FIRST PARLIAMENTARY DEFEAT FOR MODI GOVT

Women's Reservation Bill falls victim to delimitation deadlock

THE BILL FAILS TO GET 2/3RD MAJORITY IN LS; GOVT VOWS TO CONTINUE FIGHT

VINAY KUMAR

NEW DELHI: The BJP-led NDA government's move to bring a Constitution Amendment Bill to implement 33 per cent reservation for women in legislature in 2029 and expand the size of the Lok Sabha and undertake fresh delimitation of constituencies suffered a setback when it was defeated on Friday in Lok Sabha as it failed to secure the two-thirds majority.

The Constitution (131st) Amendment Bill, 2026 was defeated in Lok Sabha with 298 votes in favour and 230 votes against it, which fell short of the two-thirds majority needed for a Constitutional amendment Bill to clear the House.

The amended women's quota Bill was put to vote after a marathon two-day debate during which Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah made a strong pitch in its support, urging members to give their nod to the proposed legislation. PM Modi warned the Opposition that women of the country were watching the lawmakers and would not forgive them if they were denied reservation.

Iran reopens Hormuz; Trump hails move but retains the blockade

UK, France chair new Strait of Hormuz Maritime Freedom of Navigation Initiative

ASSOCIATED PRESS

TEHRAN/WASHINGTON: In a significant development with global economic implications, Iran on Friday announced that the Strait of Hormuz has been reopened for all commercial shipping during the ongoing ceasefire period, offering relief to energy markets and international trade routes that had been severely disrupted. The move followed a series of diplomatic exchanges tied to a temporary ceasefire in the wider West Asian conflict, even as the United States maintained pressure on Tehran by keeping its naval blockade in place pending a broader agreement.

Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi confirmed the decision, stating on social media that "the passage for all commercial vessels through the Strait of Hormuz is declared completely open for the remaining period of the ceasefire." He added that vessels must adhere to designated routes coordinated by Iran's Ports and Maritime Organisation, indicating that while access has resumed, it remains tightly managed. The Strait of Hormuz is a critical chokepoint through which a significant share of the world's

Opposition slams govt's 'cunning ploy' to delimit seats

MPOST BUREAU

NEW DELHI: Opposition parties on Friday said they unitedly defeated the Modi government's attempt to change India's political and electoral structure in the garb of the Women's Reservation Bill.

They said the failure of the Constitution amendment Bill to get a two-thirds majority in the Lok Sabha was a clear political setback for the Modi government.

The Congress termed the Bill a "nefarious attempt" of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah to link their "dangerous delimitation proposals" to women's reservation.

Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge on X said, "Modi-Shah tried to carry out delimitation by using half of the country's population as a

B'desh's request for Hasina's extradition is under 'judicial and legal processes': MEA

SIMONTINI BHATTACHARJEE

NEW DELHI: India on Friday said that the Bangladesh government's request for extraditing former prime minister Sheikh Hasina is being examined as part of ongoing judicial and legal processes.

Hasina, 78, has been living in India after she fled Dhaka following the collapse of her government in August, 2024 in the face of a massive anti-government agitation.

In his recent visit to New Delhi, Bangladesh Foreign Minister Khaliur Rahman, during his talks with External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, had raised the issue of Dhaka's request to extradite Hasina.

"The request is being examined as part of ongoing judicial and international legal processes. We will continue to engage constructively on the issue with all stakeholders," Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) official spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said at his weekly media briefing.

The previous government led by Muhammad Yunus had requested India to extradite her as she was convicted of "crimes against humanity" for the crackdown on the student-led protests.

Hasina and former Home Minister Asaduzzaman Khan Kamal were handed the death penalty by the International Crimes Tribunal, a domestic war crimes court, last year after convicting them of crimes against humanity during the crackdown on the anti-government protests in 2024.

To a question on a law passed by Bangladesh's Parliament this month that is likely to provide a legal backing to the ban imposed on Hasina-led Awami League party by Bangladesh's interim government, Jaiswal did not give a direct reply "We follow all developments very closely," he said.

Jaiswal, on the overall ties between the two countries,

TN: 8 Kerala tourists die in accident in Valparai

VALPARAI (TAMIL NADU): Eight tourists were killed and five critically injured when a van from Kerala rolled down multiple hairpin bends on the ghat road here on Friday, police said.

The vehicle lost control while proceeding along Valparai-Pollachi ghat road and rolled down from 13th bend to the ninth bend, said a police official.

The vehicle was mangled in the impact.

"There were 13 people on the van, they all came from Malappuram, but we are yet to establish if they all belong to a family or friends or acquaintances," he added.

The injured were taken to the nearby hospital and are still in critical condition, a police source said.

Further investigation is on.

DOORSTEP DELIVERY REMAINS UNRELIABLE

LPG supply steadies, patchy distribution raises concerns

ANAMTA FATIMA

NEW DELHI: Even as liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) supplies show signs of stabilising across parts of the Capital, persistent gaps in doorstep delivery and lingering public anxiety continue to disrupt access for consumers, particularly the most vulnerable.

At an Indane gas agency in the city, officials maintained that supply has “largely normalised.” Amar Singh, a godown in-charge, said adequate stock now reaches the facility each morning. “There is no major shortage at present. Cylinders arrive by 8 a.m. and are cleared within an hour,” he noted, attributing long queues to public fear of a fresh disruption.

However, ground realities reflect a more uneven picture. While Indane outlets remained operational, nearby Bharat Gas agencies were found shut, indicating patchy supply across distributors. Residents, many of whom queued as early as 8 am, reported continued hardship in securing refills despite paying for home delivery.

“We don’t want to stand in lines, but deliveries are unreliable,” said Sarita Devi waiting outside a godown. Similar concerns were echoed by Mohammad Afnan, who claimed his refill was marked “delivered” on the official app despite not receiving the cylinder even after 15 days. “If it’s delivered, where is it?” he asked, holding his booking receipt.

TAKEAWAYS

» While Indane outlets remained operational, nearby Bharat Gas agencies were found shut, indicating patchy supply across distributors

» Residents, many of whom queued as early as 8 am, reported continued hardship in securing refills despite paying for home delivery that panic-driven rebooking has intensified pressure on the system, with consumers placing repeat orders to stock up amid uncertainty.

Meanwhile, the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas has urged citizens to avoid panic buying and rely on digital booking systems. It assured that domestic LPG supply remains a priority despite global uncertainties, including disruptions linked to the Strait of Hormuz. Measures such as increased refinery output, extended booking intervals, and promotion of alternate fuels like PNG and induction cooking have been rolled out.

While authorities project improvement, the disconnect between official claims and consumer experience suggests that for many in Delhi, the crisis has eased but not fully resolved.

At 50, Noida Authority focuses on infra and governance push

DIPIKA KIROLA

NOIDA: The New Okhla Industrial Development (Noida) Authority marked its 50th foundation day on Friday with traditional rituals and a renewed push towards future ready urban development, even as it reflected on five decades of transformation from a planned township to a major economic hub. Celebrations were held at the Authority office, where officials and employees participated in hawan and puja ceremonies followed by a cake-cutting event.

Senior officials highlighted the Authority’s journey since its establishment in 1976, when Noida was conceived to decongest Delhi and promote industrialisation. Over the years, the city has evolved into one of NCR’s most prominent centres for IT, manufacturing, and real estate growth.

From wide road networks and planned residential sectors to world-class expressways and metro connectivity, the Authority has played a key role in shaping urban infrastructure. Projects such as the Noida-Greater Noida Expressway and the upcoming Noida International Airport have significantly boosted connectivity and investment prospects in the region.

“Projects such as the Noida-Greater Noida Expressway and the upcoming Noida Airport have significantly boosted connectivity”

In recent years, the Authority has also focused on improving governance and public services. A new administrative headquarters in Sector 96—expected to centralise departments and enhance efficiency—is nearing completion. Policy initiatives, including plot schemes for farmers and decisions taken in board meetings, aim to address land-related grievances and streamline development.

The Authority has also promoted community engagement through events like the annual flower festival, which encourages environmental awareness and citizen participation. However, challenges remain. Issues such as stalled housing projects, traffic congestion, and calls for more citizen-centric governance continue to test the Authority’s functioning.

Marking the milestone, officials reiterated their commitment to sustainable development, better infrastructure, and transparent governance. As Noida enters its sixth decade, the Authority aims to strengthen its position as a global investment destination while improving quality of life for residents.

Crime Branch bust MDMA supply network in south Delhi, 2 arrested

PRAJYOT DEOGHARE

NEW DELHI: The Crime Branch of the Delhi Police has busted an organised MDMA (ecstasy) supply network operating in south Delhi, arresting two men and recovering a commercial quantity of narcotics.

Acting on a tip-off, a raiding team carried out a late-night operation between April 12 and 13 in the Hargovind Enclave area of Chhatarpur. A Wagon-R taxi was intercepted, and one of the accused, Deepak Kumar (37), a resident of Govindpuri in Kalkaji, was apprehended.

Police recovered 25 ecstasy pills and 14.95 grams of MDMA in crystal form from his possession, indicating the presence of an organised drug distribution network.

During interrogation, Kumar revealed he was working as a carrier for a supplier. Based on this input, police tracked and arrested the alleged supplier, Farhan alias Sunny (33), from the Saket area before he could flee. A search of his rented accommodation led to the recovery of an additional 4.2 grams of MDMA.

Investigators said the accused operated a highly clandestine, delivery-based network, frequently changing mobile phones, SIM cards and locations to evade detection. The supplier allegedly used his Wagon-R as a cab during the day to avoid suspicion and deployed drivers for doorstep deliveries at night, concealing the drugs in food packaging.

Police said the supplier had links within party circuits and is suspected to have sourced MDMA from an African national, who has been identified and is being traced. A case has been registered under the NDPS Act, with further investigation underway.

3 dead as speeding bus rams SUV, pedestrians near college exit on Delhi-Meerut Expressway

DIPIKA KIROLA

GHAZIABAD: A tragic road accident on the Delhi-Meerut Expressway in Ghaziabad claimed three lives after a speeding traveler bus rammed into a stationary vehicle and pedestrians near a college exit, police said on Friday.

The incident occurred close to the exit gate of IPEM College, along National Highway-9, where a group of youth had briefly halted their Mahindra Thar to ask for directions from a motorcyclist. According to officials, the youths were standing beside the SUV and speaking to a Rapido bike rider when a passenger-laden traveler bus approached at high speed and lost control.

The bus crashed into the stationary Thar and the group standing nearby, crushing them between the two vehicles. All three victims died (30), from Rudrapur in Uttarakhand, and Yogesh (25), a Delhi-based Rapido rider.

Police from the local Vijay Nagar police station rushed to the scene soon after receiving information and took the bus driver, identified as Virender Kumar into custody. Preliminary investigation suggests that the driver may have dozed off at the wheel, leading to the fatal collision.

Assistant Commissioner of Police Upasana Pandey confirmed that the bodies have been sent for post-mortem examination and further legal proceedings will be initiated upon receiving a formal complaint from the victims’ families.

NBCC raises Rs 5,779 crore from Sarojini Ngr e-auction

NEW DELHI: NBCC (India) Limited has concluded an e-auction of commercial space at Bharat Business Park, recording its highest-ever single auction realisation of about Rs 5,779 crore, the company said. The auction offered around 23.44 lakh sq ft of super built-up area across eight towers. Of this, nearly 14 lakh sq ft in five towers was sold, driven by strong participation from domestic and international corporates, multinational firms and institutional buyers, including some public sector undertakings.

The average sale rate stood at Rs 41,207 per sq ft, about 5 per cent higher than the reserve price, reflecting robust demand for premium commercial space in south

Delhi. Multiple towers and floors saw near-complete sell-outs, underscoring investor confidence in the project.

The remaining inventory will be offered in a second phase of the e-auction.

Bharat Business Park is being developed as a green, next-generation office complex with energy-efficient and sustainable features, including solar power systems, rainwater harvesting, EV charging infrastructure and advanced building management systems. The project will also provide centralised air-conditioning, 100 per cent power backup and parking for over 2,800 vehicles.

NBCC said proceeds from the auction will be used to fund ongoing redevelopment projects. MPOST

Lottery fraud busted in city; 3 caught for duping rly clerk

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: The Delhi Police has busted a cyber fraud racket that duped a 59-year-old railway employee of around Rs 60,000 on the pretext of an online lottery, an official said on Friday.

