SEBI mulls SME IPO route for firms valued up to ₹5,000 crore

A BOOST. Weighs raising post-issue paid-up capital limit for SME listings to ₹100 crore

Akshata Gorde
Mumbai

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) is considering raising the maximum post-issue paid-up capital for companies listing on the SME platform to ₹100 crore from the current ₹25 crore, a move that could allow companies with market valuations of up to about ₹5,000 crore, nearly 10 times the typical sub-₹500 crore companies currently listing on the SME platform, to tap the SME IPO route.

The proposed change forms part of a broader review of the SME framework, which includes easing the minimum application size of ₹2 lakh for trading lots and easing mandates of market making and underwriting, said people familiar with the matter.

“There are several companies that aren’t small enough to be eligible under the current SME framework, but still find it very difficult to meet the higher costs of listing on the mainboard

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- The proposed change forms part of a broader review of the SME framework
- May remove the requirement of a ₹2 lakh minimum trading lot
- Mandatory market-making and underwriting requirements could also be relaxed platform. The changes are a carve-out for these companies to be able to list on SME, grow using the capital and move to the mainboard,” said a person aware of the discussions.

GETS APPROVAL

The proposals were discussed and approved by the Primary Market Advisory Committee on Wednesday. The regulator is expected to review the proposals internally before seeking public comments through a draft paper.

SEBI is also considering removing the minimum application size of ₹2 lakh for individual investors.

The regulator had doubled this requirement from ₹1 lakh less than two years ago to curb excessive speculative retail frenzy in the SME primary market.

MORE PARTICIPATION

Sources said the regulator observed an improvement in retail behaviour last year and lowering the entry barrier would encourage more participation as the quality of SME companies also increases.

“Since there is always an option to migrate to the mainboard, allowing more companies on the SME platform would encourage more MSMEs to list,” according to another source. The market regulator is also looking at easing the market-making requirements for SME issues, potentially lowering the minimum number of years. Currently, companies have to appoint a designated market-maker for a minimum three years from the date of listing to provide liquidity in the stock on the platform.

Further, the regulator may also ease the mandatory requirement of underwriting the full SME IPO issue size, including by merchant bankers to show skin in the game.

E-mail queries to SEBI did not elicit a response.

INDUSTRY FEEDBACK

The discussions to ease SME regulations follow industry feedback about the increased difficulties in listing on the SME platform following the series of measures enforced by the regulator less than two years ago.

Data showed that around 80 SMEs listed in the first half of 2026 compared to 267 in 2025.

Tata Trusts kickstarts process to select Tata Sons Chairman

Anesh Phadnis
Mumbai

Tata Trusts has initiated the process to select a new Chairman in the place of N Chandrasekaran, who has opted against a third term beginning February 2027.

The Sir Dorabji Tata Trust (SDTT) passed a resolution on Thursday “to initiate the setting up of a selection committee as soon as possible” to choose the new Chairman.

The SDTT is one of the two principal shareholders of Tata Sons, the holding company of the salt-to-software conglomerate.

The other key trust, Sir Ratan Tata Trust (SRTT), is facing a regulatory probe and has been barred from holding meetings by the Charity Commissioner of Maharashtra. Together, the two Trusts control over 52 per cent of Tata Sons and are led by Noel Tata.

THANKS CHANDRA

In a statement, Tata Trusts said it respects Chandrasekaran’s decision not to offer himself for reappointment as Chairman.

The Trusts appreciated Chandrasekaran’s stewardship and contribution to the

N Chandrasekaran

Tata Group, and thanked him for his “immense contribution during a period of significant change, growth and transformation of the group”.

It also extended support to Tata Sons in ensuring a smooth and timely leadership transition.

Chandrasekaran, popularly known as Chandra, announced that he will not seek a third term at Tata Sons after failing to secure the backing of Noel Tata.

FINANCIAL PRESSURE

While Chandra oversaw the group’s expansion and its foray into electronics and semiconductor ventures, losses in the aviation and digital businesses put pressure on the conglomerate’s finances.

MAIN CONTENTERS

Among the names doing the rounds as probable successor is Tata Steel CEO and Managing Director TV Narandran, considered one of the leading contenders.

Other names that have surfaced in industry circles include R Mukundan, Managing Director and CEO of Tata Chemicals; Aarthi Subramanian, Executive Director – President and Chief Operating Officer at TCS; Harish Bhat, Tata Group veteran; and P Venkatesalu, Managing Director and CEO of Trent.

In an exclusive interview with businessline, former Tata Sons senior executive Mukund Rajan had said: “Noel Tata should not be ruled out for a larger role on grounds of experience”, pointing to similar doubts surrounding Ratan Tata when JRD Tata was choosing his successor.

While Tata Trusts has begun discussions to find Chandra’s successor, the selection process for the new Chairman and AGM of Tata Sons is linked to the removal of restrictions on SRTT.

+ New govt mandate: Every third retail pump must offer a new-gen alternative fuel

Rishi Ranjan Kala
New Delhi

The government has mandated that at least every third retail outlet of the oil marketing entities must offer a “new generation alternative fuel”, including CNG, LNG, biofuels or EV charging and battery-swapping facilities, within three years of their commissioning.

The move, notified in the gazette on August 10, seeks to accelerate the adoption of cleaner fuels, reduce dependence on imported crude, curb pollution and boost energy security and farmer income while attracting private investments into fuel retailing.

TO ATTRACT PENALTY

The Centre will also have the power to prescribe additional “new generation alternative fuels” from time to time. For retail outlets commissioned between November 8, 2019, and August 10, 2026, the fuel marketing entities have been given one month to report the number of outlets commissioned and operational for more than three years, along with details of outlets that are already offering alternative fuels and any shortfall in meeting this requirement.

They will have another six months to bridge the shortfall. Failure to do so will attract a one-time penalty of ₹10 lakh for every deficient outlet. The entities will also have to submit an annual statement by June 30, backed by audited accounts and an affidavit, confirming compliance with the prescribed minimum net worth requirement.

Monty Sehgal, national spokesperson of the Federation of All India Petroleum Traders, said the move addressed a long-standing demand of retail outlet dealers facing subdued sales and financial pressures.

“Having one-third retail outlets with clean fuel options is welcome and quite achievable,” he said, adding that demand mapping would be needed to identify outlets where clean-fuel infrastructure would be commercially viable.

Large outlets on highways and in industrial zones could particularly benefit, he said.

He explained that outlets with space constraints were less than 10 per cent of the total, and newer bunks are being allocated larger areas, especially on highways and in industrial zones.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

The revised policy also tightens entry requirements for fuel retailers. An entity seeking authorisation for retail fuel marketing will have to establish at least 100 retail outlets, including 5 per cent in notified remote areas, within five years of receiving authorisation.

The government will review the requirement every three years to assess the share of outlets offering at least one new-generation alternative fuel.

The latest revision follows a review of the 2019 policy, undertaken to align the sector with decarbonisation, electric mobility and alternative fuel priorities. The government had constituted an expert committee in July 2025.

Exports hit record $44.24 b in July, but rising imports push trade deficit to a 6-month high

Amiti Sen
New Delhi

Goods exports rose 19.6 per cent year-on-year to a record $44.24 billion in July, while imports increased 17.5 per cent to $76.22 billion, widening the trade deficit by nearly 15 per cent to a six-month high of $31.98 billion, according to data released by the Commerce Department on Thursday.

Higher shipments of petroleum products, electronics and engineering goods were offset by a sharp rise in import of crude oil, electronics, machinery and fertilizers, pushing up the trade deficit.

Exports were partly boosted by higher global commodity prices, especially petroleum, which grew 67.64 per cent to $6.9 billion. Electronics, engineering, chemicals, meat, poultry and iron ore also posted a sharp rise, Commerce Secretary Rajesh Agrawal told reporters.

“Merchandise exports in July registered the highest-ever monthly level at $44.24 billion,” he added.

DIVERSIFICATION

July’s export growth was marked by greater diversification, with several non-US and non-EU destinations recording strong gains.

Exports to China surged 64.6 per cent to $2.19 billion, while Asean shipments also rose sharply — Singapore up 83.7 per cent to $1.6 billion, Malaysia up 73 per cent to $917 million and Vietnam up 25.48 per cent to $630 million. Exports to South Africa rose 50.1 per cent to $916 million, Tanzania 78.9 per cent to $631 million, Japan 65.3 per cent to $941 million and Sri Lanka 72.5 per cent to $588 million. “The data show diversification is building up in our export supplies. This will give us more resilience,” said Agrawal.

Exports to the US rose 12.85 per cent to $9.02 billion, while shipments to the UK declined 4.3 per cent to $1.2 billion.

WEST ASIA CRISIS

The West Asia crisis had a limited impact on exports. Shipments to the region rose 8.62 per cent to $5.7 billion in July after plunging 56 per cent in March to $2.62 billion.

Agrawal said ports in Oman and the UAE were handling cargo diverted from disrupted hubs. On the import side, petroleum was the largest segment, rising 17.6 per cent to $18.31 billion.

Electronic goods imports jumped about 44 per cent to $14.37 billion, machinery and electrical equipment rose 13.8 per cent to $6.09 billion, fertilizer imports increased 55.4 per cent to $2.48 billion and gold imports rose 4.8 per cent to $4.16 billion.

Cumulatively, merchandise exports in April-July rose 17 per cent to $173.78 billion from $148.48 billion in the corresponding previous period, while imports grew 19.3 per cent to $292.38 billion from $245.14 billion.

The trade deficit widened to $118.60 billion from $96.66 billion a year earlier.

TN investment conclave bags ₹67,452 cr promises

BIG BONANZA. Commitments during first 100 days of new govt crossed ₹1 lakh crore

Our Bureau
Chennai

Daimler, Saint Gobain, the Hinduja Group, Lucas TVS, Phoenix Kothari Footwear, Skyroot and Ultraviolette Automotive are among the companies that committed to invest in Tamil Nadu and signed MoUs at the Vettri Tamil Nadu Investment Conclave 2026 in Chennai on Thursday.

