THE US AND Iran prepared for peace talks in Pakistan at the weekend with a fragile ceasefire largely holding, though pivotal issues such as control over the Strait of Hormuz and Israel's offensive in Lebanon remain unresolved.

US Vice President JD Vance is expected to lead the American delegation in Islamabad on Saturday, with Iranian officials due to arrive in the Pakistani capital on Thursday. Both sides appear to have paused strikes across the region after President Donald Trump's announcement of a truce after nearly six weeks of fighting.

Israel-Lebanon negotiations are expected to take place in Washington next week at the State Department, AP reported. This is despite Israeli strikes on Lebanon killing over 300 people and wounding more than 1,100 on Wednesday.

Vijay Singh joins Venu to back Tata Sons IPO

GEORGE MATHEW Mumbai, April 9

AFTER TVS GROUP'S Venu Srinivasan, another senior trustee of Tata Trusts, Vijay Singh, has come out arguing for the listing of Tata Sons on the stock exchanges through an initial public offering (IPO).

The argument by the two trustees for listing Tata Sons, which is the principal shareholder of Tata group companies, is contrary to the resolution passed by Tata Trusts a year ago to retain the company as an unlisted entity.

The view over the last few years has been that Tata Sons should continue as it is, but its expansion and the new capital and technology intensive businesses do demand an urgent re-look, Vijay Singh, who was former defence secretary, said, pushing for the listing of the company.

Novartis' weight-loss drug semaglutide, the market share of rival drug tirzepatide has taken a big hit. Monthly sales of originator Eli Lilly's tirzepatide brand Mounjaro dropped 21% in March, according to Pharmarack data. After semaglutide's patent expired on March 20, the market was flooded with cheaper generic versions.

Eli Lilly's market share in the glucagon-like peptide-1 (GLP-1) category of drugs, which includes both semaglutide and tirzepatide, dropped from 61% in March to 56% in February. A dozen Indian companies have launched generic semaglutide over the last three weeks, with roughly 70-90% discounted to the innovator's price when patent was in force.

Novo sells the drug under brand names Wegovy (anti-obesity) and Ozempic (anti-diabetic). It cut prices in November in the run-up to patent expiry and in March after the exclusive right expired.

Mounjaro's sales drop has come at the expense of semaglutide taking on a larger share of the GLP-1 agonist market, analysts said. In March, drugs based on semaglutide cumulatively registered a sales growth of 10%, and are now capturing 33% of the market as against 25% in February.

Pharmarack said that the launch of branded generics has made semaglutide molecule stronger in the GLP-1 market.

"Generic as well as innovative versions in semaglutide segment are far more economical than that of market leader's. While Eli Lilly has shown a significant value share erosion, Novo has managed to hold on against competitive forces in the GLP-1 segment," said Sheetal Sapale, vice-president (commercial) at Pharmarack.

STRONG GROWTH ENABLED NEW DELHI TO WITHSTAND GLOBAL SHOCKS, SAYS DAS

Reforms help India weather crises

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, April 9

WITH GLOBAL RISKS tilted to the downside due to frequent geopolitical shocks, India's experience offers a model of navigating volatility through structural reforms, policy discipline, and innovation, Principal Secretary-2 to the Prime Minister, Shaktikanta Das said on Thursday.

The global economy has been grappling with persistent shocks, including supply chain disruptions, shifting consumer demand, and strained public finances in the aftermath of the COVID pandemic, he said. Events such as the ongoing tensions in West Asia have further unsettled global production networks, logistics systems, and labour markets, he said.

Despite these challenges, India has demonstrated notable economic strength with estimated growth of 7.6% in FY26. "From 2021-22 to 2025-26, India has recorded an average annual GDP growth of 7.8%, reflecting economic resilience and resurgence," he said, speaking at an AIMA event here.

At a time when the world is facing unprecedented volatility, it would be both appropriate and prudent for Indian industry and businesses to focus on a few key priorities, he said.

"First, build organisational resilience and strengthen balance sheets. Second, develop new supply chains. Third, project jobs while reskilling the existing workforce. Fourth, diversify into new markets, especially for exporters. And finally, invest strategically to ensure future readiness and to capitalise on emerging opportunities," he advised.

"These measures, I believe, will go a long way in supporting the sustainability and long-term growth of Indian businesses and industry."

He outlined 10 major factors underpinning India's economic resilience. Controlled inflation, strong growth, and robust foreign exchange reserves have positioned India to absorb global shocks effectively, he said. Stable governance and continued reforms have strengthened investor confidence. Investments in roads, railways, ports, and digital systems have improved supply chains and reduced bottlenecks.

With consumer spending contributing over 55% of GDP, India's large and young population remains a key growth engine.

The RBI has maintained a flexible inflation-targeting framework, balancing growth and price stability.

Bitumen prices up 40% due to war, says Gadkari

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, April 9

THE WAR in West Asia has pushed up international bitumen prices by around 40%, Union Road Transport and Highways Minister Nitin Gadkari said on Thursday, underlining the need to explore alternative materials to reduce import dependence. India currently imports about 54% of its bitumen requirement—a key input in road construction. Of the country's annual demand of roughly 11 million tonne, nearly 6 million tonne are sourced from overseas.

Speaking at the All India Management Association's leadership conclave, Gadkari said the use of bio-bitumen, rubber dust from end-of-life tyres, and waste plastic in road construction could significantly cut imports.

"With 30% bio bitumen from agriculture waste, 16% rubber powder and 7% waste plastic we would not need imports," the minister added.

Around 15 companies have acquired the rights to use the bio-bitumen patent developed by the Central Road Research Institute (CRRI) and the Indian Institute of Petroleum, and its production is expected to increase manifold in the coming years. Following the outbreak of the war, bitumen prices in India have surged sharply to ₹54,000-76,000 per tonne from about ₹40,000 per tonne, significantly impacting infrastructure project budgets. The spike has been driven by a sharp rise in crude oil prices, from which bitumen is derived.

He said easier imports of used tyres are being considered to boost the availability of rubber powder. "Our thought is to reduce whatever we are importing and increase exports. In the coming years sky is the limit in exports."

Goyal talks to West Asia partners amid war risks

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, April 9

AS THE WAR in West Asia continues even after the announcement of ceasefire and negotiations, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal discussed trade-related matters with the key partners in the region.

Late Wednesday, the minister held a virtual interaction with the Minister of Foreign Trade of United Arab Emirates Thani bin Ahmed Al Zeyoudi. "We discussed opportunities to further strengthen India-UAE trade ties and expand avenues for deeper bilateral cooperation. I look forward to advancing our strategic partnership to new heights," Goyal posted on X.

The UAE is the second biggest export market for India and shipments have suffered due to war-related disruptions in logistics. For high-value items and perishables the air route is being used increasingly. For other items smaller ships and alternate ports of Fujairah and Khorfakkan are being used. In the past few days the buyers in UAE have approached India pharma companies to start sending goods again, people who are aware of the developments said. Other than the important market, UAE's port Jebel Ali is the important transshipment hub of India's exports to the West.

Goyal also held discussions with the Secretary General of Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC)

The minister also held a meeting with Minister of Commerce and Industry of Kuwait Osama Khaled Boodal. "Exchanged views on expanding bilateral trade relations and deepening collaboration across key sectors," Goyal said.

The Gulf and West Asia region as a whole is the biggest goods trade partner for India. With the six-nation Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) that includes Saudi Arabia, UAE, Oman, Qatar, Bahrain and Kuwait—the bilateral trade between two sides totalled $178.56 billion in 2024-25 with India's exports at $58.87 billion and imports at $121.68 billion.

The biggest import by India from the region is petroleum crude and petroleum products which in April-February 2026 stood at $61.7 billion. While India already has free trade agreements with UAE and Oman, it has started negotiations on another one with the GCC as a whole. Minister of External Affairs S Jaishankar will visit UAE on April 11-12 to review close cooperation and deepen the Comprehensive Strategic Partnership between the two countries.

Onion prices decline on export slump

WITH ROBUST CROP prospects and exports to the Gulf countries hit due to the West Asia war, onion prices in Lasalgaon, Nashik, Maharashtra, the hub of the country's wholesale trade, declined to ₹1,100 a quintal on Thursday as ₹2,000/quintal prevailed a year ago.

expanded its sourcing base, now importing crude from 41 countries compared with 27 earlier, LNG from 30 countries against six, and LPG from 15 nations versus 10 previously, reflecting a steady effort to enhance supply resilience. "Despite all this diversity of procurement... the national economy has seen a lot of dependencies," Mittal said at a conference on "Energy Security: Driving India's Next Wave of Gas Demand" organised by PNCRB and Indraprastha Gas, noting that recent developments offer insights for further strengthening the system. THE BID FOR a strategic sale of a 60.72% stake in IDBI Bank unravelled because of a steep reserve price of ₹90,000 crore, derailling a process that began in March 2021, sources told FE. Refiners step up as pharma feedstock imports hit

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, April 9

THE GOVERNMENT HAS stepped in to secure supplies of critical petrochemical inputs to the pharmaceutical sector, as disruptions in West Asia strain imports and global supply chains.

"Key inputs such as propylene, ammonia and methanol are being allocated on a pro-rata basis," said Satyaprakash TL, joint secretary in the Department of Pharmaceuticals, outlining measures taken to ensure uninterrupted drug production. The move comes after the conflict disrupted imports of petrochemical feedstock — earlier largely routed through Kandla — forcing a shift towards domestic sourcing.

Indian refiners have reconfigured production lines to supply specialised feedstock to pharma companies. "Propylene, the most critical feedstock, is being supplied from domestic refiners, including Bharat Petroleum, and used to produce intermediates... for medicines like Ibuprofen," he said.

INDIA IS EXPECTED to retain its position as one of the world's fastest-growing large economies in FY27, Aurelien Kruse, lead economist for India at the World Bank, said on Thursday.

However, risks to the medium-term outlook are tilted to the downside, as uncertainty persists over the duration and scale of the West Asia conflict.

Prolonged periods of elevated oil prices can significantly impact the Indian economy, but risks are cushioned by ample buffers, the World Bank said in its report.

"Though we're coming up with our point estimate, there is great uncertainty, there is not only economic uncertainty; there's also political uncertainty, and there is very little we can control," Kruse cautioned. The World Bank projected India's gross domestic product at 6.6% for FY27.

The World Bank, in its report "India Development Update", also said that the general government fiscal deficit is projected to increase marginally to 7.6% of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in FY27 versus 7.3% in the absence of the conflict, as higher energy prices will feed into higher spending on fertiliser and fuel subsidies, and excise duty cuts will contain revenue growth. Over the medium term, the overall fiscal deficit is projected to decline gradually, supported by continued consolidation in current spending and stabilisation of capital expenditure as a share of GDP.