Bheem Chand, a senior clerk in the Indian Railways, filed a complaint alleging he was cheated after being lured by a social media advertisement promising lottery winnings of up to Rs 11 crore.

According to the police, the complainant paid Rs 500 last October to purchase a lottery ticket and was later informed that he had won Rs 10 lakh.

“He subsequently received multiple calls demanding payments under various pretexts, including income tax and clearance charges, to claim the prize money. Believing the claims, he made five transactions amounting to approximately Rs 60,000 before realising he had been defrauded,” a senior police officer said.

A team conducted a technical investigation that involved analysing IP logs, email IDs, call detail records (CDRs) and financial transactions.

During the probe, police traced the money trail to a bank account opened using fake credentials, he said.

Further analysis revealed that several mobile numbers linked to the fraudulent account operated from a single device.

“Based on electronic surveillance, the accused were tracked to the Bhalswa Dairy area in north Delhi.

The police team arrested Deepanshu (27) from Bhalswa Dairy on April 4. His interrogation led to the arrest of co-accused Chandu Sharma (27) from Badli on the same day,” he added. Subsequently, a third accused, Seeta (42), was apprehended on April 7 from Bhalswa Dairy.

During questioning, Deepanshu said he procured bank accounts and SIM cards using fake identities and sold them to fraudsters. Police said he targeted poorer individuals. At least 10 related complaints were found on the national cybercrime portal.

left for the spot in Surjit’s white Hyundai Aura. After reaching there, they got involved in the altercation and assault before returning to their respective homes,” a senior police officer said.

After learning about the registration of the case, the accused fled and went into hiding, he said.

“Teams were constituted to trace them and all four absconding accused were arrested,” he said.

The Hyundai Aura used in the incident has also been recovered, police said.

Further investigation into the case is underway. The role of each accused is being examined, they said.

According to the investigators, the incident took place on the night of April 11, when the brigadier and his son objected to the two men allegedly consuming alcohol inside a car parked outside their residence. Soon, others reached the spot and allegedly assaulted the officer and his son, besides abusing and threatening his wife.

The massive reptile, weighing nearly 50 kg, was found with minor abrasions, they added. “A rescue call came early morning, after a local family spotted a giant turtle struggling near a contaminated water body in their neighbourhood in Harsh Vihar, Mandoli. Recognising the danger, they carefully placed the animal in a container at their residence and immediately alerted Wildlife SOS for assistance,” the NGO officials said.

Man posing as payment firm staff held for E Delhi shopkeeper fraud

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: A 20-year-old man posing as an employee of a digital payment platform was arrested for allegedly duping shopkeepers in East Delhi under the pretext of checking defective sound boxes, officials said on Friday.

The accused, Sunny Kumar, a resident of Muradnagar in Uttar Pradesh, was arrested on Thursday following a technical and financial probe.

According to the police, the case came to light after a complaint was lodged by Rishipal Singh, a resident of New Ashok Nagar, on April 8.

Singh alleged that a man visited his shop posing as a representative of a digital payment service provider and offered to check a defective payment sound box.

‘Impersonated service personnel & targeted small shopkeepers’

“During the visit, the accused allegedly gained the complainant’s trust and took possession of his mobile phone. He then removed the SIM card and used it to carry out unauthorised transactions, withdrawing Rs 13,500 from the victim’s bank accounts,” a senior police officer said. Based on the complaint, an FIR was registered on April 15, and an investigation was initiated. A police team analysed bank transactions and found that the defrauded amount had been transferred to a bank account.

“Examination of KYC details and technical surveillance helped identify the accused, who was subsequently traced and arrested from Muradnagar,” the police said.

During interrogation, it was revealed that Kumar had previously worked with a digital payment company, which helped him understand digital payment systems and customer handling.

He allegedly misused this knowledge to impersonate service personnel and target small shopkeepers using sound box devices. Further investigation into the matter is underway.

MUMBAI RAIL PROJECT

PAC flags major lapses, only 25% work done despite half funds spent

SIMONTINI BHATTACHARJEE

NEW DELHI: The Public Accounts Committee for the period 2025-26, headed by Congress Lok Sabha Member KC Venugopal, in its report presented on Friday, highlighted major shortcomings in the construction of the fifth and sixth railway lines between Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Terminus and Kurla, which is an important part of the Mumbai Urban Transport Project-II to alleviate the problem of congestion in Mumbai's suburban rail network.

It was observed that although the project was sanctioned in the fiscal year 2008-09 and revised in 2014 at Rs 890.89 crore, slow pace of construction continued because of delays in acquiring land, lack of cooperation among various agencies involved, and faulty contracts. Even as more than 50 per cent of the total funds have been released, only about one-fourth of the construction has been done till date.

Highlights

- » Even as more than 50 per cent of the total funds have been released, only about one-fourth of the construction has been done till date

The Committee, comprising other senior member, from both NDA and opposition - T R Baalu, Nishikant Dubey, Ravi Shankar Prasad, Sougata Ray, Aparajita Sarangi, and Anurag Thakur, observed that there have been "significant deficiencies in planning and execution" of the project, resulting in "substantial time and cost overruns."

The gravity of the issue is reflected in the fact that as much as only one-fourth of the work had been completed by January 2024 despite the sanctioning of the project back in 2008-09. The main causes cited for such sluggish execution included "delay in acquisition of lands, improper planning, inefficiency in contract management, and poor coordination among agencies."

Rehabilitation of more than 700 affected people (PAPs) as a consequence of the project, especially those living in dense urban areas such as Dharavi and Dadar. Although all the PAPs have received new places to live in, yet they do not wish to move.

The report further drew attention to problems related to coordination by noting that "the project timings have been adversely affected due to delay in approvals such as NOCs for important infrastructural projects" along with issues related to land transfer between railway zones. Other procedural failings noted in the report include awarding of contracts without securing the availability of the required land and finalised design work, which led to wastage of time and extension of deadlines.

Moreover, lack of coordination between various parties such as Central Railway, Western Railway, Maharashtra government departments, and MMRDA was one of the major reasons behind the delay in approvals, acquisition, and implementation of the project.

In regard to the second stage of the project (from Parel to CSMT), the parliamentary panel also expressed scepticism about the feasibility of the project, mainly owing to the difficult process of acquiring land, which involved demolishing multi-storey buildings and heritage structures. The Committee suggested conducting a new feasibility study considering other routes or technology options, as well as integrating the project with the existing system of the Mumbai Metro.

The Public Accounts Committee also recommended that better management of land was necessary, as were more effective financial controls in order to synchronise expenditure with achievement. Moreover, the use of modern land acquisition processes like the one followed by NHAI needed to be considered.

The Maoists killed were wanted in about 80 cases.

With the encounter, only 57 Maoists are left in the state, the IG said.

A number of arms were also recovered during the operation including two AK 47 and one INSAS rifles.

The development comes close on the heels of a fierce exchange of fire between a Maoist squad headed by Misir Besra, who carries a bounty of Rs 1 crore, and police personnel on April 15 in Jharkhand's West Singhbhum.

Four security personnel were injured in the encounter.

The Centre has already informed the state governments that there are no Naxal violence-affected districts in the country, more than five decades since Left Wing Extremism (LWE) originated in India.

The declaration followed a high-level security review held earlier this month by the Ministry of Home Affairs under the mandated 'National Policy and Action Plan to Address Left Wing Extremism' formulated in 2015.

Union Home minister Amit Shah informed Parliament on March 30 that India was free from Maoists.

In September 2023, Parliament passed the "Nari Shakti Vandan Adhiniyam", commonly known as the Women's Reservation Act, in a significant step towards enhancing women's representation in legislative bodies.

The act provided for the reservation of one-third of seats for women in the Lok Sabha and state legislative assemblies.

Under the 2023 law, the reservation would not become enforceable before 2034, as it was tied to the completion of the delimitation exercise post 2027.

Later, in a post on X in Hindi, he said, "The amendment bill has fallen. They used an unconstitutional trick in the name of women to break the Constitution."

Gandhi exulted, "India has seen it. INDIA has stopped it. Hail the Constitution."

Samajwadi Party leader Akhilesh Yadav said his party supports women's reservation, and his party did not oppose the quota, but stopped those who wanted to snatch the rights of women.

"We are in support of reservation for women, but we drew a Lakshman Rekha that they could not cross," he said.

CPI leader P Sandosh Kumar said, "Women across the country must see through the BJP's approach. By linking women's reservation to the census and delimitation, the government tried to delay its actual implementation."

He termed the Bill an agenda to weaken the federal structure. On X, Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh said, "The nefarious and mischievous attempt of the PM and HM to link their dangerous delimitation proposals to women's reservation (that had already been settled) has been decisively defeated in the Lok Sabha... This is a win for our democracy, our federalism, and the Constitution."

Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra said the manner in which the government sought to link the Bill to delimitation can never be accepted.

"The way the Modi government presented women's reservation made its passage impossible. The BJP government linked women's reservation to delimitation and the old census, in which the OBC category was not included.

"We can never agree to this. What happened today is a huge victory for the country's democracy and its integrity," she told reporters.

Asked about the anti-women charge hurled at the Congress, she said, those who did nothing in Hathras, Unnao, or in Manipur, and those who did nothing for women wrestlers, are now talking about an anti-women mentality.

Samajwadi Party (SP) president Akhilesh Yadav said the BJP's "deceitful chariot" has been stopped once again. "Now they'll say their efforts fell short," said the former UP CM, who leads the largest Opposition party in the Lower House after the Congress.

INDIA bloc constituent and Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin said the state had "defeated Delhi"."On April 23 (elections), we will defeat Delhi's arrogance — and the slaves who support that arrogance — together," wrote Stalin, posting a portrait of him setting fire to a copy of the delimitation Bill.

Samajwadi Party's Iqra Hasan demanded that the Centre should bring the Women's Reservation Bill without tweaks or "get ready to be labelled as 'anti-women'."

Party MP Dimple Yadav said the ruling party is so attached to power that it is unwilling to let go of its positions, especially as its public support is declining and it knows this government may not last.

Trinamool Congress (TMC) MP Derek O'Brien hailed the Bill's defeat as a "beginning of the end for Narendra and Amit."

TMC MP June Maliah said the opposition suggested increasing reservations to even 50 per cent, but opposed linking it with delimitation.

Iran reopens Hormuz will remain in full force and effect as it pertains to Iran, only, until such time as our transaction with Iran is 100 per cent complete," he said, adding that most elements of a potential agreement had already been negotiated and the process should move quickly.

Trump also said that Iran, with US assistance, is working to remove sea mines from the Strait, a key step toward restoring safe navigation. In separate remarks, he claimed that Tehran had agreed to hand over enriched uranium and said the United States would secure what he referred to as "all nuclear dust" created by recent military operations, adding that no financial exchange would be involved.

The announcement unfolded against the backdrop of a 10-day ceasefire between Lebanon and Israel, which has provided a temporary pause in regional hostilities. Trump clarified that negotiations with Iran are not formally linked to the Lebanon ceasefire, though both tracks are unfolding simultaneously.

Diplomatic activity has intensified in parallel with the reopening. Discussions are ongoing about a second round of US-Iran talks, potentially to be held next week, following an initial round that ended without agreement. Reports in US media indicated that Iran may be willing to address concerns over its nuclear programme in exchange for access to approximately 20 billion dollars in restricted funds.

At the same time, European leaders have moved to reinforce maritime security in the region. British Prime Minister Keir Starmer and French President Emmanuel Macron jointly chaired a virtual meeting of a newly formed Strait of Hormuz Maritime Freedom of Navigation Initiative, involving around 40 countries, including India. The initiative aims to coordinate efforts to safeguard shipping lanes, stabilise energy flows and support global supply chains.

Starmer said the reopening of the Strait is a "global responsibility" and called for swift action to ensure the free flow of trade and energy. He noted that the UK and France are committed to establishing a multinational framework to protect navigation and support mine clearance operations. According to Downing Street, planning is underway for a combined military effort that would be defensive in nature and deployed when conditions permit.

The discussions also include coordination with the International Maritime Organisation to ensure the safety of seafarers and vessels, alongside engagement with the insurance sector to facilitate the return of commercial shipping. A follow-up military planning meeting is scheduled to take place in Northwood, near London, next week.