Presided over by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister C Joseph Vijay, 97 companies exchanged MoUs representing ₹67,452 crore in investment commitments and 1,06,998 projected direct and indirect jobs.

In addition, seven institutional agreements were signed.

With these, cumulative investment commitments secured during the first 100 days of the new State government have crossed ₹1 lakh crore, with more than 1.2 lakh job opportunities expected to be created, a statement said.

“The conclave includes 56 greenfield projects, while 25 projects represent companies undertaking their first project in Tamil Nadu,” it added.

DAIMLER PUSH

Among the top commitments are Germany’s Daimler India Commercial Vehicles, which says it will invest ₹4,000 crore to expand its 400-acre Oragadam facility. France’s Saint-Gobain will invest ₹2,000 crore across a greenfield plant in Krishnagiri and expansion in Kancheepuram.

RENEWABLES PUSH. Hinduja Group officials exchanging an MoU with government officials for a ₹2,500 crore investment in the presence of CM C Joseph Vijay and Industries Minister S Keerthana Japan’s YKK, manufacturer of zippers and fastening products, will invest ₹1,651 crore in Tiruvallur, creating 4,316 jobs. The Hinduja Group is set to invest ₹2,500 crore in Tamil Nadu towards renewables and new mobility solutions.

URBAN INFRA

Australia’s AVID Group, a mining and infrastructure conglomerate, plans an investment of approximately ₹15,000 crore over the next five years towards urban infrastructure, experiential tourism, healthcare and mining components manufacturing.

Among the new-age companies, space start-ups Agnikul Cosmos and Skyroot Aerospace are setting up facilities in Thoothukudi.

Skyroot is entering Tamil Nadu for the first time while Agnikul is expanding its earlier commitment.

Industries Minister S Keerthana, in her speech, said the first 100 days provide early proof of that approach with 56 greenfield projects and 25 companies investing in Tamil Nadu for the first time. A significant feature of the investments is the scale of new investment entering Tamil Nadu.

She outlined reforms aimed at improving the investor experience, including a proposed Tamil Nadu Investor Promotion Commission for major projects, a 21-day timeline for approvals, licences and NOCs, among other steps.

The largest commitments include ₹26,417 crore (26 per cent by value) in data centres, ₹17,073 crore (17 per cent) in automobiles, ₹15,787 crore in renewables and ₹9,525 crore (15 per cent) in critical engineering.

CORE DISTRICTS

The MoUs cover 19 districts, with 54 projects located outside the State’s four core industrial districts. These represent ₹40,722 crore in investment commitments and 61,480 projected jobs, as per the statement.

Ramanathapuram will receive a ₹1,000 crore project from the Chennai-based Phoenix Kothari Footwear Limited, projected to create 10,000 jobs. This marks the district’s first such industrial project.

The investments come from 16 countries, including Australia, Germany, Japan, France, Singapore, South Korea and the US.

HIGH-VALUE JOBS

A total of 40 projects across high-value sectors, including electronics and semiconductors, aerospace, defence and space, life sciences, data centres, deeptech, R&D and GOCs and universities, are projected to create 25,487 high-value jobs, accounting for 21 per cent of all projected employment, the Industries Department said.

The TVK government’s maiden investment conclave also saw the CM distribute job offers to 20 employees.

SBI raises $500 m, showing strong investor confidence amid volatility

Our Bureau
Mumbai

The State Bank of India (SBI) has successfully priced a $500 million Regulation S bond issue through its London branch, showcasing strong global investor confidence in India’s largest lender despite an uncertain international macroeconomic environment.

The five-year bond carries a coupon of 5.25 per cent and was priced at a spread of 88 basis points (bps) over the 5-year US Treasury benchmark. The transaction’s standout feature was the sharp tightening in pricing.

SBI initially launched the issue with guidance of around 120 basis points over US Treasuries, but strong investor demand enabled the bank to compress the spread by 32 basis points to 88 bps at final pricing.

The issue attracted a peak order book of $2.46 billion from 145 investors, nearly five times the issue size, highlighting the appetite among global fixed-income investors for SBI paper. The bonds will be listed on SGX-ST, India INX and NSE-IX.

In June 2026, HDFC Bank had raised $750 million through a five-year overseas bond issue at a spread of about 90 basis points over US Treasuries after launching at 120 bps guidance, reflecting a similar trend of strong demand in the market.

Commenting on the transaction, SBI Chairman CS Setty said the successful fund raise demonstrates the bank’s diversified offshore investor base and the confidence global investors continue to place in both SBI’s credit profile and India’s growth story.

As govt subsidies moderate, e-bus operators face higher funding needs

Amit Vijay Mohile
Mumbai

India’s electric-bus operators face higher debt and equity requirements as government subsidies moderate, increasing the amount they must finance upfront just as the industry heads towards a potential ₹1.5-lakh-crore investment cycle over the next decade.

Subsidies have declined from around ₹35-55 lakh per bus under FAME-II to around ₹20-30 lakh under PM E-DRIVE, Kinjal Shah, Senior Vice-President and Co-Group Head at ICRA, said during a post-seminar media interaction.

On an electric bus costing roughly ₹1-1.2 crore, the reduction significantly raises the amount operators must fund themselves.

“The overall upfront cost is higher to that extent. And that would mean that either the debt or the equity funding requirement for the project would be higher,” Shah said.

ELECTRIFICATION DRIVE

The funding requirement could become substantial as India accelerates the replacement of conventional buses.

ICRA estimates that electrifying the entire 1.5-lakh bus fleet of public transport authorities (PTAs) over the next decade could entail capital expenditure of around ₹1.5 lakh crore.

The rating agency expects e-bus penetration in the medium and heavy bus segment to rise from around 7 per cent currently to about 30 per cent by FY30.

Sales have already risen from just 37 units in FY18 to 5,412 in FY26, with more than 2,000 units sold in the first four months of FY27.

Central schemes including FAME-I, FAME-II, the National Electric Bus Programme, PM-eBus Sewa and PM E-Drive cumulatively target deployment of more than 80,000 e-buses with a budgetary allocation of around ₹1 lakh crore through FY28. Deployment so far remains concentrated in Delhi, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Gujarat and Telangana, which together account for around 75 per cent of e-buses deployed.

ECONOMICS IMPROVES

The higher upfront funding requirement comes even as the economics of operating electric buses improve. ICRA estimates the total cost of ownership of a 12-metre air-conditioned e-bus at around ₹39 per km, against ₹51 for diesel and ₹48 for CNG, with lower operating costs offsetting the significantly higher acquisition cost over the vehicle’s life.

Financing conditions are also improving. ICRA said lenders are becoming more comfortable with e-bus projects, loan tenures have increased, and interest rates have become more competitive. Falling battery costs are providing another offset to the lower upfront subsidy support.

Operators had, in fact, already been forced to bridge financing gaps under earlier subsidy programmes. ICRA said delays in receiving subsidy payments meant projects sometimes had to fund the shortfall through additional debt, sponsor funding or unsecured loans.

PAYMENT SAFETY NET

The Centre is seeking to reduce the risk attached to greater private financing through the payment security mechanism (PSM) incorporated into newer e-bus programmes.

If a transport authority fails to pay an operator, the mechanism can be invoked through Convergence Energy Services Ltd. Payments can be released from a dedicated fund, which the authority must replenish within 90 days. If it fails to do so, an RBI-backed direct debit mandate can allow recovery from the state’s accounts.

The mechanism addresses a key weakness in the gross cost contract model, under which operators invest in and run the buses while transport authorities pay an assured per-kilometre fee. Select authorities have previously delayed payments, affecting operator cash flows.

The PSM, however, has yet to face an operational test. ICRA said projects tendered with the mechanism are yet to begin commercial operations, with operators typically getting 12-18 months after tender awards to deploy buses.

Execution remains another pressure point. Of eight e-bus projects rated by ICRA, 75 per cent faced commissioning delays of six months to a year, largely due to delays in depot and electricity-infrastructure handovers by transport authorities. Cost overruns, however, remained below 10 per cent.

Rattled by the war-induced oil shock, India (which imports nearly 90 per cent of its crude needs) has of late unveiled a slew of policy steps to reduce its oil import bill; this could touch $170 billion this fiscal, assuming a price of $85 a barrel this year. On the supply side, the Centre has unveiled an ambitious plan for State support in exploration, namely, Samudra Manthan.

Under its ₹84,000 crore outlay for Samudra Manthan over five years, the Centre will support half the cost of drilling deepwater exploration wells, given that hydrocarbon exploration has a long-gestation period — with the period from exploration to commercial production taking five to 10 years. The scheme primarily comprises acquisition and processing of offshore seismic data (₹28,534 crore); drilling of 60 deepwater exploration wells (₹43,200 crore). This comes in the wake of considerable activity in the sector. According to Petroleum Minister Hardeep Puri, 172 exploration blocks covering nearly 3.8 lakh km have been awarded under the Open Acreage Licensing Policy over a decade, with committed investments exceeding $4.3 billion. He said that in FY26, about 674 wells were drilled, few new discoveries made and seven discoveries monetised.

Meanwhile, some reports by the House committee on Petroleum and Natural Gas have dived into this issue. They have raised the need to step up investments in new fields, in the wake of declining returns from ageing ones, which account for nearly three quarters of domestic output. In doing so, they have pointed to rising capex and declining domestic output — a drop from 34.2 million tonnes in FY19 to 28.7 million tonnes in FY25. In the context of the latest investment push, the committee looking into this issue rightly calls for “clearly defined performance benchmarks, periodic evaluation and accountability mechanisms”. The need to spend this huge order of public money sensibly cannot be overstated, given India’s experiences in this regard — with respect to the Krishna-Godavari basin, where either the reserves or the costs of extracting them were not correctly estimated beforehand. A 2012-13 CAG report is instructive here. It has observed that ONGC’s processes at that time were far from efficient. “Cost overruns and shortfalls in survey and drilling targets were noted,” it observes. There were delays in hiring and mobilisation of rigs. While the contractual arrangements have changed, this experience remains relevant.