Pranika Ohnorge, World Bank's South Asia chief economist, said that the introduction of export-promoting policies by South Asian countries did not produce significant gains. "The policy priority for India should be to create an environment for faster growth that also supports job creation," she said.

On the job front, Pranika Ohnorge said that adoption of artificial intelligence is reshaping job prospects in the South Asian region, with jobs down by double digits in AI-exposed areas. She, however, stated that Indians are less affected by AI, as about 40% of their labour force is employed in agriculture.

Meanwhile, Kruse highlighted that India entered the current oil shock from a position of strength. In FY26, the economy grew at a robust 7.6%, accelerating from the previous year and remaining the fastest-growing major economy globally, even while facing some of the highest effective weighted average tariffs on exports to the US.

"Despite all the turbulence we experienced last year in FY26, the Indian economy performed very strongly," Kruse said. "Not only on growth, but also on inflation, and very surprisingly for us on trade."

Govt aims to cut steel emissions by 25%

STEEL MILLS AIM to cut carbon emissions by about a quarter over the next decade and reduce reliance on coal, while the world's second-biggest producer of the alloy plans to more than double output.

Under the proposed "National Steel Policy 2025", the Centre aims to cut emissions from steel mills to 2 metric tonnes of carbon dioxide per tonne of finished steel by 2035-36, according to a draft cabinet note dated March 10.

The new emissions reduction target has not been previously reported.

Steelmakers emit about 2.65 tonne of carbon dioxide per tonne of finished steel, roughly 32% higher than the global average of 2 tonne, and account for 10-12% of the country's total emissions.

India has been hit by the European Union's carbon border tariff, which from January this year imposed fees on imports of steel, cement and other high-carbon goods, forcing the country to scout for alternative export markets.

TATA CONSULTANCY SERVICES (TCS) reported a marginal increase in employee count in the January-March quarter, even as the full-year numbers point to a continued contraction in workforce amid a shift towards an AI-led operating model.

Wipro board to mull share buyback on April 16

POULOMI CHATTERJEE
Bengaluru, April 9

WIPRO ON THURSDAY announced that it will consider a buyback of equity shares at a meeting of its board of directors scheduled for April 15-16. The IT major is also expected to announce its fourth-quarter results for FY26 on April 16.

"The company has confirmed that the final decision reached during the board sessions will be shared with the public and investors on April 16. Market participants and shareholders are advised to monitor official channels for the final outcome, which will detail whether the proposal has been approved and, if so, the specific terms of the buyback program," a statement from Wipro said.

New CAFE draft delivers big win for small carmakers

● Revised efficiency targets ease pressure on entry-level vehicles

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, April 9

SMALL CARMAKERS SUCH as Maruti Suzuki and Renault are set to benefit from a softer set of fuel efficiency norms under the revised draft of the Corporate Average Fuel Efficiency (CAFE 3) rules, which significantly ease emission reduction requirements for entry-level vehicles.

The latest draft, circulated by the Bureau of Energy Efficiency (BEE) to industry stakeholders on Thursday, lowers the stringency of targets for lighter cars, a move that is expected to help keep costs in check in the price-sensitive small car segment.

Under the revised proposal, small cars weighing between

While easing norms for smaller vehicles, the draft tightens requirements for heavier cars, effectively shifting a larger share of emission cuts to bigger and more expensive models. Blue Star expects 20% growth in volume BLUE STAR EXPECTS around 20% growth in volumes and about 25% revenue growth this year, its MD B Thiagarajan said on Thursday. He said the air-conditioning industry is currently facing a total cost impact of around 13%, comprising 5% from revised energy labelling norms and about 8% due to higher raw material prices.

Vedanta Power ramps up waste-to-energy model

VEDANTA POWER ON Thursday said it has ramped up its waste-to-energy model in Punjab, and its power plant has co-fired over 329,000 MT of torrefied biomass in FY26. The development assumes significance as India looks to tackle seasonal air pollution caused by stubble burning.

seen in the previous two quarters, including a sequential drop of 11,151 employees in the third quarter.

The recovery in hiring comes against the backdrop of structural changes in the sector, with companies recalibrating workforce requirements in line with automation and AI-led delivery models. TCS had announced in July last year a workforce reduction of around 2%, impacting over 30,000 employees.

Despite the uptick in the March quarter, the company's overall employee base declined sharply over the full fiscal year, indicating that hiring remains measured and targeted rather than broad-based.

Chief Executive Officer K

Attrition trends suggest that employee churn remains elevated. Voluntary last twelve-month attrition in IT services stood at 13.7% at the end of March, up 20 basis points from 13.5% in the previous quarter.

Senior management indicated that the focus is shifting towards building capabilities aligned with emerging technologies. "We are pleased to implement annual salary increases across all grades effective April 1, with top performers getting a double-digit increase. In Q4, we continued to invest in a future ready workforce with strong talent and campus hires. Building an AI first culture and equipping our people with AI ready skills remained a key priority in training and capability building. In FY26, employees completed 69 million learning hours and acquired 5.2 million competencies. Over 270,000 employees now have skills in AI and machine learning, while more than 100,000 have been trained through its GenAI-powered learning platform.

galuru-based IT firm has a consistent history of buybacks, with the most recent instance in 2023, when it executed a ₹12,000 crore buyback at ₹445 per share. The company repurchased 269.6 million equity shares, representing 4.91% of its equity, with the aim of enhancing earnings per share and improving return ratios.

If approved, this would mark Wipro's sixth buyback in the past decade.

Like other IT majors in the sector, Wipro's share price has declined — falling 14.26% over the past year and 22.97% year-to-date — amid concerns about disruption from AI tools. The proposed buyback is expected to support investor sentiment and potentially stabilise the stock price.

730 kg and 900 kg — including models such as the Renault Kwid and Maruti Alto — will face less demanding emission targets than those proposed earlier. For instance, the Alto, which weighs around 740 kg, would now need to meet an emission level of about 64 grams of CO2 per kilometre, compared with nearly 51 grams per kilometre in the earlier draft issued in September 2025.

The changes follow multiple rounds of consultations, including meetings with the Prime Minister's Office in February and March and a discussion chaired by the Cabinet secretary earlier this week. A further meeting with industry representatives and senior executives is scheduled for April 16 to finalise the framework.

CO2 per kilometre. The draft also retains the existing incentive structure for electric vehicles, where manufacturers get additional credit for selling EVs when calculating their overall fleet emissions. Industry players, including Siam, have sought a higher incentive level, stating that it would help accelerate EV adoption, but no change has been made so far.

Q4 may show retail resilience

HANGING IN THERE

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO
Mumbai, April 9

RETAIL COMPANIES ACROSS apparel, jewellery, and grocery are likely to report strong financial performance in Q4, despite geopolitical tensions weighing on consumer sentiment in March.

Business updates from leading retail firms — including Trent, V-Mart Retail, V2 Retail, Titan Company, Avenue Supermarkets, Senco Gold, and Kalyan Jewellers — indicate Q4 revenue growth in the range of 19–64%.

This performance was largely driven by festive and wedding season demand, which boosted sales across segments. Analysts also noted that categories such as apparel, footwear, and grocery benefited from GST-led price reductions introduced in September.

Same-store sales growth (SSG) — a key indicator of underlying demand — remained robust for most organised retailers, suggesting consumption momentum held steady despite macroeconomic headwinds. Barring Jubilant FoodWorks, which reported like-for-like growth of just 0.2% in Q4 for Domino's, companies such as V2 Retail, Avenue Supermarkets, and V-Mart Retail recorded SSG in the 7–12% range during the quarter. Jewellery retailers

Honasa Consumer sees over 20% revenue growth

HONASA CONSUMER, THE parent of beauty and personal care brand Mamaearth, said on Thursday that it expects revenue growth in the late twenties for the March quarter, driven by strong momentum in its focus categories and offline channels.

In the December quarter, the company nearly doubled its net profit to ₹50 crore, while revenue rose 16% year-on-year to ₹602 crore. For Q4, its flagship brand Mamaearth is expected to grow in the teens, while newer brands — The Derma Co, Aqualogica, Dr Sheth's, BBLint, and its colour cosmetics line Staze 9to9 — are projected to deliver growth in the mid-twenties.

FE BUREAU

emerged as standout performers, with Kalyan Jewellers, Senco Gold, and Titan reporting SSG of 45–48% in Q4.

Titan Company highlighted strong pent-up demand during the quarter. Despite elevated gold prices, its jewellery business recorded high single-digit buyer growth — marking a recovery after flat buyer growth in the first three quarters of FY26. The jewellery segment contributes over 85% of Titan's total revenue.

Kalyan Jewellers noted in its business update that geopolitical tensions in West Asia impacted customer footfall at its Gulf stores in March. However, Ramadan sales in the final week of the month helped offset the impact.

Quick deliveries enter construction supply as startups tap time-critical demand

S SHANTHI
Bengaluru, April 9

QUICK COMMERCE IS extending beyond groceries and consumer goods into construction materials, as a clutch of technology-led startups offer delivery of items such as cement, bricks, electricals, pipes and safety gear within 2–24 hours. Platforms including Moglix, HomeRun, Cital, IBO, KYZO and Materialhunt are targeting EPC contractors, infrastructure developers and home improvement firms, where delays in supplies can disrupt project timelines.

The shift is being driven by the need for reliability and faster turnaround, alongside a gradual move from bulk procurement to just-in-time purchase in a market that has historically been fragmented and relationship-driven. "The core driver is downtime on construction sites. If materials don't arrive on time, labour sits idle and costs escalate quickly. These players are enabling delivery of critical materials within hours," Aditya Singh, co-founder and partner at All In Capital, told FE.

Industry participants say the model reflects a broader change in business-to-business (B2B) buying behaviour. Contractors, who earlier depended on bulk orders and multiple local vendors, are increasingly opting for smaller, frequent purchases to manage working capital more efficiently. "Slow delivery by local vendors leads to wasted labour days and project delays. Assured timely delivery is valuable since contractors are paid on outcomes,"

BUILDING BLOCKS

■ Platforms such as Moglix, HomeRun, Cital, IBO, KYZO and Materialhunt offer deliveries within 2–24 hours

■ Moglix introduced next-day delivery in August 2024 and has since expanded the service to 40 cities

■ In February, HomeRun, founded in 2024, raised $6.6 million in a round led by Sorin Investments

■ Experts see the segment growing 30–40% annually in the early years, particularly in urban clusters said Deepak Gupta, general partner at WEH Ventures. Executives point out that delays are often caused not by large materials but by smaller consumables. "The problem was never the big materials. What affects timelines is the small stuff — a missing electrode or grinding disc," said Rahul Gang, founder and CEO of Moglix. He added that construction processes are sequential and even minor shortages can halt operations, particularly at remote sites.