The broader conflict traces back to February 28, when US and Israeli strikes on Iran triggered a sharp escalation, including the killing of senior Iranian leadership figures. A temporary two-week ceasefire between Washington and Tehran is currently in effect and is set to expire on April 21, placing urgency on ongoing negotiations.

Trump has expressed optimism about reaching a final agreement before the deadline, suggesting he may travel to Islamabad if a deal is concluded there. He said Iran has accepted "almost everything" under discussion and indicated that the ceasefire could be extended if necessary, though he signalled confidence that a settlement might be reached in time.

Oil prices

before the conflict began, indicating lingering caution in markets.

The Strait of Hormuz, a vital artery for oil exports from the Persian Gulf, had been a focal point of market volatility since the outbreak of hostilities. Its reopening is seen as a significant step toward stabilising supply chains, though uncertainty persists about how long the arrangement will hold.

Oil markets have experienced sharp swings throughout the conflict, with sentiment repeatedly shifting between optimism and concern. Friday's development marks one of the clearest signals so far that supply flows could normalise, even if temporarily.

The drop in crude prices is expected to ease pressure on global energy costs, which had surged amid fears of prolonged disruption in one of the world's most important oil transit routes.

MEA

said New Delhi wants to engage constructively with Dhaka.

"I would also like to emphasise that the external affairs minister reiterated India's desire to engage constructively with the new government (in Dhaka) and further strengthen bilateral ties," he said.

The MEA spokesperson further underlined that India had conveyed its desire to work with the new government and strengthen bilateral ties through established mechanisms.

Both the Indian and Bangladeshi governments, further, had agreed to explore avenues for deepening cooperation and remain engaged on regional and global issues of mutual interest.

The relations between India and Bangladesh came under strain after the interim government came to power following the collapse of the Sheikh Hasina government in August, 2024.

The two sides initiated efforts to stabilise the relations after Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, accompanied by Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri, represented India at the inauguration of Bangladesh Nationalist Party leader Tarique Rahman as the prime minister in Dhaka on February 17. Rahman became the prime minister following his party's landslide victory in the parliamentary polls.

Adani now Asia's richest infrastructure growth and energy transition.

Adani is currently ranked 19th on the Bloomberg Billionaires Index, which tracks the world's 500 richest individuals and is updated daily.

In comparison, Ambani's wealth, anchored by Reliance Industries with interests spanning energy, telecom and retail, has recorded relatively moderate gains, allowing Adani to edge ahead once more.

Globally, Elon Musk continues to lead the rankings with a net worth of USD 656 billion. He is followed by Larry Page at USD 286 billion and Jeff Bezos at USD 269 billion.

The rivalry between Adani and Ambani has seen multiple shifts in recent years. Ambani held the top spot in India for over a decade until Adani's rapid stock gains propelled him ahead in February 2022. However, a report by US short seller Hindenburg triggered a steep decline in Adani Group stocks, wiping out USD 100 billion in value at its lowest point and allowing Ambani to regain the lead.

Women's Reservation Bill falls victim to...

However, the ruling dispensation asserted that the struggle to give the rights to women will continue. Out of 528 members who voted, the Bill required 352 votes for a two-third majority.

According to the Bill, Lok Sabha seats were to be increased to 816 from the current 543 to "operationalise" the women's reservation law before the 2029 parliamentary polls, following a delimitation exercise based on the 2011 Census.

Seats were also to be increased in state and Union territory assemblies to accommodate 33 per cent reservation for women.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, senior ministers Rajnath Singh and Amit Shah, Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi were among those present during the voting.

This was for the first time that a Bill under the Modi government was defeated in Parliament. Soon after the result of the voting came, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla adjourned the House for the day.

The three-day special sitting was convened from April 16 to 18 for getting the Parliament's approval to the Bill.

After the Constitution Amendment Bill was defeated, Parliamentary Affairs Minister Kiren Rijiju conveyed to the Speaker that the government has no intention to move ahead with the two other Bills -- the Delimitation Bill and the Union Territories Laws (Amendment) Bill -- as both the legislations were interlinked with the Constitution Amendment Bill.

Rijiju said the Opposition lost a historic opportunity to honour the country's women but the Modi government's struggle to give rights to women will continue.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah blamed Congress, TMC, DMK, and Samajwadi Party for not allowing the Bill's passage. He said after the Bill was defeated, the opposition parties were celebrating and raising victory cries which is beyond imagination and condemnable.

"Now, the women of the country will not get the 33 per cent reservation in the Lok Sabha and state assemblies, which was their right. The Congress and its allies have done this not for the first time, but repeatedly. Their mindset is neither in the interest of women nor of the country," he said in a post on X in Hindi.

Shah said this "insult to the women of the country will not stop here but will travel far and wide. The opposition will have to face the wrath of women not only in the 2029 Lok Sabha elections, but at every level, in every election, and at every place," he said.

Earlier, while replying to the two-day long debate, Shah assured the opposition of an official amendment mentioning a 50 per cent increase in Lok Sabha seats in all states and Union territories if the opposition parties support the women's reservation Bill. However, the opposition did not budge.

"The women's reservation amendment Bill will fall flat if the opposition does not vote in its favour. But women of the country are watching who the obstacle is," he said.

"If anyone hears this discussion carefully, one will realise that nobody opposed the constitutional amendment for women's reservation. Everyone said 'we welcome this move'. But all the members of the INDIA group clearly opposed women's reservation," Shah said.

The Home Minister said the Constitution provides for periodic delimitation and that includes provisions for increasing the SC and ST seats in proportion to their growing population.

"In a way, those opposing delimitation are also opposing the increase in SC and ST seats," he said in a strong rebuttal to opposition's charges of a hidden agenda behind the government's proposal of delimitation of constituencies.

Shah also said that there are 127 seats where there are more than 20 lakh voters and it goes against the spirit of the principle of 'one person, one vote and one value'. He also dismissed the claim that the Constitution amendment Bill brought for providing women reservation in legislatures was aimed at delaying caste enumeration during census.

"A meeting of the Union Cabinet in 2025 decided to carry out caste enumeration along with the census exercise and the process has already started," he said.

Earlier, in social media posts, Modi urged all Lok Sabha MPs to vote in favour of the Bill and said the time has come to ensure that half of the nation's population receives its rightful due in decision-making.

"I would like to appeal to all members of Parliament... Please reflect upon your conscience, remembering the women in your own families. Please do not deprive our 'nari shakti' of new opportunities," he said.

While seeking the support of all parties, PM Modi made a fervent appeal in the Lok Sabha, saying he will get all the credit in case the Opposition opposed the Bills, but was ready to give a "blank cheque" to all in case everyone supported the legislation.

While participating in the debate, Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi said the Constitution amendment Bill has nothing to do with women's reservation and is instead an attempt to change the country's electoral map to retain power -- a "shameful act".

The Congress leader said the proposal does not address women's empowerment.

"This (Bill) is an attempt to change the country's electoral map, using and hiding behind India's women," he said.

After the Bill was defeated, Gandhi said if the prime minister is serious in providing women reservation in Parliament, he should bring the 2023 law and the opposition would extend its support outrightly.

"As I have said, it was an attack on the Constitution and we defeated that. We clearly said that this was not a women's Bill, but an attempt to change India's electoral structure which we have stopped," he said.

The Opposition had objected to all the amendments right from the beginning. BJD chief Naveen Patnaik had appealed to all MPs from Odisha to jointly fight for the protection of the state's political and economic interests, which he said are under "threat" due to the Delimitation Bill.

The constitutional amendment Bills require a simple majority of the total members of the House, but also need a two-thirds majority of the total members who cast their votes. While the women's quota Bill met the first criterion, it failed the second.

Rs 275 cr real estate fraud alleged in Mumbai SRA project; complaint filed with ED, SEBI

OUR CORRESPONDENT

MUMBAI: A dispute over property rights has emerged in Mumbai's Malad East.

Allegations point to several firms, among them B Right Group -- a company available on public markets -- and Shah Housecon Private Limited. These entities face claims of involvement in a broad financial deception.

The matter connects to redevelopment efforts at Khot Dongri under the Slum Rehabilitation Authority framework. The initiative is currently under investigation for its handling of funds.

Complaints sent to the Enforcement Directorate and SEBI point to fund misuse and investor deception, alongside financial misconduct affecting informal settlement dwellers; more than Rs 275 crore now falls within investigative focus.

It appears SHPL, responsible for the project, may have signed several concurrent arrangements -- alongside MoUs -- with parties such as B Right Group, Royal Realtors, Jha Buildcon, and Salasar Developer, among others. Despite earlier obligations possibly existing, these deals were finalised absent any notice of previous ties or monetary claims. As a result, buyers might have been misled due to withheld details.

Investigation continues into reports of multiple fundraising rounds tied to one project, even after its development rights and sales potential were assigned to lenders. Although prior commitments existed, new capital was reportedly gathered -- prompting scrutiny over possible misuse of investor money.

Questions arise where oversight should have prevented overlapping claims on the same asset. Financial channels appear entangled, with inflows arriving after key portions were no longer available for a pledge. Oversight gaps may have allowed repeated offers under misleading conditions. Where promises exceeded actual ownership, risks shifted silently to later contributors. Evidence now focuses on timing, disclosure, and allocation patterns across funding phases.

Under close examination stands the function of B Right Group, amid claims it employed linked organisations to move money through complex channels, possibly distorting asset values while giving false impressions to stakeholders. Suspicion arises from authorities who observe patterns where financial flows appear disconnected from actual business operations, instead forming loops across affiliated parties under shared influence.

At present, investigation into the issue is being conducted by the Economic Offences Wing. Several FIRs are now filed -- targeting central figures such as those linked to SHPL and B Right Group. Fraud charges appear across filings, alongside allegations tied to dishonest retention of assets. Deception forms another basis noted within the legal documents.

‘Tamil Nadu defeats Delhi’: Stalin hails Centre’s Lok Sabha setback

OUR CORRESPONDENT

CHENNAI: On the defeat of the Constitution Amendment Bill in the Lok Sabha, Chief Minister M K Stalin on Friday said, “Tamil Nadu defeats Delhi; TN fought, TN won”.

The south stood united and made its voice heard and democracy prevailed, he said.

Though the Centre could have delinked the Women's Reservation Bill and passed it in the Lower House, they chose not to do so and “women are watching”, he added.

Reacting to the defeat of the Bill, Stalin posted in social media a portrait of him setting on fire a copy of the delimitation Bill.

The Bill sought to implement reservation for women in legislatures in 2029 and also increase the number of seats in the Lok Sabha.

Stalin said: “On April 23 (when TN will vote for the Assembly election), we will defeat Delhi's arrogance, together with slaves who support that arrogance.”

Furthermore, the chief minister said that delimitation was about representation, about who gets a voice in India's democracy. “It must strengthen the union, not weaken its balance,” he said in a statement.

Elaborating, Stalin said the BJP called for a special session in the middle of state elections, over two-and-a-half years after the Women's Reservation Bill was passed in 2023, only to confirm that it cannot be implemented without a Census and delimitation.

Unopposed win as Harivansh returns as RS deputy chairman

‘Will uphold dignity of House, rights of members’

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: Nominated member Harivansh was elected unopposed as Rajya Sabha Deputy Chairman on Friday for a third consecutive term.

Harivansh was elected after a motion, moved by the Leader of the House, J P Nadda and seconded by S Phangnon Konyak, to elect him as deputy chairman, was adopted with a voice vote.

A total of five motions were moved for electing Harivansh as the deputy chairman.

“I declare that Harivansh ji has been chosen as the deputy chairman of the Rajya Sabha,” Chairman C P Radhakrishnan said after the motion was adopted.

The Chairman then urged the Leader of the House, Nadda, and Leader of the Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge to escort him to the seat designated for the deputy chairman. The two later took him to the seat next to the Leader of the Opposiintuitive work style,” Modi said while congratulating him.

“We have all witnessed the increasing effectiveness of the House's power under Harivansh ji's leadership, and I can say that not only does he conduct the proceedings of the House, he also utilises the experiences from his life to enrich the House,” the prime minister said.

Modi said Harivansh's election for the third time to the post reflected the confidence the House has in him and his experience.

Members, belonging to various parties, also felicitated Harivansh on his reelection.

Speaking after the members' felicitation, Harivansh said: “I want to assure the House that while remaining within the limits of Parliamentary rules and tradition, and the Constitution, I will make every effort to uphold the dignity of the House, protect the rights of members and ensure smooth functioning of the House.”