Meanwhile, another House panel report suggests increasing the level of strategic storage from about 75 days of supplies (including 65 days’ stock with oil marketing companies) to 90 days. Strategic petroleum reserves, at 5.5 million tonnes are enough for just about 10 days. The Centre has, according to the report, not laid aside sufficient funds for new storage centres. Earmarking resources for storage is likely to be more effective than spending large sums on prospecting and exploration alone.

US’ AI infrastructure bet and lessons for India

GROWTH PROPELLER. AI investment is driving US growth. India must create an ecosystem to attract investments in AI

NILANJAN BANIK

The ongoing war in West Asia has cost the US exchequer a staggering $40 billion. Yet its economy is resilient, something that has puzzled economists. A large part of the answer lies not in monetary policy or consumer spending, but in artificial intelligence — which has rapidly become one of the biggest investment stories in modern economic history, reshaping growth, capital flows and currency markets.

In macroeconomics classrooms, one classic relationship taught is the inverse correlation between the US dollar and price of precious metals. For India, which imports over 90 per cent of its gold, silver and copper, this matters greatly. Weaker commodity prices offset a stronger dollar’s impact on the current account deficit.

Through 2026, this pattern has held. The US dollar appreciated roughly ₹6 against the Indian rupee, rising from ₹89.9 to ₹95.7.

Yet gold and silver prices eased despite the stronger currency. Silver in the Mumbai spot market fell to ₹216,541 per kg from ₹236,070 in January; gold declined around 5 per cent from its January peak.

The obvious question: why does the dollar strengthen amid wars, trade disputes and political uncertainty?

The answer lies in investment. Over three years, the US has embarked on one of its largest infrastructure spending cycles. Not on highways or railways, but on artificial intelligence. What began in 2023 as a wave of enthusiasm following the release of consumer AI tools has, over roughly three years, turned into one of the largest concentrated capital spending booms in US history — on par with, and by some measures exceeding, the railroad expansion of the Gilded Age and the telecom buildout of the late 1990s.

America’s AI data centre boom is lifting growth, strengthening the dollar and offering India a blueprint for attracting investment and building digital infrastructure.

CAPITAL SURGE Until recently, computing infrastructure investment drew little attention. Between 2015 and 2022, spending on data centres, servers and networking equipment barely reached 0.5 per cent of US GDP. Generative AI changed that. The share of nominal GDP attributable to computing infrastructure has nearly tripled since then, approaching 1.6 per cent by 2026, with almost the entire increase attributable to AI-specific hardware, data centre construction, and networking.

Investment in AI data centres, hardware, and networking combined reached about 1.4 per cent of US GDP in the first quarter of 2026, doubling from roughly 0.7 per cent in a short span of time. Adding in the broader category of computing infrastructure spending pushes the figure to around 1.5 per cent of GDP — more than double the 2015-2022 average.

The US will spend close to 2 per cent of GDP on AI and data centre infrastructure this year — comparable to defence or education spending. It will account for over 80 per cent of the world’s estimated $800 billion AI

The US will spend close to 2 per cent of GDP on AI and data centre infrastructure this year, accounting for over 80 per cent of global spending on AI infrastructure spending in 2026. This rivals the railway expansion of the nineteenth century and the telecommunications boom of the late 1990s.

The impact is visible in national income statistics. Data from the US Bureau of Economic Analysis show that investment in information processing equipment has become one of the strongest contributors to GDP growth. The Federal Reserve Bank of St Louis estimates that such equipment alone added 0.9 percentage points to US real GDP growth in Q1 2025.

By the first half of 2025, AI investment had become the biggest engine of American growth. Capital expenditure linked to AI added around 1.1 percentage points to GDP growth, overtaking consumer spending as the largest driver — an unusual shift in an economy where household consumption traditionally carries the load. The broader technology ecosystem contributed 2.28 percentage points to growth, four times its contribution a year earlier. Most remarkably, data centre investments accounted for almost 80 per cent of the increase in final private domestic demand during H1 2025. Without this surge, US GDP growth would have been closer to 1 per cent rather than 2 per cent.

INDIA’S OPPORTUNITY AI infrastructure requires enormous upfront investment. Hyperscale technology companies including Amazon, Microsoft, Alphabet, Meta and Oracle are together expected to spend over $700 billion on capital expenditure in 2026 — mostly on graphics processors, servers, specialised chips, data centres and supporting power infrastructure.

These investments immediately add to GDP through construction, equipment purchases and engineering. Productivity gains from deploying AI will emerge over time. Similar to what happened during the Industrial Revolution, there is debate about how soon the impact will be felt by the general public. Edison’s work on the light bulb and electrical power took place in the 1870s and 1880s, but it was not until the 1940s that a full range of electrical gadgets appeared in American homes. Critics argue that a benign monetary policy, by keeping interest rates low, is letting zombie companies survive, but surely, the cycle of Schumpeterian creative destruction will eventually catch up.

India cannot match American investment overnight, but it can emulate the strategy. At $4 trillion, India’s economy is barely one-eighth the size of the US. Yet its digital infrastructure story already attracts global capital.

According to UNCTAD, data centre projects drove a 44 per cent increase in foreign direct investment, reaching $39 billion annually. Alphabet’s proposed $15 billion AI hub and one gigawatt data centre in Visakhapatnam illustrates the scale — equivalent to nearly 6 per cent of Andhra Pradesh’s GDP. Meta is building a major facility near Google’s proposed sites. Amazon and Microsoft are also investing. India cannot afford to be left behind in the AI race. For India to benefit from and sustain AI-related growth, here are a few suggestions.

AI infrastructure runs on electricity. Reliable, affordable power is essential; data centres consume enormous amounts. Beyond that, investors need speed and certainty: land acquisition should not take years, approvals should move quickly through single channels, and digital connectivity must keep pace through stronger fibre networks and submarine cable landing stations. Building a skilled workforce and robust cybersecurity will complete the ecosystem global AI investors expect.

Universities in India should focus on quality Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM), curriculum to complement intakes of data science centric workers. Countries combining capital, infrastructure and policy certainty will attract investment. Those that cannot risk becoming consumers of AI rather than its economic gains.

India has the opportunity to capture that momentum, provided it treats AI infrastructure not as another technology sector, but as the foundation of its next investment cycle.

Rural credit needs to be reimaged

Our agricultural credit instruments were designed for cultivation, not for today’s varied economic life of rural households

PVS Suryakumar

More than 75 years ago, the landmark All India Rural Credit Survey observed that rural credit was “not of the right quantity, not of the right type, did not serve the right purpose and often failed to go to the right people”.

Independent India responded with exceptional institutional imagination. New institutions, innovative policies and successive financial inclusion initiatives steadily expanded formal finance to millions of rural households.

Yet, Rural Credit Market Conditions in India Survey (June 2026) shows that among rural households that had borrowed, nearly 57 per cent reported that their incomes had not increased.

So has the next challenge in rural credit shifted from expanding access to improving outcomes?

Societies build institutions to deal with issues confronting them. But as societies change, the issues confronting them also change, necessitating institutional evolution.

RURAL COMPLEXITY Rural India has changed. It is more aspirational and economically more complex than the rural economy for which many of our institutions were originally designed. The economic well-being of rural households is now shaped by many interacting factors. Credit remains indispensable, but it is only one part of the ecosystem.

A small farm today is rarely just a small farm.

The modern rural household is no longer sustained by a single stream of income, but by a portfolio of livelihoods, and income streams.

A household may cultivate crops, keep a few dairy animals, earn wages outside agriculture, receive remittances from a family member, receive Direct Benefit Transfers, while aspiring to build a small enterprise of its own. For many households, this diversification reflects economic necessity as much as opportunity.

Some months ago, a farmer made an observation that has stayed with me. “The bank gives me credit based on my acreage and the crop I grow,” he said. “But I have other needs.”

The rural household has become an integrated economic unit. Our institutions, however, continue to engage with different parts of that household economy through specialised functions.

Our principal agricultural credit instruments were designed to finance cultivation, not the increasingly diversified economic life of rural households.

Rural life, however, has quietly evolved beyond the world in which many of them were conceived. Banks, quite naturally, judge success by the reach and quality of credit. Rural households, however, appear to judge the situation differently. Their question is simpler: Has life become better after the loan?

For decades, public policy rightly concentrated on expanding institutional credit. That effort transformed rural finance.

Yet the survey shows that nearly half of rural households report no debt at all, and most say that this was by choice.

The more important question, however, is not why some households avoid credit, but why credit does not do more for those who do borrow.

Sixteen per cent of outstanding rural debt still flows through non-institutional sources, reminding us that access, while transformed, is not yet complete.

Banks mobilise savings, assess creditworthiness, manage risk and allocate capital. They are financial institutions — not enterprise mentors, market advisers, technical specialists or livelihood planners.

The effectiveness of rural credit depends equally on complementary institutions.

Enabling beneficiary identification, updating land records, facilitating the creation of charge, completing statutory formalities and supporting outreach often fall within the responsibilities of State governments. When these functions do not move in step, banks alone cannot complete the task.

The challenge, therefore, is not one of banking alone. It is one of institutional evolution.

Banks finance; extension systems build knowledge; community institutions mobilise people; markets reward enterprise.

Each performs an essential and complementary role.

India’s first rural credit revolution answered one of the country’s most important development questions: How do we take banking to every village? The next may begin with a quieter one.

Once credit reaches a rural household, who walks with that household until opportunity becomes enterprise, and enterprise becomes prosperity?