Globally, B2B e-commerce is projected to reach $36 trillion by 2026, with construction & industrial supplies among the faster-growing segments inates from site teams, not procurement offices. Buyers are ordering from job sites with limited time, which shaped the design of next-day delivery," Garg said.

Fast-delivery categories are largely limited to consumables and indirect materials such as welding rods, cutting tools, geotextiles, traffic safety equipment and plant maintenance parts. "On some days, these matter more than primary materials," Garg added.

Investor interest in the segment is picking up alongside the broader B2B commerce opportunity. In February, HomeRun, founded in 2024, raised $6.6 million in a round led by Sorin Investments, offering deliveries within one to two hours through a hyper-local network. IBO, backed by WestBridge Capital, provides four-hour delivery across Bengaluru, Mysuru and Hyderabad and has expanded its offline presence to over 40 stores in south India.

Experts expect strong growth over the next three to five years, albeit from a low base. "It addresses a real operational problem, and the construction market in India is large and expanding," Singh said, adding that the segment could grow 30–40% annually in the early years, particularly in urban clusters.

Globally, B2B e-commerce is projected to reach $36 trillion by 2026, with construction and industrial supplies among the faster-growing segments. "Platforms combining procurement, fast delivery and financing are where investor attention is heading," Garg said.

The proposed feature will allow individuals to package documents, ranging from academic certificates and income tax returns to bank statements, insurance papers and identity credentials, into a single, consent-based digital bundle that can be shared with an institution. The aim is to reduce the time and effort involved in repetitive submissions and verification that are currently required across platforms.

At present, users typically upload documents one at a time and institutions independently verify each record, often leading to delays and duplication. The new system is expected to pull documents directly from the original issuing authorities, enabling receiving entities to rely on them without additional validation.

ings, where multiple documents are routinely sought.

For users, this would translate into fewer touchpoints and faster turnaround times. A student applying overseas, for instance, could share a verified set of academic and identity documents in one go instead of submitting them individually across portals. Similarly, individuals seeking financial services may be able to complete onboarding with a single, authenticated data share rather than repeated KYC submissions.

The development also opens up the possibility of using such verified credentials beyond India. Work is underway to enable interoperability so that documents issued domestically can be recognised within digital systems or wallets in partner countries. If implemented, this would allow users to carry their verified records across borders without needing physical copies or fresh attestations at each step.

India has already entered into arrangements with multiple countries to extend elements of its digital public infrastructure, and DigiLocker is expected to form part of that broader framework. For users, this could ease processes such as foreign educational admissions or compliance requirements in another jurisdiction.

The system is designed to remain consent-driven, with users choosing when and with whom to share their data. Documents will continue to reside with the original issuer and will be shared only upon approval, rather than being stored centrally for reuse. Officials said the architecture is being aligned with data protection requirements under existing law.

DigiLocker already provides access to a range of government-issued documents, including identity records and, more recently, passports. The planned enhancements indicate a shift towards making it a more utility for day-to-day transactions, where verified data can move seamlessly between users and service providers, reducing paperwork and processing time.

Gupta, saw strong participation from Ace Aviation entities. Ace Aviation XIV acquired aircraft VT-JET for ₹309.25 crore, while Ace Aviation XV bought VT-JEU for ₹258.93 crore. The group had earlier acquired three similar Jet Airways aircraft.

The two wide-body aircraft were among the airline's most valuable remaining assets. The reserve prices were set at ₹171.80 crore and ₹184.95 crore, respectively, with final bids significantly exceeding these benchmarks. The outcome highlights continued demand for wide-body aircraft, either for operations or part-out, in the secondary market despite Jet's prolonged insolvency. Jet Airways officially suspended operations on April 17, 2019.

The airline entered liquidation following a Supreme Court order in November 2024. Jet Airways informed stock exchanges of the transaction on April 8.

robust Ebitda for oil marketing companies (OMCs) in the fourth quarter of FY26, brokerages have said.

However, their earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation (Ebitda) are expected to be down sequentially on a high base. JM Financial predicts Ebitda to be down 7-14% quarter-on-quarter (q-o-q) "due to lower auto-fuel QM (gross marketing margin) and jump in LPG under-recoveries, despite ₹7,500-crore LPG cash compensation for earlier losses."

The firms' core gross refining margin (GRM) is likely to remain strong sequentially at $11.4-13.4/barrel — it was $10.1-14.2/barrel in the previous quarter — led by approximately 16% q-o-q rise in diesel cracks. Furthermore, there could be crude inventory gains of $5-7.5/barrel in the fourth quarter, the brokerage said in a report, adding its expects reported

GRM at $16.4-18.9/bbl ($8.9-13.3/bbl in Q3FY26).

Equirus Securities said the quarter reflected a sharp rise in crude with Brent up 23% q-o-q and strong refining spreads with Singapore GRM up 60% q-o-q, supporting refining along with inventory gains, while marketing margin collapse weighs heavily on profitability.

"Elevated product cracks (gasoline up 26%, gasoil up 43%, jet up 61%) aid GRMs, but higher crude and weak retail pricing compress marketing earnings, leading to overall Ebitda decline (-25-70% q-o-q)," it said. IOCL is relatively better placed than HPCL, it is likely to be the worst hit with maximum marketing losses, it added.

Reliance Industries (RIL) is expected to deliver a relatively stable performance. Its consolidated Ebitda is projected to decline marginally. Its O2C segment benefits from strong refining tailwinds, though this is partly offset by weaker petchem spreads and losses in fuel retailing. Equirus Securities said. Oil & Gas remains stable with modest production decline. Motilal Oswal expects RIL's consolidated Ebitda to grow 11% year-on-year (y-o-y) to ₹48,400 crore.

Motilal said standalone Ebitda for HPCL, BPCL and IOCL is expected to decrease 22-35% q-o-q due to weak marketing performance. ONGC's standalone Ebitda is expected to rise 36% and Oil India's 16%, led by 28% q-o-q jump in Brent due to supply disruptions since the war in West Asia, JM Financial said.

"ONGC and Oil India's net crude realisation could jump approximately 28% q-o-q to $78-79/bbl in Q4FY26, in line with the change in Brent crude price," it said.

Realty sector sees 16% rise in PE deals, volumes at 7-yr high

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, April 9

INDIA'S REAL ESTATE sector recorded private equity (PE) deals worth $4.3 billion in FY26 — a rise of 13% and 16% over FY24 and FY25, respectively — according to Anarock Capital's FLUX FY26 report. The number of transactions rose to 60 in FY26, the highest in seven years, up sharply from 41 deals in FY25, it said. Average deal size, at $71 million, was the lowest in the same period — a reflection not of declining appetite but of wider market participation with more players transacting across a broader ticket-size spectrum — it added.

Equity continued to be the preferred deal structure, accounting for nearly 77% of total deal value in FY26 — consistent with the long-term norm — and a sharp reversal from FY25, when a single large hybrid transaction distorted the mix. Debt accounted for 23%, with no hybrid deals recorded during the year, it said. "FY26's recovery is especially significant for its quality. Unlike FY24 and FY25 — when a single mega transaction (Brookfield RE Trust/GIC and RIL/ADIA/KKR, respectively) accounted for 37% and 41% of total deal value — the largest deal in FY26 contributed just 9% of total activity," said Shobhit Agarwal, CEO — Anarock Capital. This marks a structural improvement in market depth, with capital flows distributed more evenly across geographies, sectors, and asset classes.

Commercial office emerged as the standout performer, with 14 transactions aggregating $1.6 billion at an average deal size of around $116 million — up from around $80 million across 12 deals in FY25.

YIELDS RISE ON HIGH OIL PRICES; RE FALLS 8 PRICE

CHRISTINA TITUS
Mumbai, April 9

GOVERNMENT BOND YIELDS rose on Thursday amid climbing oil prices, fuelled by doubts over ceasefire. The yield on the 10-year benchmark bond rose by 6 bps to 6.96%. After violation of the ceasefire as Israel attacked Lebanon, which led to stoppage of tankers passing through Strait of Hormuz, oil prices rose 4% to $98/barrel. "Crude oil prices have risen, prompting G-Secs to give back some of previous day's gains," said Gopal Tripathi, treasury head at Jana Small Finance Bank. After the ceasefire announcement, yields fell by as much as 15 bps on Wednesday. Dealers said there were some fresh short positions building ahead of the 10-year G-Sec auction to be held on Friday. Meanwhile, the rupee fell 8 paise to 92.66, cushioned by dollar supply from banks unwinding arbitrage positions despite higher oil prices.

Capri Global Capital to raise ₹500 cr via NCDs

CAPRI GLOBAL CAPITAL plans raise up to ₹500 crore through a public issue of non-convertible debentures (NCDs) in multiple tranches. The issue, which will open on April 15, offers coupon rates up to 9.5%.

Silver, gold rally falters as tensions resurface

SILVER PRICES DECLINED by ₹7,800 to ₹24.43 lakh per kilogram in the national capital on Thursday, while gold fell to ₹15.44 lakh per 10 g as investors booked profits amid concerns over the durability of the fragile ceasefire in West Asia.

Anand Rathi Wealth Q4 profit grows 25%

Benchmarks halt 5-day rally amid ceasefire uncertainty

KISHOR KADAM
Mumbai, April 9

BENCHMARK EQUITY INDICES declined by up to 1.20% on Thursday as reports of ceasefire violations by both sides surfaced, unsettling investor sentiment amid mixed global cues. Besides, profit-taking following Wednesday's sharp rally weighed on the markets. Brent crude futures rose by nearly $4 per barrel to $98.53, adding to inflationary concerns. A day after a strong upmove driven by the two-week ceasefire announcement, the Sensex tumbled 931.25 points, or 1.20%, to close at 76,631.65, snapping its five-day winning streak. Similarly, the Nifty fell 222.25 points, or 0.93%, to settle at 23,775.10.

In the previous five sessions, the Sensex and Nifty had gained 7.80% (5,615.35 points) and 7.46% (1,665.95 points), respectively. "Ceasefire-led optimism faded as renewed US-Iran tensions and continued disruptions around the Strait of Hormuz pushed crude prices higher, reviving concerns over India's inflation outlook," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Investments. He added that domestically, profit booking, rising 10-year bond yields, and weakness in the rupee dampened near-term risk appetite. Ankur Punj, MD & Business Head at Equirus Wealth, said domestic markets tracked global cues with most markets ending in the red amid rising crude prices and persistent global uncertainty.