‘Barbed-wire gift’: Tharoor slams women’s quota-delimitation link

‘Delimitation political demonetisation’

NEW DELHI: Prime Minister Narendra Modi has wrapped the gift of justice to ‘nari shakti’ in “barbed wire” by linking the implementation of women's reservation to the expansion of Parliament, Congress leader Shashi Tharoor said on Friday and asserted that delimitation will turn out to be “political demonetisation”.

Participating in a debate in the Lok Sabha on the three Bills introduced for amendments in the women's quota law and setting up a delimitation commission, Tharoor demanded that delimitation be deferred. He called for ensuring that the “march toward a ‘New India’ does not give us a disunited India”.

The MP from Thiruvananthapuram said linking women's reservation with delimitation is to hold the aspirations of Indian women hostage to “one of the most contentious and complex” administrative exercises in the country's history.

“The issues surrounding delimitation require extensive consultation with all stakeholders, including all state governments, all political parties, and civil society. It cannot be rushed,” he said.

“I urge the government to decouple these issues and pass the Women's Reservation Bill today, we will support it. The PM spoke with passion about nari shakti. Let it take effect in the next general election, using our current seat count. Show the women of India that your commitment is not mere rhetorical flourish,” the senior Congress leader said.

Delimitation, he stressed, must be deferred and a formal mechanism such as a joint parliamentary committee be constituted to debate a new federal settlement that protects the interests of all states.

“Let us give women their due now, and give our nation our Union of states, the time it needs to solve its demographic challenges with wisdom, not just arithmetic,” Tharoor asserted.

He pointed out that there is near unanimous political consensus in favour of women's reservation. Every major party realises that the time for tokenism is over and the era of collective partnership must begin, he said.

“The PM says the government has brought nari shakti a gift of justice but he has wrapped it in barbed wire, tethering the implementation of women's reservation to the expansion of Parliament, to numbers from the 2011 census and an exercise of delimitation,” he said. “You have proposed delimitation with such haste, the same haste that you showed on demonetisation. Unfortunately, we all know what damage that did to the country. Delimitation will turn out to be political demonetisation. Don't do it, sir,” Tharoor added.

‘Electoral map tweak to cling to power’: Rahul

NEW DELHI: Lacing his speech in the Lok Sabha with analogies and jibes at the government, Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi on Friday said the constitution amendment Bill has nothing to do with women's reservation and is instead an attempt to change the country's electoral map to retain power -- a “shameful act”.

Participating in a debate on three Bills related to amendments to the women's quota law and the setting up of a delimitation commission, the Congress leader said the proposal does not address women's empowerment.

“This (Bill) is an attempt to change the country's electoral map, using and hiding behind India's women,” he said, calling it a “shameful act”.

Gandhi said the government should bring back the 2023 Women's Reservation Act for implementation, assuring the opposition's full support for its immediate passage.

He said a “central truth” in India's history has been the “brutal, cruel, and unforgiving treatment” of the OBCs, Dalits, minorities, and women.

“What is being attempted here is a bypass of the caste census. They are trying to avoid giving power, representation to my OBC brothers and sisters, and instead take power away from them,” Gandhi said, adding that the real agenda is “Manuvad over Samvidhan”.

He also alleged that the government wants to ensure that the caste census has no bearing on representation for the next 15 years. They want to “kick the ball down the street”, he said.

Calling the government's move to bring the Bill a “very dangerous thing”, Gandhi said, “You (government) are scared of what is happening in the politics of this country, you are scared of the erosion of your strength, and you are trying to rejig the Indian political map.”

‘Raising victory cries over it reprehensible,’ Shah fumes over LS loss

NEW DELHI: Slamming the Congress and its allies for the defeat of a Constitution amendment Bill to implement 33 per cent women's quota in legislative bodies before the 2029 Parliamentary polls, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday said their mindset is neither in the interest of women, nor the country.

The Congress and its allies did not allow the passage of the essential Bill, which would have given 33 per cent reservation to women in Lok Sabha and state/UT assemblies, he said.

“Rejecting the Bill that would grant 33 per cent reservation to women, celebrating it, and raising victory cries over it was truly reprehensible and beyond imagination,” Shah said in a message on X after the Constitution (131st Amendment) Bill failed to secure two-third majority during voting in the Lok Sabha on Friday night.

“Today, a very strange scene unfolded in the Lok Sabha as the Congress, TMC, DMK, and the Samajwadi Party did not allow the passage of the essential Constitution amendment Bill, the ‘Nari Shakti Vandan Adhinyam’.

“Now, the women of the country will not get 33 per cent reservation in the Lok Sabha and state assemblies, which was their right. The Congress and its allies have done this, not for the first time but repeatedly.”

High drama as BJP women MPs stage protest after Bill defeat

‘Not us, but cause of women’s representation has been defeated’

NEW DELHI: Women MPs of the BJP on Friday held a protest in the Parliament House complex against the Congress and its allies after the Constitution Amendment Bill to implement reservation for women in legislatures from 2029 and increase the strength of the Lok Sabha was defeated in the Lower House.

Holding placards and raising slogans of “India will not tolerate this insult to women”, they alleged that the opposition, led by Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, deliberately blocked a measure aimed at enhancing women's representation in legislatures.

Union minister Shobha Karandlaje said the move has “insulted” crores of women awaiting political empowerment. “Today, 65 crore women were waiting. We have not been defeated, but the cause of women's representation has been defeated in Parliament. We will not accept this mindset. The INDI alliance has insulted women; Rahul Gandhi and the Congress are responsible for this,” she said.

Union minister Raksha Khadse accused the opposition of blocking a “historic” move to grant reservation to women, alleging it has exposed their “anti-women” intent despite the government addressing all concerns. “The opposition did not allow a historic decision to be taken today. Women were about to receive their rightful entitlements.

“This shows their intent; they are opposed to women. They talk about women's dignity and respect, but when it comes to action, they step back,” she said.

Union minister and BJP MP Annpurna Devi alleged that the opposition alliance was intent on stalling the passage of the “Nari Shakti Bill”. “It is clear they do not want women

BJP MP Kangana Ranaut termed the developments “shameful” and “deeply painful”, accusing the opposition of demoralising women. “It is a very shameful situation. THE OBSERVATIONS CAME FROM A BENCH OF JUSTICES VIKRAM NATH AND SANDEEP MEHTA

SC: State can't be allowed to plead helplessness under own inadequacies

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Friday termed "startling and disquieting" the bizarre submission of the Madhya Pradesh government pleading helplessness that its forest officials lack adequate firepower to match the weaponry of the sand mafia.

The court observed that the State cannot be allowed to "plead helplessness" or take shelter under its own inadequacies, particularly when those directly contribute to the perpetuation of illegality, violence, loss of human life and an irreversible destruction of habitats vital to critically-endangered species.

The observations came from a bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta that passed a slew of directions in a suo-motu case titled "In Re: Illegal sand mining in the National Chambal Sanctuary and threat

Highlights

» Bench said it demonstrates a complete and manifest apathy on the part of MP and Rajasthan govts towards the discharge of their fundamental constitutional obligations

» 'The failure to equip enforcement personnel adequately and to ensure their safety while discharging official duties strikes at the very root of governance and the rule of law'

to endangered aquatic wildlife".

"What is even more startling and disquieting is the fact brought to our notice that, in an affidavit filed before the National Green Tribunal, it has been stated on behalf of the state of Madhya Pradesh that forest officials do not possess the necessary equipment, more specifically, adequate weaponry, to effectively deal with the sand mafia, who are reportedly armed with superior weaponry and modern vehicles," the bench said.

It said this disclosure, besides justifying inaction, exposes a "shocking state of unpreparedness" and a lack of institutional will on the part of the State machinery in tackling unlawful and organised illegal-mining activities.

"The State cannot be permitted to plead helplessness or take shelter under its own inadequacies, particularly when such inadequacies directly contribute to the perpetuation of illegality, violence, loss of human life and the irreversible destruction of habitats vital to critically-endangered species," the court said.

The bench said it demonstrates a complete and manifest apathy on the part of the Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan governments towards the discharge of their fundamental constitutional obligations -- maintenance of public order and prevention of unlawful and unruly activities that have a deleterious impact on the public at large and the fragile ecosystem involved.

"The failure to equip enforcement personnel adequately and to ensure their safety while discharging official duties strikes at the very root of governance and the rule of law," it said.

The bench said it was constrained to observe that such an approach not only emboldens the perpetrators of crime but also erodes public confidence in the State's ability to uphold law and order, thereby necessitating immediate, concrete and accountable corrective measures at the highest levels of administration.

"Resultantly, this court is of the considered opinion that the first and foremost step required to be undertaken is the strengthening of the surveillance-and-monitoring framework so as to effectively curb and deter illegal sand-mining activities," it said.

The court said a robust, coordinated and technology-driven mechanism, ensuring real-time monitoring and prompt enforcement, is essential to prevent the continued perpetration of such unlawful activities and restore the rule of law in the affected regions.

The bench said the National Green Tribunal (NGT) is grappling with the issue of illegal sand mining since 2022, albeit without any significant success.

The apex court noted that while hearing the suo-motu matter on April 2, it had transferred to itself the matter pending before the NGT.

Maha: 'Godman' Kharat's close aide, wife die in car crash

Opposition leaders raise suspicion over incident

OUR CORRESPONDENT

MUMBAI: Jailed self-styled godman Ashok Kharat's close associate and his wife died when their car rammed into a stationary container truck on Samruddhi Expressway in Maharashtra's Ahilyanagar district on Friday, prompting some Opposition leaders to raise suspicion over the incident.

Police identified the deceased as Jitendra Shelke (55) and his wife Anuradha (50). Their 14-year-old son sustained serious injuries in the accident, an official informed.

Shelke was a close associate of Nashik-based godman Kharat, who has been arrested on rape and fraud charges, among others. Shelke was Kharat's business partner and also vice-president of Shivanika Trust set up by the godman, according to the official.

The accident took place at around 12 pm near Dhotre village under Kopargaon police station limits in Ahilyanagar

» Shelke, who was driving the car lost control of vehicle and rammed into parked container truck district, 250 kilometres from Mumbai, in western Maharashtra district, he said.

Shelke, who was driving the car, his wife and son were coming to Thane from Chhatrapati Sambhajanagar via the Mumbai-Nagpur Samruddhi Expressway. As the car reached Dhotre, he lost control of the vehicle and rammed into a container truck parked on the roadside, the official said.

"All three suffered grievous injuries in the crash and were rushed to a local hospital, where Shelke and his wife were declared dead on arrival. The couple's son is undergoing treatment at the hospital. A case of accidental death was registered at Kopargaon police station," he informed.

With the help of Regional Transport Office authorities and automobile experts, a crash analysis will be carried out to determine the cause of the fatal accident, said Ahilyanagar Superintendent of Police Somnath Gharage.

Opposition leaders, meanwhile, dubbed the incident "unbelievable" and wondered if it was "orchestrated" to ensure suppression of facts in the probe against Kharat.

NCP (SP) MLA Rohit Pawar said the accidental death of Shivanika Sansthan vice-president and Kharat associate Shelke is shocking.

"One wonders whether the accident was orchestrated to ensure certain facts about Kharat do not come out. A detailed investigation must be conducted," he added.

SC refuses to protect Pawan Khera, asks him to move Assam court

NEW DELHI: In two consecutive legal setbacks, the Supreme Court on Friday refused to entertain Congress leader Pawan Khera's plea seeking protection from arrest till April 20 in a case lodged against him for levelling charges against Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma's wife that she possesses multiple passports.

The top court asked Khera to move a court of competent jurisdiction in Assam for anticipatory bail in the case and made clear that the court there will hear his plea without taking note of adverse remarks, if any, made by it and the Telangana High Court.

At a press conference on

Pawan Khera

April 5, Khera alleged that the Assam chief minister's wife, Riniki Bhuyan Sharma, has multiple passports and foreign property, which were not declared in Sarma's affidavit for the April 9 Assembly polls in the state.

Sarma and his wife have rejected the allegations as false and fabricated.

The fresh order assumes significance in light of the fact that a bench of Justices J K Maheshwari and Atul S Chandurkar, on April 15, took note of the Assam government's plea and stayed the Telangana High Court's order granting Khera one-week transit anticipatory bail in the case.