Change in helmsman Apropos your Editorial “Shifting Sands”, (August 13), the Tata Group has grown into a conglomerate with a market capitalisation of nearly ₹27 trillion and a shareholder base of around 10 million. This underscores its deep integration with the nation’s financial and industrial fabric. In this context, any divergence of opinion within the board could have lasting effects. N Chandrasekaran’s tenure has been marked by rare social and corporate acceptance, strengthening the group’s reputation globally. Against this backdrop, the circumstances leading to Chandrasekaran’s decision to step aside at such a critical juncture could perhaps have been handled with greater foresight. Roy Markose Thiruvananthapuram Tata conundrums The spotlight reverts to long contradictions accumulating within the Tata empire and its differences on strategy, governance and of future direction. The issue of Tata Sons listing may be at the core, but set in a larger context. The logic of a modern conglomerate: transparency, market valuation, capital flexibility and an exit route for minority shareholders, was confronting the traditional Tata architecture. While the Tata legacy was built on institutional continuity beyond individuals the irony lies in its challenge to reconcile that legacy with the demands of a contemporary, globally competitive megalith. Yet it leaves the question: who or what would ultimately define the Tata future? R Narayanan Navi Mumbai

Anchor investors exit faster from smaller IPOs, finds SEBI study

CASHING OUT. It finds that IPO size is inversely linked to anchor exits, with FPIs the biggest post-lock-in sellers

Suresh P Iyengar
Mumbai

Anchor investors have been exiting their investments more aggressively in smaller initial public offerings on the mainboard compared to larger ones. According to a SEBI study on the Exit Behaviour of Anchor Investors in Mainboard IPOs, small IPOs that raised less than ₹250 crore recorded a 9.1 per cent exit after the first 30-day unlock. The sale jumped to 20 per cent by 60 days and 32 per cent after 90 days. The exit rate reached 72 per cent at 365 days, compared to 41 per cent for issues in the ₹1,001-2,500 crore range. The SEBI study covered 242 mainboard IPOs listed between April 2022 and October 2025 and found an inverse relationship between issue size and anchor exit rates. However, the weighted aggregate exit by anchor investors was just 3 per cent after the first unlock, rising to about 8 per cent by 60 days and 17 per cent after the second unlock at about 90 days.

QUICK EXITS
The findings suggest that while selling increases after lock-in periods expire, investors retain most of their anchor allocations even beyond the prescribed exit windows. The Nifty 50 closed at 24,395.85, down 40.1 points or 0.16 per cent, while the Sensex managed a marginal gain of 0.15 per cent to 78,079, helped in part by weekly expiry-day choppiness. “The rebound lacked sustained momentum, resulting

SEBI proposes easier accreditation for wealthy investors

Our Bureau
Mumbai

SEBI on Thursday proposed a revamp of its accredited investor framework to make accreditation simpler and widen the pool of investors eligible for regulatory relaxations in products such as alternative investment funds (AIFs), portfolio management services and specialised investment funds. The regulator aims to reduce paperwork and costs while making “accreditation status” rather than minimum investment commitments the key measure of an investor's sophistication. NEW FRAMEWORK
Under the new framework, investment managers would be allowed to determine and record an investor's accredited status during onboarding, instead of investors having to first approach a separate accreditation agency. The existing accreditation agency route would continue, giving investors a choice. For products run by the same manager or group, the accreditation could be valid for three years. For products offered by different managers, accreditation would be undertaken when the investor is onboarded by each manager. Investors would not be allowed to self-certify. SEBI, however, raised concerns about this being a departure from its position in 2021, which entrusted independent agencies with accreditation. Shifting this responsibility to the manager, who is an interested party that stands to gain from the investor's commitment and the associated fees, may be seen as a dilution of that independence and could give rise to a potential conflict of interest, the regulator said. “Allied concerns include the risk of inconsistent standards across managers

The KMPs included CEO Vijay Shekhar Sharma, CFO Madhur Deora and the whole-time directors of the company. The recipients have 14 days to respond. SHOW-CAUSE

A show-cause notice seeks an explanation from the parties concerned and does not by itself establish a violation or impose a penalty. The company said it was recalibrating the distribution of personal loans of less than ₹50,000, with the post-paid loan product forming a smaller part of its business. The company had announced the expansion of its credit distribution business to focus on higher-ticket loans for consumers and merchants in partnership with banks and NBFCs in the December 2023 filing, after which the stock had fallen around 20 per cent. The move came three weeks after the Reserve Bank of India tightened its consumer lending norms.

Jyothy Labs' Q1-FY27 earnings print was sharply below the JMF/consensus estimate due to soft revenue (+3 per cent YoY) performance and steep RM inflation-led pressure on gross/EBITDA margin, especially in Home Care and Fabric Care. LTL revenue growth (excluding Pril and Fa) was 8.1 per cent YoY (with a volume growth of 5.3 per cent YoY, which is also relatively weaker compared to larger HPC peers within our coverage universe. High competitive intensity, lack of commensurate price hike and RM inflation led to sharp and much higher margin compression versus peers. Management expects double-digit sales growth (excluding Pril) in FY27; margin pressure to sustain in Q2-FY27 and gradual recovery to be seen from Q3-FY27 onwards. While execution on Fabric Care has improved, more work needs to be done to strengthen its position and accelerate growth in other core categories, which we believe would also entail higher investments. Ahmedabad

The Motilal Oswal Group will invest ₹1,500 crore in Inox Clean Energy, the integrated renewable energy platform of the INOXGFL Group, as the company steps up its expansion through acquisitions and capacity additions.

Of the committed investment, ₹1,000 crore has already been completed through compulsorily convertible debentures (CCDs), the company stated on Thursday.

The investment comes as Inox Clean scales up its renewable power generation and solar manufacturing businesses and follows a ₹700-crore investment by the Adar Poonawalla Family Office.

Other investors in the company and its subsidiaries include CalPERS, RJ Corp, Hero Group, Authum Investments, Akash Bhansali, as well as family offices and high-net-worth investors.

The fresh capital will primarily be used to fund Inox Clean's growth, particularly inorganic expansion. Over the past 18 months, the company has expanded through acquisitions including the manufacturing as-sets of US-based Boviet Solar and renewable energy platforms backed by global investors such as Black-Rock-owned GIP's Vena Energy, Macquarie-owned Vibrant Energy, SHV-owned SunSource Energy and CalPERS-backed SkyPower, including its Africa business.

CLEAR VISION. Brokerages gave a thumbs up to Lenskart Solutions Q1-FY27 results as the company posted a strong performance, driven by international business Lenskart Solutions shares zoomed nearly 7 per cent to a fresh all-time high after strong Q1 results and on news that the stock has entered the MSCI India Index. The stock closed 1.78 per cent higher at ₹596.90 on the NSE after hitting a high of ₹626.95.

Lenskart posted a consolidated net profit of ₹221.84 crore in the April-June period. Revenue from operations grew 43.3 per cent to ₹2,714.18 crore. Revenue from the India segment grew 30.7 per cent to ₹1,531 crore, while international revenue rose 38 per cent to ₹1,203 crore. The board of the eye-wear retailer has approved increasing its stake in Chinese frame-manufacturing joint venture Baofeng Framkart Technology Ltd from 51 per cent to 70 per cent. The acquisition of the additional stake is valued around RMB 7.5 million, or about ₹10.6 crore.

Meanwhile, Global index provider MSCI said on Thursday that it will add Lenskart, along with three others, to its widely tracked Global Standard index.

TARGET PRICE HIKED Jefferies retained its 'Buy' rating and raised its target price to ₹680 from ₹600. It said Q21-FY27 continues to build the story, with strong growth and sharp margin expansion.

Jefferies said market creation remains a top priority, with supply rather than demand being a key constraint in India, evidenced by around 70,000 daily eye tests. It said margin improvement in international operations should address a key investor concern.

Macquarie raised its target price to ₹675 from ₹625 and retained its 'Outperform' recommendation. It said India performance was in line, while international operations beat expectations, with stronger international margin expansion.

Morgan Stanley retained 'Overweight' with a target price of ₹666. It described Q1 as another quarter of strong performance, with the beat driven more by the international business.

CAUTIOUS LOOK

However, HSBC retained its 'Hold' rating with a target price of ₹575. The brokerage said Lenskart delivered an 8 per cent beat on consensus EBITDA, driven by international operations, while India was in line. India SSSG stood at 18 per cent versus 24 per cent in Q4FY26.

HSBC kept its India estimates unchanged, while international performance drove an upgrade in overall estimates, with FY27/FY28 EBITDA estimates raised by 6 per cent/5 per cent. It said that premium multiples of 45x/30x FY30 EV/EBITDA factor in potential.

Citi retained its 'Neutral' rating and raised its target price to ₹650 from ₹600, expecting its growth momentum to remain strong as Lenskart continues to straddle price points to accelerate store expansion, customer acquisition and conversion. It said it will watch growth momentum in 2H, given the high base.

Goldman Sachs retained its 'Accumulate' recommendation and raised its target price to ₹715 from ₹625. It said the growth and margin flywheel continues to deliver, with large margin expansion in international operations, and SSSG remaining elevated.

Adani Energy, Laurus Labs, 2 others enter MSCI index

Global index provider MSCI said on Thursday it will add four companies to its widely tracked Global Standard index and remove three as part of its August review, underscoring the continuing churn. The changes will be implemented after the close of trading on August 31 and take effect on September 1, MSCI said.

Laurus Labs, Lenskart, Adani Energy Solutions, the Adani Group's power transmission and distribution arm, and Groww, a digital investment and broking platform, will enter the index. They will replace Bal Krishna Industries, SBI Cards and Astral. Following the reshuffle, the number of Indian constituents in the key MSCI index will rise to 166 from 165.

India's weightage in the global standard index will also rise to 11.9 per cent from 11.8 per cent, according to Nuvama Alternative and Quantitative Research. The inclusion is expected to trigger significant buying by exchange-traded funds and other passive investors that replicate MSCI benchmarks.

Nuvama Alternative and Quantitative Research estimates potential inflows of about $598 million for Laurus Labs, $352million for Lenskart, $310 million for Adani Energy Solutions and $256 million for Groww. Conversely, Bal Krishna Industries, SBI Cards and Astra could see estimated passive outflows of $169 million, $143million and $138 million, respectively.