"Going forward, focus will shift to domestic corporate earnings and sectors likely to be impacted by higher crude prices," Punj said. He added that investors will await clarity on whether the ceasefire will translate into meaningful negotiations before taking significant equity exposure. Overall market breadth remained largely neutral, with 2,165 gainers against 2,123 losers on the BSE.

Investor wealth declines by ₹72.2K cr

Investor wealth fell by ₹72,251 crore to ₹444.79 lakh crore, after having surged by ₹33.10 lakh crore over the previous five sessions. Continuing their selling streak, foreign portfolio investors offloaded shares worth ₹1,711.19 crore ($185 million), while domestic institutional investors bought shares worth ₹955.90 crore, as per provisional data from the BSE. On the sectoral front, banks, financial services, and consumer durables were the top losers, while capital goods, metals, and power stocks emerged as the top gainers.

Among Sensex constituents, InterGlobe Aviation (IndiGo), L&T, Eternal, HDFC Bank, and ICICI Bank were the top laggards, while BEL, TCS, NTPC, Power Grid, and HCLTech were the top performers.

Banking system liquidity climbs to four-year high

CHRISTINA TITUS
Mumbai, April 9

GOVERNMENT SPENDING AND maturing government securities have boosted the banking system liquidity, which has touched a four-year high, said market participants. The system liquidity was at a surplus of ₹4.57 lakh crore on Wednesday, the highest in four years.

It has averaged ₹3.61 lakh crore so far in April, compared with ₹1.57 lakh crore in March, according to data from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). Liquidity was under pressure in March due to tax outflows and RBI's forex interventions amid the rupee weakness, triggered by the West Asia war.

"System liquidity has surged due to government spending and G-Sec redemptions."

"Around ₹56,000 crore entered the banking system from maturity of 7.27% GS 2026 on April 8," said Alok Singh, treasury head at CSB Bank.

He said additional maturities of ₹1.2 lakh crore due on April 12 and 17 will further boost liquidity.

"However, upcoming tax outflows and reversal of VRR (variable rate repo) will suck out some liquidity from the system."

Meanwhile, banks parked ₹5.78 lakh crore at standing deposit facility on Wednesday, compared to an average of ₹3.21 lakh crore in March.

Followed by the improved liquidity, the weighted average call rate (WACR) eased to 5.08% on Thursday, from an average of 5.29% in March.

Market participants do not anticipate the RBI to deploy variable rate reverse repo auctions despite WACR falling well below the repo rate, given the West Asia crisis. RBI Governor Sanjay Malhotra indicated the same in the post-policy press conference on Wednesday.

"Our attempt is to keep the WACR as near as possible to the policy rate. In times of high uncertainty, we reassure banks that liquidity won't fall short. That's why we have allowed it to be in the lower end," said Malhotra.

Morgan Stanley sees 24% upside for Sensex by Dec

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, April 9

DESPITE THE WAR-INDUCED weakness in equity markets, Morgan Stanley India sees the Sensex at 95,000 points by December, a 24% upside from the current level. This will be supported by stocks' 12-month trailing performance, valuations, foreign investors' positioning, and the resumption of the earnings upcycle, it said in an equity strategy report.

Morgan Stanley's bull-case target for the index is 107,000 points, a 40% rise from the current level. This assumes crude oil prices below $70 per barrel and a 19% annual earnings growth in FY26-FY28.

On the other hand, the bear-case target for the BSE benchmark is 76,000 points, down less than 1% from the spot level. This is under the assumption of crude prices being more than $100 per barrel, 15% annual earnings growth, tighter monetary policy by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), and a likely recession in the US.

According to the report, the Sensex is trading at levels that make it "as inexpensive as it

"India's share in profits exceeds its index weight by the highest margin ever, and the Sensex is nearly the cheapest ever in gold terms."

The Sensex-to-gold ratio is calculated by dividing the Sensex price index value by the price of gold per 10 gram.

Foreign portfolio investors' positioning has also weakened over the last several months, Morgan Stanley said, adding that passive money needs to keep selling to keep pace with India's falling index weight and hedge funds favour India as a funding short. However, one of the positives is the resumption in the earnings upcycle, with high-frequency data showing strength.

The rupee remains undervalued, but the RBI has turned its sentiment on the currency, the financial services firm said.

Other key catalysts for the market include continuing policy reforms, particularly in the electricity sector, productivity boost from artificial intelligence, and the surge in buybacks.

Ola Electric surges 50% in 6 sessions

FE BUREAU
Chennai, April 9

SHARES OF OLA Electric surged 20% on Thursday, extending gains for the second straight session. The shares hit the upper circuit of ₹36.32 on the NSE, even as equity benchmarks BSE Sensex and Nifty 50 declined over 1% amid fresh tensions in West Asia over ceasefire violations.

Strong buying momentum pushed Ola Electric shares over 15% in the early trade. Towards market closing hours, the stock jumped 20% from previous close of ₹30.27 and remained locked at the upper circuit limit of ₹36.32. The surge comes a day after the stock was locked in a 5% upper circuit in Wednesday's session.

Ola shares have rallied over 50% in the last six trading sessions. The recent rally follows the firm's announcement regarding the readiness of its in-house developed lithium iron phosphate cell, which it said, marks a key milestone in its efforts to strengthen electric mobility.

Lead petitioner exits Jindal Poly Films class action suit

ANJANA THERESA ANTONY
Mumbai, April 9

INDIA'S FIRST CLASS action lawsuit saw a turn of events as the lead petitioner, Ankit Jain, sold his stake in Jindal Poly Films and thus, no longer has the legal standing to be a part of the minority shareholders.

Meanwhile, another party bought the stake and approached the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), seeking to substitute its name in the petition in place of Jain.

The tribunal was also informed that another minority public shareholder has filed an application to intervene in the class action. The NCLT will hear the lawsuit and related applications on April 30.

The matter pertains to the alleged ₹2,500-crore financial fraud by the firm, which was raised by minority investors holding an almost 5% stake.

The group of investors, led by Jain, claimed that the firm and its promoters transferred funds and assets at significant undervaluation, unfairly wrote off loans, and made consultancy payments to unqualified entities.

CASE TWIST

■ Lead petitioner Ankit Jain has sold his stake in Jindal Poly Films

■ Jain no longer has legal standing to be a part of shareholders

■ Another party bought the stake, approached NCLT, sought to substitute its name in petition in place of Jain

The New Delhi bench of the law tribunal issued a notice in the intervention application filed by the markets regulator, calling for response from Jindal Poly and other respondents.

By way of the application, Sebi seeks to bring on record its findings into the financial mismanagement and securities law violations by the company.

Last year, Sebi had collected evidence about the investment write-offs made by Jindal Poly and general financial mismanagement which violated the rights of minority shareholders and the securities market at large under various provisions.

The regulator's investigation focuses on the company's engagement through Jindal India Powertech in the power sector though the company had disclosed its exit from related businesses over a decade ago.

In February, the NCLT had admitted the class action lawsuit, a first of its kind admitted by an Indian Tribunal.

The National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) had also dismissed Jindal Poly's plea against the class action lawsuit, paving the way for NCLT to hear the matter on merits basis.

On Thursday, shares of Jindal Poly closed 3.6% lower at ₹813.35 on the BSE.

The stock rose almost 70% so far in 2026.

Jindal Poly is a part of the BC Jindal group and is engaged in the business of various packaging films and non-woven fabrics.

Institutional appetite for InvITs gains traction

KSHIPRA PETKAR
Mumbai, April 9

INSTITUTIONAL INVESTMENT TO infrastructure exposure trusts (InvITs) is steadily rising, signalling what industry leaders describe as a "structural shift" in capital allocation towards infrastructure-backed yield platforms.

According to Ica, the market valuation of Indian InvITs has expanded multifold—from approximately ₹40,000 crore in March 2020 to over ₹7 lakh crores as of February.

With institutions such as India Infrastructure Finance Company planning to double their InvIT investments to ₹6,000 crore by FY27, market participants say the trend reflects a broader transition, rather than isolated institutional moves.

NS Venkatesh, chief executive officer of the Bharat InvIT Association, said the growing commitment to InvITs is underpinned by the asset class's track record of stable, annuity-like cash flows and strengthened governance standards. "The shift is driven by a national emphasis on infrastructure creation and a growing institutional need for reliable, long-term yields."

However, he added that while the trajectory towards mainstream acceptance is clear, it's not yet universal. "The momentum is largely propelled by state-backed initiatives and the National Monetisation Pipeline, while some private players remain selective."

Over the past decade, regulatory refinements by Sebi have enhanced transparency and operational efficiency in the InvIT space, boosting investor confidence. Institutional investors, including pension funds, insurance companies, banks, mutual funds and large corporates, currently account for around 8% of total InvIT unit holdings, according to Ica. While this remains modest compared with global standards, analysts expect the share to rise steadily in coming years.

Several structural factors are driving participation. InvITs are mandated to distribute at least 90% of their net distributable cash flows, making them attractive to institutions with long-term liabilities. Leverage is capped at 49%, extendable to 70% subject to conditions such as a AAA rating and a track record of six distributions—safeguards that support healthy coverage metrics.

From a credit perspective, roads and highways have gained strong traction due to established toll and annuity models. Their share in total InvIT asset value has risen sharply—from 16% in March 2021 to 39% in March 2025—and was expected to exceed 40% by March 2026. Suprio Banerjee, vice-president and co-group head at Ica, said: "The increasing share of roads is likely to continue in FY27 with the expected listing of Citius TransNet Investment Trust. Nevertheless, the telecom sector continues to lead the InvIT landscape in terms of asset value, with two major telecom InvITs accounting for nearly half of the total."

Even smaller banks, which currently have limited or no exposure to InvITs, remain open to participation if suitable opportunities arise.

RBI issues norms to ease cross-border payments

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, April 9

THE RESERVE BANK OF INDIA (RBI) has issued fresh directives to enhance the efficiency of inward cross-border payments, aligning with its Payments Vision 2025 and the G20 road map for faster, cheaper and more transparent transactions.

The central bank has flagged delays in crediting funds at the beneficiary stage of cross-border transactions, particularly the lag between receipt of funds and their credit to customer accounts.

To address this, RBI has mandated a series of measures aimed at improving efficiency and transparency.

Banks must immediately notify customers once inward payment messages are received, even outside business hours. They are required to reconcile nostro accounts in near real-time, ideally within an hour, rather than relying solely on end-of-day statements.