The top court's two successive orders, staying the transit bail granted by the Telangana High Court and refusing to protect Khera from arrest till April 20, may enable the Assam Police to take coercive measures against the Congress leader.

ED raids Punjab minister: Mann slams Centre

BJP's election game in Punjab through ED continues, alleges Punjab CM

MPOST BUREAU

Bhagwant Mann

CHANDIGARH: With Enforcement Directorate (ED) raids at the homes of two AAP leaders in three days, Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann called out the BJP for using central agencies to begin its Punjab election campaign, saying a party unable to find 117 candidates is trying to spread fear instead of winning public support.

The Chief Minister emphasised that Opposition governments are being harassed through blocked funds, Governors, ED, CBI and the Election Commission, while leaders joining the BJP emerged clean from its 'washing machine'. He said AAP would not be intimidated, asserting that Punjabis may lose their heads but would never bow in fear, and told the BJP to prepare for 2027 by working among the people instead of relying on raids and pressure tactics.

Addressing a press conference, CM Mann stated, "Our country is called the biggest democracy in the world, the world's largest democracy. Here, people elect the government of their choice. It is the duty of the Central government to give every state what is rightfully theirs, above politics and above party lines. But for some time now, we have been seeing that democracy is slowly being strangled. All non BJP governments are being troubled, either directly by stopping funds from the Centre or through Governors in one way or another."

Speaking on the current raid, CM Mann revealed, "Today, an ED raid is underway at the house of minister Sanjeev Arora. He had badly defeated BJP in Ludhiana by-election. So today he too has become tainted according to the BJP. It means BJP has started preparations for the 2027 Assembly elections. Send ED, send Income Tax, send notices, create fear. Because they cannot even find 117 people to contest elections. BJP cannot find 117 candidates, so they are saying either contest under fear or come out clean from our 'washing machine'."

"This is a very dangerous trend. Democracy is being murdered. We strongly condemn this. Only non BJP governments are being harassed. Only Opposition leaders face the stick of ED, and nothing comes out of it. The case against Arvind Kejriwal and Manish Sisodia was also discharged. That means it was such a false case that even a trial could not start. But they say first put them inside jail, let elections happen, then we will see later," he added.

Dual citizenship case: Allahabad HC orders FIR against Rahul Gandhi

BISWAJEET BANERJEE

LUCKNOW: The Lucknow bench of the Allahabad High Court has ordered registration of an FIR against Congress leader Rahul Gandhi in connection with a case related to alleged dual citizenship. The order came after a hearing on Friday in an appeal challenging a lower court decision that had rejected the plea seeking an FIR.

During the hearing, the Uttar Pradesh government's counsel submitted that the matter should be investigated by the Central Bureau of Investigation. Accepting the submission, the bench directed that an FIR be registered and the case be transferred to the CBI for investigation. With the FIR now to be filed, the central agency will take over the probe.

The case is being heard in detail at the Lucknow bench for the first time, with the Union Home Ministry placing its position on record. The petitioner argued that an affidavit submitted in the matter is crucial and supports the allegations made in the plea.

During the proceedings, Justice Subhash Vidyarthi directed the Foreigners Division of the Home Ministry to produce all relevant documents. The ministry presented case-related records before the court.

Petitioner Vignesh Shishir claimed that documents and evidence placed before the court indicate that Rahul Gandhi may have been registered as a voter in the United Kingdom, with records allegedly showing participation in elections there. The petition has been filed as a criminal application challenging the January 28, 2026 order of a special MP-MLA magistrate.

The lower court had earlier refused to direct the Kotwali police station in Rae Bareilly to register an FIR.

Ahead of Panchayat polls, HP govt enhances MSP for wheat, maize

ASHWANI SHARMA

SHIMLA: With Panchayat elections drawing closer, the Himachal Pradesh government decided to adopt a populist approach and launch a drive to fill 1,000 constable posts in the state police.

A Cabinet meeting was held here to take key decisions before Chief Minister Sukhvirinder Singh Sukhu, who presided, left for Delhi en route to Kolkata.

The Cabinet decided to enhance the minimum support price (MSP) of wheat from Rs 60 to Rs 80 per kg, while of maize from Rs 40 to Rs 50 per kg, barley from the Pangri Valley in Chamba from Rs 60 to Rs 80 per kg, raw turmeric from Rs 90 to Rs 150 per kg and ginger at the rate of Rs 30 per kg produced through natural farming.

The Cabinet also approved the proposal to create and fill 500 posts of assistant forest guards in the Forest Department, with 50 per cent quota to the Van Mitras.

It was also decided to engage eight Naib Tehsildars, 20 Kanungo and 44 Patwaris from retired officers and officials of the Revenue Department on fixed remuneration for the Forest Department.

Moreover, the government would also engage 10 legal consultants in 10 territorial circles of the forest department.

The Cabinet approved engaging retired faculty members as professors in new medical colleges to effectively address the shortage of teaching staff in various specialties.

The Cabinet approved the reorganisation of the Jal Shakti Department's divisional administrative setup in Sirmaur district, aligning it with constituency boundaries to improve efficiency and ensure better service delivery to the public.

To disburse the social security pension to beneficiaries in time, the Cabinet decided to amend Rules 10 (2) and (3) of the Himachal Pradesh Social Security (Pension/Allowance) Rules, 2010.

J&K: Year after brutal attack, Pahalgam strongly emerges out of shadow of terror

Brutal attack carried out by LeT cadres led to an exodus of tourists from Jammu and Kashmir we didn't expect such open grounds here. The security arrangements are excellent," Ashutosh Kosaria from Chhattisgarh told the news agency.

Coming from a state haunted by Left-Wing Extremism not so long ago, Kosaria understands the heavy presence of security forces in Pahalgam.

"We're from Chhattisgarh. We have seen the Army in Bastar. It's the same here. We faced no problems at all," he said.

Last year's terror attack did not deter the Kosaria family.

"So many people live here. You can see the whole city from a temple above. It's hard to believe that such things (terror attacks) can happen here," Kosaria said.

He also had a piece of advice for those willing to visit Pahalgam.

"I think this is a part of India that everyone should see. It's so beautiful. If you are planning a trip, keep at least 10-15 days to explore the region."

Key Points

» Now, about a year down the line, the famed meadows of Pahalgam are once again buzzing with tourist activity

» Authorities prompted to shut nearly 50 tourist spots before reopening some of those in a phased manner after a security audit

Tanushree Dutta from Kolkata was all praise for the security arrangements in Kashmir.

"The security is excellent. We visited Gulmarg, Sonmarg and Pahalgam. We were not deterred by last year's terror attack. What matters is we are here now, and the place is secure," she said.

"Maybe it was risky back then, but not now. The Army and police are everywhere - they helped us a lot. We also saw snowfall in Gulmarg, and I can't describe the feeling. There's nothing to worry about," she said.

Pradeep Malik from Panipat in Haryana echoed similar sentiments.

"The security is tight everywhere. The logistics are very good. It seems there is no impact of last year's terror attack. In fact, the security is tighter now," Malik said.

"I think everyone should visit Kashmir once. It doesn't feel like we're in our own country. There are check-posts everywhere, with a heavy presence of Army personnel. Earlier, we were apprehensive about visiting Kashmir, but not anymore. There's no fear," Malik said.

Amaan Imran from Rajasthan said the Pahalgam incident did not make much of a difference when he decided to visit the Valley.

"The place itself is beautiful. The security arrangements are excellent. There are Army posts at short distances. There's nothing to be scared of," Imran said. WITH AGENCY INPUTS

NSA Ajit Doval and chiefs of intelligence agencies are expected to take part in the proposed conference.

India has five CAPFs -- Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF), Border Security Force (BSF), Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP), Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) and Sashastra Seema Bal (SSB) -- with a combined manpower of about 10 lakh personnel.

These forces perform various internal security duties, including border guarding, protecting vital installations, assisting states in maintaining law and order, and providing VIP security, in addition to undertaking counter-insurgency and counter-terrorist operations.

Bengaluru: NCB burns confiscated drugs worth Rs 38 crore

OUR CORRESPONDENT

BENGALURU: The Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB), Bengaluru Zonal Unit, carried out a major drug disposal operation on Friday, destroying a large quantity of seized narcotics in line with legal provisions and environmental norms.

Environmental guidelines shape the process entirely. Disposal follows structured protocols set by law enforcement frameworks. Legal oversight ensures proper handling throughout the event. Controlled elimination marks part of ongoing regulatory compliance efforts.

Under Section 52A of the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, the disposal operation took place following directives from the Supreme Court. At a licensed site located in Hoskote, combustion of confiscated materials occurred, supervised by an officially appointed Regional Drug Disposal Committee.

A quantity of 128.75 kg of illicit material, tied to thirteen incidents, met destruction throughout the operation. Among the confiscated substances were ganja, hydroponically grown cannabis, cocaine, methamphetamine, MDMA, and THC - valued collectively at approximately Rs 38 crore on urban markets.

Two thousand twenty-six sees the NCB Bengaluru team dismantle illicit substances a second time. Previously, February fifth saw the elimination of nearly 1,607 kilograms - valued at about Rs 11 crore. Now, following this most recent effort, accumulated disposals rise to 1,735 kilograms altogether.

Disposal carried out on schedule helps block unauthorised access, officials noted. Under the NDPS Act, early release measures are applied by the NCB to keep procedures moving without delay.

PAUSE BEFORE PAY

India's digital payments revolution has been defined by one simple, almost magical promise: instant money. With a tap or scan, funds move in seconds, collapsing distance, eliminating delay and redefining convenience. The Unified Payments Interface (UPI) has become the backbone of this transformation, processing billions of transactions each month and embedding itself into the daily lives of Indians across income groups. Yet, the very speed that made UPI a global benchmark is now under scrutiny. The Reserve Bank of India's proposal to introduce a cooling-off period of up to one hour for certain high-value person-to-person transfers marks a significant shift—from unrestrained velocity to calibrated caution.

At first glance, the idea of deliberately slowing down payments appears counterintuitive, even regressive. After all, the success of UPI lies in its frictionless design. However, this proposal is not about dismantling speed; it is about refining it. The RBI has been careful to target only specific categories—high-value transfers between individuals—while leaving everyday merchant payments and low-value transactions untouched. This distinction is critical. The objective is not to disrupt routine commerce but to introduce a safety valve in situations where the financial stakes are higher, and the risk of irreversible loss is significantly greater. In that sense, the move represents not a retreat from innovation but an evolution of it.

The rationale behind the proposal is rooted in the changing nature of digital fraud. Unlike traditional cyberattacks that exploit technological vulnerabilities, most financial fraud in India today is driven by social engineering. Victims are not hacked; they are persuaded. Scammers exploit urgency, fear or trust to manipulate individuals into transferring money themselves. Once the transaction is executed, the system's efficiency becomes a liability—funds vanish instantly, leaving little room for recovery. A cooling-off period introduces what many experts describe as a "golden hour", a window during which users can reassess their decisions, verify the legitimacy of a request or abort a transaction altogether. In a landscape where deception often operates in minutes, even a brief pause can be decisive.

Critics, however, are not entirely without reason. There is a legitimate concern that introducing delays could dilute the user experience that made UPI ubiquitous in the first place. For a generation accustomed to immediacy, even a short wait may feel like friction. There are also operational questions—how such a system will be implemented seamlessly, how users will be notified, and whether it could inadvertently create confusion or anxiety. Yet, these concerns must be weighed against the scale of the problem. With UPI processing over 22 billion transactions in a single month, even a small percentage of fraudulent activity translates into substantial financial and psychological harm. In that context, a targeted, limited delay appears less like an inconvenience and more like a necessary correction.

More importantly, the RBI's proposal signals a broader philosophical shift in digital finance—from speed as the ultimate goal to trust as the defining metric. A payment system that is fast but unforgiving may excel in efficiency but falter in reliability. By introducing a reversal window, the regulator is acknowledging a simple truth: users are human, and mistakes—whether coerced or accidental—are inevitable. The future of digital payments, therefore, cannot rely solely on velocity; it must incorporate resilience. This is where the conversation must expand beyond a mere one-hour pause. Industry voices have rightly pointed out that stronger safeguards should begin much earlier, through improved verification at onboarding, real-time fraud detection powered by artificial intelligence, and behavioural analytics that can flag suspicious patterns before a transaction is even initiated.