The review also recalibrated weights among existing index members. Eternal is projected to attract the largest incremental passive inflow, at around $674 million, following an increase in its weight. Adani Enterprises and Adani Ports could receive about $202 million and $77million, respectively. Reliance Industries is estimated to face outflows of roughly $523 million, while Jio Financial Services may see $61 million in outflows.

Mavi India had announced earlier this year in partnership with Naver and Krafton. The fund will invest in Indian companies that have demonstrated product-market fit and are entering their next phase of growth.

Mavof II is Mavi India's third dedicated India-focused private fund and will target early-growth businesses across tech platforms, AI and software, deep tech, advanced manufacturing and consumer discretionary sectors.

The fund comes at a time when start-ups in the Series B-D stages are facing a funding gap as they transition from product validation to scaling.

"India is entering a new phase of innovation where companies are moving beyond proving product-market fit to building businesses with the potential to become category leaders, both in India and globally," said Puneet Kumar, CEO, MAVI India. "There is a big gap in the ecosystem today in the Series B-D stages when they are looking for growth capital."

India-US talks on Russia oil tariff Bill ‘reassuring’ so far: Sources

POLICY HURDLE. Discussions are on between the countries but uncertainty remains as it is a legislative issue

Amiti Sen
New Delhi

TARIFF THREAT. The US Senate recently passed legislation that would empower President Donald Trump to impose tariffs of up to 100% on imports from top buyers of Russian oil and gas

India is in talks with Washington on the US Senate Bill proposing up to 100 per cent tariffs on countries buying Russian oil as its exports could be potentially hit, and the discussions so far have been “reassuring”, sources said.

However, uncertainty remains as the measure is a legislative issue and its final impact on India will depend on how the legislation progresses and is implemented, the sources added.

CONCERN PERSISTS
“The Bill is a concern as India could be affected if it becomes a law but our talks with the US have been reassuring. Things seem positive but since it is in the legislative process, no one can say with certainty what will happen,” a source tracking the matter told businessline.

The assurances from Washington assume significance as India has continued to purchase Russian crude despite mounting pressure from the US.

The US Senate had recently overwhelmingly passed legislation that would empower President Donald Trump to impose tariffs of up to 100 per cent on imports from top buyers of Russian oil and gas. India, the second-largest buyer of Russian crude after China, could potentially be among the countries affected by the proposed measure.

The sanctions Bill, officially the Lindsey O. Graham Sanctioning Russia and Iran Act of 2026, will not result in immediate penalty.

The Bill still has to clear the US House of Representatives and the final decision on which country to penalise could rest with US President Donald Trump. New Delhi is unlikely to check its crude oil purchases from Russia, its largest oil supplier, because of its long-standing economic (especially defence and oil purchase) and diplomatic ties with Moscow, according to various sources in the government and the industry.

In July 2026, Russia supplied an estimated $7.3 billion of India’s total crude imports of $14 billion — equivalent to approximately 52 per cent, according to estimates made by research body Global Trade and Research Initiative (GTRI).

PROTECTION SOUGHT
Meanwhile, India is also seeking protection against any further tariff action as part of the bilateral trade agreement (BTA) being negotiated with the US. The framework agreed by the two sides in February contains a provision that there would be no further increase in tariffs once the pact is sealed, sources said.

Such a provision, if retained in the final agreement, would provide India with greater certainty and protect its exports from subsequent tariff hikes by Washington after the BTA comes into force.

The framework for an interim trade deal was announced on February 7, with the two countries agreeing to work towards an interim trade agreement and substantially expand bilateral trade. Negotiations have since continued, although they face delays following the US Supreme Court verdict invalidating the reciprocal tariffs imposed by the Trump regime.

The on-going Section 301 investigations by the US Trade Representative’s office against a number of countries, including India, also contributed to the delay.

Govt notifies changes in Indian Accounting Standard rules

Our Bureau
New Delhi

The Corporate Affairs Ministry has notified changes in the Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) Rules for income tax reporting and financial disclosures for eligible companies.

The changes have been made effective from August 12, a notification issued by the Ministry said.

TAX REFORMS
These changes are in line with OECD Pillar Two global tax reforms, helping businesses maintain greater transparency and compliance.

The amendments update Ind AS 101, 107, 109, 110 and 7, including provisions on annual improvements, classification and measurement of financial instruments. Also, hedge accounting, contingent contractual cash flows, nature-dependent electricity contracts, electronic payment settlement of financial liabilities, non-recourse arrangements, disclosures, transition provisions, de facto agents and cash-flow reporting for investments in associates, joint ventures and subsidiaries.

These changes are in line with OECD Pillar Two global tax reforms, helping businesses maintain greater transparency and compliance

Several amendments apply for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 1, 2026, while specific transition provisions apply to the amendments concerning classification and measurement of financial instruments and contracts referencing nature-dependent electricity. According to Shalu Kedla, Associate Partner (Audit and Assurance), Nangia & Co LLP.

The key developments are the refinements to Ind AS 109 on classification and measurement, along with new guidance for contracts linked to nature-dependent electricity, including their own-use assessment and hedge accounting. Corresponding disclosure changes have been introduced under Ind AS 107.

For corporates, the amendments to Ind AS 109 & Ind AS 107 warrant a careful evaluation of their existing financial instruments, contractual arrangements and renewable electricity agreements.

Companies should also evaluate the transition requirements and assess the need for changes to their accounting policies, systems and financial statement disclosures.

The amendment has also made some improvements to transition provisions under Ind AS 101, control assessment under Ind AS 110 and cash flow treatment for an investment in an associate, a joint venture or a subsidiary at cost under Ind AS 7.

FSSAI suspends licence of Narayani Foods & Beverages, Zaiqaa Organixs, AB Enterprise

Meenakshi Verma Ambwani
New Delhi

Continuing with its crackdown, the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) on Thursday said that it has suspended the licence of Narayani Foods & Beverages, Zaiqaa Organixs Pvt Ltd and AB Enterprise for non-compliance with the FSS Act.

The food safety regulator also said that it continues its “vigilant enforcement” against food safety violations.

FOOD SAFETY VIOLATIONS
In a social media post, FSSAI said that it has suspended the licence of Narayani Foods and Beverages, Odisha, with immediate effect over serious food safety violations and grossly unhygienic processing conditions besides severe non-compliance with mandatory sanitary and hygienic requirements. Outlining issues such as unsatisfactory cleaning and sanitation of the premises and equipment, contamination of tap water area with algae and rust and corrosion of equipment, the food safety regulator added that the overall compliance score of the unit was recorded at 25 per cent (20/80), corresponding to the “Non-Compliance” category and demonstrating significant deficiencies in the food safety management system.

In the case of Zaiqaa Organixs Pvt Ltd, the authority said the food was being manufactured, packed and stored under unhygienic conditions and the overall cleaning and sanitation of the premises were found to be unsatisfactory.

“Storage facilities did not permit adequate maintenance and cleaning or prevent pest access and accumulation. Raw materials and finished goods were placed in unhygienic conditions without proper segregation. Rust and corrosion were observed on processing equipment,” it noted.

It also flagged the presence of physical, chemical and biological hazards in food to an extent that poses serious public-health risks.

“The FSSAI licence granted to Zaiqaa Organixs (OPC) Private Ltd has been suspended forthwith in the interest of public health in respect of all food business activities for which the license has been granted, until further orders,” it added in its post.

The Authority said that AB Enterprise was found to be making health benefit claims on product labels and/or promotional content in contravention of the FSS (Advertising and Claims) Regulations, 2018, including provisions intended to prevent claims that may mislead or influence consumer behaviour. Also, food business operations were being carried out without the requisite manufacturing activity being duly endorsed in the FSSAI licence.

“A personal hearing was subsequently issued before suspension of the FSSAI licence, as required under the FSS (Licensing and Registration of Food Businesses) Regulations, 2011, providing the FBO a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

“However, no reply or further communication was received from the FBO till date. The FSSAI licence granted to AB Enterprise, Meghalaya, has been suspended with immediate effect under the FSS Act, 2006 and the FBO is hereby directed to stop all food business activities until further orders,” the FSSAI post added.

Yulu raises $93 m, eyes four-fold fleet expansion

Jyoti Banthia
Bengaluru

Electric mobility start-up Yulu has raised $93 million in its Series C round, comprising $63 million in equity led by GEF Capital Partners and $30 million in debt, as it looks to quadruple its active fleet to 2 lakh e-vehicles over the next two years.

The company, which has been EBITDA-positive since April 2025, will deploy the fresh capital primarily towards fleet expansion and infrastructure, said Amit Gupta, Co-founder and CEO, Yulu.

“100 per cent of this is around capex,” Gupta said, adding that the company is operationally profitable and does not require significant customer acquisition spending. “Our cost of acquiring customers (CAC) is zero. There is nothing except for buying the bike. That is the only upfront money. We monetise it over four years.”

SCALING UP. Yulu currently operates across 12 cities and plans to expand to 20

Yulu currently operates across 12 cities and plans to expand to 20 cities, while deepening its presence in existing markets such as Mumbai, Delhi and Bengaluru.

“We can quadruple our numbers in terms of the fleet over next two years,” Gupta said. The company expects the expansion to help increase revenue fourfold or more during the period.

E-commerce accounts for about half of Yulu’s revenue, with quick commerce, food commerce and other quick-service deliveries forming its top three usage categories.

The company says its vehicles are particularly suited for high-density, sub-two-kilometre deliveries.

Gupta said the company sees a much larger opportunity in serving India’s growing gig workforce. “Yulu will become the de facto mobility provider to the gig worker, whether they have a bike or not,” he said.

The company currently facilitates more than 750,000 doorstep deliveries daily and clocks 2.5 million zero-emission kilometres.