Payments received during forex market hours must be credited the same day, while those received after hours should be processed on the next business day.

To further streamline operations, banks may adopt straight-through processing systems, subject to FEMA compliance, enabling direct credit of inward remittances to resident accounts.

Additionally, banks are encouraged to provide digital platforms that allow customers to upload necessary documents and track foreign exchange transactions seamlessly.

These directions will take effect six months from today and are backed by provisions under the Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007. The move is expected to significantly reduce delays, improve transparency and strengthen India's position in the evolving global payments ecosystem.

RBI mulls checks to curb digital fraud

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, April 9

TO MITIGATE FINANCIAL fraud, RBI on Thursday proposed lagged credit for authorised push payments and a control or kill switch for digital payments.

It further proposed limiting aggregate credits in an account to help counter the problem created by mule accounts, and the designation of a trusted person to authenticate high-value transactions for citizens aged 70 years and above and persons with disabilities.

The central bank proposed these norms in a discussion paper released on Thursday amid a rise in fraudulent activities targeting customers. It announced the discussion paper as part of its statement on developmental and regulatory policies during the February

Proposals include lagged credit for authorised push payments and a control or kill switch for digital payments monetary policy meeting.

The central bank has asked for feedback and comments on the discussion paper by May 8.

National Cyber Crime Reporting Portal indicate that fraud-related to digital payments is on the rise, with 2.8 million frauds reported in 2025, amounting to ₹22,931 crore, higher than 2.4 million, totalling ₹22,848 crore in 2024, according to the discussion paper.

In the lagged credit for authorised push payments, the central bank proposed a short delay at the payer's end for transactions above ₹10,000.

PMMY at 11: Powering MSME-led growth

ASHOK CHANDRA

WHEN PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi launched the Pradhan Mantri MUDRA Yojana on April 8, 2015, the stated mission was simple: "Funding the Unfunded." Eleven years later, the scheme has evolved into one of the world's largest micro-credit programmes, fundamentally altering how India's smallest entrepreneurs access formal finance establishing itself as a critical pillar in the nation's financial inclusion architecture.

As of March 2026, PMMY has disbursed loans worth ₹40.07 lakh crore through more than 577.9 million accounts. The scale of disbursement—exceeding the GDP of many mid-sized economies—reflects both the latent demand among micro-entrepreneurs and the institutional capacity built to service it.

₹40.07 lakh crore disbursed, two-thirds of it reaching women entrepreneurs, and over 1.20 million first-generation business owners brought into the formal financial fold.

The scheme emerged from a recognition that India's micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSME) sector, which contributes approximately 30% of GDP and 45% of exports, remained chronically underserved by formal credit channels. Prior to PMMY, an estimated ₹7.7 million micro-units operated outside the formal banking system, relying on informal moneylenders charging exorbitant rates or foregoing expansion altogether due to capital constraints.

PMMY operates through a three-tier institutional framework comprising the Micro Units Development and Refinance Agency (MUDRA), Member Lending Institutions (MLIs) including public sector banks, private banks, regional rural banks, microfinance institutions, and non-banking financial companies, and the beneficiaries themselves. This architecture enables credit flow from formal financial institutions to the last mile without requiring borrowers to pledge collateral—a structural barrier that had historically excluded millions from institutional finance.

The scheme has helped strengthen local businesses, supply chains, and rural economies. This structure has enabled scale, reflected in the steady rise in sanctions from ₹1.37 lakh crore in FY16 to ₹5.74 lakh crore in FY26. The scheme's graduated loan categories have proven instrumental in enabling enterprise growth. The original three tiers—Shishu (up to ₹50,000), Kishor (₹50,000 to ₹5 lakh), and Tarun (₹5 lakh to ₹10 lakh)—were designed to match credit availability with business maturity.

Perhaps more significant than aggregate disbursement figures is the scheme's reach into previously excluded demographics. Over 120 million accounts belong to first-time borrowers, underscoring PMMY's role in creating new entrepreneurs rather than merely refinancing existing businesses.

Women have emerged as the predominant beneficiaries, holding two-thirds share in the number of loan accounts sanctioned. Further, more than half of MUDRA loan account holders belong to Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Other Backward Classes—a distribution that speaks to the scheme's effectiveness in reaching economically weaker sections.

Public sector banks have served as the primary delivery mechanism, leveraging their extensive branch networks to reach semi-urban and rural borrowers. The operational efficiency of the lending ecosystem is evident in the narrow gap between sanctioned and disbursed amounts—₹5.74 lakh crore sanctioned versus ₹5.65 lakh crore disbursed in FY2025-26 alone.

The role of digital cannot be undermined here as the integration has further strengthened the delivery architecture. Platforms such as the Jan Samarth portal have streamlined application and disbursement processes, while credit guarantee mechanisms administered by National Credit Guarantee Trustee Company have mitigated lender risk. These developments are consistent with broader trends in India's financial system towards digitisation and risk-sharing frameworks.

There are more than 79.4 million registered MSME units on the Udyam portal, out of which more than 78.8 million are micro units. As estimates, the MSME sector still has a substantial ₹30 lakh crore addressable credit gap. Bridging this gap is key to unlocking India's full entrepreneurial potential.

Looking ahead to Viksit Bharat 2047, PMMY's role will be pivotal in realising a $30-trillion plus economy anchored in formal, resilient MSMEs. With formalisation accelerating via Udyam and digital public infrastructure, the scheme can evolve from micro-credit provider to a full-spectrum enabler.

Reducing the residual credit gap through account aggregator frameworks and ONDC integration will be critical.

After 11 years, PMMY has evolved into a cornerstone of India's inclusive growth strategy. By enabling millions of small entrepreneurs—especially women and marginalised groups. It has powered MSME-led development, strengthened grassroots economies and advanced the vision of Atmanirbhar Bharat.

Eli Lilly loses weight loss drug market share; Novo holds on SAPALE ADDED Novo has maintained its ground well in the initial round of fight due to innovator-driven efficacy, partnerships with Emure and Abbott, and by bringing the pricing at par with some key generics. Mounjaro's cost in India starts at ₹13,125 per month for a 2.5 mg dose, and goes up to ₹25,781 for 15 mg dose. Post March 21, when the market was flooded with generics, Danish drugmaker Novo slashed the prices of both its obesity drug Wegovy and anti-diabetic medication Ozempic to match the prices of Indian drugmakers.

Beginning April 1, the starting dose of Wegovy (0.25 mg) were made available at a monthly price of ₹5,660, down 36% from its previous monthly price of ₹8,800. In comparison, the starting dose of semaglutide (in pre-filled pens) for companies like Eris Lifesciences and Sun Pharma stood at ₹4,000 and ₹3,490 per month, respectively.

Semaglutide's patent expired in early 2026 in countries such as India, China, Canada, and Brazil. India, particularly has become a test case globally with 12 companies already introducing 23 brands in the market. To be sure, patent protection for semaglutide remains in place in many regions such as the US and Europe until the early 2030s. On the other hand, the molecule patent for Mounjaro will expire only in 2036 in India.

It is expected that more aggressive generic launches of semaglutide might be seen over the next few days, and the exponential growth trend in the segment is likely to continue in April as well. "The phenomenon will likely stabilise in 3-4 months," a pharma analyst said.

As of March, the size of India's GLP-1 drugs market stood at ₹1,600 crore in India. GLP-1 is a class of drug prescribed to manage type-2 diabetes and obesity. They work by regulating appetite and blood sugar.

As we celebrate the reform, calling it a job done would be far from reality. For decades, India has been one of the most over-criminalised countries in the world. In 2023, a study by the Vidhi Centre for Public Policy found that central laws included over 7,300 crimes, of which over 5,300 were punishable by imprisonment. A 2022 report by the Observer Research Foundation and TeamLease, a workforce solutions company, noted 26,134

As India moves out of the shadow of colonialism towards a trust-based legal system, both the Centre and the states need to undertake further reforms of a similar nature, particularly for statutes

The instinct to reach for imprisonment as a regulatory tool remains deeply embedded in our legislative culture. India's founding vision was of a republic governed by law, not by the whims of the state. For too long, the proliferation of criminal punishments in regulatory legislation has inverted that vision. The Jan Vishwas Bill, 2026, does not just reform 79 statutes; it revises the assumption that every citizen is a potential criminal until proven innocent. Dismantling that assumption, one provision at a time, is what a democratic government owes to the people.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ceasefire & diplomacy

Apropos of "Pathway to repair" (FE, April 9), Iran's unexpected battlefield resilience and precise counterattacks against US and Israeli assets fundamentally altered the war's trajectory. Swarms of missiles, hardened defenses, and regional proxy coordination exposed miscalculations in initial planning, imposing tangible military and strategic costs. Domestic opposition within the US intensified: congressional dissent, fiscal strain, and public war fatigue eroded political backing for escalation. Disappointment over unmet objectives—failure to neutralise Iran's nuclear infrastructure or decisively degrade its deterrence capabilities—compounded pressure on leadership. These realities forced Trump to decide in favour of a ceasefire. But the ceasefire has come as a profound relief to the region and the world. The two-week window should serve as a breakthrough for diplomacy

Waiting and watching

Waiting and watching

Appropos of "A policy of caution" (FE April 9), the central bank's calibrated stance appears prudent amid global uncertainty and supply-side risks. But prolonged caution may temper investment sentiment if credit costs and liquidity remain tight. Clear forward guidance, even if conditional, would help businesses plan better. Simultaneously, targeted liquidity support for productive sectors and MSMEs can sustain momentum without stoking inflation. Coordination with fiscal policy, particularly on infrastructure spending and energy stability, is essential. A mix of vigilance and timely support will anchor growth expectations.

Rethinking the agency compensation model

AS BUDGETS TIGHTEN, BRANDS ARE PUSHING FOR REMUNERATION BASED ON OUTCOMES, MOVING AWAY FROM BILLABLE HOURS

CHRISTINA MONIZ

WPP'S CFO Joanne Wilson said in a recent statement to analysts that as a commercial model where agency fees are linked directly to measurable business outcomes such as sales growth will enable the firm to "decouple revenue from headcount." Simply put, the company is looking at a gradual shift from billing based on hours and manpower, and is instead looking to demonstrate value in driving business objectives for clients.

The clamour for a rejig of the agency remuneration model is also growing in India and is in line with global trends. A global study from the World Federation of Advertisers (WFA) and MediaSense from November 2025 shows three-quarters (75%) of the advertisers expect to change their agency remuneration model within the next three years.