Ultimately, the success of this proposal will depend on its execution and public acceptance. Users will need time to adjust, and the ecosystem—from banks to fintech platforms—will have to ensure that the transition is smooth, transparent and well-communicated. But the direction is clear. India's digital payments journey is entering its next phase, one where speed is no longer an end in itself but a feature balanced by safeguards. In a system built on trust, the ability to pause may prove just as valuable as the ability to pay instantly.

When Compliance Becomes Cosmetic

The Nashik TCS case exposes how institutional silence, weak accountability, and flawed grievance systems allow workplace harassment to persist despite robust compliance frameworks

The recent sexual harassment allegations emerging from the Nashik office of Tata Consultancy Services are not merely about an individual act of misconduct. They point to something far more disturbing—the prolonged failure of institutional vigilance in spaces that outwardly claim professionalism, compliance, and ethical integrity.

What makes this case particularly troubling is the reported duration of the misconduct—spanning nearly four years—and the alleged inaction despite complaints. When harassment persists over such a long period, it ceases to be an individual aberration and becomes an institutional lapse. Systems did not just fail; they remained inert in the face of repeated warning signals.

Corporate India, especially its globally respected IT sector, prides itself on structured processes and adherence to the POSH Act, 2013. Internal Committees are constituted, awareness sessions are conducted, and zero-tolerance policies are prominently displayed. Yet, cases like this expose a troubling gap between policy visibility and institutional responsiveness.

A particularly serious concern in this case is the alleged role of the HR function. Reports indicate that the HR Manager, Nida Khan, who was also part of the POSH Internal Committee, failed to act on complaints raised by women employees. If true, this raises fundamental questions about conflict of interest and accountability.

The HR department is expected to be the first line of institutional defence—a neutral, responsive, and trusted channel for employees facing distress. When the very function entrusted with safeguarding dignity becomes passive,

The Nashik TCS case reflects a wider institutional rot—years of unchecked harassment, ignored complaints and passive authorities exposing a collective failure of accountability or worse, indifferent, the system effectively shuts down all avenues of redressal. The presence of such an individual within the POSH Committee further complicates the issue, as it undermines both the credibility and independence of the grievance mechanism.

Institutional vigilance is not merely about having committees in place; it is about how they function under pressure. A four-year continuation of alleged misconduct suggests that either complaints were not taken seriously, or they were managed in a way that prioritised organisational comfort over employee safety. Both possibilities are equally damaging.

One of the most glaring weaknesses exposed by this case is the absence of proactive vigilance mechanisms. Harassment is rarely a sudden occurrence. It evolves through patterns—informal complaints, behavioural discomfort, whispered concerns, and visible unease in the workplace. For four years, such signals would almost certainly have existed. The failure to detect and act upon them reflects a systemic blindness.

This brings into focus the reactive nature of existing grievance frameworks. The POSH mechanism largely depends on formal complaints. It places the burden on victims to come forward, document their experiences, and pursue the process—often at great personal and professional risk. In hierarchical organisations, where reporting lines influence careers, this expectation is not only unrealistic but unjust.

Equally troubling is the lack of accountability within the accountability system. What happens when those responsible for redressal fail in their duty? In most organisations, there is no clear answer. Internal Committees are rarely subject to independent audit or review. Their functioning remains opaque, their decisions confidential, and their failures largely invisible.

The Nashik case also highlights the risks associated with decentralised corporate structures. Satellite offices often function with limited oversight compared to headquarters. Local hierarchies become more entrenched, and informal power equations gain strength. In such environments, the absence of strong, independent monitoring mechanisms can allow misconduct to persist unchecked for years.

Another dimension is the misuse of confidentiality. While confidentiality is essential to protect complainants, it is often invoked to suppress institutional introspection. Silence becomes a shield—not for victims, but for the organisation. Over time, this erodes trust and creates a culture where employees feel that reporting wrongdoing is futile.

At a cultural level, the problem runs even deeper. Organisations tend to prioritise performance metrics over ethical climate. Delivery timelines, revenue targets, and client satisfaction are rigorously tracked. Behavioural integrity, workplace dignity, and psychological safety, however, remain intangible and under-monitored. This imbalance sends a clear message about what truly matters.

The way forward requires more than procedural corrections; it demands a structural and cultural shift.

First, there must be independent external oversight in serious cases, especially where internal mechanisms are compromised. Second, clear accountability must be fixed for those within HR and POSH Committees who fail to act. Inaction in such cases should attract consequences as serious as the misconduct itself.

Third, organisations must move towards proactive vigilance systems—regular behavioural audits, anonymous climate surveys, and early warning indicators that can detect patterns before they escalate. Fourth, there should be time-bound inquiry processes to prevent cases from lingering indefinitely.

Transparency, within the bounds of privacy, is equally essential. Sharing anonymised outcomes and actions taken can restore faith in the system and signal that accountability is real, not rhetorical.

The Nashik TCS case is not just about one organisation or one set of individuals. It is a mirror held up to institutional India. When harassment continues for years, when complaints fail to trigger action, and when those entrusted with responsibility remain passive, the failure is collective.

Institutions do not collapse overnight. They erode gradually—through silence, hesitation, and misplaced priorities. Vigilance is not a document; it is a discipline. And when that discipline weakens, the cost is borne not by systems, but by individuals who find themselves unheard, unprotected, and, ultimately, abandoned.

India's Tourism Woes

India continues to lose out to regional competitors in attracting foreign tourists, with the sector featuring low on government priority lists.

Every time I travel abroad, I can't help but feel a mix of amazement and regret. Astonished to see how other nations have amped up their tourism, attracting throngs of well-heeled, well-paying foreign travellers. And by comparison, India's beauty, diversity, history, and cultural wealth aren't even reaching a fraction of its tourism potential. This time, as I ate, prayed, and loved my way through Malaysia and Bali, the concern that India has completely dropped the ball on tourism only became stronger. Sadly, this is not an epiphany but rather a gradual eventuality that has only been exacerbated by disruptions caused by Covid-19 and relentless wars. Every year, we lose out to regional competition. India's allure among foreign travellers has been replaced by the exotic lands of Vietnam, Bali, and, of course, Thailand. The latest numbers on inward foreign travellers recently presented by the Ministry of Tourism to a parliamentary committee should have us asking some important questions.

Now here's where we are at — compared to other nations that have rebounded from Covid-19 tourism losses, India has faltered. In 2025, we received 9.02 million foreign tourists, plunging 9.4 per cent from 9.95 million in 2024. The decline has been attributed to a sharp drop in tourists from Bangladesh, who account for 17-18 per cent of total foreign tourists. In 2025, due to tensions between India and Bangladesh, the number of Bangladeshi tourists crashed from 17.5 lakh in 2025 to 4.66 lakh in 2024. The ministry has also justified the drop by saying that even though the growth in foreign tourists is low, they are spending more in India than before.

The parliamentary committee has raised the alarm in its 391st report presented to the Rajya Sabha on March 25, stating that our share in the global tourism pie remains sub-par at below 2 per cent. We are 39th on the list in spite of ranking 6th in natural resources and 9th in cultural resources, receiving only 0.90 crore foreign tourists as against, for example, France that gets approximately 10 crore, the committee said. I get it; the domestic tourist market remains strong, and that is welcome. What should worry us now more than ever is that, forget France and Italy, our regional competitors have outperformed us already.

In 2025, we received 9.02 million foreign tourists, plunging 9.4 per cent from 9.95 million in 2024

While we attract a trickle of travellers from the US (1.81 million), UK (1.08 million), Australia (0.54 million), and Canada (0.53 million), a cluster of small islands like Bali made records by receiving 7.05 million foreign tourists in 2025 with 1.63 million from Australia, 0.5 million each from India and China, and nations such as UK, South Korea, and France contributing to the rest. In 2025, Vietnam rolled out the red carpet to 21.2 million foreign arrivals, surpassing its own pre-pandemic best of 18 million. 5.3 million visitors came from China, 4.33 million from South Korea, and 1.23 million from Taiwan; 0.5 million came from India. Thailand, of course, continues to rule the tourism market in the region, registering 32.97 million foreign tourists in 2025 with 4.52 million travellers from Malaysia, 4.47 million from China, 2.49 million from India, 1.90 million from Russia, and 1.56 million from South Korea. Even with the current travel disruptions caused by West Asia, it's plain to see that countries such as Thailand, Indonesia, and Vietnam are benefitting while India largely misses out. Meanwhile, Indian tourists have been serious contributors to the booming tourism markets of places such as Vietnam and Bali. Many Indians, for instance, are skipping an irrationally expensive Goa to head to Vietnam or Thailand instead.

What aids this shift in trends? Well, unfortunately, we haven't helped our cause. Sky-high domestic flight fares, pinching room tariffs in peak season, dismal travel and tourism infrastructure — prompt even the Indian traveller to head to better shores for vacations. The value for money, amenities, and cleanliness that you get from an accommodation in Bangkok or Ho Chi Minh City is much higher than in Delhi, Mumbai, or Bangalore. Renting a villa in north Goa is a distant dream for normal travellers but quite easily possible in Bali. The quality of accommodation, food, and infrastructure are some of the leading reasons behind foreign tourists choosing other destinations over India. Another prominent reason being the lack of safety of women travellers in India. The perceived vulnerability and freedom for women travellers are the tailenders to an undeniable list that has foreign travellers, including solo women travellers, giving India the wide berth.

Overseas promotions are being skipped, funds remain unspent, projects are stalled, wildlife tourism remains expensive, and recommendations ignored — these are highlighted in the parliamentary committee report. Tourism is simply not getting the importance that it deserves, and while we can keep railing about it, only real action can stem the tide. Right now, positive movement is sporadic. Hopping on a flight out is easier.

Workers in Noida (NCR) are on the streets fighting for their survival. While the BJP promotes Uttar Pradesh as a 'model state', the reality is that workers in its largest industrial hub don't even earn a minimum wage of ₹450. It is ironic that while Parliament meets just 30km away to discuss policies that threaten the autonomy of South Indian states, the Center is silent on this massive labour strike. Instead of dialogue, the UP government is using police brutality, targeting even women to suppress the protest. This state-sponsored violence must end. The government must stop trying to break the strike and instead announce a fair and dignified wage hike immediately.

ISRAEL-HEZBOLLAH WAR DISPLACED MORE THAN A MILLION PEOPLE

Fragile calm in Lebanon as truce holds and families head home

BEIRUT: A fragile calm settled over parts of Lebanon on Friday as a 10-day ceasefire brokered by the United States took hold between Israel and Hezbollah, prompting thousands of displaced families to begin the journey home — even as uncertainty, destruction and Israeli warnings against going back to parts of southern Lebanon clouded their return.

By early morning, cars were backed up for kilometers on the route leading south to the damaged Qasmiyeh bridge over the Litani River, a key crossing linking the southern coastal city of Tyre to the north. Vehicles piled high with mattresses, suitcases and salvaged belongings crept forward through a single reopened lane, hastily repaired after an Israeli airstrike just a day earlier.

The latest Israel-Hezbollah war displaced more than a million people. Despite warnings from Lebanese officials that they should not immediately attempt to return to their homes, many began moving toward southern Lebanon in the hours after the ceasefire was declared. The truce appeared to be largely holding overnight.

In southern villages like Jibsheet, a trickle of residents returned to flattened apartment blocks and streets littered with chunks of concrete, twisted aluminum shutters and dangling electrical wires. "I feel free being back," said Zainab Fahas, 23. "But look they destroyed everything -- the square, the houses, the shops, everything."

Many did not believe that their ordeal was really over. "Israel doesn't want peace," said Ali Wahdan, 27, a medic walking on crutches over the rubble of the emergency services' headquarters in Jibsheet.

He was badly wounded in an Israeli airstrike that hit the building without warning during the first week of the war.

"I wish it were different," he said. "But this war will continue."

Ahmad Lahham, 48, waved the yellow Hezbollah flag standing on a mountain of rubble that used to be his apartment building, which had also housed a branch of Hezbollah's financial arm, Al-Qard Al-Hassan. "We are at the service of the fighters," said Lahham, pledging his loyalty to the group.

He praised Iran and said its pressure in its talks with the U.S. led to the truce, condemning Lebanon's direct talks with Israel.

"Only the Iranians stood with us, no one else," he said, calling Lebanon's leaders "the leadership of shame."

A local government official in Haret Hreik said Israel struck the neighborhood 62 times over the last six weeks.