Yulu also plans to scale Yulu Express, a higher-payload e-scooter for e-commerce logistics, bike taxis and express parcel delivery. The company has already been operating 500 such vehicles in Bengaluru for the past three to four quarters.

“While fleet deployment is central to the expansion, infrastructure remains a key execution challenge. It’s actually our ability to add infrastructure,” Gupta said, pointing to difficulties around securing suitable real estate, power connections and certifications.

GOING PUBLIC
Yulu is also preparing for a potential public listing. Gupta said positive EBITDA is “non-negotiable” for an IPO and the company is targeting at least ₹1,200-1,500 crore in top line, with a corresponding bottom line.

The company is also open to international expansion through operational partners, rather than setting up its own operations in Southeast Asia.

‘High tokenisation cost will only optimise AI work’

bl.interview

Vallari Sanzgiri
Mumbai

Enterprise transition towards AI adoption is ramping up demand for companies like ServiceNow in terms of streamlining AI models, automating and resolving security threats. Recent developments around high token costs raised conversations in the community on whether the price pressure would discourage adoption.

Unfettered by the development, Sumeet Mathur, Senior V-P & MD, ServiceNow India Technology & Business Center, says the high token cost is a good motivator to optimise AI models to the best of their abilities.

Edited excerpts:

AI is definitely being looked at as a new way of reimagining business models to generate competitiveness and generate revenue

SUMEET MATHUR,
Senior V-P & MD, ServiceNow India Technology & Business Center

How has cautionary spend by clients shaped ServiceNow’s strategy for India?

We are very bullish on India, both from a tech perspective and customer and partner perspective. AI is definitely being looked at as a new way of reimagining business models to generate competitiveness and generate revenue.

enue. Until a few months ago, we used to see a lot of POCs and demos in our client base. Now, we are seeing real adoption happening in enterprises.

Further, they are asking us for assistance or our products because the adoptions are not generating the value that they thought it would generate. So, we are actually seeing a lot of traction to route, escalate, automate and resolve security threats and it is showing in our numbers.

We have committed to the street that we will have revenue of $1.5 billion by next year-end, just from AI-related products.

In this scenario, what do you look forward to?
Large language models (LLMs), which is the intelligence plus context engineering. When you build AI, the efficacy is determined on the context you provide, instructions, memory, knowledge graph, security guardrails and governance.

While everybody talks about LLMs and intelligence, the context is more important in enterprise AI than just models and prompts. It’s all about the knowledge it has from the operations that you have been running. That’s a realisation the industry is going to see more going forward. That is how it is going to bridge the gap between what people talk about versus what is the ground reality.

Wouldn’t high AI costs be a hindrance in this ambition?
To me, tokenisation is a good driver for enterprises to ensure they are using AI in a proper way. Cost as a constraint, actually drives the right behaviour.

People are looking at it and saying, ‘why are my software developers running out of tokens? how are they using it? are they using it properly or not?’ You don’t always have to use the most expensive model.

So, cost as a constraint will lead to better work with AI because we will think about how to optimise it.

When you approach clients, how do you address the concern around data sovereignty?

When customers talk about data sovereignty, it’s not about just the location of the data; it is about ensuring that the right data gets used with the right access control in the right context in the flow of work and operations that my enterprise is doing.

So, we take the definition of data sovereignty to include all of this and not just where the data is residing from a location perspective. We have an enterprise platform, and we work with all the data lake and data providers. We are a very open platform, and we do not restrict any definition of your data lake or hyperscaler or cloud or large language model on our customers.

Krystal buys Citelum India

Anupama Ghosh
Mumbai

Krystal Integrated Services Ltd (KISL) has acquired 100 per cent equity stake in Citelum India Private Ltd from Citelum SA S, France, a subsidiary of the French government-owned EDF Group, marking the listed facility management company’s entry into city lighting and urban infrastructure services.

The share purchase agreement was signed on May 12, 2026, with Citelum India now becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of KISL. The acquisition consideration, post adjustments, stands at ₹10,000, as filed with the exchanges.

Krystal is targeting annual revenue of ₹300-350 crore from the new vertical over the next 3-4 years, with plans to invest approximately ₹100 crore in engineering capabilities, technology platforms, and business expansion. It plans to scale operations across 30-40 cities in 12-15 States, with infrastructure services expected to contribute 12-15 per cent of consolidated revenues.

Sanjay Dighe, CEO and Whole-Time Director of KISL, said the acquisition fits naturally into the company’s existing government-facing business. “We have acquired this. It has a strategic focus. Every product, every service that they are bringing impacts the citizens at large,” he said, adding that the margin profile of the new business, estimated at 10-15 per cent, is healthier than KISL’s existing facility management margins of 6.5-7.5 per cent at the EBITDA level.

KISL closed FY26 with consolidated revenue of over ₹1,277 crore, growing at a CAGR of 23.3 per cent since FY22, with a customer base of 570 across 4,000 locations.

IndusInd Bank looks to deepen SME, mid-market play

GROWTH FOCUS. Private sector lender sees opportunities in data centre, electronics manufacturing and RE sectors

Sindhu Hariharan
Chennai

Private sector bank IndusInd Bank is looking to sharpen its growth strategy around small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and the mid-market segment by leveraging its existing distribution network and established customer relationships, a senior bank executive said.

“That is one area where I believe that as a franchise, we can do a lot more, for a variety of reasons. The opportunity itself is very large,” Ganesh Sankaran, Executive Director, IndusInd Bank, said. “SME and mid-market is the space where we want to grow,” he added.

We are trying to get the lending relationships to evolve into broader customer relationships

GANESH SANKARAN,
Executive Director,
IndusInd Bank

Sankaran is a senior banker with around 30 years of experience in wholesale, retail credit and SME, and was recently elevated to the position of ED in April.

KEY SEGMENTS
Sankaran said he sees significant headroom in the segment as India's economy expands, especially with the growth of the supply chain around sectors such as defence, electronics manufacturing, electric vehicles, data centres and others.

The executive also pointed to emerging private investment in renewable energy, data centres, network infrastructure and electronics manufacturing as areas where the bank is already seeing opportunities. These, for instance, also contributed to recent wholesale lending growth in Q1, he said. “We are engaging with such companies and have done a few transactions,” he added.

Digital infrastructure enterprise Lightstorm is one such name, which raised ₹2,500 crore in debt from IndusInd Bank for the buildout of a dedicated fibre network for artificial intelligence (AI) infrastructure.

As for its strategy to grow NIMs in a competitive landscape, IndusInd Bank, according to the ED, is looking to build more sustainable liability flows alongside loan growth.

“We are trying to get the lending relationships to evolve into broader customers relationships,” he said.

In this regard, the bank's recent decision to set up a subsidiary for the stockbroking business will also help offer customers a broader suite of financial products, allowing them to bank, invest and trade through the same ecosystem, he said.

IndusInd has 3,000 branches, besides a rural distribution network of a similar scale.

GOVERNANCE CONCERNS

The senior banker said he does not see recent geopolitical tensions as having caused significant stress in its corporate book, but expects changes in supply chains to create temporary increases in working capital requirements.

On the bank's past governance concerns, the executive described the episode as a “one-off”, and said there was nothing systemic in the bank's current risk architecture.

“We have further re-emphasised the ‘maker-checker’ architecture that already existed,” he said, noting that separate teams were responsible for origination, underwriting, portfolio risk, post-disbursement monitoring and collections.

The focus now is on sharpening these controls and building greater consistency in execution, he added.

“Banking is a boring business. What we are trying to do is to make it a lot more predictable, a lot more boring to be more consistent in execution,” he said.

India's payments ecosystem built around the unified payments interface (UPI) has attracted about $5.8 billion in private equity funding across 371 disclosed rounds since 2021, with capital increasingly concentrating around a handful of scaled players, according to a Tracxn report.

Consumer facing payments companies accounted for the largest share of funding at about 53 per cent, or nearly $3.1 billion, followed by business payments at 38 per cent or around $2.2 billion. Payment infrastructure and enablers, including APIs and other underlying technology, accounted for the remaining 9 per cent, or about $526 million.

The concentration of capital is particularly pronounced among the top five recipients. Cred, PhonePe, Pine Labs, Razorpay and BharatPe together account Cred and PhonePe raised roughly $1 billion each during the period, while Pine Labs, Razorpay and BharatPe raised $641 million, $535 million and $440 million, respectively.

The report said the funding trend peaked during the 2021 start-up boom before correcting through 2022-24, with a tentative recovery in 2026, driven largely by Cred's $540 million funding round.

Over their lifetimes, the 10 best-funded companies in the ecosystem have raised about $9.4 billion. Paytm leads with $2.8 billion, followed by PhonePe at $1.7 billion and Cred at $1.5 billion.

At the same time, larger funded companies are increasingly becoming acquirers. Razorpay has acquired Ezetap and IZealiant, while Pine Labs has acquired Setu and Mosambee.

M2P, Juspay, PayU and Perfios have also pursued acquisitions to add capabilities, indicating consolidation around larger full-stack platforms.

The report highlighted UPI's growing international footprint as another development.

Cross-border UPI transactions rose more than 20-fold from 37,060 in FY24 to 7.5 lakh in FY25.

‘F&B out-of-home sales volume dips 8.6% in FY26’

Meenakshi Verma Ambwani
New Delhi

Out-of-home sales volume for the food and beverage sector dipped by 8.6 per cent in the April 2025–March 2026 period, while value growth stood at 0.5 per cent, according to estimates by Worldpanel by Numerator.

The report noted the growing focus on healthier options and group consumption occasions are reshaping the dynamics of out-of-home F&B sales.

“Out-of-home F&B segment sales in volume has been lower than previous year but has been more or less on par in terms of value. This is due to the general tightness witnessed in consumer spending during this period. When consumers are looking for ways to reduce expenditure, one of the things they tend to do is reduce their out-of-home spending,” said K Ramakrishnan, MD, South Asia, Worldpanel by Numerator.