When enforced, the shift would be dramatic for an industry that has for ilarto portfolio management services or alternative investment funds – a base fee with performance linked upside beyond agreed thresholds,” she argues.

Shifting gears

The new pricing model could possibly also be a shot in the arm for the advertising business across the world and in India, which has been reeling from AI disruption, shrinking ad budgets, growing staffing costs and media fragmentation. For an industry that has not been adequately compensated for its impact in driving business objectives and growth for brands, observers believe this is a much-needed shift.

However, as Ashish Bhasin, founder, The Bhasin Consulting, explains, one of the biggest concerns affecting agencies today is the dearth of good talent. The industry doesn't have the same kind of talent it did a couple of decades ago. And agencies are decades billed clients based on hours and effort. It is unclear when WPP will roll out this new model, but industry leaders are calling it a move in the right direction. Says Rohit Ohri, founder of OhriGroup, "The shift towards outcome-based remuneration is a significant and necessary step forward. For too long, agencies have priced their work based on inputs - hours, resources, and deliverables - while the real value they create lies in impact."

Most advertisers employ a hybrid remuneration model using a combination of commission, labour/time and performance-based fees. Agencies will now be expected to clearly articulate and demonstrate the impact of their work," he explains, adding that the success of this model will depend on how collaboratively outcomes are defined and measured. The rapid changes defining the advertising ecosystem, with automation and AI playing a bigger role, also necessitate this shift. Experts note that agency costs are largely people-driven. Manpower accounts for an estimated 70% of the cost. However, the rise of AI has significantly reduced time by at least 30% in certain

WHO WILL FOOT THE BILL?

The rise of AI has challenged the billable hours model, since it reduces time and effort by at least 30%

Cost cutting has hit agency revenues. They will need to invest heavily in talent and technology to drive up fees processes and tasks, thereby breaking the hourly billing model and compelling agencies to put skin in the game.

Nandini Dias, strategic advisor, independent board director and former CEO, Lodestar UM, points out that outcome-based remuneration is not entirely new. Directionally, it is good, as it rewards effectiveness, not just activity. "However, in India, full scale adoption will be challenging due to attribution complexities and limited data transparency. The model is more viable in digital and e-commerce, performance marketing, like search, social, and lead generation business. Where it will struggle is in areas like brand building, long term equity creation, storytelling, etc. as this has a lag period which can be across several months or years," explains Dias.

For example, in the auto sector, if a car sells, it is difficult to isolate whether success is from product design, brand image built over many years, ease of servicing, mileage, advertising or media strategy. "A more practical path is a hybrid model, simplying the industry with a 'chicken-and-egg' situation."

"Only when clients pay better will agencies be able to get great talent and offer them greater value. At the moment, the industry is in a negative spiral. Large network agencies managed by well-funded holding companies will have to sacrifice short-term profitability and invest in good quality talent and technology. Instead, they are doing the opposite, sacking large numbers of people. It's great to remove the fat but they're also cutting muscle," laments Bhasin, noting that the industry is losing good talent to AI companies that are willing to pay top dollar.

The industry has a long way to go before arriving at an appropriate pay model, says Nareesh Gupta, co-founder and CEO of independent agency Bang In The Middle. "With purchase departments driving the compensation for agencies, outcome-based compensation is never the metric discussed, especially with agency relationships becoming transactional and short-term," he explains, noting that his agency prefers to stick to annual retainers and project fees.

● The importance of first criticality

ON APRIL 6, the indigenous 500 MWe (mega watt electrical) Prototype Fast Breeder Reactor (PFBR) at Kalpakkam, Tamil Nadu, successfully attained first criticality. Criticality is the point at which a sustained and controlled nuclear fission chain reaction begins. At this stage, neutrons produced by fission equal those lost through absorption and leakage, resulting in a stable power output. It marks the transition from the construction phase to the operational phase and is the essential first step towards generating heat and, ultimately, electricity. Attaining criticality is thus a key milestone before full power generation for PFBR and formally signals the start of the second stage of India's three-stage nuclear power programme. In this stage, plutonium produced in pressurised heavy water reactors (PHWR) is used in fast breeder reactors (FBR), paving the way for the third stage - thorium-based reactors. This technological capability thus enhances the utilisation of nuclear fuel resources and enables India to extract far greater energy from its limited uranium reserves while also preparing for large-scale use of its thorium reserves in the future.

● How this fits into India's 3-stage nuclear power programme

FAST BREEDER TECHNOLOGY forms the vital bridge between the existing PHWRs and the future deployment of thorium-based reactors. India's nuclear power programme is based on a sequential strategy: PHWRs, followed by FBRs and finally, thorium reactors. PHWRs rely on uranium fuel while FBRs use plutonium as fuel and are designed to produce more fissile material than they consume by converting uranium-238 into plutonium-239 and, eventually, enable the production of uranium-233 from thorium-232. India has around 500,000 tonne of thorium reserves. It is found in coastal and inland placer sands on the beaches of Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Odisha, Andhra Pradesh, Maharashtra and Gujarat, and in the inland riverine sands of Jharkhand and West Bengal. As India continues to expand its clean energy portfolio, FBRs will play a crucial role in delivering reliable, low-carbon, base-load power with higher thermal efficiency.

ENERGY SECURITY

Why Kalpakkam's criticality is India's big nuclear moment

The Kalpakkam Prototype Fast Breeder Reactor attained its first criticality earlier this week. Banasree Purkayastha looks at what this means for India's nuclear power generation programme and how soon the reactor can be expected to feed electricity to the country's power grid

● Types of nuclear reactors in India

ALONG WITH FBRs, there are other kinds of reactors. In pressurised water reactors (PHWRs), ordinary water under high pressure is used as both coolant and moderator. Two such Russian-designed reactors are operational at Kudankulam in Tamil Nadu, with four more units under construction. Pressurised heavy water reactors (PHWR) use natural uranium as fuel and heavy water as coolant and moderator. In boiling water reactors (BWRs), water boils inside the reactor core to produce steam that drives turbines. Two BWR units are operational at the Tarapur Atomic Power Station in Maharashtra.

● What about small modular reactors?

SMALL MODULAR REACTORS (SMR) have a power capacity of up to 300 MWe per unit and harness nuclear fission to generate heat to produce energy. These can be factory-built and assembled on site. While 18 out of India's 25 reactors are technically 'small' as they produce less than 300 MW of electricity, since they have been conventionally built, they are not modular. Bhabha Atomic Research Centre ARC has initiated design and development works on 200 MWe Bharat SMR and 55 MWe SMR. At least five indigenous designed SMRs are to be operational by 2033. The Nuclear Energy Mission has allocated ₹20,000 crore towards the design, development, and deployment of SMRs.

Finally there are advanced reactors that use alternative coolants like helium or molten salts but these are still at the research or conceptual stage in India.

● How early can commercial ops start at Kalpakkam?

THE KALPAKKAM REACTOR being a prototype FBR, commercial operations are still several months or even years away. A series of performance tests and safety validations will be conducted and only after the Atomic Energy Regulatory Board gives the green signal will the plant undergo staged power ascent, and finally generate electricity to feed the southern grid. Successful operation of the PFBR will lead to the construction of six 600 MWe FBRs at Kalpakkam and other sites. Already, two units - FBR-1 and FBR-2 - are planned at the Kalpakkam complex, as per an expert committee report of the Vivekananda International Foundation. Once the Kalpakkam PFBR is fully operational, India will become the second country in the world after Russia to operate a commercial FBR. This also brings India closer to its goal of achieving net zero emissions by 2070.

● India's nuclear power landscape

INDIA'S CURRENT NUCLEAR capacity is 8.78 GW. With indigenous 700 MW reactors and 1,000 MW reactors being developed via international cooperation, the installed capacity is projected to reach 22.38 GW by 2031-32. Nuclear power has consistently accounted for around 3% of India's total electricity generation. In 2024-25, its share stood at 3.1% with nuclear power plants generating 56,681 million units of electricity. The Nuclear Energy Mission aims to achieve 100 GW of nuclear power generation capacity by 2047.

REUTERS April 9

TESLA IS DEVELOPING an all-new smaller, cheaper electric SUV, four people familiar with the matter told Reuters. The automaker has contacted suppliers in recent weeks to discuss details of the plan for the compact SUV - which would be a new vehicle and not a variant of Tesla's current compact SUV would be produced in China, and one said Tesla also aims to expand production to the US and Europe. The car would be 4.28 meters in length, or about 14 feet, two of the sources said. That's significantly shorter than Tesla's top-selling Model Y SUV, which is about 15.7 feet long. The effort follows a decision by Chief Executive Elon Musk to scrap a highly anticipated low-

SUV MANIA

■ The compact SUV will be an all-new vehicle, not derived from Tesla Model 3 or Tesla Model Y
■ Estimated length will be about 4.28 meters (14 feet), notably shorter than the Model Y's 4.75 meters (15.7 feet)

■ Expected weight will be about 1.5 tonnes, lighter than the Model Y's 2 tonnes
■ Production likely to begin in China, with plans to expand to the US and Europe employee declined to confirm or deny details of any specific vehicle but said, in general, the automaker now aims to build models that would be driverless but offer a human-driven option. While aiming for full autonomy across its lineup, the person said, Tesla realizes many global markets won't see meaningful adoption - nor regulatory acceptance - of driverless vehicles for years. Preserving

As Tesla chases a driverless future, some analysts predict a third-straight year of falling sales for the EVs that provide the vast majority of its revenue. So far, Tesla operates a small number of robotaxis only in Austin, Texas, many with human safety monitors in the passenger seat. Tesla didn't respond to requests for comment about plans for a new vehicle.

The four people familiar official intelligence efforts. The numbers are also "ascending rapidly", Amazon CEO Andy Jassy said in a letter to shareholders, adding that its cloud business as a whole would be growing even faster without the capacity constraints that the tech industry is currently facing. Jassy also said the annual revenue run rate for Amazon's chips business, which produces its Graviton and Trainium processors, is now over $20 bn, doubling from the $10 bn milestone the company reported earlier this year. "There's so much demand for our chips that it's quite possible we'll sell racks of them to third parties in the future," Jassy added.

US weekly jobless claims remain low

NEW APPLICATIONS FOR US unemployment benefits increased moderately last week, showing no signs of labour market deterioration and potentially giving the Federal Reserve room to keep interest rates unchanged as it monitors the economic fallout from the war with Iran. Headline inflation picked up on a monthly basis in February and economic growth almost braked in the fourth quarter, other data showed on Thursday. Economists expect that price pressures increased further in March as the US-Israel war with Iran drove up the cost of energy and other products.

