pakistan in the final, India held their opponents to a 0-0 draw in regulation time before prevailing 4-2 in the shootout. The hard-fought victory crowned India the tournament's first champions.

A second title in Kuantan

After its 2013 edition, the ACT paused for three years before returning in 2016 in Kuantan, Malaysia.

The six participating teams once again included India, Pakistan, South Korea, Japan, Malaysia and China.

India reached the final and faced Pakistan. Producing a determined performance, India secured a 3-2 victory to claim their second Asian Champions Trophy title, with Rupinder Pal Singh, Affan Yousuf and Nikkin Thimmaiah scoring for the winners.

Joint winners in Muscat in 2018

India's third title came under unusual circumstances at the fifth edition in Muscat, Oman, in 2018.

The competition featured India, Japan, Malaysia, Oman, Pakistan and South Korea.

India and Pakistan progressed to the final, but persistent rain prevented the match from being completed. Consequently, the two teams were declared joint winners.

NorthEast United beat Mohun Bagan 1-0

AGENCIES
Guwahati, October 12

NorthEast United FC begin their MG Indian Super League 2026-27 campaign against Mohun Bagan Super Giant on Monday, looking to make a strong start at home against the recently-crowned IFA Shield champions after contrasting fortunes in the competition.

NorthEast suffered a 7-2 defeat to East Bengal in the IFA Shield semifinal, while Mohun Bagan SG beat the same opponents 1-0 in the final on October 8.

The Highlanders will now look to put that setback behind them, with head coach Juan Pedro Benali backing his squad's depth and tactical flexibility to meet the challenge.

Benali has made no secret of his concerns about the visitors' approach, accusing Mohun Bagan of using gamesmanship to influence matches.

"They know how to lie, how to press the referees.

AJARAIE WON THE GOLDEN BOOT AND THE GOLDEN BALL IN THE 2024-25 SEASON, AND NORTHEAST WILL HOPE HE PICKS UP FROM WHERE HE LEFT

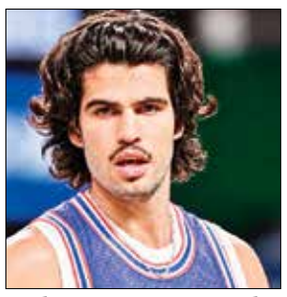

I am not criticising them, it's part of the game, they do it very well. They're a very good team," he said, while stressing that NorthEast must be prepared with "Plan A, Plan B, and even Plan C".

The Highlanders have added depth ahead of the new campaign, with domestic recruit Pramveer Singh joining a group that includes overseas players Antonio Moyano, Eneko Satrustegui and Nikola Ninkovic.

'OTT GIVES ACTORS opportunity to tell different stories'

Sonali Bendre last played a grieving mother in Prime Video's series 'Raakh'

MUMBAI: Sonali Bendre said streaming platforms have opened up new avenues for actors to explore different facets of their craft, something that's not always possible in mainstream cinema.

Bendre played a grieving mother in Prime Video's series 'Raakh', a story that was inspired by the Ranga Billa case in the 1970s. She is returning to the small screen as the host of the reality show, "Pati Patni Aur Panga", which is currently airing on 'Colors TV' channel and 'JioHotstar'.

"Everything has its own time. Due to OTT and multiplexes, the scope of narrating different kinds of stories has increased. At that time (90s), in mainstream cinema, you had to show a kind of film in which some things are necessary because you needed to cater to every strata of society... Business compulsions are different," Bendre told PTI.

She added, "From the time multiplexes came in, these compulsions changed. Like, a niche audience can be entertained and you can tell different kinds of stories. When different types of stories can be told, then as an actor, you get a chance to play different types of roles. So, it's a great opportunity that we have now."

One of the most popular Bollywood actresses of the 1990s, Bendre worked in hits such as 'Diljale', 'Zakhm', 'Duplicate', 'Hum Saath Saath Hain' and 'Sarfarosh'. She made her OTT debut with the critically acclaimed series, 'The Broken News' (2022), in which she played the role of Amina Qureshi, a strong, principled woman.

Bendre said she is open to returning to the big screen, which she believes offers a distinct experience. Her last theatrical film was Akshay Kumar-starrer, 'Once Upon a Time in Mumbai Dobaara!' in 2013. "Big screen is big screen and it has its own charm. Some stories are such, which are fun to watch on the big screen," she added. PTI