VALUE GROWTH

The dip in volumes was reflected across metros, mini-metros, NCCS A, B and C consumer cohorts. Categories such as juice-based drinks, biscuits and cookies and ice creams were seen struggling to drive growth in the out-of-home channel during this period.

The report noted that categories such as chocolates, salty snacks and energy and sports drinks continued to witness growth in value, occasion and pack growth.

At the same time, rising focus on healthier food options at home has begun to reflect in out-of-home consumption trends too.

Centre weighs quick charging system for e-buses

FUTURE TRANSIT. Government evaluating ₹25-50 lakh pantograph chargers for 18-m e-buses; they can recharge buses in minutes rather than hours

Amit Vijay Mohile
Mumbai

The Centre has reviewed a flash-charging system for high-capacity electric buses that could reduce charging downtime from hours to minutes, enabling 18-m articulated buses carrying around 130 passengers to recharge during brief stops and remain in near-continuous operation.

Heavy Industries Minister HD Kumaraswamy chaired the inter-ministerial meeting, which was attended by representatives from the Ministries of Finance, Power, Road Transport and Highways, Housing and Urban Affairs, as well as NITI Aayog.

The proposed system relies on rapid opportunity charging through overhead pantograph equipment installed at designated locations along a route. Instead of relying solely on lengthy depot charging cycles, the buses will receive short, high-power top-ups during operations.

EMPOWERING RIDE. Instead of relying on lengthy charging, buses will receive short, high-power top-ups during operations

“The proposed system features 18-m bi-articulated electric buses with a capacity of around 130 passengers, supported by rapid flash/opportunity charging during short stops,” said Kumaraswamy after the meeting. “This can enable continuous operations while significantly reducing charging downtime.”

He said the discussions explored the potential of such solutions to strengthen clean, efficient and future-ready urban mobility in India.

HIGHER COSTS

However, the technology comes with significantly higher infrastructure costs.

Conventional public fast chargers typically cost about ₹7-12 lakh, depending on capacity and configuration. By comparison, heavy duty 400-600 kW pantograph charging systems can cost ₹25-50 lakh or more per charging point, excluding any major grid upgrades required to support them.

The vehicle costs are also higher. Industry estimates place the cost of specialised 18-m articulated electric buses at roughly ₹23.5 crore, compared with around ₹1.5-2.2 crore for conventional 12-m electric buses.

The higher upfront investment has made financing a key focus of the discussions. The government is examining a framework that could combine targeted Central support, public-private partnerships and institutional financing mechanisms to reduce risks and improve project viability.

The business case hinges on a different operating model for electric buses. A conventional heavy electric bus may require two to five hours for a substantial or full depot charge, depending on battery size and charger capacity.

That generally requires larger battery packs capable of powering long operating stretches between charging cycles.

Pantograph-based opportunity charging distributes the energy requirement across multiple short charging sessions during the day. Operating at several hundred kilowatts, such systems can recharge buses in minutes rather than hours.

This could allow operators to use smaller and lighter battery packs, reducing battery costs and vehicle weight.

At the same time, shorter charging interruptions can improve fleet utilisation by keeping buses on the road for longer periods, potentially increasing revenue-generating hours.

Jewellery exports up a tad on strong demand

GOLDEN GLOW. Industry optimism endures amidst challenges

Gems and jewellery exports were up marginally last month at $2.35 billion against $2.34 billion logged in the same period last year, largely due to a rise in gold jewellery shipments.

However, in rupee terms, it jumped 12 per cent to ₹22,512 crore against ₹20,158 crore due to rupee depreciation.

Exports between April and July increased two per cent to $9.17 billion (₹87,078 crore).

Gold jewellery exports were up 9 per cent in June to $1.04 billion (₹9,972 crore) driven by strong demand from the UAE, Hong Kong, Singapore and the UK.

Cut and polished diamond exports declined 18 per cent to $876 million (₹8,398 crore) while silver jewellery shipments dipped marginally to $77 million (₹736 crore).

Polished lab-grown diamonds and coloured gemstone shipments declined 8 per cent and 5 per cent y-o-y to $112 million and $21 million.

APRIL-JULY TREND

ments, such as studded gold jewellery, silver and platinum jewellery, leading the way. The easing of gold prices is also expected to support demand in key consuming markets.

On the recently introduced Taxation and Other Laws (Amendment) Bill 2026, Bhansali said India is already the world's leading centre for cutting and polishing diamonds, but was entirely dependent on imports for rough diamonds.

By providing a 15-year income tax exemption to foreign companies trading rough diamonds through special notified zones, the new law removes a long-standing structural barrier, he added.

Gold jewellery exports grew 6 per cent to $4 billion (₹38,307 crore) during April-

Gokaldas sees global sourcing shift to India

Sivaramakrishnan Ganapathi, Vice-Chairman and Managing Director, Gokaldas Exports

Textile manufacturer Gokaldas Exports expects India to gain more global apparel sourcing business as tariff parity with competing destinations and an advantage over China and Vietnam prompts buyers to increase sourcing from the country.

“We are getting a lot of inquiries from Europe, and Americans are rebalancing their portfolios to increase their weightage towards India,” said Sivaramakrishnan Ganapathi, Vice-Chairman and Managing Director during the first-quarter analyst call.

The firm posted 7 per cent y-o-y increase in PAT to ₹44 crore for Q1FY27, while total income rose 21 per cent to ₹1,180 crore.

EXPECTED REVENUE

The company said it is noticing a broad-based move to explore India across product categories. Buyers are also exploring shirts, bottoms and denim, beyond India's traditional strength in high-value apparel.

The company expects revenue in the second quarter to be similar to that of the first quarter, with its order book already providing visibility for the second quarter and orders for the third and fourth quarters being booked.

The management said Q2 is typically seasonally weaker, but Gokaldas' strong outer-wear presence should help it maintain the Q1 revenue profile. The firm's India business grew 16 per cent y-o-y in the quarter, even as Indian apparel exports declined 12 per cent during the same period, while its Africa business grew 44 per cent, supported by the renewal of the African Growth and Opportunity Act.

AFRICA CAPACITY

Gokaldas expects its African operations to provide another growth lever in the second half.

While the company has not yet increased second-shift operations, the management said its order book would require it to step up capacity utilisation in Q3 and Q4.

“Come Q3, Q4, our order book itself will force us to step up more capacity again by utilising the second shift operations,” Ganapathi said. Africa provides greater flexibility for second-shift operations, he added.

The firm, however, continues to face logistics disruptions, with container availability and shipping schedules affected by geopolitical tensions and weather disruptions.

Lilly steps up fight against illegal retatrutide sellers

Eli Lilly & Co. is stepping up its fight against a booming black market for retatrutide, an experimental drug that the company is counting on to expand its crucial weight-loss franchise. The drugmaker filed a handful of lawsuits against US businesses, many in Texas, that sell retatrutide products illegally. The lawsuits cite customer complaints and social media advertisements. One business, Lilly said, offered a calculator to help people figure out what dosage of retatrutide they should be taking, which is done by a licensed doctor. BLOOMBERG

Air India Group starts screening all pilots for prohibited substances, medications

PHUKET-DELHI INCIDENT FALLOUT. Mandatory testing initiative, beginning Aug 13, goes beyond existing regulatory requirements

Rohit Vaid
New Delhi

Tata Group-promoted Air India Group will undertake mandatory screening of all pilots for substances or medications not permitted under prevailing regulations, according to an internal communication to pilots. As per the communication, which was reviewed by businessline, the testing exercise began on Thursday (August 13).
Notably, the testing campaign comes after a pilot of the airline tested positive for consumption of psychoactive substances. However, it has not yet been officially verified which recreational drug or medication the pilot tested positive for.

As per the airline, the screening would be conducted concurrent with training at its Gurugram academy, post-flight at flight briefing centres and Air India offices or at locations provided by respective bases.

FULL COMPLIANCE
The communication said the initiative has been undertaken to uphold safety and professionalism, and provide reassurance to passengers, stakeholders and the wider community.
Air India said it already fully complies with regulatory requirements prescribed by the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA).

These regulations, the airline said, are similar to those followed in other major aviation jurisdictions, including Europe and the US.
“We now feel that it is important to go further. Accordingly, we have decided to undertake a full screening of all Group pilots for any substances or medications that are not permitted under prevailing regulations,” the airline said.

PUBLIC TRUST
The airline said the decision followed concerns and feedback shared by pilots, with the communication noting that several pilots had recently reached out to express similar sentiments about protecting the trust placed in Air India.

Meanwhile, Air India recalled its role as the flag bearer of Indian aviation and said the professionalism, skills and commitment to safety of its pilots and other employees had earned the trust of millions of passengers and the wider community.
“This trust is our most important asset, and it is vital that we do all possible to protect and sustain it,” the airline said.

MAJOR INCIDENT
The initiative comes as Air India faces scrutiny following the August 4 Phuket-Delhi flight incident involving an Airbus A320neo, which suffered a sudden altitude variation during cruise before stabilising and landing safely in Delhi.
Air India said the new screening initiative goes beyond existing regulatory requirements. “This initiative, which goes beyond regulatory requirements, reflects our determination to uphold the highest standards of safety and professionalism, and to provide reassurance to our passengers, stakeholders and the community at large,” the airline said.

Vodafone Idea has the highest outstanding amount of ₹66,149 crore, followed by Bharti Airtel (₹41,178.58 crore), Tata Group (₹16,649.77 crore), MTNL (₹14,870.39), while BSNL has no outstanding amount.

AI altitude loss incident: AAIB’s first report in 10-15 days

Rohit Vaid
New Delhi

The preliminary report into the August 4 Air India flight AI2379 incident, in which the aircraft suffered a sudden loss of altitude, injuring passengers, is expected to be completed within the next 10-15 days, sources told businessline.

Following the preliminary investigation report by the Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau (AAIB), the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) will decide on any action against Air India. The incident involved an Airbus A320neo, registered VT-EXO, which subsequently landed safely in Delhi. Around 20 passengers and four crew members were injured in the incident.