Kia delays launch of software-led vehicle launch

SOUTH KOREA'S KIA has delayed its software-defined vehicle (SDV) roll-out by about a year to 2028, while increasing investment as it seeks to catch up with Tesla. Its first SDV with semi-automated highway driving is now planned for 2028, followed by a more advanced city-capable version in early 2029.

Model 3 or Y, the people said. The conversations involved the manufacturing process and specifications for various components, they said.

Three of the people said the cost EV project in 2024 and pivot the company to focus on robotaxis and humanoid robots. A key question is whether this latest effort to develop a smaller SUV signals a strategy shift back to mass-market human-driven EVs or whether the new model would align more with Tesla's vision for fully autonomous vehicles. Such a model could potentially serve both purposes, according to one of the people familiar with the new-vehicle project and a Tesla employee with knowledge of its current product philosophy. The Tesla the option to build a particular model with or without driving controls could enable more sales and help ensure Tesla can keep its car factories running near capacity, the person said.

with the project said it remained in an early development stage. Reuters couldn't determine whether Tesla has given the green light for the car's production.

ISRAELI PM SAYS NEGOTIATIONS WOULD FOCUS ON DISARMING HEZBOLLAH

Netanyahu seeks direct talks with Lebanon in boost to truce efforts

JON GAMBRELL, ELENA BECATOROS & MIKE CORDER
Dubai, April 9

IN A POTENTIAL boost to West Asia ceasefire efforts, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said Thursday that he has authorised direct negotiations with Lebanon "as soon as possible", as a tentative ceasefire in the Iran war staggered under the weight of Israel's bombardment of Beirut.

Netanyahu said he gave the order in response to requests from Lebanon and that talks would focus on disarming Hezbollah and establishing peaceful relations between the neighbouring countries. He welcomed a call by Lebanon's prime minister to demilitarise Beirut.

There was no immediate response from Lebanon.

The ceasefire was also hampered by Tehran's continued chokehold on the Strait of Hormuz and uncertainty over whether planned peace talks can find common ground.

Iran and the US - which both declared victory after the ceasefire announcement - appeared to apply pressure. Semiofficial news agencies in Iran suggested forces have mined the Strait of Hormuz, a crucial waterway for oil that Tehran has closed. President Donald Trump, meanwhile, warned that US forces would hit Iran harder than before if it did not fulfil the agreement.

And there was disagreement over whether the ceasefire deal included a pause in fighting between Israel and Hezbollah. Israel on Wednesday pounded Beirut with airstrikes, resulting in the deadliest day in Lebanon since the war began on February 28.

Despite the fragile and dis-

Trump warns of major escalation

US PRESIDENT DONALD TRUMP vowed to retain military assets in West Asia until a peace deal with Iran is reached and warned of a major escalation in fighting if it failed to comply, as oil prices rose on concerns over supply and restrictions in the Strait of Hormuz.

Trump said US ships, aircraft and personnel with additional ammunition and weaponry would remain in place to destroy, if necessary, "a substantially degraded enemy", but expressed confidence that a lasting deal would be agreed.

"If for any reason it is not, which is highly unlikely, then the 'Shootin' Starts', bigger, and better, and stronger than anyone has ever seen before," Trump said, adding that a fifth of the world's oil and liquefied natural gas typically flows, after the US and Israel began airstrikes on February 28. Control over the waterway - and safe passage for tankers - will be a major focus of talks as fear of a global energy supply crisis.

Markets reflected the lingering uncertainty, with oil prices rebounding after Wednesday's steep declines and stocks falling. Brent crude traded about 3.5% higher at $98 a barrel at 2:15 p.m. in London on Thursday.

While sporadic airstrikes were reported in Iran and across West Asia in the early hours of the ceasefire, there were no reports on Thursday. That narrowed the international focus on Lebanon, where Israel revived its campaign against Hezbollah after the militant group started firing rockets

IMF chief warns war will slow global economic growth

THE IRAN WAR is darkening the outlook for the world economy - whether or not a fragile ceasefire holds, the head of the International Monetary Fund warned on Thursday.

IMF Managing Director

Kristalina Georgieva said the fund will downgrade its forecast for the world economy next week. "Had it not been for this shock, we would have been upgrading global growth," Georgieva said.

REVENUE FOR THE quarter rose 5.4% to ₹70,698 crore from ₹67,087 crore, coming in ahead of estimate of ₹68,932 crore. On a CC basis, revenue grew 1.2%, higher than the 0.8% growth recorded in the December quarter. The company's annualised revenue from artificial intelligence (AI) services stood at ₹2.3 billion, reflecting accelerated deployment of AI-led solutions.

"We expect some of the traditional revenues to slowly taper down and AI revenue to compensate for the reduction in the revenue in other service lines. But the timelines probably can vary," CEO and Managing Director K Krithivasan said, adding that it remains difficult to predict the pace of this transition.

Operating margin

TCS tops forecast, Q4 profit up 29%

expanded 10 bps to 25.3%, the highest in four years. Chief Financial Officer Samir Sekaria said the company continued to invest in AI-led opportunities while maintaining cost discipline.

"In FY26, we intensified investments through our build-partner-acquire approach, by acquiring Coastal Cloud & List Engage and establishing HyperVault. Our solid cash flow and resilient balance sheet position us to advance strategic priorities, pursue timely investments, and maximise growth," Sekaria said.

"The BFSI vertical continued to grow this quarter. Client specific demand remained technology led and outcome focused through Q4 shaped by heightened macro and geopolitical volatility. Increased uncertainty around interest rates, inflation and central bank actions influenced client sentiment resulting in cautious investment decision making. Despite this backdrop, BFSI clients continued to prioritise core and legacy," Krithivasan said.

He added that the ongoing West Asia conflict has had a limited impact so far, mainly affecting regional operations and the travel and transportation vertical, though a prolonged conflict could have broader implications. Total contract value (TCV) for the quarter rose to $12 billion from $9.3 billion in the previous quarter, exceeding street estimates of $8-10 billion, aided by three mega deals. North America contributed $5.4 billion to TCV, up from $4.9 billion, while BFSI stood at $3.9 bn and consumer business at $2.8 bn.

"TCS's deal pipeline is well-balanced, featuring both large, long-term projects and agile, results-focused AI deals. This mix, along with increased client IT spending, supports a positive outlook. Margin expansion to four-year highs underscores TCS's strong cost management and operational efficiency," Biswajit Maity, senior principal analyst at Gartner, said.

The company said it continued to see strong deal momentum in AI-led services such as enterprise transformation, digital engineering and cloud modernisation.

"Our engagements with hyperscalers and frontier AI model companies have moved beyond early exploration into design alignment, security frameworks, site due diligence, and commercial structuring. We see the demand converging around large anchor AI workloads in the 100 to 200 megawatt range per customer," Aarthi Subramanian, executive director and chief operating officer, said.

Krithivasan said the company remains focused on positioning itself for the next phase of growth as enterprises increasingly seek outcome-driven partnerships.

and the timeline for revenue realisation. The combination of softer shareholder payouts and elevated stock volatility signals a more cautious phase for India's largest IT services exporter, as it navigates a structural shift in technology demand while balancing capital allocation priorities.

Vijay Singh joins Venu to back Tata Sons IPO

SOURCES SAID TATA TRUSTS Chairman Noel Tata is keen to retain Tata Sons as an unlisted entity. His predecessor Ratan Tata was also against the listing of Tata Sons.

Srinivasan was earlier quoted as saying, "A public listing would not only unlock value for minority shareholders but also equip Tata Sons with capital to sustain growth."

Mails sent to Noel Tata, N Chandrasekaran and other trustees did not elicit a response till the time of going to press.

"If India is to produce fighter aircraft with a foreign partner, a huge investment will be required. Such projects, crucial for the country, should never be foregone for lack of funds which can only be raised from the market by a listed entity," Singh said. Singh was on the board of Tata Sons for 12 years till 2025.

He said Tata Sons needs more transparency in view of its size and scale of operations. "Tata Sons' worth has quadrupled over the last decade and it certainly needs more transparency and regulatory oversight given the scale, value and employee strength of its businesses," he said.

According to Singh, control, be it charitable trusts, was a workable proposition in earlier times but Tata Sons needs stability and a rigorous regulatory mechanism now. "The Tata Trusts have been fractious and turbulent in the recent past and there is no guarantee of a better future," Singh said.

When asked whether listing will reduce the influence and control of Tata Trusts, Singh said, "I do not think listing will significantly affect the trusts which will retain their large shareholding, board seats and will not lose their promoter status."

There is also a fear that another business group will gain an entry into Tata Sons and try for a takeover once the company is listed on the exchanges. This is because anybody can buy Tata Sons shares from the stock market and increase the shareholding through secondary market purchases. "A takeover bid is unlikely given the large size of the trusts stake," Singh said.

Tata Trusts owns 66% stake in Tata Sons and its chairman is selected with the approval of Tata Trusts.

He said the articles of Tata Sons will have to be reworded to obviate the value distortions and conflict of interest. "The articles will also need to specify that the main purpose of Tata Sons is to take the country forward through breakthrough and cutting-edge ventures, for which it must be a listed entity," Singh said.

"Tata Sons Chairman N Chandrasekaran sees it (listing of Tata Sons) as essential but can't say so because Tata Sons' official position has been to remain private. I think some trustees will not oppose an RBI decision on listing and nor will Venu. I don't think Noel will be able to get a unanimous resolution against listing," said a senior director in the Tata Group who preferred anonymity.

Islamabad gears up for key meet amid a shaky truce

Security officers stand guard at the main entrance of Pakistan's foreign ministry

TRUMP VOWED to keep troops in the Persian Gulf ahead of the talks in Pakistan, "until such time as the real agreement reached is fully complied with." He added that the Strait of Hormuz would soon be open and safe to use.

Iran effectively shut down Hormuz, where roughly a fifth of the world's oil and liquefied natural gas typically flows, after the US and Israel began airstrikes on February 28. Control over the waterway - and safe passage for tankers - will be a major focus of talks as fear of a global energy supply crisis.

Markets reflected the lingering uncertainty, with oil prices rebounding after Wednesday's steep declines and stocks falling. Brent crude traded about 3.5% higher at $98 a barrel at 2:15 p.m. in London on Thursday.

While sporadic airstrikes were reported in Iran and across West Asia in the early hours of the ceasefire, there were no reports on Thursday. That narrowed the international focus on Lebanon, where Israel revived its campaign against Hezbollah after the militant group started firing rockets across the Israel-Lebanon border at the start of the war.