"We've been able to clear up the rubble of the partially damaged buildings, but for those destroyed, we will need special equipment," Sadek Slim, the neighborhood's deputy mayor, told a press briefing.

The area was gridlocked with traffic, with people coming back to check on their homes and Hezbollah supporters zooming on scooters, waving the group's flag.

Israel prohibited from further strikes on Lebanon, says Trump

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump in a social media post on Friday said that Israel is "prohibited" by the US from further strikes on Lebanon and that "enough is enough" in the Israel-Hezbollah war.

The White House did not immediately respond to a question about whether the prohibition spans both offensive and defensive strikes.

Meanwhile, US Central Command said in a social media post on Friday said that zero vessels have evaded American naval forces during the blockade of Iran-linked ships, and 19 vessels "complied with direction from US forces to turn around and return to Iran."

The post from Central Command came shortly before Trump thanked Iran for opening up the Strait of Hormuz, which Trump said was "completely open and ready for business".

Trump, however, stressed that the blockade against Iranian shipping outside the Strait of Hormuz was still in place until negotiations were complete.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said Russian President Vladimir Putin has repeatedly made the offer to store Iran's stockpiles of enriched uranium and "the Russian side is open to that," but "the proposal currently isn't on the negotiating table."

"Now this proposal isn't in demand on the US side," Peskov told reporters.

That's according to two officials who spoke to the AP on Pakistan's army chief, Field Marshal Asim Munir, is in Tehran to carry forward negotiations between the United States and Iran and help de-escalate the widening regional crisis.

Pakistan's Foreign Ministry spokesperson Tahir Andrabi said Thursday at a news briefing that "peace in Lebanon and cessation of armed attacks in Lebanon are essential for peace talks".

Prime Minister Andrej Babiš said his country will offer a passive surveillance system to aid the international effort to reopen the blocked Strait of Hormuz.

Dozens of countries are expected to take part in a conference on Friday organised by the leaders of France and the UK and meant to provide security for shipping through the key waterway.

West Asia: Sharif, Erdogan discuss peace efforts

Islamabad: Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif and Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan on Friday discussed efforts for peace in West Asia.

The two leaders met on the sidelines of the 5th Antalya Diplomacy Forum in Antalya, Türkiye, the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) said in a statement.

Sharif and Erdogan exchanged views on recent regional developments, particularly the evolving situation in West Asia, it said.

"The two leaders emphasised the importance of effectively utilising the current window of opportunity to advance a durable and lasting regional peace," the statement said.

TOURIST ARRIVALS FELL FROM AN AVERAGE

'SL among worst impacted nations in Asia-Pacific due to West Asia conflict'

The report adds that trade output losses in the Asia-Pacific could range from roughly $97 billion to 299 billion

COLOMBO: Sri Lanka is among the worst impacted countries in the Asia-Pacific due to the ripple effects of the West Asia crisis, a UN report said.

The report published by the United Nations Development Programme, released on Thursday, provides a preliminary assessment on how the ongoing conflict is destabilising global trade, energy markets, and financial systems.

The report titled "Military escalation in the Middle East: Human Development Impacts Across Asia and the Pacific" shows that Sri Lanka is highly exposed, as 80.2 per cent of migrant-worker departures from the island nation in 2025 were to the Middle East, the report says.

Sri Lanka is among the worst impacted countries in the Asia-Pacific due to the ongoing conflict in West Asia, the UN report said.

The tourist arrivals also fell from an average of about 9,976 per day in February to 5,956 per day during March 1-8 2026, a drop of roughly 40 per cent, it added.

Sri Lanka, like its South Asian neighbours, namely Bangladesh, India and Pakistan, faces potential economic strain from weakened export ties to the Gulf, which can slash farm incomes, limit access to essential supplies, and stall production.

The estimated losses in tea exports stand at $10 to 15 million per week.

The report adds that trade output losses in the Asia-Pacific could range from roughly $97 billion to 299 billion, equivalent to 0.3 to 0.8 per cent of the total Gross Domestic Product of the region.

"Around 8.8 million people across the 14 countries simulated are at risk of falling into poverty", the report said.

China's Africa strategy under a shift

The 'Hunan Model' emerged because 'Angola Model' faced sustainability hurdles

SYDNEY: The global geo-economic volatility wrought by the second Donald Trump US presidency and hostilities in the Middle East make the shift in China's Africa strategy even more important for China and for Africa. China's Africa strategy started to shift in 2019, towards investment. It is anchored in Hunan Province.

The "Hunan Model" emerged because the "Angola Model" (building infrastructure and extracting resources) faced sustainability hurdles.

Given the vulnerability of African countries to shocks, they often struggle to keep up with mounting debt repayments. The other factor was China's changing domestic needs.

Traditional trade partnerships and growth corridors were also under increasing contestation and subject to high trade barriers.

Under these pressures, Beijing selected Hunan Province to become its "project implementation unit" for a new era of trade and development between China and Africa.

The model has become more important since the formal approval of the China-Africa Economic and Trade Deep Cooperation Pilot Zone in early 2024 and the growth of the China-Africa Economic and Trade Exhibition since its launch in 2019.

AT THE CENTRE OF THE HUNAN MODEL SIT TWO NATIONAL POLICY INITIATIVES

- The China-Africa Economic and Trade Exhibition
- The China-Africa Economic and Trade Deep Cooperation Pilot Zone. This is a logistics, trade and investment system designed to integrate Chinese and African supply chains and economic development.

THE HUNAN MODEL ALSO HAS THREE FUNCTIONAL AREAS TO SUPPORT TRADE BETWEEN LAND-LOCKED HUNAN AND THE WORLD, WITH AN EMPHASIS ON AFRICA:

- Changsha Free Trade Airport Zone, a national airfreight hub. It has new routes, such as the Changsha-Addis Ababa cargo line launched in 2022.
- Yueyang Chenglingji Port connects Hunan's heavy industries (timber, machinery) to the sea via the Yangtze River.
- Changsha Jinxia Economic Zone focuses on non-rail sea trade from Hunan to Guangdong and onward.

MUMBAI: Stock market benchmark indices Sensex and Nifty rallied nearly 1 per cent on Friday, driven by optimism surrounding easing geopolitical tensions, falling crude prices, and fresh foreign fund inflows.

Renewed hopes of a diplomatic resolution between the US and Iran, along with a 10-day ceasefire between Israel and Lebanon, have materially improved global risk appetite, a market analyst said.

The 30-share BSE Sensex jumped 504.86 points, or 0.65 per cent, to settle at 78,493.54.

During the day, it surged 564.77 points, or 0.72 per cent, to 78,553.45.

The 50-share NSE Nifty climbed 156.80 points, or 0.65 per cent, to end at 24,353.55.

"The domestic market closed the day higher, supported by improving prospects of a Middle East resolution and a reversal in FII flows into net buying. Even as investors await the second round of peace talks to resume, the receding crude oil prices are keeping the mood upbeat. If the talks translate into some positive developments, we may see an extended uptick in markets with a cautious bias, said Ankur Punj, MD & Business Head at Equirus Wealth.

OUR CORRESPONDENT

NEW DELHI: The country's gold imports rose 24 per cent to hit an all-time high of $71.98 billion in 2025-26 on account of high prices of the precious metal, according to Commerce Ministry data.

Gold imports stood at $58 billion in 2024-25. It was $45.54 billion in 2023-24 and $35 billion in 2022-23. In volume terms, imports dipped 4.76 per cent to 721.03 tonnes. It was 757.09 tonnes in 2024-25.

Similarly, silver imports jumped about 150 per cent to $12 billion in the last fiscal due to higher prices.

In volume terms, it rose by 42 per cent to 7,334.96 tonnes in 2025-26.

The rise in imports of these precious metals has pushed the country's trade deficit (difference between imports and exports) to $33.2 billion during 2025-26, the data showed.

Higher "gold import is driven by the rise in prices from $76,617.48/Kg (FY25) to $99,825.38/Kg (FY26), as the quantity of gold imports has declined from 757.09 tonnes (FY25) to 721.03 tonnes (FY26)," according to the commerce ministry.

Switzerland is the largest source of gold imports, with about 40 per cent share, followed by the UAE (over 16 per

The precious metal accounts for over 5 per cent of the country's total imports.

The total imports from Switzerland rose 11.36 per cent to $24.27 billion during 2025-26.

India is the world's second-biggest gold consumer after China. The imports mainly take care of the demand by the jewellery industry. The imports have implications for India's current account deficit (CAD).

To discourage these imports, the government has imposed import curbs on all forms of articles of gold, silver and platinum.

The kitty had expanded to an all-time high of $728.494 billion during the week ended February 27 this year, before the onset of the Middle East conflict which led to several weeks of a drop as the rupee came under pressure and the RBI had to intervene in the forex market through dollar sales.

BIS convenes national workshop to shape India's AI and Robotics standards roadmap

NEW DELHI: In a significant move to shape India's regulatory and quality framework for emerging technologies, the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) convened a one-day national workshop on "Usage of Artificial Intelligence and Robotics: Standardization Perspective" on Friday at the National Institute of Training for Standardization in Noida.

The workshop brought together policymakers, industry leaders, academia and technology experts to review the current status of Indian standards in AI and robotics, strengthen collaboration, and chart a roadmap for future standards.

Inaugurating the event,

Nidhi Khare, Secretary, Department of Consumer Affairs, stressed the urgency of building globally aligned, trust-based frameworks. "Today, everyone is engaging with products and services powered by AI and Robotics, reflecting their transformative impact on our lives. It is imperative that we proactively explore their meaningful integration into public governance," she said, urging BIS scientists to take the lead.

Sanjay Garg, Director General, BIS, highlighted the strategic importance of standardization, saying, "In the rapidly evolving domains of AI and Robotics, standards serve as the strategic cornerstone for national competitiveness."

Reena Garg, Scientist-G & DDG (Standardization-I), noted the need for standards ensuring "safety, transparency, and inclusivity," while Sanjay Pant, Scientist-G & DDG (Standardization-II), said India is "actively shaping" global norms with over 100 standards already developed. Jitender Kumar, Head of Electronics & IT at BIS, emphasized human-centric standards suited to India's socio-cultural diversity. The workshop also featured expert sessions and a panel discussion on readiness for large-scale AI adoption. It concluded with an outcome statement, identification of key gaps in existing standards, and a push for stronger collaboration among academia, industry and BIS.

NSE gets SEBI's approval to invest in National Coal Exchange of India Ltd

Company will soon apply to Coal Controller Organization to secure license for setting up Coal Exchange

MUMBAI: The National Stock Exchange of India Limited (NSE) has received approval from the SEBI under Regulation 38(2) of the SECC Regulations, 2018, to invest in the proposed National Coal Exchange of India Limited.

NEW DELHI: India's smartphone shipments declined 3 per cent year-on-year in January-March (Q1) 2026, marking their weakest quarter in six years, as cost pressures and weak demand weighed on the market, according to Counterpoint Research.

The decline was driven by rising component costs, especially memory, OEM-led price hikes and subdued consumer demand, which hurt retail conversions despite increased launch activity. Nearly one-third of new models were advanced

Senior Analyst Prachir Singh noted that rising prices—by over Rs 1,500 on average—have hit the sub-Rs 15,000 segment the hardest due to high price sensitivity. He added that elevated energy costs amid Middle East tensions are straining household budgets, pushing consumers to prioritise essentials over discretionary purchases like smartphones.

Shubman of the hour

Gill's 86, Rabada-Siraj burst set up GT's comfortable win over KKR

AHMEDABAD: Shubman Gill's elegant 86 complemented a probing new-ball spell from Kagiso Rabada and Mohammed Siraj as Gujarat Titans registered a commanding five-wicket win over laggards Kolkata Knight Riders in the Indian Premier League here on Friday.

Gill was in complete command, firing on all cylinders as he steered the Titans to their third win of the season. This was after the pace duo of Rabada (3/29) and Siraj (2/23) had ripped through the KKR top order, exploiting momentum with the new ball to bowl them out for 180.

KKR's total was largely propped up by Cameron Green's fighting 79 off 55 balls, his first significant contribution with the bat this season. The former champions continue to remain winless in the ongoing edition.

The two powerplays told the tale of the match. While KKR limped to 37 for 3, Gill

SRH face resurgent CSK

HYDERABAD: Having unleashed two exciting pace prospects in Praful Hinge and Sakib Husain, a balanced Sunrisers Hyderabad will head into their IPL match against Chennai Super Kings with renewed confidence, here on Saturday.