Sources said Air India is entirely “responsible for compliance” with the established Civil Aviation Requirements and that the regulator will “not micro-manage an airline”. Ensuring compliance with regulatory requirements and established procedures is the responsibility of the airline’s management, sources said.

Currently, the AAIB is examining all aspects related to the incident, including turbulence, drug-test results and any faults in the air-craft’s hydraulic and flight-control systems. “All options are on the table, including stringent action and strictures against Air India,” sources said.

According to them, “Fines and management liability cannot be ruled out at this stage.” They clarified that these proposed actions can only be decided after the preliminary investigation report is out. Apart from fines and management liability, enhanced surveillance measures on the airline may also be imposed, depending on the findings of the investigation, sources said.

In terms of investigation, the AAIB has summoned the pilots and crew of AI2379 for questioning as part of its investigation.

MAINTENANCE REPORT
A post-flight maintenance

report of the aircraft, reviewed by businessline, has flagged multiple warnings involving the aircraft’s hydraulic and flight-control systems.

The aircraft recorded repeated warnings of low pressure in its hydraulic systems and low-level indications for hydraulic reservoirs. Around the same time, the aircraft recorded a fault involving the left and right elevators. The report also recorded “AUTO FLT AP OFF”, indicating that the autopilot was off.

However, the maintenance report does not establish whether these warnings were linked to the sudden loss of altitude. It also does not indicate whether the hydraulic warnings were caused by an actual loss of pressure or fluid.

According to sources, the pilot-in-command allegedly told investigators that he had not slept adequately and had informed the first officer that he would take some rest under controlled-rest provisions.

The pilot also allegedly told investigators that he had been experiencing sleep difficulties over a period of time due to personal circumstances and had been prescribed medication by his family doctor. He reportedly said he had tried to rest during the layover but sleep did not come easily.

However, businessline could not independently confirm the authenticity of these accounts.

Other sources had indicated that the pilot had failed the secondary drug test. Nonetheless, this development was not officially confirmed by the government.

Health panel urges transparent pricing in private hospital bills

PT Jyothi Datta
Mumbai

AFFORDABILITY CRISIS. The parliamentary panel’s report acknowledged that over 60% of inpatient care and 70% of outpatient care is delivered by the private sector

Complaints of opaque tariffs and hidden costs in private hospital bills are often heard from patient families. But a recent parliamentary panel report flagged similar concerns, and called for a cap on prices — bracketing them with three-star hotels in the same region.

Unhappy with being equated to the hospitality industry, healthcare associations are pointing to their layered costs and 20,000-plus compliances that add to their costs. “A hospital room comes with additional services such as nursing care, round-the-clock medical supervision, emergency support, monitoring devices, infection control practices,” said Dr Girdhar Gyani, Director General of the Association of Healthcare Providers of India (AHPPI), representing over 20,000 hospitals. “Instead of a three-star hotel benchmark, a more useful approach might be to regulate the methodology through which hospitals fix their room rent in transparent manner,” he said, responding to a businessline query.

The recently-tabled 176th parliamentary panel report on “Affordability and Accessibility of Healthcare Facilities in Public and Private Sector” made about 368 recommendations, including calling for a mechanism to “standardise and cap” the costs of essential treatments, diagnostics and routine procedures across all private hospitals. It acknowledged that over 60 per cent of inpatient care and 70 per cent of outpatient care, especially in urban areas, are delivered by the private sector — organisations that could be owned by a single person, trust or corporate. “Corporate hospital chains dominate the urban tertiary care market,” it pointed out.

On “India’s deepening healthcare affordability crisis”, the report noted, “Treatment in private hospitals is often five-ten times costlier than in government facilities, with childbirth and serious illnesses like cancer, heart disease and kidney failure reflecting the sharpest divides. The average cost of inpatient treatment for an illness in India is about ₹37,858, while out-of-pocket expenditure is about ₹34,064. The average cost of hospitalisation is ₹6,631 in government hospitals compared to ₹50,508 in private hospitals. The gap widens further for serious illnesses.”

In fact, healthcare costs were not uniform across India, with treatment costs being higher in some States.

The report pointed out, “Rampant commercialisation of private healthcare, characterised by grievances of excessive billing, unnecessary diagnostics and soaring costs for routine procedures ... is directly pushing vulnerable households into catastrophic debt and distress causing asset sales.” It urged the government to mandate “absolute price transparency prior to admission”, with fast-track grievance redressal mechanisms to audit excessive billing and resolve insurance claim disputes.

‘NOT JUST A ROOM’

The committee called for “rationalising of room charges” and recommends that “room charges for a hospital should not exceed the average room tariffs prevailing in three-star hotels in the peripheral area or vicinity of the hospital.” Calling for a mandatory benchmark, the report said, “The resident doctor cost, nursing cost, disposable costs of consumables, meal charges, laundry charges can be added to the basic room tariff so that the entire cost is rationalised.”

AHPPI’s Gyani said, “Price control on room already exists under insurance; so let us leave for those — cash paying and those under medical tourism — the choice of what they can afford. If we unnecessarily cap, it will discourage investment.”

Siddhartha Bhattacharya, Secretary General with Nathealth, pointed to the 25,000-odd healthcare compliances and critical features that add to hospital costs.

The industry is seeking input tax credit on GST or zero-rating, lower duties on healthcare equipment, and infrastructure-sector lending at concessional rates to improve healthcare financing, he said, which also impact cost. He called for a comprehensive costing exercise across different categories of hospitals, geographies, and care settings, when standardised treatment packages and room-rent benchmarks are evaluated.

IISc SPIRE Lab releases SraVaani speech AI model covering 65 Indian languages

Our Bureau
Bengaluru

Researchers at IISc’s SPIRE Lab, in collaboration with ARTPARK and with support from Google, have released SraVaani, a multilingual Indian speech recognition model trained on 65 Indian languages and dialects, including 40-plus languages that today’s speech recognition systems do not officially support.

Designed to take speech AI beyond scheduled languages, SraVaani extends automatic speech recognition to several regional and non-scheduled Indian languages. It covers 20 scheduled languages and 45 regional languages and dialects, potentially opening speech AI capabilities to around 25 crore people whose languages are not properly handled by current systems. Its coverage is designed to be pan-India, spanning 19 languages from the North-East, 16 from eastern India, nine from the West, eight from the North, six from the South and five from central India, along with English and Sanskrit. The model even supports languages such as Garo, Angika, Chakma, Kokborok, Tulu, Bundeli and Bajjika.

SraVaani is freely and publicly available on Hugging Face under an MIT licence, along with a demo and fine-tuning code, enabling developers and researchers to experiment with, adapt and build on the model.

The release is intended to support further work in AI for Indian regional languages. Evaluated across eight public benchmark datasets, SraVaani delivers accuracy comparable to leading Indic speech recognition systems on India’s widely-supported languages, achieving the lowest average word error rate among the systems evaluated.

Results on several of these languages are strong, including a 9.5 per cent word error rate on Garo, compared with 69.4 per cent for the next-best system evaluated.

SPEECH TRAINING
At the foundation of SraVaani is the Vaani dataset, developed through Project Vaani at IISc, to capture natural, spontaneous speech from across the country. Project Vaani has recorded more than 31,000 hours of speech from 1.56 lakh people across 165 districts in 28 States, with coverage extending across three Union Territories. Speakers were asked to describe images in their own words rather than read prepared sentences, allowing natural speech, dialects and regional variations to be represented in the data.

SraVaani was first trained on the complete Vaani speech corpus, followed by audio-image alignment using 11.8 million Vaani audio-image pairs.

In the final stage, the model was trained on transcribed speech from Vaani and other publicly-available Indian speech datasets, including IndicVoices, RESPIN, SPRING-INX, SPI-COR and SYSPIN.

The model produces text across 10 scripts and can automatically identify the language being spoken, eliminating the need for a language tag to be specified in advance.

Govt cracks down on ‘advance tips’ feature by cab aggregators, says that tipping is voluntary

Our Bureau
New Delhi

The government has directed ride-hailing and other motor vehicle aggregators to remove prompts and interface features that encourage passengers to tip drivers before or during a journey, warning that tipping cannot be linked, directly or indirectly, to faster ride confirmation, driver acceptance or better service.

In a letter dated August 11, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways asked all motor vehicle aggregators to comply strictly with Clause 14.15 of the Motor Vehicle Aggregator Guidelines, 2025.

The directive comes after the Ministry took note of tipping prompts displayed by some ride aggregators, including options such as “Advance Tip”, “Choose an Add-on” and “Improve your chances of quicker ride confirmation”.

It said such interfaces could create an impression that passengers who offer a tip are more likely to get their ride accepted.

ENTIRELY VOLUNTARY

Under the 2025 guidelines, an aggregator may provide passengers with a facility to tip the driver, but the option can only become visible after completion of the journey. It cannot be made available at the time of booking, before commencement of the journey or while the ride is underway. The guidelines also stipulate that the entire tip amount must be credited to the driver, without any deduction by the aggregator.

The guidelines also stipulate that the entire tip amount must be credited to the driver, without any deduction by the aggregator

The Ministry said tipping must be “entirely voluntary” and directed aggregators not to display any feature, prompt, message, add-on, payment option or other user-interface element before completion of a ride that could directly or indirectly encourage passengers to believe that an additional payment could improve ride confirmation.

REGULATORY LINE

It invoked consumer-protection considerations, stating that no tipping mechanism should be “misleading” or “manipulative” or otherwise violate the Consumer Protection Act, 2019.

The directive effectively draws a regulatory line between a post-ride gratuity and a pre-ride payment incentive. While passengers remain free to reward drivers after a journey, aggregators cannot present tipping as a means of influencing the outcome of a booking.

“All motor vehicle aggregators” have been advised to immediately review their mobile applications and platforms, and suitably modify any interface or functionality that is inconsistent with the guidelines.