Vance said Israel had agreed to "check themselves a little bit in Lebanon" to support negotiations. Hezbollah said it fired rockets toward Israel in response to Wednesday's assault. European Union Foreign Affairs Chief Kaja Kallas said Israel's right to defend itself doesn't justify "inflicting such massive destruction in Lebanon," warning that the offensive is hurting peace talks.

UK Foreign Secretary Yvette Cooper is also pushing for Lebanon to be included in the truce accord, while China said Lebanese "sovereignty and security should not be violated."

The war in West Asia has claimed more than 5,500 lives, according to governments and non-governmental agencies. More than 3,600 people have been killed in Iran, the US-based Human Rights Activists News Agency estimates, while more than 1,700 people have died in Lebanon, the government says.

Israel has reported about three dozen deaths, and a similar number have been killed across the Gulf Arab nations, government reports show.

c. Equity Strategy:

For arbitrage exposure, all securities under the futures and options segment of the BSE/NSE would be eligible for investment.

For investments other than arbitrage, the Scheme would follow an actively managed approach within the eligible investment universe comprising the Top 100 stocks by market capitalization listed on the BSE/NSE at the time of investment.

The investment environment, valuation parameters and other investment criteria will determine the allocation and the investment style. The Fund Manager would follow a top down approach to shortlist stocks for portfolio construction in line with the process outlined below. Under the top down process, the Fund Manager would look at the global and Indian economy and the domestic policy environment and stock valuations. This would result in identification of themes which have a potential to outperform. The final stock selection process would be a bottom-up process wherein stocks from the short listed themes would be picked up based on valuations. For asset allocation, the Fund Manager would take the help of qualitative framework of MVPS (Macro, Valuation, Policy and Sentiment). Sentiment would be gauged from factors like the positive/negative breadth of the market, inflows/outflows into equity mutual funds and FI buying/selling figures. Under normal market conditions and depending on the Fund Manager's views, the assets of the Scheme would be invested across stocks that represent a broad range of sectors of the economy in order to ensure adequate portfolio diversification.

4. What are the Investment Strategies?	For Equity Investments: Under normal market conditions, Bank of India Multi Asset Allocation Fund would invest 35% to 40% of its assets in a diversified portfolio constituting equity and equity related instruments across market capitalization that the Fund Manager believes have sustainable business models, and potential for capital appreciation. The Scheme would follow an actively managed approach allowing it the flexibility to pursue opportunities without having any bias in favour of sectoral allocations. The investment environment, valuation parameters and other investment criteria will determine the allocation and the investment style. Under normal market conditions and depending on the Fund Manager's views, the assets of the Scheme would be invested across stocks that represent a broad range of sectors of the economy, in order to ensure adequate portfolio diversification. The Fund Manager would follow a top down approach to shortlist stocks for portfolio construction in line with the process outlined below. Under the top down process, the Fund Manager would look at the global and Indian economy and the domestic policy environment and stock valuations. This would result in identification of themes which have a potential to outperform. The final stock selection process would be a bottom-up process wherein stocks from the short listed themes would be picked up based on valuations. For asset allocation, the Fund Manager would take the help of qualitative framework of MVPS (Macro, Valuation, Policy and Sentiment). Sentiment would be gauged from factors like the positive/negative breadth of the market, inflows/outflows into equity mutual funds and FPI buying/selling figures. Investment Process: Clear 5 steps process: Process: Step 1: Screening Process Step 2: Industry Research Step 3: Asset Allocation Step 4: Portfolio Construction Step 5: Risk and Portfolio Output: - Screening the entire equity universe based on quantitative and qualitative criteria. - A Focus List of attractive stocks: Stocks identified based on industry status, company competitive analysis and valuations. - Asset allocation in accordance with the MVPS framework. - Product Positioning and the outcome of our Asset Allocation, Industry Research and Screening process. - Risk reports: Adherence to Product Positioning and Process. Decision Process (Parameters/Owners): - Quantitative + Qualitative Overlay - Industry + Company approach - Equities Team - Fund Manager - Risk Committee For Debt Investments: The Fund Manager will follow a disciplined investment process to meet the Scheme specific investment objectives. He will endeavor to construct a well-diversified, high credit portfolio that minimizes liquidity risk and credit risk. The Fund Manager shall evaluate all the investment proposals to ensure that the credit risk is kept at the minimum level. The portfolios will be constructed in such a manner that the obligations to the investors are met at all points in time and under all circumstances. The alpha to the portfolio will be generated by managing the interest rate risk across different asset classes and duration buckets. The funds would be managed keeping the Scheme's objectives in mind and with a long term investment horizon for the fund. Investment Process: - Macro research & asset allocation - Micro Research - Security Selection - Portfolio Construction/ balancing - Performance monitoring The investment process will be a five stage process as outlined in the above points. The process will be research oriented. It will comprise of qualitative as well as quantitative research. Macro-economic call will be taken on interest rate direction through detailed analysis of various influencing factors like inflation, money supply, government borrowing, private sector borrowing, currency market movement, central bank policy, domestic fiscal and monetary policy, global interest rate scenario and market sentiment. Interest rate direction call will be supplemented by technical analysis of market and short term influencing factors like trader position, auction/issuance of government/corporate securities, release of economic numbers etc. Interest rate direction call and anticipation of yield curve movement will form the basis of portfolio positioning in duration terms. Holding period return analysis will decide the portfolio selection. Credit research will be done on a regular basis for all companies. Credit research will include reports as well as rating rationales and other inputs from external agencies. Both qualitative and quantitative inputs will form part of the final decision. Internal credit exposure limits, both for individual companies and groups and counterparty exposure limits for repo transactions will be part of the approved list from the risk management team. Scheme Specific Risk Factor	No provision w.r.t. risk related to Silver ETF's.	New point added as explained below: Risk associated with investments in Silver ETF's: - The value of the Units relates directly to the value of the silver held by the Silver ETF and fluctuations in the price of silver could adversely affect investment value of the Units. The factors that may affect the price of silver, inter alia, include demand & supply, economic and political developments, changes in interest rates and perceived trends in bullion prices, exchange rates, inflation trends, market movements, movement/trade of silver that may be imposed by RBI, trade and restrictions on import/export of silver or silver jewelry, etc. Hence the investor may also lose money due to fluctuation in the prices of the silver. Silver Exchange Traded Funds are relatively new product and their value could decrease if anticipated operational or trading problems arise. An investment in the Scheme may be adversely affected by competition from other methods of investing in Silver. - The Trustee, in the general interest of the unit holder of the Scheme offered under this Scheme Information Document and keeping in view of the unforeseen circumstances/unusual market conditions, may limit the total number of Units which can be redeemed on any Business Day. - For the valuation of units, indirect taxes like customs duty, VAT etc. would also be considered. Hence, any change in the rates of indirect taxation would affect the valuation of units of the Scheme. - Physical Silver: There is a risk that part or all of Silver held by the Silver ETF could be lost, damaged or stolen. Access to the silver could also be restricted by natural events or human actions. Any of these actions may have adverse impact on the operations of the Scheme and consequently on investment redemption of Units. Several factors that may affect the price of silver are as follows: - Global Silver supplies and demand, which is influenced by factors such as forward selling by Silver producers, purchases made by Silver producers to unwind Silver hedge positions, government regulations, productions and cost levels in major Silver producing countries. - Investors' expectations with respect to the macro-economic indicators - Currency exchange rates - Interest rates - Investment and trading activities of hedge funds and commodity funds; and - Global or regional political, economic or financial events and situations. In addition, investors should be aware that there is no assurance that Silver will maintain its long-term value. In the event that the price of Silver declines, the value of investment in units is expected to decline proportionately. Changes in indirect taxes like custom duties for import, sales tax, VAT or any other levies will have an impact on the valuation of Silver and consequently the NAV of the Scheme. Demand side and/or supply side constraints in domestic and/or international markets.
		7. Risk Mitigation Measures for investments in units of Gold ETF/ Silver ETF	No provision w.r.t. Risk mitigation measures for investment in units of Gold ETF/Silver ETF.	New point added as explained below: Risk mitigation strategies for investments in units of Gold ETF/ Silver ETF - Liquidity risk: Inability to buy /sell appropriate quantity of Gold ETF and Silver ETF units: For small amounts of inflows/outflows which are less than the creation size of Gold ETF and Silver ETF, the Scheme will buy/sell Gold ETF and Silver ETF units directly on the stock exchange without waiting for additional subscription/redemption to minimize tracking error. The underlying scheme may retain certain investments in cash or cash equivalents for its day-to-day liquidity requirements. The underlying scheme has to sell gold only to bullion bankers / traders who are authorized to buy gold. Though, there are adequate numbers of players (commercial or bullion bankers) to whom the underlying scheme can sell gold and Silver, the underlying scheme may have to resort to distress sale of gold and Silver if there is no or low demand for gold and silver to meet its cash needs of redemption or expenses. The Trustee, in general interest of the Unit holders of the underlying scheme offered under its Scheme Information Document and keeping in view of the unforeseen circumstances / unusual market conditions, may limit the total number of Units, which can be redeemed on any Business Day. Event risk/Custody Risk: Risk of loss, damage, theft, impurity etc. of Gold/Silver: There is a risk that part or all physical Silver belonging to the underlying scheme could be lost, damaged or stolen. To ensure safety, the said Gold/Silver is stored by the underlying scheme with custodian in its vaults. Gold/Silver held by custodian is also insured. The custodian will insure/cover all such risks.

Modi announces six guarantees for Bengal

Prime Minister Narendra Modi being presented a portrait of Goddess Kali during an election rally in Suri, Birbhum, on Thursday

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA Modi on Thursday sharpened the BJP's poll pitch in West Bengal, bringing "industrial decay" to the forefront of his campaign discourse while offering a "six-point guarantee" to the people as an antidote to the "sins" committed by the Mamata Banerjee-led TMC dispensation.

Speaking at three rallies in the state, the PM said the BJP, after coming to power, will replace the TMC's "reign of fear" with BJP's "trust".

Modi pledged to bring about changes in the governance "system" and make public servants accountable to citizens for their actions, stating his second guarantee.

"The BJP will reopen all files on corruption and crimes committed against women in Bengal, which the TMC has suppressed," he added, spelling out his "third guarantee".

"All leaders, irrespective of their positions in government, who are involved in corruption, will be in jail," he added as the fourth one.

While pledging that government facilities and scheme benefits will be made available to all refugees who took shelter in India as per provisions of law, Modi asserted that "infiltrators won't be allowed to stay in this country," stating his fifth guarantee.

"Once the BJP government is formed, we will immediately implement the 7th Pay Commission in Bengal for state employees, teachers and those working in related sectors," he said, defining his sixth guarantee. —PTI