Drafted in place of seasoned campaigners Harshal Patel and Jaydev Nadkat, the uncapped duo made an instant impact, reducing Rajasthan Royals to 9 for 5 inside the first three overs, pushing them to their first loss of the season. The 24-year-old Vidarbha pacer Hinge has been the standout bowler after dismantling the Royals' top-order consisting Dhruv Jurel, Lhuan-dre Pretorius and skipper Riyan Parag in his fiery first two overs. He finished with 4/34. Generating bounce from a back-of-a-length spot, Hinge was impressive.

three overs. He then anchored the innings with poise, pacing his knock to perfection. His innings was peppered with eight fours and four sixes.

While KKR managed to pick up a few wickets, they were never able to stem the flow of runs or apply sustained pressure. When Sai Sudharsan departed, Jos Buttler ensured there was no let-up, announcing his arrival by cracking a boundary off his first ball before following it up with a six and another four in quick succession.

Earlier, KKR were rocked early, losing three wickets in the first four overs. Rabada and Siraj bowled with precision, while Ashok Sharma (2/45) and Prasadhi Krishna (1/32) provided able support.

TAKE ON DELHI CAPITALS TODAY

How RCB's pace battery is leading the charge this season

BENGALURU: Royal Challengers Bengaluru have upended the history book to win three home games in a row in IPL 2026, and their pacers' immaculate outing is the most gratifying factor behind this mini streak.

The RCB bowlers conquered opponents as varied as Sunrisers Hyderabad, Chennai Super Kings and Lucknow Super Giants with comfortable margins at the Chinnaswamy.

In contrast, RCB had lost three home matches during IPL 2025 and it remained a small blot on an otherwise fabulous run to their maiden title.

Before this season started, RCB had an unflattering record of 46 defeats and 45 wins here from 96 matches unlike Mumbai Indians or CSK, whose home grounds are generally their fortresses.

The first hint of turnaround came on March 28 when Jacob Duffy barged through SRH's top-order with a three-wicket haul. Duffy was a back-up option for rehabilitating Josh Hazlewood but no less in pedigree as he had held the No. 1 spot in the ICC T20 rankings for bowlers back in 2025.

"He's got pace, he's got bounce, also he moves sideways. Duffy's height and high delivery point add to the arse-

Josh Hazlewood's experience is greatly benefiting the team

Before this season started, RCB had an unflattering record of 46 defeats & 45 wins from 96 matches nal he brings to the mix. It can be a key factor," RCB head coach Andy Flower had said after signing Duffy.

All those qualities were evident when he bounced out Travis Head, Abhishek Sharma and Nitish Kumar Reddy.

In some ways, Duffy was just following the ethos of Hazlewood here, hitting the hard lengths.

"I am just keeping the big man's seat warm! Josh had a really good season here last year, so it was about building on what he did well and trying to replicate that in my own way. I had a basic template coming into that tournament," Duffy had said after the match against Hyderabad.

Duffy, however, had to vacate the seat once Hazlewood returned, and the Aussie made his impact felt immediately.

The strapping quick terrorised Lucknow Super Giants top-order with those heavy balls and bounce from the three-quarter length, and even dealt a crushing blow on the left elbow of Rishabh Pant, which restricted his participation in the match.

'Loss means it's over': Pep fires warning shot as Arsenal clash looms

MANCHESTER: For Pep Guardiola, it's cut and dried.

"Obviously if we lose, yes it's over," the Manchester City manager said about Sunday's Premier League title showdown with Arsenal.

Sitting six points behind Arsenal with a game in hand, Guardiola acknowledged there were no more second chances for his players. Reflecting on a title race when City has been the chaser, Guardiola said he felt after a seven-day span in early January when his team drew with Sunderland, Chelsea and Brighton in consecutive games that City had "missed the chance" to catch Arsenal.

He felt similar at the start of March when City drew back-to-back games with relegation contenders Nottingham Forest and West Ham.

"We said, 'Uh, it's run away (from us),' Guardiola said Friday. "But it's never over until it's over, and we are still here."

That's as much to do with some fragility within Arsenal's squad as City's own improving form. Mikel Arteta's team has lost three of its last five matches.

Shubhankar Sharma wins Boulders Classic

OUR CORRESPONDENT

HYDERABAD: Shubhankar Sharma carded a five-under 67 to claim his 7th DP World PGTI title at the inaugural Boulders Classic played at the Boulder Hills Golf & Country Club here on Friday.

The 29-year-old from Chandigarh dominated the week, finishing at a record 25-under 263, eight shots clear of the field. His winning total set a new benchmark for the lowest aggregate score on the DP World PGTI.

The victory earned Sharma Rs. 15 lakh and marked his first win on the tour since the McLeod Russel Tour Championship in Kolkata in December 2017. It was also his first professional title worldwide in over eight years, dating back to his triumph at the Maybank Championship.

'KAPTAAN' gave me a new region and space to explore'

OUR CORRESPONDENT

Amazon MX Player continues to win hearts with its gritty cop drama, 'Kaptaan'. Set in the volatile world of Jwalabad, the series is driven by morally complex characters brought to life by a powerhouse ensemble cast, including Saqib Saleem, Siddharth Nigam, Kavita Kaushik, Varun Badola, Aarif Zakaria, Poojaa Gor, Vikram Kochhar and Anushka Kaushik.

Among the show's most striking characters is Anjum Shharma as Munna, the menacing antagonist who brings a dangerous edge to this crime-driven narrative rooted in vengeance, power struggles and shifting loyalties. For the actor, the role marked a clear departure from the space audiences have seen him in before, giving him the chance to tap into something darker, more unpredictable and deliciously pulpy.

Recalling his first reaction to Kaptaan's script, Anjum shared, "I really loved the way they narrated the entire story to me. It had a very pulpy, commercial and heartland flavour, which immediately pulled me in. It was also very different from what I did in 'Mirzapur' and that excited me even more because it gave me a new region and a new space to explore. They offered me a very interesting antagonist, someone dark, entertaining, humorous and highly unpredictable. And I've always believed that the antagonist is extremely important in a story like this. After all, we've grown up watching some iconic villains, be it Gabbar Singh or Mogambo."

He further reflected on why 'Kaptaan' felt like the right move at this point in his journey, adding, "After being a part of a show like 'Mirzapur' for consecutive seasons, this felt very different to me. I really wanted to work in a different environment and that's when 'Kaptaan' came to me."

'DHURANDHAR' HAS CHANGED PERSPECTIVE TOWARDS FILMMAKING'

Rajkummar Rao believes Aditya Dhar's two-part spy saga is a disruptor for Hindi cinema

Rajkummar Rao believes Aditya Dhar's two-part spy saga 'Dhurandhar' is a disruptor for Hindi cinema, one that has altered its 'grammar' and said filmmakers should feel empowered to tell their stories freely without worrying about runtime.

'Dhurandhar' and its sequel 'Dhurandhar: The Revenge', headlined by Ranveer Singh, have emerged as box office juggernauts, earning over Rs 1,300 crore worldwide each, with the duology's combined gross of over Rs 3,000 crore making it the highest-grossing Indian film franchise of all time.

"Every decade or every five years, some film would come that would change the grammar and would change the whole perspective towards filmmaking. And I'm glad 'Dhurandhar' has done that," Rao told PTL.

The 41-year-old actor said he saw both the parts and 'absolutely loved' them. "I think Aditya's language of cinema and the way his craft is, it's phenomenal. I have never seen a spy film like this in my whole life coming out of India. The way he portrayed Ranveer in it was absolutely brilliant. His passion, his storytelling, his use of music, shot taking - everything. There was so much to learn from it. It was a very new kind of filmmaking," he added.

Rao, known for his critically acclaimed performances in movies such as 'Shahid', 'Omerta', 'Newton', 'Ludo' and 'Street' franchise, also addressed the long-standing fixation on runtime in filmmaking. Both 'Dhurandhar' and 'Dhurandhar: The Revenge' had a runtime of over three hours, but it didn't deter the audience from turning up in huge numbers.

"I think this whole thing of making it under two hours, making it under two and a half hours, it doesn't matter. A good film is a good film," he said.

He gave the example of Aamir Khan's 'Lagaan' and Sandeep Reddy Vanga's 'Animal'. "If a film holds, it holds. It doesn't matter how long it is. So, it should empower your directors, it should empower your makers to let them make the film that they want to make and not interfere with some perception that you have of the industry and the audience. That this is how it is; no one knows how it is. There is no formula and 'Dhurandhar' has proved. The only formula is your passion and your filmmaking," he added.

'AVENGERS: DOOMSDAY' TRAILER UNVEILED AT CINEMA CON

The footage delivered several crowd-pleasing moments

Marvel Studios' unveiled the first full-length trailer for 'Avengers: Doomsday' at CinemaCon to a rapturous response from theatre owners, with the footage delivering several crowd-pleasing moments, chief among them the return of Chris Evans as Steve Rogers and Robert Downey Jr's first unmasked appearance as Doctor Doom.

Downey Jr, who spent a decade playing Tony Stark aka Iron Man in the MCU before his character's death in 2019's 'Avengers: Endgame' took the stage to the Rolling Stones' 'Sympathy for the Devil', according to 'Variety'. "I couldn't have imagined reuniting with this amazing team - let alone as a new character," he said.

The trailer offered the first proper look at his green-hooded, metal-faced Doom preparing to invade the multiverse. Marvel Studios' president Kevin Feige said 'Doomsday' will pick up where 'Avengers: Endgame' left off. He also expressed excitement at finally bringing the Avengers and the X-Men into the same film.

The trailer packs in a flurry of crossovers: Gambit (Channing Tatum) and Shang-Chi (Simu Liu) in combat; Mystique (Rebecca Romijn) shapeshifting into Yelena Belova for a Florence Pugh vs Florence Pugh showdown and a striking moment where Doom catches Thor's hammer Mjolnir with his bare hands.

The trailer offered the first proper look at RDJ's green-hooded, metal-faced Doom preparing to invade the multiverse

The biggest reaction, however, came when Evans' Steve Rogers, who had retired from the past in 'Endgame', reappeared alongside Chris Hemsworth's Thor, picking up Mjolnir once again. Evans took the stage after the screening and said about Doom: "This guy - I don't like it." Director Joe Russo described Doom as 'not simply a villain - one of the most complex 'Marvel' characters. He's always three moves ahead.'

NYIFF 2026

'Boong', restored version of 'Sholay' among highlights

BAFTA-winning Manipuri film 'Boong' and the 4K restored version of cult classic 'Sholay' are among the diverse range of films and documentaries that will be showcased at the New York Indian Film Festival (NYIFF) here next month.

North America's longest-running festival dedicated to Indian independent cinema will run from May 28-31, which will showcase a diverse slate of films across 15 languages, 'underscoring the growing dominance of regional storytelling in contemporary Indian cinema'.

The 2026 edition of the film festival, presented by the Indo-American Arts Council (IAAC), includes 19 narrative (features), four documentaries (features) and 27 shorts (narratives and documentaries), including several world premieres and a special LGBTQ shorts program.

The festival will open with a special screening of 'Boong', the Manipuri film that created history by winning the prestigious BAFTA award in the 'Best Children's and Family Film' category in February this year and underscored the growing global visibility of regional Indian cinema. Director Laksmipriya Devi is expected to attend the premiere at the festival on May 29.

IAAC Chairman Nirmal Mattoo said the New York Indian Film Festival stands as a powerful cultural bridge. "The 2026 lineup and nominations reaffirm our commitment to showcasing the richness, diversity and artistic excellence of Indian cinema on an international stage."

This year's nominations are led by 'Baksho Bondi' ('Shad-owbox'), 'Flowers of Acacia', 'Romantic Affairs', 'Ha Lyngkha Bneng' ('The Elysian Field') and 'Victoria', which dominate the 'Best Film' race.

"This year's nominated films represent the range and depth of storytelling in India today. From human dramas to comedies, and narratives that reflect the angst of Millennials and Gen Z, these works reflect a cinema that is both rooted and globally resonant," said Festival Director Aseem Chhabra.

The festival will also present Farhan Akhtar's classic 'Dil Chahta Hai' (2001), marking the film's 25th anniversary. The film gala will also showcase the 4K restored version of 'Sholay', which completed 50 years in 2025. Marathi film 'Tighe' will close the festival.
